The changes which I have made in my drama of UNDER THE GASLIGHT, for my friend Gus Phillips (whom the rest of the world know so well through the medium of many a happy laugh as Oofty Gooft) are such changes, I believe, as will bring its leading incidents into closer companionship—and the substitution of some new material for that which has been so long familiar, will give the play, I hope, a color and a spirit nearer akin to this day, and win for it a renewal of that phenomenal favor which greeted its first appearance on the stage, twelve years ago.

AROUND HOME.

The stores are putting on their holiday attire.

Those twenty-five-cents pocket book, at Preston's are selling rapidly.

"Under the gas-light," re-written by Mr. Augustin Daly for "Oofty Goof," will be played at Music hall on Wednesday evening next. See adv't.

On Monday evening next the California minstrels, including Cool Burgess and the California vocal sextette, will give an entertainment at Music hall.

The late George Raynes, the noted shipbuilder, was a member of the Mechanics' association from 1832 to his death in 1855, but his name is accidentally omitted from the printed list in the history of the association. No man was more proud of being a good mechanic than he.—Weekly.

The late Rev. Daniel Austin left by will to the Mercantile Library association of this city $500, and to the colored people a similiar amount, the income of the latter to be annually expended in a proper observance of Emancipation day. The executors of the estate on Thursday notified the parties interested that fifty per cent of the bequests would be paid on Friday.

A Washington despatch of the 11th inst. says: "The democratic senators have formally resolved that they will retain Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Christie. This is bad news for an ex-confederate who has been seeking his place, and for other disgruntled democrats at Dover, N. H., who have written to senators that the retention of a republican like Christie can but have a disastrous effect upon the democratic party in New Hampshire."

On the evening of Wednesday, the 10th inst., Strawberry Bank lodge of Good Templars, of this city, with Centennial and Equal Rights lodges of Dover, visited Whipple lodge of Kittery, by invitation, the company numbering about one hundred and twenty-five. Supper was served in the vestry of the Christian Baptist church, followed by remarks from visiting brethren. Rev. John A. Goss of this city acted as chaplain of the evening.

The depot of the Boston & Maine railroad at Newmarket was broken into on Tuesday night of this week; also the saloon of Frank H. Chesley at Newmarket junction; loss small at both places. Suspicion rested upon a young man named Lindell E. Hoyt, he leaving town suddenly. Pursuit was given by officers, and he was found at Raymond, but eluded capture by flight to the woods. Some of the property stolen was seen in his posession by parties at Raymond. Others will, no doubt, be implicated.

The Dover Democrat copies an item from our paper of a recent date, regarding cheap excursions from this city and other places to Boston on the day before Christmas, in the interest of Boston storekeepers, and comments as follows: "The last of this kind of cheap excursions from here took over $1500 out of our city. When people go on these occasions they generally buy more than they really want. Some articles may be sold cheap for a 'draw,' but then the country cousins are sometimes so dazzled with the style and variety in those monster mercantile palaces of Boston that they will buy articles, probably paying twice their value, for which they are sorry before they leave the city, and which will probably never be used. If your house is on fire whom do you expect to put it out, somebody in Boston or Dover?"

Death has again visited our community and taken away another of our prominent citizens. Daniel Y. Lowd died at his residence in this city yesterday noon, after a short but severe illness of paralysis of the bowels. The deceased is well and widely known as one of the early settlers in Mendota, where he has resided for a quarter of a century. Mr. Lowd was born in Portsmouth, N. H., and came to Mendota in the fall of 1854. During his residence here he occupied the positions of assessor, town clerk and collector at various periods, and for twenty-five years he has been a justice of the peace. He was universally respected for his many excellent traits of character, and in his death our community loses one of its best citizens. Mr. Lowd leaves a wife and six children. His funeral will be conducted by the Odd Fellows, of which organization he was a member. He was fifty-four years old.—Mendota (Ill.) Bulletin Dec. 5th.

The deceased was a brother of the late Mr. William B. Lowd of this city, and the last survivor of four brothers, all of whom have passed away within less than six years.

Some of the farmers of Exeter were engaged in ploughing their land early this week.

The Lilliputian Opera Company played "Pocahontas" in Exeter on Wednesday evening of this week, to a large audience.

The firemen and engineers employed on the Concord railroad are being examined at Concord to see if any of them are color-blind. One man has been found unable to distinguish between white and red.

Mr. Editor:—By dint of sticking pins into himself every half-hour since reading an article in your paper of the 10th inst., the writer has convinced himself and announces to you that he "still lives." W.

Hon. Amos Tuck arrived at his home in Exeter on Wednesday, 10th inst., and was taken suddenly ill with apoplexy. He was unconscious during Wednesday night, was no better Thursday morning, and it was then feared could not long survive.

The contract for the building of the new schooner, No. 3, for the same stockholders as own the "C. H. Trickey" and "John Bracewell," was signed at Bath yesterday. Messrs. Goss, Sawyer & Packard are the builders. The dimensions of the new schooner are—length of keel, 120 feet; breadth of beam, 30 feet; depth of hold 8 1-2 feet. It will be A1 of the class, and rigged with a full sett of Oregon masts. The price is satisfactory to the owners, and the contract specifies the time for launching as before the 1st of April, 1880. It will be commanded by Capt. John M. Handy, of Couite, Mass., a man of great experience in the coasting trade and highly recommended. She will be fitted up with the latest improvements in shipbuilding.—Dover Democrat, 10th inst.

Mr. Samuel Nason met with a somewhat singular accident on Wednesday evening of this week, at about seven o'clock. He is one of the crew of a gondola which had come down from South Berwick or Eliot with a load of bricks, and was lying at the wharf of the Raynes shipyard. He had been down in town, and in returning to his craft went through the passage leading from the north end of Market street to Call's lumber yard, under the railroad track; the night was very dark, and Mr. Nason ran against one of the uprights which support the stringers of the railroad, striking it with such force as to cut a bad gash in his head and render him insensible, necessitating the calling of a surgeon, who sewed up the wound.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening:

Bills for the month of November to the amount of $1762,63 were presented by the committee on accounts, and ordered paid.

Edwin H. Leslie, was appointed special police without pay at the custom house.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Strong efforts are being put forth by prominent citizens of Kennebunk to have the narrow gauge railroad from Springvale run to that point instead of Wells.

There was a slight smash-up on the Boston & Maine railroad at Biddeford on the afternoon of the 10th inst. A freight train while backing on a switch at the Biddeford depot, threw two ice cars from the rails, breaking the truck of one and slightly demolishing the top of the other. A brakeman was thrown from a car, but sustained no injury. The accident was caused by the breaking of an axle box.

One day last week a man and two women, in an open boat, started from Boon island with a sick man for Portsmouth, leaving at the light a man and a babe thirteen weeks old. Tide and weather were against them, and they found it impossible to make Portsmouth. The sick man grew worse, and it was feared that he would die before reaching land, but after much anxiety and exposure they were able to make York harbor. After seeing the sick man properly cared for, the rest started for the island, but were again foiled in their attempt, and were compelled to put back to land. Monday of this week they again tried to reach the island, but failed and were forced to put into Ogunquit for the night. Tuesday morning dawned pleasant, and as the sea was smooth it is to be presumed they were successful in reaching their island home, and the anxious mother after an absence of a number of days was restored to her babe, which must have needed her care.—Kennebunk Star, Dec. 5th.

We are assured that there are several inaccuracies in the foregoing account. Instead of there being left on the island only a man and a thirteen-weeks-old babe, there were left Keeper Alfred J. Leavitt, his wife, a sixteen-years-old son of Capt. David B. Grogan, and a child—the child being fourteen months old, and able to run around, eat anything and everything it can get hold of, and get into all sorts of mischief, after the manner of youngsters at that age. The sick man and his wife were landed at York harbor without any difficulty or special exposure and in a few days were ready to go back to the island by the first opportunity; and instead of attempting to return to the island, and failing through stress of weather, Capt. Grogan worked the boat from York harbor directly up to this port, which was the original point of destination, arriving all right at two o'clock in the afternoon of the day he left the light-station, and without even looking at the island after leaving it.

New Hampshire Club.

A New Hampshire club was organized at Young's hotel in Boston on the 10th inst., a large number of prominent New Hampshire men being present. Ex-Gov. Cheney presided at dinner, at the close of which he was chosen chairman of the temporary organization, and J. Horace Kent secretary. Short addresses were made by Gov. Head and others. Every gentleman present became a member of the informal organization, and Messrs. G. B. Chandler, Benjamin A. Kimball and Mr. Cumnock were appointed to draft a set of by-laws for its government and to prepare a list of officers, both of which are to be presented at the next meeting of the club. It is intended that the membership shall be limited to one hundred, and that the meetings shall occur in Boston on the second Tuesday of each month.

New Hampshire Items.

The owners of Cheney & Co.'s United States & Canada express propose to test the constitutionality of the new tax law of New Hampshire.

A coroner's jury met at Claremont on the 9th inst., and found that Levi F. Stone came to his death from blows struck by some unknown person. Byron H. Stone, his eldest son, and Marcia Stone, widow of the murdered man, have both been arrested, but recognized to appear at the January term of court.

One Experience from Many.

"I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, but when I told them what had helped me, they said "Hurrah for Hop Bitters! long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy."—The Mother.—Home Journal.

What a Pity

that the otherwise beautiful girl should have such bad teeth. And all because she did not use SOZODONT. It costs so little to buy it considering the good it does, and its benefits stretch out into her future life. Poor girl!

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted doubt the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

—A novel issue—The last romance.

—One of the things you don't want to be too generous with is your temper. Keep it.

—The latest English burlesque is called "Balloonacy," and describes the adventures of three acrobats.

—"Have you in your album any original poetry? asked one young lady of another. "No," was the reply, "but some of my friends have favored me with original spelling."

—The following notice has just been found on the door of a business firm in this city: "To Our Creditors—We have busted. As everything else is going up, we trust you will not feel surprised."—Camden Post.

—A chap at Baker City, Oregon, who is trying to get divorced from his wife, and on the lookout for another helpmate, sought to ingratiate himself with the fair sex by offering a handsome prize to the lady who should be voted the most worthy by the largest number of respectable citizens. To his consternation the ballots showed that his wife—separated from him, but not divorced—was the favorite by a large majority.

—An Oregon young man, being summarily forbidden to enter the premises where his lady love was confined, loaded his Winchester rifle, mounted his horse, called for the justice of the peace, and accompanied by him rode into the front yard where the girl's father and uncle were. He declared that they had threatened to do him personal injury, and that in the eyes of the law he would be justified in doing serious execution with his rifle in case they attempted to interfere with him; and there, before the gaze of the two astonished men, with one eye fixed on them and the other on the fair one by his side, with one hand clutching his rifle and the other grasping the hand of his affianced, he married her, and then rode away, with the magistrate at his heels.

Feeble Ladies.

Those languid, tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant drain that is taking from your system all its elasticity; driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system are relieved at once, while the special cause of periodical pain is permanently removed. Will you heed this?—Cincinnati Saturday Night.

KIDNEY-WORT

THE ONLY MEDICINE

That Acts at the Same Time on THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

These great organs are the natural cleansers of the system, and when any one of them is sluggish or inactive, the whole system will become clogged, and all the diseases arising from such a condition will be developed.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING.

Biliousness, Headache, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Constipation and Piles, or Kidney Complaints, Gravel, Diabetes, Sediment in the Urine, Milky or Ropy Urine; or Rheumatic Pains and Aches, are developed because the blood is poisoned with the humors that should have been expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT

will restore the healthy action and all these sufferings will be banished; a perfect cure will be the result.

Kidney-Wort will cure you. Try a package at once and be satisfied.

It is a dry vegetable compound and

One Package makes six quarts of Medicine.

Your Druggist has it, or will get it for you. Insist upon having it. Price, $1.00.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a week's invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. The Gazette is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or, SELF-PRESERVATION, which treats of Nervous Debility, Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

THE MODEL RANGE

—FOR—

Hard or Soft Coal or Wood

—HAVING THE—

Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,
New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,
New Patent Extension Leg,
New Patent Double Top,
(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, which is great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

Ranges, Cooking and Parlor Stoves,

Etc., can be seen at the old stand of

THE TREASURER'S Office will be open for the payment of approved bills Friday and Saturday of each week.

Sept. 12. W. E. HADLEY, City Treasurer.

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN--and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local and external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once flattered himself that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it and the injury of trusses, to such an extent that life has no enjoyments, once regarded it as unworthy of special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him. References given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from a distance can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his success in practice and popularity therefrom, throughout this country, and the West Indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Save this, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal services, he will divide his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturday s, Mondays and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The Genuine Dr. Sherman, rising from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain co-laborers men and impostors to represent themselves as Dr. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

Only Two Dollars a Year!

Boys and Girls and their Friends will find in

WIDE AWAKE for 1880

Hosts of things to enjoy. Among them will be two capital Serial Stories:

Five Little Peppers and How they Grew, by Margaret Sidney. Illustrations by Jessie Curtis.

Two Young Homesteaders, by Theodora R. Jenness. Illustrated by Robert Lewis.

There will also be four two-part stories: Billy's Hound, The Boy That Was Too Beautiful, Our Store, At Plymouth Oak Farm.

OUR AMERICAN ARTISTS.

Mr. S. G. W. Benjamin will continue these papers which have been so gladly welcomed by the people at large, being the only Art Series ever prepared for young readers; and, as during 1879, they will be largely illustrated by the artists themselves, and will also take up our Sculptors, Bird and Flower-Painters, Book and Magazine Illustrators, and Engravers.

CONCORD PICNIC DAYS.

Under this title Mr. Geo. B. Bartlett will present a series of Out-of-Door Games for both Boys and Girls. These amusement papers will be full of Concord, reminiscences of famous haunts, and noted people whose names are familiar to the literature and art of two continents.

Professor M. P. Paul and his Discoveries in the Starry Heavens. Chronicled in verse by John Henry Jack, illustrated by Alphonse Hahn. The entire collection will be arranged and edited by John Brownjohn, and the drawings retouched by Miss Mary A. Lathbury.

Interesting to teachers. A series of Twelve Original Exercise Songs, for use in Public Schools, are being prepared for WIDE AWAKE, under the supervision of Mr. Lewis C. Elson, a gentleman well-known to the musical public of Boston and New York.

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and experimented on everything that was recommended, but without avail. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so bad that my presence in a room with other was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD, Short-Hand Writer.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1878.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived to-night all right. I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for this remedy. I have received benefit everything else failed, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, I have no reason to recover my senses of taste and smell until I tried SANFORD'S CURE. You can refer any one to me, and I will cheerfully testify to the benefit in detail as to the benefit the remedy has been to me. Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1878.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Not only promptly arrests the corroding discharges in Catarrh, but, by sympathetic action, it restores to sound health all the organs of the head that have become affected by it, and exhibits any of the following affections:—

Defective Eyesight, Inflamed and Matter Eyes, Painful and Watery Eyes, Loss of Hearing, Earache, Neuralgia of the Ear, Discharges from the Ear, Ringing Noises in the Head, Dizziness, Nervous Headache, Pains in the Temples, Loss of the Senses of Taste and Smell, Elongation of the Uvula, Inflammation of the Tonsils, Putrid Sore Throat, Tickling or Hacking Cough, Bronchitis, and Bleeding of the Lungs.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full and carefully prepared direction for use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

AN Electro-Galvanic Battery, combined with a highly Medicated Plaster, forming the grandest curative agent in the world of medicine, and utterly surpassing all other Plasters heretofore in use. Fish and the Fisheries.

The fifth volume of the reports of the United States commission of "Fish and Fisheries," at the head of which is Prof. Spencer F. Baird, secretary of the Smithsonian Institute, has been printed, and, like those which preceded it, abounds in solid information, designed to benefit all those who are engaged in obtaining sustenance from "the vasty deep." In a practical sense, one of the most important discoveries of the past year was the existence upon our coast, in great abundance, of a deep-water fish, known to naturalists as the pole, or crag flounder, with a mouth too small to take a hook big enough to haul it to the surface from the depth of water in which it lived. With the "boom trawl!" used on board, the professor and his assistants often took five hundred pounds of this delicate and hitherto unknown fish at a haul during the last summer. Alluding to the great need that exists for obtaining information in the fishing season as to the haunts of our food fishes along our coasts, the professor refers to the system which prevails in Norway, through which the fishing districts are notified by telegraph, from day to day, as to where the schools of fish upon the coast have struck in; and he advises a similar system for the United States. As the fisheries of the Lofoden islands, off the northwestern coast of Norway, present many analogies to our own coast fisheries, the report, of the observations of the two eminent naturalists of that country, Dr. Broeck and Dr. Sars, in relation to the management of the Norwegian fisheries, are given. Besides their statements, the report embodies a great many new facts upon the progress of fish culture in the United States.

But the most interesting paper of all in the volume is that from Prof. G. Brown Goodge, entitled "The History of the American Menhaden." It occupies 500 pages of the volume, and is as interesting as a romance, while dealing strictly with scientific and commercial facts. Mr. Goode shows, by well-vouched for statements, that this menhaden fishery along our Atlantic coast, which only lasts for a few months in the year, is equal in volume and surpasses in average profit the whole whale fishery of the United States. These fish are not a great deal larger than a good-sized herring, but they are very fat and very abundant, at certain seasons in some years. In 1875, the amount of oil extracted from them by a fleet of 270 sailing vessels and 63 steamers was 2,618,478 gallons. In 1876, the quantity was considerably increased, and, in 1877, the calculation was arrived at that 587,624,000 fish were caught, producing 2,416,589 gallons of oil, with 53,440 tons of fertilizers, each ton of which had a commercial value equal to Peruvian guano. Nearly two millions of capital is interested in this fishery, and more than twenty-five thousand seamen find profitable employment in its prosecution.

The learned professor agrees with all the experienced fishermen with whom we have ever conversed upon the subject that all the fish captured from the sea, either by lines, seines or weirs, do not make the slightest impression on their numbers, for "their name is legion," and their fecundity surpasses all comparison with creatures which exist upon land. Perhaps no paragraph was ever written by a scientific observer which so well illustrates the wise economies of nature as that which relates to the food of the bluefish. The statement is made that probably 10,000,000,000 of fish eat 2,500,000,000 pounds of their relations daily, and that this sumption is utterly insignificant in comparison with man's puny efforts. As far as sea fish go, it seems as if nature intended them to be always in constant supply to meet human demands, and it is gratifying to learn, from these scientific researches, that there is no danger of any abatement of the quantity.

Feeble Ladies.

Those languid, tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant drain that is taking from your system all its elasticity; driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system are relieved at once, while the special cause of periodical pain is permanently removed. Will you heed this?—Cincinnati Saturday Night.

Whooping Cough is successfully treated by separating the patients beyond hearing distance of each other, and by the employment of Fellows' Hypophosphites. Whooping Cough is a nervous disease of so sympathetic a nature that a paroxysm may be produced in one susceptible by simply hearing the cough of another person. The above named treatment has been found singularly effective.

—Ex-Senator Goldthwaite, of Alabama, was noted for extreme absent-mindedness, and he was occasionally seen running about the Senate trying to get out and not being able to find the door. He would have half the page boys in the Senate looking for his hat or cane which would be all the while firmly clasped in his hand. He was much given to walking up and down the lobby, plunged in deep thought, often smoking a fragrant Havana, and entirely oblivious of all things about him. Often some cheeky page of the Senate would walk up and ask the Senator for a light. Mr. Goldthwaite would mechanically hand over his cigar, the boy would take a light, put the choice weed in his precious mouth and hand over his old stump to the old gentleman, who would continue his stroll in blissful ignorance. It is related on good authority that, in one of his fits of abstraction, he walked into the Senate clevator, dropped a nickel into the hollback of the mirror, and calmly requested to be let out at "H" street.

Portsmouth Chronicle

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1879.

News and Notes.

Secretary Thompson is to spend the holidays in Indiana. We can imagine the gallant head of the navy after the Christmas dinner puffing away at one of those double-ender cigars for which he is celebrated.

William Gillette, of Goshen, Conn., kept a yoke of cattle, two cows and a horse on his barn floor, and beneath it were a number of pigs. On the morning of the 6th inst. he found the floor in the hog-pen and the cattle all hanging by their necks to the stanchions, three dead and the fourth upon the point of expiring. A very surprised horse was the only living thing that was in at the hanging, all the pigs having been crushed.

James Longacre was shot and killed at Plano, Ill., on Wednesday, the 10th inst., by C. M. Bennett. Longacre had been engaged to Bennett's sister, but the engagement was broken. On Wednesday he went to Bennett's house with the avowed intention of marrying the girl anyway, but was ejected. He then threatened to kill Bennet, whereupon the latter shot him through the heart, and the coroner's jury justifies the act.

Two more Gloucester fishing schooners, the N. H. Phillips, with a crew of fourteen men, and the Andrew Leighton, with a crew of fourteen, have been given up by their owners as lost; and little hope is now entertained that the schooner Harvey Mackey will ever return.

Max Berger, a lottery dealer who brought a suit against Portmaster James of New York for detaining his mails, has been arrested for keeping a policy office, and held in $1,000 bail.

It is said that it will be impossible to avoid hostilities between Egypt and Abyssinia, as the mission of the governor general of south Egypt to the potentate of Abyssinia has proved utterly fruitless. All efforts at conciliation were in vain, it being manifestly the desire of King John to provoke hostilities.

Col. Thomas A. Scott, the head of the Pennsylvania railroad, is hopelessly ill and not expected to recover. The disease is one of the brain, and no visitors are allowed.

The choicest of goods for holiday gifts, or for household adornment at any time, useful as well as beautiful, may be found at the favorite house of R. H. Stearns & Co., Boston, at very moderate prices.

Congress.

The Senate on Thursday confirmed Col. John Hay as assistant secretary of State, vice F. H. Seward, resigned.

The House on Friday passed the fortifications and invalid pensions appropriation bills.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Alliance, Commander A. R. Yates commanding, put into Newport, R. I., on the 10th inst., on her way from Boston to Norfolk, Va. The Tallapoosa arrived at Newport the same day.

Orders have been received at Mare island navy yard to have the U. S. S. Adams ready for sea on Jan. 1st. She will proceed direct to join the Asiatic squadron.

The New York Herald of Thursday said it was expected that the United States sloop-of-war Marion would be ready to sail from New York to join the South American and Pacific squadron on Saturday. She will report to Admiral C. R. P. Rogers at Callao. The subjoined is a list of the officers of the Marion: Commanding, Commander F. M. Bunce; executive, Lieut. Commander John McGowan; navigator, Lieut. W. I. Moore; watch officers, Lieuts. J. P. Merrell, E. A. Jacob and J. P. Wallis; master, S. Diehl; ensigns, W. Windsor, H. C. Gearing and W. I. Chambers; midshipmen, C. C. Marsh, H. Wike, D. J. Sears, W. A. Graham and M. L. Read; chief engineer, S. J. Allen; passed assistant engineer, J. Brosnahan; assistant engineer, H. C. Baughman; cadet engineers, J. N. Crygler and F. F. Carter; passed assistant paymaster, S. R. Colhoun; surgeon, S. T. Rabbin; assistant surgeon, C. Bush; commanding marine guard, Lieutenant Wainwright; boatswain, T. C. Perremont; gunner, W. A. Ferrier; sailmaker, F. Watson; carpenter, W. H. Barrett; pay clerk, J. A. Murphy. Her officers and crew, all told, number 220 men.

New Hampshire Items.

The New Hampshire telegraph company has leased its line between Manchester and Goffstown to the Bell telephone company, who have established a telephone service between the two places.

Henry C. Harmon, Esq., who for some time past past has been chief of the division for investigating frauds, in the office of the second auditor of the treasury at Washington, has been appointed and confirmed as deputy second auditor of the treasury. He is a native of Madison in Carroll county, and has been connected with this branch of the treasury department for several years.

A new military company has been formed in Nashua, called the Nashua Cadets.

Mr. A. A. Lawrence of Longwood, Mass., has made a valuable donation of books to the library of the Gilmanton mills.

J. W. Thompson of Conway, one of the proprietors of the Kearsarge house, has gone to St. Marys, Georgia, to take charge of the Spencer house in that place the coming winter.

One Experience from Many.

"I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my friends and so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, but when I told them what had helped me, they said "Hurrah for Hop Bitters! long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy."—The Mother.—Home Journal.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

REV. SYLVANUS COBB thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any considerations whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 5 that the otherwise beautiful girl should have such bad teeth. And all because she did not use SOZODONT. It costs so little to buy it considering the good it does, and its benefits stretch out into her future life. Poor girl!

What a Pity

OOFTY GOOFT'S

New York Combination

In the thrilling Sensational Drama, entitled:

UNDER THE GASLIGHT!

Re Written, Re-Arranged and Re-Constructed by the Author, Mr. Augustin Daly, expressly for Ooffy Gooft. Mr. Gus Phillips.

Act I. The Wolves of Society.
Act II. A Morning with Justice.
Act III. The 10:30 Down Express.
Act IV. Chloroform and Burglary.

The whole produced with entirely new scenery and mechanical effects including The Famous Railroad Sensation and the Great Pier and East River Bridge Scene?

TO THE PUBLIC.

The changes which I have made in my drama of UNDER THE GASLIGHT, for my friend Gus Phillips (whom the rest of the world know so well through the medium of many a happy laugh as Ooffy Gooft) are such changes, I believe, as will bring its leading incidents into closer companionship—and the substitution of some new material for that which has been so long familiar, will give the play, I hope, a color and a spirit nearer akin to this day, and win for it a renewal of that phenomenal favor which greeted its first appearance on the stage, twelve years ago.

AUGUSTIN DALY.

Admission, Parquet, 50 cents, Gallery 35 cents. No extra charge for Reserved seats.

AROUND HOME.

The cold wave is coming.

These are the shortest days.

Mr. Editor: The "W." piecushion is the latest novelty extant. O. R.

Mr. Daniel Littlefield is putting up a stylish workshop on Martin's wharf.

A number of Portsmouth farmers were engaged in ploughing on Friday, Dec. 12th, there being no frost in the ground.

Mrs. Geo. Vandenhoff is to begin a series of readings for children at Rutgers' Institute on Fifth avenue, New York, in January.

A dancing school was commenced in North Hampton on the evening of the 3d inst., with Mr. Joseph S. Turner of this city as instructor.

The old store house, of late called Pickering hall, in the ship-yard at the south end, being useless in its present location is to be removed; a part of it will be made into a dwelling house.

Arrangements are in progress for giving the poor children of the city a good dinner on the last day of December at Bow mission hall, probably in the afternoon; a statement will be given in due season, and requests for food will be made.

The Kearsarge mills have felt the late impulse in the revival of business, and are running everything at full speed. Several new weaving looms have recently been purchased, and extra hands employed. About one hundred and six thousand yards of satin jean are manufactured weekly.

Nearly all hands in the department of yards and docks at the navy yard were suspended on Friday, for the remainder of the month. The fire department, and the men employed on the ferry steamer Emerald, of course cannot be dispensed with; but nearly everybody else is laid up in ordinary.

Mr. Willis G. Myers, at his attractive bookstore in Congress block, offers liberal inducements to Christmas buyers. Besides books at reduced prices, Mr. Myers' establishment abounds in Christmas and New Year's cards, and exhibits a generous assortment of new and suitable articles for presents.

On Monday evening, at Music hall, the California minstrels will give an entertainment including all the popular features common to such shows, and many new ones. The company is a large one, and among its members is Cool Burgess, who is able to give a very fair minstrel show on his own book, without any assistance. See advertisement.

The Odd Fellows are to hold a grand fair in their new hall next week, commencing on the evening of the 16th and closing on the 19th. Musical and dramatic entertainments, ring and guess cakes, fancy-goods, articles to be voted for, refreshments, and all the other usual features of a fair will be found at this one; and on Friday evening the fair will close with a social assembly, for which Harlow's orchestra will furnish music.

On Wednesday evening of next week the sensational drama "Under the gas-light" will be presented at Music hall by Mr. Gus Phillips, ("Oofty Goofi,") and a full dramatic company. The drama, which was wonderfully popular when it first appeared, twelve years ago, has been re-written and much improved by the author, Mr. Augustin Daly, especially for Mr. Phillips, and new scenery and mechanical effects introduced. Tickets at really popular prices; see advertisement.

Daniel Marr, a carpenter residing at No. 74 Market street in this city, was instantly killed by falling from a truss over the large dance hall in Franklin block at ten o'clock Friday morning. Mr. Marr was engaged in turning up a nut when his wrench slipped, causing him to lose his balance, and he fell a distance of thirty-six feet, striking with a sickening thud upon the floor beneath; when he was reached by his fellow-workmen, he was found to be quite dead. They tenderly bore his body to his late residence, a messenger preceding with the sad intelligence for the widow. Mr. Marr was a quiet, unobtrusive man, and had many friends who will deplore his loss and deeply sympathize with the widow in her bereavement.

Mr. Patrick Dailey, a worthy and industrious farmer living on the Greenland road, just above the old Tabor place, had a leg broken by the falling of a tree upon him while at work on the Peirce farm, on Wednesday, the 10th inst. The fractured limb was set by Dr. Dearborn.

The ship Germania, of San Francisco, of 1216 tons register, recently had her upper deck taken off at that port, and her rig changed to that of a barque; this reduced her tonnage to 995. The Germania was built at this port in 1850, by Fernald & Pettigrew, and then measured (old measurement) 997 tons.

Mr. Loyne acknowleges the gift of $17.25 from the Sunday school of the Methodist Episcopal church at Dover, on Sunday, Dec. 7th, taken by request of the superintendent, Harrison Haley, Esq., for the benefit of Faith Home. This is the first public collection that has ever been taken in behalf of the home, outside of this city.

Tuesday evening, 9th inst., as Joshua Bennett was taking the mail to the Greenland depot, he was run into by a team driven by Joseph Leavitt of Strattam, and received what are feared to be fatal injuries. Mr. Leavitt was racing with Frank Durgin of Greenland, Mr. Bennett driving in the opposite direction, and in spite of the latter's efforts to make known his presence, Mr. Leavitt's team and his own collided, throwing him out.—Journal.

Mr. Asa D. Waldron, formerly of Chicago, but for a long time past confined to his house in this city by illness, died Thursday night, at the age of fifty years. His wife, a daughter of the late Joseph M. Edmunds, survives him, with four children. Mr. Waldron was for many years treasurer of Hyde Park, Illinois, and at various times occupied other positions of trust in the west.

Mr. Lamprey's dancing school for young ladies, masters and misses closed at Congress hall on Wednesday afternoon of this week, all the space for lookers-on being taken up by the friends of the pupils; the improvement of the members of the class in the graceful accomplishment of dancing, as shown at this closing lesson, was more than satisfying to those specially interested, and Mr. Lamprey still retains the name won by him so many years ago, of being second to no teacher of dancing in the vicinity.

A large number of the Masonic fraternity of this city went to Dover on Wednesday evening, the 10th inst., to visit Strafford lodge, F. & A. M., of that city, the occasion being an official visit of the grand officers. Among the visiting brethren were past masters Christie, Whittier, Pender and Mitchell of this city, District Deputy J. F. Cloutman of Farmington, and other officers. The work of the third degree was exemplified, after which a rich banquet was served, seasoned with the "flow of soul." The Portsmouth brethren arrived home at one o'clock A. M., Thursday.

A meeting will be held in the city rooms on Monday evening, the 15th inst., to see what action our business men will take relative to the starting of a shoe-factory in this city. Joseph G. Knights, Esq., of Lynn, superintendent for C. B. Lancaster, one of the largest manufacturers of boots and shoes in New England, will be present, and offer his views to our capitalists. Mr. Knights comes strongly recommended, and has had many years' experience in the shoe business; and we hope our solid men will turn out and lend their aid in a matter which seems of vital importance to the welfare of our working-people and citizens generally.

The Workingmen's reading room on McDonough street is in a flourishing condition. They have recently removed from their old quarters to the opposite side of the street, in a building erected by Mr. Benjamin F. Webster for them. Daily and weekly papers, magazines, and a library, afford plenty of reading matter; while games of various kinds are introduced for more social amusements. A smoking room is attached, so that one can have the "etc." of enjoyments without going out of the building. They have now about fifty members. It is intended to have, during the winter, lectures on mechanics or other subjects, entertaining and instructive. The introduction and success of this institute is due to Rev. Charles A. Holbrook, who is president. The object of starting the organization was to provide a place where workingmen could meet in social intercourse and be secured from outside allurements, and it has met with a happy result. It is open on Sundays, and those who are employed during the evenings of the week are thus afforded facilities for reading the papers.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Rev. Wm. C. Stewart will preach in the Advent church.

Rev. R. R. Riddle, of Wakefield, Mass., will preach in the Middle street church.

Rev. Mr. McGinley's subject for Sabbath evening will be, "The true method of acquiring religious knowledge; an address to the young who have never had a faith, and to those who have lost positive religious convictions."

Bethel meeting at Bow Mission hall at 4:15 P. M. Reform club meeting at same place at 7:30; speaking by members.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Dec. 12; Batchelder, J.

A GRIEVANCE.

Ed. Chronicle: As one of the business men of the city of Portsmouth I desire to enter my protest against what all business men in our city consider injustice, to wit, the conduct of the Eastern railroad—it being the only means of commercial communication we have with the business centres of New England. This road depends upon the custom of those living along its route, and ought to work for the interest of said customers as for their own interest, yet everyone is aware of the method of conducting what is termed "Stockholders' day," and how the railroad not only suffers itself to be swindled, but helps to carry trade from its regular customers, and caters to the interests of the Boston retail traders, who never patronize the the road.

On the last stockholders' day there were fourteen cars-load of people passed from this city to Boston, made up almost entirely of women and children, probably not more than fifteen per cent of whom visited the stockholders' meeting. Now where were the remaining eighty-five per cent during the day? One of the clerks in a retail dry-goods house said he had sold between $1700 and $1800 worth of silks over a counter not over twelve feet long. Other lines of trade undoubtedly did a proportionate amount of business—and this may answer the question. For another answer look at the many packages in sight on the down train, many of them in the hands of wives and children of the very men who depend entirely upon Portsmouth trade for their support, and who complain most bitterly if a citizen buys, away from home, goods in their particular line.

Again, I understand on good authority that this road proposes to run an excursion train to Boston a few days previous to the coming Christmas, solely for the benefit of the retail dealers of that city. Now is it not high time the wholesale traders of Boston and the retail traders of Portsmouth join their interests, and say to the Eastern railroad, "You can take your choice:—work for the interests of the retail traders of Boston and give up the custom of Boston jobbers and Portsmouth (and other country) retailers, or vice versa, for the time is near at hand when patience ceases to be a virtue."

I, for one, am prepared to join with others, and either induce the Portland steamers to come into this port, or to buy a steamer ourselves, to ply between our city and Boston; and will pledge myself to trade with no jobber who is not willing to join with us in thus protecting ourselves. Now let others who feel as I do come forward and express themselves; for while we are trying to "free" Portsmouth bridge and thus bring the custom of our neighbors across the river to our city, shall we allow a railroad depending in a measure upon our patronage for its livelihood, to work directly against our interests by carrying our customers "to Boston and return for $1.00," while we have to pay $3.40 when we go there to buy goods, for which they charge a good round freight bill? MERCHANT.

DEATH OF HON. AMOS TUCK.

Hon. Amos Tuck died at his residence in Exeter at ten o'clock on Thursday evening last, after an illness of a few hours, having had an attack of apoplexy on Wednesday evening. He was unconscious from the time of the attack until his death.

Mr. Tuck was descended from an old Hampton family, but was born in Parsonfield, Me. He graduated at Dartmouth college in 1835, was preceptor of Hampton academy for two years or more, and moved to Exeter in 1838; studied law with James Bell, and was later in partnership with him until 1842. In 1843 Mr. Tuck represented Exeter in the State legislature, and in 1844 took a leading part in the "independent democratic" movement which resulted in John P. Hale being sent to the United States Senate. In 1847 Mr. Tuck was sent to Congress, and served three terms. He was a determined opponent of slavery, was a member of the republican conventions of 1856 and 1860, and in the latter supported Lincoln all through. On the accession of Mr. Lincoln to office, he was appointed naval officer at the Boston custom house, served in that office during the war, and on Mr. Lincoln's re-election received from him a re-appointment for four years more, but was removed by Andrew Johnson in the latter part of the year 1865.

Mr. Tuck was long a trustee of Dartmouth college, for nearly thirty years a trustee of Phillips academy at Exeter, and was also one of the most active workers in aid of the Robinson female academy at Exeter.

He was twice married, his first wife being a daughter of the late David Nudd of Hampton; by her he had three children, two daughters and a son, who survive. His second wife, by whom he had no children, was a daughter of John Townsend of Salisbury; she died a short time ago.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Joseph Mortey, of Biddeford, an Englishman employed as a section hand by the Pepperell Co., but who had been absent from work for a week on account of an injury to his thumb by a loom, committed suicide last Thursday forenoon by hanging himself to the banister of a stair.

Peter Place of Biddeford having beaten Patrick Collins of the same city in a twelve hours go-as-you-please race for the "championship of York county," Collins has challenged Place to a six-days race for from $50 to $500 a side and the championship, the contest to take place during the second week in January.

"UNDER THE GAS-LIGHT."—Oofty Goofi's New York Combination has been performing this thrilling sensational drama for several months in different sections, and an inspection of the correspondents' department of the New York Mercury and Clipper shows that they have met with unbounded success everywhere and given the best of satisfaction to big audiences. The local press, too, is profuse in its praise of the drama and the Oofty Goofi company. We copy the following from the Syracuse (New York) Standard:

The play has always been a favorite one with the public, and whenever ordinarily played, always produces a marked effect. It may be doubted whether a better Melodrama has ever been written by an American. As a literary effort, it is far above the average play, and may be said to strike the popular taste and fancy as does no other American play. It has never been produced in Syracuse with the care and completeness of detail that characterized its production last night. The scenes were entirely new, and were admirable. The celebrated pier scene was marvelous in its fidelity. The railroad sensation, where the train comes rushing across the stage, worked to perfection, and the audience was wrought up to a high pitch of excitement on witnessing it. "Oofty Goofi," played "Snorkey" in a manner that captivated the audience. He uses a slight German accent, and the change from the conventional style of rendering the character is a decided improvement. He is an artist in all that he does, and his performance of the part is in the highest degree enjoyable. He was admirably supported by a first-class company. Each and every character was excellently well rendered, and gave the highest satisfaction.

Remember that this grand drama will be produced at Music Hall on next Wednesday evening with entirely new scenery and mechanical effects, including the railroad train and East river bridge scenes. Hard times prices will rule: 50 cents to parquet and balcony, 35 cents to gallery. Seats may be secured, without extra charge, at Preston's drug store, on and after nine o'clock to-day.

Hunting Down a Dollar.

A young lady of this place has in her possession a gold dollar with a monogram inscribed upon it which has been the subject of a great deal of attention. It was attached to a bracelet by a chain. One evening in the latter part of February last, after a sleigh ride, she missed it. The broken chain showed how it had disappeared. Search was made, but it was of no avail. Finally an advertisement caught the eye of an habitual loafer about town. He went to the house and informed the servant at the door that he had found the dollar below the steps of the sleigh the morning after the ride, and had spend it for whisky at one of the saloons of the city. The friends of the young lady determined to find the dollar if possible. The saloon keeper remembered receiving the money, but he had paid it to a butcher. The latter recollected paying it over to a drover in Trenton. The address of the drover was secured and a letter written to him, requesting a reply at once. It came, with the information that he had purchased a ticket to Philadelphia with it the very day the Lambertville butcher gave it to him, and that the Trenton ticket agent had remarked about the monogram.

The search was continued. The agent remembered the dollar, and said he had laid it aside for a few hours, but as the drover who paid it to him evidently knew nothing concerning it, it was forwarded to the general office in Philadelphia with the daily account. The receiver of the New Jersey receipts at Philadelphia was next corresponded with. The beautiful monogram had been noted, but it had been deposited in the bank, along with other sums of money. His opinion was that it could be obtained from the cashier. So interested in the travels of the little coin were its friends in this city that it was resolved to continue the investigation. The cashier was communicated with. His attention had been called to the initials on the back of the dollar by one of the clerks, and he had instructed the clerk to place it aside for a few weeks. Unfortunately, in the absence of the clerk, a gentleman desiring several hundred dollars in gold, preparatory to a California trip, had been furnished with the amount, and the little piece had in some way been mixed with that sum, and gone westward. The gentleman's name was furnished. He represented a Philadelphia house, and a letter was sent to him. The events described took place in March, and the remainder of the spring and all summer passed without any tidings from the lost bangle. A few days ago, however, there came a letter from Detroit, written by the gentleman who had gone west, which stated that his health had been poor, so he had not returned at once from California, as he purposed when he started, but had stopped at Colorado Springs for the summer to recuperate. The letter relating the account of the dollar had been delayed and not forwarded, so that he never received it until he reached Chicago. He said he had the dollar in his possession, as the monogram attracted his notice. The initials were the same as those of a young friend of his, and he kept the coin on that account. He promised to send the dollar as should be directed. He was as good as his word, and the little gold piece is back in Lambertville once more.—Philadelphia Times.

Cuticura

THE GREAT SKIN CURE,

The most Healing, Soothing, and Refreshing External Application in the World.

It rapidly heals Ulcers, Old Sores, and Discharging Wounds; Itching Piles and other Itching Humors that have been the torture of a lifetime, thus affording unspeakable gratification to thousands; Burns, Scalds, Wounds, and Festers; all Itching and Scaly Eruptions of the Skin, and all Affections of the Scalp, including Loss of Hair. Nothing like it has ever been known to the most intelligent physicians. It has swept a host of poisonous remedies out of existence. It is revolutionary in its cure, position and mode of treatment and succeeds in curing every external affection. At every stage it is ably assisted by CUTICURA SOAP, which is a part of itself medicinally and at the same time the most delightfully fragrant and refreshing Toilet, Bath, and Nursery soap in existence.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a powerful purifying agent and liver stimulant, should be taken to neutralize and resolve away blood poisons, caused by the virus of scrofula, cancer, malarial or contagious diseases, which maintain and foster diseases of the skin and scalp.

SALT RHEUM.

Life a burden from the sufferings caused by this terrible disease.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Please accept my most grateful thanks for the great, great comfort I have received from the use of your CUTICURA.

For the past eight or nine years I have been troubled with that dreadful disease, Salt Rheum. For months I would be helpless,—my very life a burden to be.

I have used everything in the shape of medicine, both internal and external, but without effect.

My hands were in a terrible condition, the backs of them being all raw, and I thought I would try CUTICURA.

I tried it, and it was as if a miracle had been performed. for I will take my oath that in three applications my hands were as smooth as a newborn babe!

I presume there are hundreds, if not thousands, who know of my case, among whom there may be some one similarly affected, and if so I would earnestly advise him to give CUTICURA a trial.

Yours, very thankfully,
A. D. BAKER, Tie C. Agent, C. S. R. R.

TETTER OR SALT RHEUM

On the hands Cured. A grateful letter.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Having been troubled for many years with the Tetter or Salt Rheum, and spent many hard-earned dollars, I was given a trial of your CUTICURA, and thank God, my hands are well. I never had anything do me good like that.

You may put this in the paper and welcome, and may it do some other poor sufferer the same good it has done me! I am well known here, having lived here nearly fifteen years and kept boarders for a living, and sometimes my heart was sore, thinking I would have to give up altogether with my sore hands, and having a small family to take care of; but oh! thank God, my hands are well, so I again return thanks.

Yours respectfully,
ELIZABETH BUCKLEY,
LITTLETON, N. H., May 30, 1878.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Placed over the centre of the nervous forces, the pit of the stomach, they furnish the absorbents with that marvellous vitalizing and restorative agency, Electricity, united with the curative properties of our fragrant Belladonna and Pine. For weak and sore lungs, palpitation of the heart, painful kidneys, liver complaint, bilious colic, weak stomach and bowels, rheumatism, neuralgia, and sciatica, they are the best remedy in the world.

Only Two Dollars a Year!

Boys and Girls and their Friends will find in

WIDE AWAKE for 1880

Hosts of things to enjoy. Among them will be two capital Serial Stories:

Five Little Peppers and How they Grew, by Margaret Sidney. Illustrations by Jessie Curtis.

Two Young Housekeepers, by Theodora R. Jenness. Illustrated by Robert Lewis.

There will also be four two-part stories: Billy's Hound, The Boy That Was Too Beautiful, Our Store, At Plymouth Oak Farm.

OUR AMERICAN ARTISTS.

Mr. S. G. W. Benjamin will continue these papers which have been so gladly welcomed by the people at large, being the only Art Series ever prepared for young readers; and, as during 1879, they will be largely illustrated by the artists themselves, and will also take up our Sculptors, Bird and Flower Painters, Book and Magazine Illustrators, and Engravers.

CONCORD PICNIC DAYS.

Under this title Mr. Geo. B. Bartlett will present a series of Out-of Door Games for both Boys and Girls. These amusement papers will be full of Concord, reminiscences, famous haunts, and noted people whose names are familiar to the literature and art of two continents.

Professor M. P. Paulard his Discoveries in the Starry Heavens. Chronicled in verse by John Henry Jack, illustrated by Alathar Ann. The entire collection will be arranged and edited by John Brownjohn, and the drawings retouched by Miss Mary A. Lathbury.

Interesting to teachers. A series of Twelve Original Exercise Songs, for use in Public Schools, are being prepared for WIDE AWAKE, under the supervision of Mr. Lewis C. Elson, a gentleman well-known to the musical public of Boston and New York.

THE BEST REMEDY

FOR

Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

Diseases of the pulmonary organs are so prevalent and fatal, that a safe and reliable remedy for them is invaluable to every community. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is such a remedy, and no other so eminently merits the confidence of the public. It is a scientific combination of the medicinal principles and curative virtues of the finest drugs, chemically united, to insure the greatest possible efficiency and uniformity of results, which enables physicians as well as invalids to use it with confidence. It is the most reliable remedy for diseases of the throat and lungs that science has produced. It strikes at the foundation of all pulmonary diseases, affording prompt and certain relief, and is adapted to patients of any age or either sex. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it without difficulty. In the treatment of ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Clergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL are magical, and multitudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household, for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, soothing, and helpful.

The marvellous cures which AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has effected all over the world are a sufficient guaranty that it will continue to produce the best results. An impartial trial will convince the most sceptical of its wonderful curative powers, as well as of its superiority over all other preparations for pulmonary complaints.

Eminent physicians in all parts of the country, knowing its composition, recommend AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL to invalids, and prescribe it in their practice. The test of half a century has proved its absolute certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints not already beyond the reach of human aid.

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Fou Odor. Senses of Smell and Tast Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so bad that my presence in a room with others was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was no troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours,

MELBOURNE H. FORD,

Short-Hand Writer.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1878.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived here to-night all right. I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for that remedy. I have tried nasal douches and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, I have never been able to recover my senses of taste and smell. I tried SANFORD'S CURE. You can refer any one you choose to me, and I will cheerfully inform them of the detail as to the benefit the remedy has been to me.

Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1878.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

not only promptly arrests the corroding discharges of catarrh, but, by sympathetic action, it restores to soundness all the organs of the head that have become affected by it, and exhibit any of the following affections:—

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full and carefully prepared direction for use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

AN Electro-Galvanic Battery, combined with a highly Medicated Plaster, forming the grandest curative agent in the world of medicine, and utterly surpassing all other Plasters heretofore in use. They accomplish more in one week than the old Plasters in a whole year. They do not palliate, they CURE. They

Relieve Affections of the Chest,
Relieve Affections of the Lungs,
Relieve Affections of the Heart,
Relieve Affections of the Liver,
Relieve Affections of the Spleen,
Relieve Affections of the Kidneys,
Relieve Affections of the Spine,
Relieve Affections of the Nerves,
Relieve Affections of the Muscles,
Relieve Affections of the Joints,
Relieve Affections of the Bones,
Relieve Affections of the Sinews.

No matter what may be the extent of your suffering any one of these Plasters. Collins' Galvanic, is fully supported by hundreds of testimonials in our possession near in mind that the most important discoveries in pharmacy date back less than ten years, and that compositions of opinions and essences of plants and herbs united with Electricity to form a curative Plaster, in soothing, healing, and strengthening properties far superior to all other Plasters heretofore in use the scientific physician is to the horse-leech.

Price, 25 Cents.

Be careful to call for COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER and you get genuine worthless imitation. Sold by all wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

New Publications.

Among the magazines of the day which take a very high rank is Appletons' Journal. The number for January opens with the first part of a brilliant novelette from the French of Victor Cherbuliez, entitled "A stroke of diplomacy." The conclusion of the story will be given in the February number. The proprietors will hereafter give a succession of novelettes, running thro' two or three numbers, in preference to the customary long serials of the magazines—a decided improvement. "A stroke of diplomacy" is brilliant and unique, as may well be expected of anything from the pen of Victor Cherbuliez. An article on the "Letters of Charles Dickens," just published, with copious extracts, is eminently readable and will be appreciated by those who are fond of reading every thing Mr. Dickens has written. A collection of strange legends from the folk-lore of all lands pertaining to the myth of Cinderella is a capital paper from the pen of W. R. S. Ralston. "Mr. Gladstone as a man of letters" is considered; "dinners in literature" is the title of a curious paper, which traces the various forms of dining, as illustrated in ancient and modern literature. "What is religion?" forms the topic of a most eloquent and suggestive paper, one which believers and skeptics alike would find profoundly interesting. There is a paper on "Matthew Arnold on poetry," and "Mr. Irving's Shylock;" and the editor has for his topics the "Proposed federation of the British empire," "The spiritual in art," and "Adorning the city." The contents of this number are uniformly of sterling value and interest. Appletons' Journal is published monthly, at twenty-five cents per number, or $3.00 per annum; D. Appleton & Co., Publishers, 549 & 551 Broadway, New York city.

"His Majesty, Myself," is the title of the latest issue of the "No name series" of books published by Roberts Brothers, of Boston. The book has already achieved for itself a reputation, the first edition being early disposed of. His Majesty, Myself, is a well told story of the rise and progress of a sturdy Scotsman who comes to New York and begins his career in the Empire City by "carrying a kit of mackerel across town," and achieves success by Scotch perseverance and thrift till he is able "to carry the hale house." The career of his two nephews is graphically described. The book is one in which the reader never tires of its details, nor grows impatient to know coming events, but enjoys the reading of every page, because the whole work is charmingly written and the story is told in a masterly manner. It is a book that will be eagerly sought for and read, and its best commendations will be derived from the army of readers who are now enjoying it. The volume is of the No Name (second) series, and uniform in style and price with its predecessors. Mr. Myers has it on sale at $1.00.

Do a Favor to a Sick Friend.

If you have a friend suffering from any disorder of the kidneys send them a package of Kidney-Wort, and you will make them happy. Its great tonic power is especially directed to these diseases, and it quickly relieves the distress and cures the disease. Have you tried it?

—A man in Madison county, Ky., went through the terrible ordeal of having a bomb-shell burst in his hands just after the war. He was dreadfully mangled by the explosion, but recovered from his wounds. Some time after that he was shot though the body with a navy revolver, the ball passing in at the breast and out at the back. Some few weeks ago the same man was driving a wagon with a heavy saw-log on it and he on the saw-log. The wagon turned over and he and the saw-log rolled off together, the saw-log passing over his body, crushing him in a frightful manner, from which he has been confined in bed for several weeks, but is now out and as hale and healthy as ever.

Facts for Dairymen.

It should be borne in mind by practical dairymen, that the Pefected Butter Color of Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., is the best obtainable in the world. It is absolutely pure and harmless, free from odor or flavor, cannot spoil in any weather, is in liquid form and ready for instant use, costs but little, and is of a uniform standard as to strength and intensity of hue. Use no other.

—A bold, bad burglar, recently broke into the house of a man in the watches of the night. The man awakened and questioned the intruder: "What do you want here? What look you for?" Said the burglar, gruffly: "Money." "Hold on a minute," quoth the man, "and I will help you. I've been looking for money myself for ten years; but perhaps the two of us may have better luck."

Kidney Diseases.

Kidney diseases afflict the greater part of the human race, and they are constantly on the increase, but where the virtues of Kidney-Wort have become known, they are held in check and speedily cured. Let those who have had to constantly dose spirits of nitre and such stuff, give this great remedy a trial and be cured.

The Salmon Falls and Great Falls manufacturing companies are each paying three per cent.

Naval Affairs.

Boatswain Edward Hughes is ordered to the receiving ship Wabash, at Boston.

Gunner Andrew Harman is ordered to the Swatara, Dec. 20th.

Boatswain Andrew Milne is detached from the Wabash, and ordered to the Powhatan.

Rear Adm. R. H. Wyman on the 10th inst. transferred his flag from the Powhatan to the Tennessee.

Surgeon Charles H. Burbank has been commissioned a medical inspector in the navy from April 6th, with the relative rank of commander.

First Lieut. Geo. E. Elliott, U. S. M. C., is detached from the marine barracks at Norfolk, Va., and ordered to command the marine guard on board the Swatara Dec. 20th.

The U. S. S. Constellation, Capt. John L. Davis commanding, arrived at Gibraltar Dec. 5th, with officers and men for the Trenton.

The U. S. S. Marion sailed from New York on Saturday to join the South Pacific squadron. She is expected to report to Rear Adm. Rogers in about four months.

News and Notes.

The American Union telegraph company has completed its connections with the new French ocean cable, and a despatch was sent on Friday from New York direct to Paris.

By the overflowing of rivers in Hungary the city of Arad and several towns have been rendered uninhabitable. Fully 10,000 persons were rendered homeless, and whole families were frozen to death in the woods. Several hundred persons are missing.

During a drunken row in a Buffalo, N. Y., saloon Thursday night, it was discovered that a person who had for nine years done the work of a man, and had been regarded as such, was a woman.

A tank holding 20,000 barrels of petroleum exploded at Red Rock, Pa., Friday forenoon, burning two hundred houses.

A vigorous effort is being made by the brothers and sister of the late Mrs. Dorsey of Louisiana, who bequeathed the whole of her estate to Jeff Davis, to nullify the will, on the ground that the testator was of unsound mind and under undue influence by Davis.

Three men were killed and seven wounded at Plattsmouth, Nebraska, Friday, by the caving in of an embankment.

The wages of the bottomers in E. P. Dodge's shoe factory at Newburyport were on Thursday increased fifteen per cent. It is the first advance in the prices for shoe workers that has been made for five years in that place. The shoe factories are manufacturing twice the number of shoes as last year at the same date.

William E. Fales of Auburn, Mass., was knocked down on the highway by a blow from a slungshot, last Thursday evening, and robbed of $680. He is not dangerously hurt.

Two sweet young things of opposite sexes, each aged sixteen years, ran away from their homes last week and were united in the bonds of matrimony by a magistrate of Paris, Tenn. The blushing bridegroom asked the judge if it was his custom to receive fees, and when assent was given to the proposition, the happy lad drew from his pocket a dozen sweet crackers and invited the judge to help himself.

A boy in a grammar school of North Attleboro', Mass., was seen to leave his seat rather hurriedly and unceremoniously one day last week, and to the question of the teacher, "Why such haste and disobedience of the rules?" he replied, "I cannot sit there and have a seven-shooter pointed at me." The teacher called upon the boy, charged with the offence to come forward and give up the revolver. The boy on coming forward, declared it was only a "pasteboard pistol," and wished to retain it, but the teacher demanded it, and he thereupon produced a seven-shooter with every chamber loaded with cartridges. This is the second time that boys in this school have been detected with revolvers.

Schooner M. & A. Henderson, Capt. Swain, was recently found sunk near Kitty Hawk beach. Nothing has been heard of her captain or officers, but several of her crew—Italians and Spaniards—have been seen on shore; and on Saturday three of them were arrested at Baltimore, on suspicion of murdering the officers and scuttling the schooner.

A telegram dated Leadville, Col., December 8th, to Messrs. Dodge, Potter & Co., 34 Pine street, New York, says: "Old shaft on Dunkin every appearance of striking Robert E. Lee body of ore. The working shaft better prospects for months than I have ever seen. New shafts every indication of striking body of mineral dipping to Evans Gulch. General appearance of mine better than I have ever seen. CHARLES L. HILL, Superintendent.—Boston Advertiser, December 11th.

New Hampshire Items.

A coal deposit has been discovered on the land of John Dolliver, in Lyndeboro'. It burns freely, and specimens have been sent to experts in Boston. A spring near by is so impregnated with oil as to lead to the belief that petroleum also exists. Quite a mining fever has been created.

A young lady of Nashua was taken sick some time ago, and since that time she has lain in an apparently dormant or sleeping condition. She was aroused enough on Saturday, the 6th inst., after apparently sleeping a week, to understand what was said and to partake of a little food. In a short time, however, she again relapsed into her former position, in which she has remained.

What a Pity

that the otherwise beautiful girl should have such bad teeth. And all because she did not use SOZODONT. It costs so little to buy it considering the good it does, and its benefits stretch out into her future life. Poor girl!

A Down Town Merchant

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homœopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and the little fellow awoke next morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering, crying, babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudice of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 6

OOFTY GOOFT'S

New York Combination

In the thrilling Sensational Drama, entitled:

UNDER THE GASLIGHT!

Re-Written, Re-Arranged and Re-Constructed by the Author, Mr. Augustin Daly, expressly for Oofty Gooft, Mr. Gus Phillips.

Act I. The Wolves of Society.
Act II. A Morning with Justice.
Act III. The 10:30 Down Express.
Act IV. Chloroform and Burglary.

The whole produced with entirely new scenery and mechanical effects including The Famous Railroad Sensation and the Great Pier and East River Bridge Scene ?

TO THE PUBLIC.

The changes which I have made in my drama of UNDER THE GASLIGHT, for my friend Gus Phillips (whom the rest of the world know so well through the medium of many a happy laugh as Oofty Gooft) are such changes, I believe, as will bring its leading incidents into closer companionship—and the substitution of some new material for that which has been so long familiar, will give the play, I hope, a color and a spirit nearer akin to this day, and win for it a renewal of that phenomenal favor which greeted its first appearance on the stage, twelve years ago.

AUGUSTIN DALY.

Admission, Parquet, 50 cents, Gallery 35 cents. No extra charge for Reserved seats.

Sale of seats will commence at Preston's drug store at nine o'clock Saturday morning, Dec. 13.

AROUND HOME.

Season tickets for the Odd Fellows' fair are selling very rapidly.

Coal freights from Baltimore for this port are quoted at $2.90.

The December term of the United States district court for this district will be held Tuesday.

Rev. Mr. Ruland of Greenland conducted services at the State reform school at Manchester on Sunday afternoon.

At auction on Saturday, in Boston, Exeter Gas-Light Co.'s stock sold at $25 per share; Great Falls Manu. Co., $101; Manchester city bonds, $106.

The last lecture in the Methodist course will be delivered by Rev. C. B. Pitblado this evening, in the M. E. church at half-past seven o'clock; subject, "Music among men."

Rev. Mr. Pitblado has recovered from his throat difficulty, and last week lectured in Rockland, Northport, Searsport, Bucksport and Oxford, Maine, changing his subject each night.

A gentleman of this city who has held office in the internal revenue service of the government since 1861, seeks a continuance at the public crib, and is asking our business men to sign a petition that his wishes may be granted.

The will of George Frost of Durham, lately deceased, leaves ten shares in the Boston & Albany railroad to the Congregational church of that town, and ten shares of the same stock to the town of Durham for the promotion of temperance.

Commodore Law, chief of the bureau of yards and docks of the navy department, in his annual report makes the following estimates for improvements at this navy yard: For new foundry for steam engineering, $14,462.22; for smithery for steam engineering, $7,926.25; for water works, $7,000.

Messrs. B. F. Dame and E. P. Sherburne, formerly principals in our grammar schools—and good teachers they were too—have been re-elected to similar positions in the Lincoln street and Franklin street grammar schools of Manchester, at salaries of $1300, each.

This evening, at Music hall, the Original California Minstrels—including Cool Burgess, the California vocal sextette, and eight "end men"—will give an entertainment; and judging from the reports of the press in other places, we have no doubt the entertainment will be a superior one of the kind. See advertisement.

In old times, Portsmouth supported at least two book-binderies. Later, blank book manufacturing, ruling, etc., passed to the control of large concerns; and at the death of the late Mr. William B. Lowd, book-binding became a lost art in our city. Mr. Myers, in view of the wants of people, and the many libraries and books in Portsmouth, has made arrangements to execute all orders for binding, not only promptly but at economical charges.

Hon. John M. Brodhead, a native of South Newmarket, some weeks ago offered to give the town $5000 for the support of a public library, and to bequeath to it his valuable private library, provided the town would take its old name of Newfield. Serious objection was made to the change of name by the Swamscot Machine Co., whose tools and materials are marked with the present name of the town; so Mr. Brodhead offered to bear the expense of having the tools re-marked, if necessary. Notwithstanding all the inducements offered, it is reported that the people of South Newmarket will not consent to a change of the town's name.

Baird's New Orleans Minstrels will appear at Music hall on Monday evening next, the 22d inst. The company is highly commended by the press; one of the performers (Mr. James Holbrook) is a Portsmouth boy, and a good many people will want to see him, so we presume the hall will be filled. Of the entertainment given by this company the Taunton, Mass., Gazette of the 5th inst. says:

An enthusiastic audience greeted the first appearance of Baird's New Orleans Minstrels at Music hall last evening. From the notices which were given in advance of them, people expected a first-class entertainment, and they were not disappointed. The nineteen performers worked with a will, and round after round of applause greeted their efforts. Their jokes were all new, their singing was excellent; indeed it is seldom so many good vocalists are found in one troupe, and their burlesque acting was far ahead of anything we have had for some time. The dancing of the "Great Eight" was perfect, and they moved to the strains of the excellent music of the orchestra with clock-work precision. The burlesque "No Pinafore" concluded the entertainment, and was rapturously received. Should they come this way again a rousing reception will be given them.

The schooner yacht Wm. H. Russell is having a new stern-post put in and other repairs made. Mr. Warren Keen is doing the work.

Mr. D. C. McCallar of Boston has been engaged as the tenor of the Unitarian choir for the remainder of the church year, which ends in May. He is a very superior singer, and the congregation are to be congratulated on his engagement.

Work on the Amory mill at Manchester has been continued on the pleasant Sundays of a few weeks past. The contractors on the Franklin block in this city, and the hotel Wentworth at Newcastle, have been grateful enough for six pleasant working days a week not to trespass on the seventh.

When the steamer Tallapoosa left the navy yard for Washington and intermediate naval stations, on her last trip, she took away some twelve hundred flags of different nations, to be cut over and repaired. This throws out of employment the force of ladies that has been engaged in repairing old flags at this yard, in the department of navigation.

The referee case of Gen. Hoitt of Durham vs. Boston & Maine railroad, for alleged loss of house by fire, occasioned by sparks from a locomotive some time since, opened in Dover on Thursday morning of last week before Judges Smith, Foster and Bingham. After the formal proceedings were over the judges and all parties concerned went to Durham to view the premises. Gen. Marston and J. S. H. Frink are counsel for plaintiff; Albert R. Hatch and J. B. Smith, of Durham, for the deft.

The town authorities of Epping propose to secure if possible a new hearing in the case of Dr. Nat. Batchelder, who at the recent term of the supreme court in this city received a verdict of $1575 against the town for injuries received from an alleged defect in the highway, and ask the court to demand of the doctor a bond to refund the money which they are to pay under an execution, provided the result of another trial should be the reversal of the former decision. The contest in this stage of the case is not yet concluded.

The schooner West Falmouth, of Boston, Capt. John Frohock, bound from Lincolnville, Me., for Rockport, Mass., was in collision at 11:20 o'clock P. M., Friday, off Boon island, with schooner P. S. Lindsay of Portland, and had her bowsprit broken short off at the knightheads, her bulwarks on the port bow stove, and her foremast so badly sprung at the deck that a new mast will have to be put in. The P. S. Lindsey had some of her head-gear carried away, but hooked on to the West Falmouth and towed her in toward the lower harbor until the tug Ann was met, when the steamer took the disabled vessel and towed her up to Jones' wharf, where she will repair. The West Falmouth's cargo is baled hay.

On Saturday evening one of the officers of Col. Sise engine company, No. 2, was presented by some of his friends with a "smoking set" of rare beauty and utility. The "set" consists of a generous hunk of tobacco, a knife which can be used either to cut up the tobacco or to split firewood, and a genuine imitation clay meerschaum pipe, beautifully sculptured with a jack-knife by one of the donors and holding exactly a pint, and heavy enough to pry a man's mouth wide open should he ever try to hold it in his teeth. The present was appropriate and well deserved; and the recipient, "though taken entirely by surprise"—as was natural on seeing such a pipe—showed his presence of mind by immediately trying to borrow a pipe-full of tobacco from another member of the company, which the latter prudently declined to accede to, on the ground that he never carried around with him more than a quarter of a pound of the weed.

We hope our citizens will not forget the meeting this evening at the common council rooms relative to the establishment of a shoe factory in this city. It would seem that there could be no better opportunity for the starting of such an enterprise than the present. Manufacturers predict the greatest prosperity in all branches of business for the next five years. There have been failures, bad failures, in the past, and there are some alarmists who predict that nothing can succeed here; but it is well known that some of the failures have been because of inexperience or knavery, or both. Mr. Knights, who will meet our citizens this evening, we do not know personally; but if the recommendation of the largest and best known shoe manufacturers in New England, with whom he has been associated for the past twenty years, is worth anything, then we have found a man who has never suffered reverse and who is confident of immediate and sure success if the enterprise is launched. Let every one who has the welfare of our city at heart be present to-night.

JOHN HENRY BOWLES.

On Saturday evening, at about six o'clock, John Henry Bowles passed away, at his residence on Christian Shore, after an illness of several months.

Mr. Bowles was born in this city in 1812, and learned the printer's trade in the old Oracle (now Journal) office, where he worked a number of years. In 1835 he went to New York, and was engaged on the Express, continuing the connection in various capacities of trust until about three years ago, when, the establishment having changed owners, he returned to the ever-loved home of his youth to end his days. For many years, while in New York, he was the regular correspondent of the Portsmouth Journal, and his letters (over the signature of "B") were always interesting and attractive. He also wrote much for literary and other papers, besides those with which he had established business connections; and since his return to Portsmouth his contributions to this paper have been frequent and interesting, until within a few months, when failing health caused his pen to be in a great measure neglected.

He was twice married. By his first wife he had one son, who served through the war, surviving its perils to die in peace some five years ago. His second wife survives him, but he leaves no children.

Mr. Bowles was a very pleasant, companionable man; an enthusiastic lover of his native city, and jealous of its ancient fame and modern good repute; and neither increasing infirmity nor forty years of confinement in the brick-and-stone wilderness of New York city sufficed to dull his appreciation of the beauties of nature as seen in the vicinity of the Piscatqua. A man of more than ordinary intelligence and ability, and high integrity, he filled worthily and honorably the positions he was called to occupy. Peace to his ashes.

NOT A BETTING MAN.

A well known and honorable gentleman of this city, who went to Boston on Wednesday of last week, was there selected as a victim by two swindlers who were on the lookout that day for some "honest country gentleman" to fleece, no doubt supposing that most of those who visited Boston on "railroad day" came there to be swindled to a greater or less extent.

As our friend was on the way to the depot to take the three o'clock train for home, he was accosted by name by a nicely-dressed and gentlemanly young man, who introduced himself as a nephew of Hon. Frank Jones, and said he was formerly employed in Mr. Jones' office in this city. He added, quite incidentally, that he had left "his uncle's" employ, and was now engaged in selling California tea, a sample of which he would be pleased to show his respected townsman. The pair went to a saloon near by, where the sharper shew his "samples;" and in a short time the two were joined by a third party, who accidentally strolled in and joined in the conversation. The new comer was fluent and interesting in conversation, and after having—quite incidentally—made a show of a large amount of money, the talk—quite insensibly—drifted into a discussion of a game played with three cards, on which the Portsmouth man was invited to "make a little bet, just for the fun of the thing." The invitation, however, he positively declined, as he never bets nor even plays at cards, having conscientious scruples against such games; and he shortly left the place, bringing away all his own money, "Mr. Jones' nephew" promising to meet him at the depot in a few minutes and give him a package of tea to bring home, and to call on him in Portsmouth next day. Strange to relate, neither tea nor "nephew" has since been seen by our worthy townsman.

The rich thing in the matter is that the gentleman had not the slighest suspicion that he was in the hands of two thieving swindlers, and in relating the story after his return home was abundantly confident that he could have won all the money the three-card man had, the game was "so easily seen through." It was a clear case of a man being saved harmless by his devotion to principle, in a situation where a closer acquaintance with the ways of the world might have resulted in a heavy loss.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Dec. 18; Batchelder, J.

Frank W. Gray, of Rye, formerly of this city, was before the court on a charge of stealing some rather unusual plunder, to wit, a barrel of cider and a barrel of vinegar. The testimony was to the effect that Gray drove a team into the yard of James A. Rand of Rye, on the 12th inst., put the cider and vinegar into the wagon, drove off with it, came into this city, and sold the abducted fluids to a Portsmouth storekeeper. He was held in $300 to answer at the April term of the supreme court.

John Simmons, for stealing a buffalo robe from the front of Dearborn's hat and fur store, was sent to jail for ninety days, costs being taxed at $6.90. Simmons represented himself to be a travelling dealer in stationery; but in answer to questions by the court he said he had sold nothing in this city, having been on a drunk ever since his arrival, which occurred a few days before he confiscated the robe.

"UNDER THE GAS-LIGHT," by Oofty Goofs's New York Combination, received the following notice in the Cincinnati Commercial of Oct. 14:

"Under the Gaslight" is the most popular and, both as a literary effort and for stage effect, about the best melodrama ever written—certainly the best in this country. The production last night at Heuck's was first-class. The prominent scenes were all painted expressly for the occasion by Prof D. B Hughes, and were both correct and pretty. The celebrated pier scene gave a view of the new Brooklyn bridge, and was a marvel of beauty. The railroad sensation went off without a flaw, and raised the audience to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. We have not space to enter the cast in detail Mr. Phillips played Snorkey with a slight German accent, an innovation as an improvement. W. H. Southard, the Ray Trafford, was formerly a member of the company at the Grand Opera House, and played his part neatly and well. Mr. S. B. Ellis, as the Old Signalman, made a great deal out of a small part. Miss Adelaide Thornton's Laura was also praiseworthy. The Justice of the Tombs was performed by W. H. Schneider, who had just returned from his trip with A. Boyle. "Under the Gaslight" will be given all the week, and deserves to be seen.

Remember that this grand drama will be produced at Music Hall on next Wednesday evening with entirely new scenery and mechanical effects, including the railroad train and East river bridge scenes. Hard times prices will rule: 50 cents to parquet and balcony, 35 cents to gallery. Seats may be secured, without extra charge, at Preston's drug store.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. Walter A. Burleigh has been appointed superintendent of the Newichawanick manufacturing company at South Berwick, and has entered upon his duties.

The Portsmouth manufacturing company, of Biddeford, is sharing in the general prosperity. Within a few days three new spinning frames have been added to the machinery of the mill, and a large quantity of cloth is shipped every week. This company also manufactures an extra quality of cotton batting, which finds a ready sale.

An aged lady by the name of Betsy Conner, of Parsonfield, who died a few weeks ago and was buried at Newfield, was taken up some days afterward, and a coroner's inquest held on the body. Her brother and the town authorities have suspicions of foul play. The doctors took her stomach and are having it analyzed, before the bringing in of a verdict by the jury.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely pure—made from Grape Cream of Tartar, imported exclusively for this Powder from the Wine district of France. Always uniform and wholesome. Sold only in cans by all Grocers. A pound can mailed to any address, postage paid, on receipt of 60 cents. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 171 Duane St., New York. Most cheap powders contain alum; dangerous to health; avoid them, especially when offered loose or in bulk.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

Let your first attack of indigestion be the last. Rouse the dormant energies of the stomach with the Bitters. The tone thus imparted will remain. This is a fact established by thousands of witnesses, whose testimony is simply a statement of their own experiences. Those afflicted with general debility of every phase will find this medicine an unfailing agent in building up and renewing their strength. Political.

Democratic Boston will not permit women to serve on the school board. The democracy will soon have to act upon the question of giving the Catholics control of a large share of the school fund in that city, and they want men upon the board upon whose votes they can depend.

Judge Virgin has dismissed the petition of the republicans for a mandamus to compel the governor and council of the State of Maine to open the returns for senators and representatives for inspection by interested parties.

The conservative democratic paper of Carroll parish, La., says that David Armstrong, an industrious colored man and a good, paying tenant on the Moranez place, near Milliken's Bend, Madison parish, was taken out of his house on the night preceding the recent election by a band of armed men, shot many times, and his dead body thrown into the river, whence it was fished out three days later. Madison parish gave a magnificent democratic majority.

The Most Northerly Town in the World.

Hammerfest, Sweden, is the most northerly town in the world. It has a population of 2,057. There are many Laplanders and Finlanders in the town. The principle business is in cod liver oil and fish, and the odor from the oil makes it very disagreeable. Reindeer and goats abound here, while there are but six horses in the town. I don't know whether it is because of the fish diet or the long winter nights, but any disconsolate, childless couple had better come here and spend a season. The sun sets here November 18th, and does not rise again until January 28th. Children go to school with lanterns for about six weeks. In the summer the sun does not set from the first of June until the 22d of July. There is no chance for the hotel keepers to make any money on candles as they do in Germany and France. I had my photograph taken by the midnight sun. You get demoralized here. Mrs. K— has already. She sets up to one and two o'clock, knitting socks, waiting for night to come. On the 27th of June the Laplanders brought many children into the town to have them confirmed. Reindeers you can see, fifty at a time, on the side hills, and goats by the hundred. On June 23d (called here St. Han's day) or mid-summer day, they kindled bonfires on the sides of the mountains around the town, and had a jolly time. The weather is horrible. The thermometer stands from four to five Reaumer. There is one hotel here, and its management might be easily improved, although the mistress is kind and obliging. We have fish and reindeer for breakfast, reindeer and fish for dinner, and for supper some more fish and reindeer. This is in latitude 70 deg., 10 min. north.—Exchange.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers at 35 cts.

Whooping Cough is successfully treated by separating the patients beyond hearing distance of each other, and by the employment of Fellows' Hypophosphites. Whooping Cough is a nervous disease of so sympathetic a nature that a paroxysm may be produced in one susceptible by simply hearing the cough of another person. The above named treatment has been found singularly effective.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE FOR WEAKLY PERSONS.—This excellent product of the grape is prescribed and used by the leading physicians in the country, when a generous and nourishing wine is desirable; especially for females, aged persons and consumptives; and by churches for communion. KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION, Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing diseases, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

THE MODEL RANGE

—FOR—

Hard or Soft Coal or Wood

—HAVING THE—

Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,
New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,
New Patent Extension Leg,
New Patent Double Top,
(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many slides. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

Ranges, Cooking and Parlor Stoves,

Etc., can be seen at the old stand of

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once flattered himself that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it and the injury of trusses, to such an extent that life has become burdensome, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him. References given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his successful practice and popularity throughout this country and the West Indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Save this, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's peculiar system, he divides his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturday s, Mondays and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The fame of Dr. Sherman, arising from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain co-adjacent men and impostors to represent themselves as Drs. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, causing a foul odor so that my presence in a room with other ladies was offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was no troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours,

MELBOURNE H. FORD.

Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1878.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived safe to night all right. I don't know what I should have done if I had not been for this remedy. I have tried fast Douches and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, I have not been able to recover my senses of taste and smell until I tried SANFORD'S CURE. You may depend on my choice to me, and I will cheerfully inform them of the benefit this remedy has been to me.

Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1878.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

acts promptly arrests the corroding discharges from internal, but by sympathetic action, it restores to sound health all the organs of the head that have become affected by it, and exhibits any of the following affections:—

In the December number of the International Review, under the title of "Johannes King of Kings and his Christian empire in Africa," (none other than King John of Abyssinia,) is a descriptive article full of information and teeming with interest, giving a full history of this remarkable African king and his war-like people, and particulars of his differences with Egypt. The writer, Edwin De Leon, was a member of the cabinet of the Ex-Khedive, and may be supposed to possess exceptional opportunities to know of the cause of the present contest between Abyssinia and Egypt.

A new weekly paper is to be published in Washington, to be called the Army and Navy Register, and will be entirely devoted to the interests of the army and navy. Edmund Hudson, of the Boston Herald, will have editorial charge of the paper.

Brentano's Monthly for December displays a new illuminated cover, and contains an increased amount of well digested matter in relation to sports of all kinds. The frontispiece of this number presents accurate models of three yachts—the sloop "Ada," and a vessel now building. Everybody interested in "pastimes by field and water" should take this magazine, which gives full and authentic reports of all prominent sporting events—excepting prize-fights, which it does not recognize. It is a sporting magazine for the family. Brentano's Literary Emporium, 39 Union square, New York city; $3.00 per year.

The United Service for January is the first monthly number of this excellently-conducted "review of military and naval affairs." It is of the same size, and shows the same care in editing and mechanical get-up, as the previous quarterly numbers. The January number contains a discussion of the explosion of the 38-ton gun on board of the British ironclad Thunderer, by Prof. John M. Brooks; "The battle of Nashville," by Brev. Maj. Gen. R. W. Johnson, U. S. A.; "A chapter on Peru," by Commodore Simpson, U. S. N.; "The first army bill" "Congress and the north pole," by Captain Howgate; "A powerful navy not dangerous to civil liberty," by Capt. S. B. Luce, U. S. N.; "Incidents of the recent campaign against the Utes," by Capt. J. S. Payne, U. S. A.; and many other interesting articles. Published by L. R. Hamersly & Co., Philadelphia; $5 per year; single number fifty cents.

Portrait of Dr. Holmes.

The publishers of the Atlantic Monthly have prepared for subscribers to any of their periodicals a superb life-size portrait of Oliver Wendell Holmes, uniform in size and style with the portraits of Longfellow, Bryant, Whittier, and Lowell, heretofore published. Mr. Whittier says of it:

I welcome to my study the portrait of our well-beloved and honored friend, Dr. Holmes. It seems to be a very successful representation of the "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table," and his friends, who are everybody, will be glad to obtain it.

Mr. George William Curtis says:

Good as all the portraits of the Atlantic Gallery are, none seems to me more faithful and satisfactory than the last,—the portrait of Dr. Holmes. It is, in fact, a most "speaking likeness," for the alert and clear and incisive mind of the Autocrat illumines the whole face,—seems to be just breaking into bright and humorous speech from his lips. The five portraits compose an unequalled series of heads of our master poets, which must become exceedingly valuable.

Mr. J. T. Trowbridge writes:

I am charmed with your portrait of "The Autocrat." It is the first worthy representation of this brilliant and admirable genius that I have ever seen.

This excellent portrait, or any one of the others above named, is furnished to subscribers, for one dollar, by the publishers, Houghton, Osgood & Co., Boston, Mass. We think it is one of the best likenesses thus far issued by these publishers.

One Experience from Many.

"I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, but when I told them what had helped me, they said "Hurrah for Hop Bitters! long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy."—The Mother.—Home Journal.

The National Republican Chairmanship.

According to the Washington correspondents, there is some competition for the vacant chairmanship of the national republican committee. The names of several gentlemen, perhaps identified with the future aspirants for the nomination for the presidency, have been suggested. What should be done is to select a man who is more anxious that the republican party should triumph in 1880 than that any especial man should be nominated as its candidate. If is is desired to have an ornamental appendage for a figure head to the committee, there are plenty of men who will fill the bill; but if a thorough organization is to be effected, and every attempt is to be officially made to bring out the republican vote of the country, it seems to us there is no man who can more satisfactorily accomplish this great result than Hon. Wm. E. Chandler.

A Life on the Ocean Wave.

Schooner Dexter was run down and sunk in Chesapeake bay by a steamer, Saturday night; crew saved.

Ship Jacob Trumpy, from Hamburg to New York with iron and empty barrels, was wrecked Saturday night near Portsmouth, N. C.; the crew, seventeen in number, were saved.

Schooner Artie Garwood, from Philadelphia for Boston with coal, was totally wrecked at Long Branch, N. J., Sunday morning. Her crew was rescued by the crews of life-saving stations four and five. Seven men, comprising the crew, were all in the rigging, four on the foremast and three on the mainmast, the sea breaking over her deck, dashing spray on the men, who by signs showed that they were being fast overcome by the cold. A line was fired by the mortar over the mainmast, and was soon made fast by those on that mast, and in a few minutes those three were rescued by a breeches buoy. It then seemed impossible for those on the foremast to get over to the mainmast to the breeches buoy, so the life-saving men launched a life boat and rescued them. One of the men had to be taken out of the rigging, carried to the boat, and on landing, from the boat to the hotel, so nearly was he overcome by cold. The rescue was witnessed by hundreds, nothwithstanding the drenching rain.

Steamship Clyde, from New York for Aspinwall, was towed into Hampton roads on Sunday by steamer Blackstone, having lost her propeller, and had her shaft broken and her engines damaged.

Fishing schooner Winnie Weston was totally wrecked on Trundy's reef, Sunday night, while making Portland, Me., harbor in a gale and snow storm; crew saved.

British barque Invincible, from Pensacola for Marseilles, has been abandoned at sea; crew saved, and landed at Cadiz, Spain.

Schooner Arizona (whaler, of Provincetown), Capt. Nicholas White, which sailed on the 15th of last April with sixteen persons on board, has been given up as lost. She was several times heard from during the whaling season; but no report of her has been received since the 3d of last August, and she is supposed to have foundered in the hurricane of August 9th.

New Hampshire Items.

We are glad to learn from our Washington correspondent that Hon. William E. Chandler's son, who was so seriously sick in the fall, at Salt Lake City, has nearly recovered his health.

Vincent M. Sanborn of Franklin has a cow which on April 5th produced a bull calf that weighed 135 pounds when two days old, and 824 pounds on Nov. 5th, when seven months old—making a gain of three pounds and three-fourths per day. The calf girths five feet and two inches; the cow weighs 1408 pounds, and girths six feet and five inches. Cow and calf are thoroughbred Durham.

The Free-Will Baptists will celebrate in 1880 the centenary of the existence of their denomination. Their first church was organized at New Durham in this State.

Death of Asa McFarland.

Asa McFarland, Esq., one of the best known men in this State, died in Concord on Saturday, of heart disease, with which he had been for a long time troubled. He was a son of the late Rev. Asa McFarland of Concord, and was born May 19th, 1804. He was educated at Gilmanton academy in 1819 and '20, and learned the printing business of the late Nathaniel Willis, in Boston, after which he returned to Concord and entered into this business. In 1827 he purchased an interest in the Concord Statesman, and was connected with that paper till 1869, from 1851 being in partnership with George C. Jenks. Since 1869 he has been retired from active business. The official positions held by him were State printer in 1854, '59 and '60; representative from ward four, Concord, in 1858—59, and chairman of the committee on reform school. In 1868 he visited Europe, and afterwards published a book upon his travels there. He leaves a widow, daughter and two sons, one of the latter being Maj. Henry McFarland, secretary and treasury of the Union Pacific railroad. The deceased was a man of the most sterling integrity, and his moral character was always above reproach. His loyalty to his State and city were proverbial, and he ever labored assiduously to advance their interest. He was generous and public spirited, and to him Concord owes many of the improvements that have been made in late years. He was one of the most prominent citizens, and his loss will be deeply felt.

News and Notes.

Nicolo Infantine and Antonio Ardito on Monday pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree in killing Joseph F. Frye in Boston last summer, and were sentenced to State prison for life. Sare Chiavaro pleaded guilty of being accessory before the fact, but sentence was suspended. The other two men accused of complicity in the crime will be tried for being accessory after the fact.

In response to an invitation from Mrs. Robert K. Potter of Boston, more than 100 members of the Tourjee European excursion party of last summer met at her residence, No. 6257 Tremont street, on Wednesday evening of last week. Guests were present from this city.

There is something like a panic in England over the news of the disaster to British arms in Afghanistan. The ministerial organs admit a mishap and that the British hold on Cabul is jeopardized, and warn the government against further progress toward annexation.

A railway smash-up Saturday night at Larrabee's Point, Vt., on the Lake Champlain shore, caused the death of the engineer, fireman and bridge tender.

The black measles is spreading among children in New York, and the number of fatal cases is causing great alarm.

A man and woman are in jail at Lockport, N. Y., charged with the murder of the woman's husband twelve years ago.

A party of young men engaged in a row in Cincinnati Saturday evening, and after it was over Wm. Burke followed Chas. Bakman to his home. The latter obtained a revolver and shot the former through the abdomen, producing a fatal wound.

John McDonough of Bangor, Me., was sentenced by Judge Fox in Portland on Saturday for selling liquor without a revenue license, and committed to jail. He was found Sunday morning dead in his cell. Heart disease was the cause.

The Providence papers tell the story of a Boston junk dealer who fell hopelessly into the snare laid by two confidence men at Stonington, Conn., Thursday night, and parted with $900. It was a new dodge with the the old three-card monte game.

Two young ladies of Newcastle, N. B., May Williston, daughter of Judge Williston, and Jennie Watt, daughter of C. C. Watt, shipbuilder, while skating on the river, Saturday, broke through a weak spot in the ice and were drowned.

—Said a distinguished politician to his son: "Look at me! I began as an alderman, and here I am at the top of the tree; and what is my reward? Why, when I die, my son will be the greatest rascal in the city." To this the young hopeful replied: "Yes, dad, when you die—but not till then."

that the otherwise beautiful girl should have such bad teeth. And all because she did not use SOZODONT. It costs so little to buy it considering the good it does, and its benefits stretch out into her future life. Poor girl!

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. 1,13&f

OOFTY GOOFT'S

New York Combination

In the thrilling Sensational Drama, entitled:

UNDER THE GASLIGHT!

Re-Written, Re-Arranged and Re-Constructed by the Author, Mr. Augustin Daly, expressly for Oofty Gooft, Mr. Gus Phillips.

Act I. The Wolves of Society.
Act II. A Morning with Justice.
Act III. The 10:30 Down Express.
Act IV. Chloroform and Burglary.

The whole produced with entirely new scenery and mechanical effects including the Famous Railroad Sensation and the Great Pier and East River Bridge Scene?

TO THE PUBLIC.

The changes which I have made in my drama of UNDER THE GASLIGHT, for my friend Gus Phillips (whom the rest of the world know so well through the medium of many a happy laugh as Oofty Gooft) are such changes, I believe, as will bring its leading incidents into closer companionship—and the substitution of some new material for that which has been so long familiar, will give the play, I hope, a color and a spirit nearer akin to this day, and win for it a renewal of that phenomenal favor which greeted its first appearance on the stage, twelve years ago.

AROUND HOME.

Venus was visible to the naked eye nearly all day Saturday.

Grappling for coal along the wharves is getting to be quite a business.

The winter will now seem short, no matter how severe Old Prob. may be.

The California minstrels had a very fair audience at Music hall, Monday evening.

Gunner T. R. Wilson is ordered to duty at the naval magazine at this navy yard.

The January term of the supreme court at Exeter will be held by Judge Clark.

Judge Batchelder is having the foundation for a new house on Middle street put in. Mr. Moses Yeaton of this city has the contract.

The Strafford district medical society will hold its annual meeting in Dover on the 17th inst. Dr. Whittier of this city will read a paper on typhoid fever.

Rev. Mr. Grafton, of the Church of the Advent, (Episcopal,) Boston, preached two sermons of rare power and eloquence, in St. John's church in this city, on Sunday last.

Elder Wm. C. Steward, of Winstead, Conn., who during a few years past has labored as an evangelist, will hold meetings every evening this week at the Advent chapel in this city. A general invitation is extended.

We don't believe there is a city of the same size in the country that can turn out such a crowd of promenaders as Newburyport throws on State street every pleasant Saturday and Sunday night.—Newburyport Herald.

We guess, neighbor, you never stopped in Portsmouth over Sunday.

Messrs. Ayers & Locke in another column invite public inspection of their immense and varied stock of goods. Their store is one of the institutions of the city, and it does not need to be said that any goods in their line can be purchased as cheaply there as in Boston or elsewhere. Read the advertisement and give them a call.

Hon. James M. Edmunds, postmaster of Washington, D. C., died on Sunday. He was formerly commissioner of the general land office, and at one time postmaster of the Senate. The most fitting man to succeed the late postmaster it would seem is Hon. Thomas L. Tullock, the present assistant postmaster,—a gentleman who combines more attributes for the successful discharge of the duties of that office than any other man in the country.

The funeral of Mr. Asa D. Waldron on Monday was attended by a delegation of Knights Templar from De Witt Clinton commandery of this city, the deceased being a member of St. Bernard commandery of Chicago. There were also present Ex-Gov. Goodwin and other prominent citizens of the town. The floral offerings were varied and beautiful, one of them, a masonic emblem—a tribute from his cousin, Col. J. Horace Kent—being especially noticeable for its rare beauty of design and originality of workmanship. Mr. Waldron was well known in the west, having been a prominent citizen and merchant of California and Chicago. He was a man of rarely genial temperament, and made many warm friends. His remains were placed in the receiving tomb until arrangements can be made to forward the body to Chicago for interment.

Daniel A. Drown, a talented son of Portsmouth, now residing in Hamilton, Mass., who for many years has been a severe sufferer through blindness and poverty, and who during his lonely hours has written very many fine poems, which have been widely copied, having, at the urgent request of many friends, collected them together in a volume entitled "Idyls of Strawberry Bank," has recently received a very flattering letter relating thereto from J. G. Whittier, who says: "It is very sweet, tender poetry, pure as crystal, full of Christian resignation and hope, and having, as a painter would say, a genuine 'feeling' of nature. It must beguile many weary hours, as under the creating power of imagination the stars shine for thee, and the flowers bloom once more." The profits from the volume go to assist the author in his painful extremity; and as the book, which is illustrated, is of particular, local interest,—its title showing that,—we hope that it will have a large sale during the holiday season. It can be had at our bookstores.—Times.

Schooner Cinderella, of Waterboro', Me., was spoken on Saturday by the United States revenue steamer Dallas, Capt. Hodgdon, and found to be leaking badly. She was towed into the lower harbor.

Rev. Hilary Bygrave, of East Milton, Mass., is to be settled over the Unitarian parish at Dover, having accepted their unanimous call to become pastor. Mr. Bygrave was ordained in 1872, and was formerly settled over the Union parish in Hudson, Mass.

The Times of Monday contained the valedictory of Mr. George W. Guppy, who has sold out the papers with which he has for seventeen years been connected, to Mr. Alpheus A. Hanscom, a native of Eliot and a nephew of the late Deacon David Libby of this city, with whom he lived for several years during his boyhood.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

A large number of influential men were on hand in the city rooms at half-past seven o'clock Monday evening, to consider the question of establishing a shoe factory in this city. Meeting called to order by the mayor. Hon. Frank Jones was chosen chairman, and C. H. Mendum secretary. Remarks were made by Dr. Hall, who also made a motion that Mr. Knights be invited to address the meeting.

Mr. Knights created a favorable impression, and stated that $100,000 business could be done on a capital of $25,000. Questions were asked by Messrs. Hackett, Hall, Morse, Slater, Carr, Pender, Littlefield, Mendum and Jones, relative to the means of conducting the business, which brought out Mr. Knights' knowledge of all the intricacies of the business in a manner showing that gentleman in a most favorable light to our business men.

On motion of Mr. J. P. Morse, a committee of five was appointed as follows to confer with Mr. Knights and look into the matter thoroughly, and report at a future meeting: F. E. Potter, Daniel Littlefield, John H. Slater, Henry M. Clark and William H. Preston.

On motion of Wallace Hackett, it was voted that Hon. F. Jones and Chas. H. Mendum be added to the committee, and that they report Wednesday evening.

Mr. Jones made the speech of the evening, said Mr. Knights stands A 1 in business circles, and cited the cases of the Wallaces, Cloutman and others, who started in business poor, and have made their fortunes.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Dec. 15; Batchelder, J.

George Marden and Charles Clark, drunk, $9.90 each. County farm.

NOT SO.

We are authorized by the higest authority to deny the truth of the rumor that the running of cheap trains is contemplated from this and other cities on the line of the Eastern road, to Boston, a day or two before Christmas, as the manager of the road "have never entertained such an idea, nor has it been suggested to them by any of the road's patrons." Glad of it.

MASONIC ELECTION.

At the annual conclave of De Witt Clinton Commandery of Knights Templar, held in Masonic hall Monday evening, the following were chosen officers for the ensuing year:

Charles W. Gardner, E. Commander;
Charles W. Norton, Generalissimo;
Calvin Page, Capt. Gen.;
John Christie, Prelate;
Benj. F. Webster, Senior Warden;
Thos. E. O. Marvin, Junior Warden;
Wingate N. Ilsley, Treasurer;
James L. Parker, Recorder.

THE ODD FELLOWS' FAIR.

The Odd Fellows' fair is to open this evening, in their new hall in National block, and will close Friday evening with a social assembly.

Among the articles to be awarded by vote are a desk, to go to the young lady graduate or scholar of the high school receiving the highest number of votes; a barber's set to the most popular barber; and an easy chair, to the most popular doctor. A rocking-chair presented by Shaw & Applin, a parlor desk presented by F. M. Holmes, and a Japanese lamp presented by R. Holmes & Co., all of Boston, will be disposed of "by chances."

The committee are working hard to make the fair a success in every particular. Season tickets are only a dollar. See advertisement.

INTERESTING COMMUNICATIONS.

Mr. Editor: I notice that the fact is considered worthy of noting, that a veteran office-holder desires to remain in office. Why not? Did there ever exist one of these barnacles that wished to let go his hold? But the surprising part of the affair seems that any one in office should fear removal. Is it not the policy of the Hayes administration to keep every one in office who new enjoys these places? Do not our senators in Congress and our representatives bow to the boasted power of the revenue ring? or do they dare offend them by the removal of any of the old stand-by fossils so long in office? No. Rotation of the congressional delegation must precede changes in office-holders, and that is one of the great causes which will make our next election one of lively interest to every republican. If the offices are deemed to be life-long perquisites by the ins, we must wait for a democratic victory to wash out the incumbents, and then possibly a new distribution may follow. ***

While many of our citizens are agitating the subject of starting new enterprises in our city and adding to our prosperity, would it not be well, as we are about to enter upon a new year, to look about and see if some encouragement can be given to such enterprises as may be induced to locate in our midst, by way of a reduction in the present high rate of taxation. The rate for 1879 was $20.90, and for 1878, $20.00 on each $1000. The increase can easily be accounted for by the fact that many of the departments in our city were allowed to exceed their appropriations for 1878. Has the same thing been allowed during the present year? If not, then there is a chance to start fair, and it seems only just to expect that with such men on the board of aldermen as Messrs. John Laighton, Jeremiah F. Hall and Jeremiah Sanborn, men who know so well how to manage their own business, that we should have an economical city government and consequently lighter taxes in the future. We can call attention to our excellent streets, sidewalks and schools, and an abundance of the purest and best of water, but if our taxes are to remain at the present high figure we may as well make up our minds to bid good bye to what few workshops we have with us at present, without hoping for new ones. Let our city fathers do their share in this encouragement business, and all will be serene. So think many interested. ONE OF 'EM.

"Marion's Day Dreams" is the title of a very neat volume, in green and gold, written by Miss Clara A. Lynn, one of Portsmouth daughters, and certainly the excellence of this unpretentious work entitles the author to the honor of ranking as one of its most gifted daughters. The story is one of home life, simply told, but with a never-flagging, lively, wholesome and truthful spirit, which gives it more than ordinary interest to the reader. Throughout the book there runs along with the pleasant streams of colloquy, the earnestly-advocated principle that every one is bound to break away from the well-worn ruts of social and domestic life, if by so doing one can better develope talents great or small. The worthy and persistent course of Marion, the young lady subject of the story, is one well calculated to inspire youthful readers with a desire to emulate her career, by diligently and steadfastly making the most of their early educational days, to lay the better a foundation for future usefulness and happiness in whatever sphere of life their future may be cast. "Marion's Day Dreams" is a book which will be extensively read in this community, and one which may be heartily commended by all, for its spirited social pictures, its pleasant style, and its healthy moral tone. E.

A SUMMING UP.

Ed. Chronicle: The writer has been asked to give the reasons for his belief that the direction of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad so conducted its affairs that they forfeited all rights under the charter.

He thought this had been made clear, but at the risk of repetition, he must answer, as the question is reasonable, pertinent, and the matter concerns every present or future resident of the State. The answer shall be short as possible, categorical, and in its facts unimpeachable. But first it is necessary to give the substance of the laws relating to the building of railroads.

First. The bill of rights expressly guarantees to every man the full possession and enjoyment of his property until it shall be taken from him by due process of the law.

Second. The law says that when the owner of land to be taken for railroad use resides in this State, or is known, he shall be notified of the intention to take it.

In the writer's case such notice was never given. On the contrary his land, within sound of the clock on Market square, was seized without his knowledge, his boundary fences destroyed, valuable shade and other trees, some of a century's growth, cut down, part burned on the spot, part carted away, excavations made, culverts built and the road bed half built across his estate before he knew they had taken it—this was done early in December, 1873!

Third. The law says that before ground is broken for railroad use, the owner, if aggrieved by the location, has the right to call the railroad commissioners to consider his reasons for desiring a change, with power to grant his request if they see fit.

By the surreptitious seizure of his land even this poor right was denied!

Fourth. The law says that before land is taken, the constituted assessors shall be called to assess the damages; this law was entirely ignored; the assessors were not called until after an action for trespass was commenced, and did not go upon the ground for forty-five days after the land was seized and the property ruined! After such havoc had been made as rendered it impossible for the assessors to know what the previous condition of the land had been! And to cap the climax, when they did go there were twelve inches of snow upon the ground.

Fifth. The law also reads: "damages awarded any land-owner shall be paid or tendered him, if known and a resident of the State, before the proprietors shall enter on his land to make their road, except by his consent."

This law was also treated with supreme contempt; damages were not awarded until February 1, 1873, and were not tendered until long after that!

Such the writer understands to be the law; such he knows to be the incontrovertable facts.

He holds the due performance of each and all of these conditions to have been absolutely essential to give life and validity to the act of incorporation; they were conditions precedent; if so, it follows, as daylight the sun, that the charter of the P. & D. R. R. Co. is null and void; that it never had any corporate powers or rights! that the company is simply a partnership. If this view is correct—and the writer can see no flaw or fallacy in it—it logically follows, does it not? that this city being authorized to issue bonds to pay for its stock in an incorporated railroad company issued them instead to pay for stock in a joint stock partnership!

What makes the matter worse, if there be any worse, is the fact that the city government of 1873 was represented on the board of directors of the railroad by one of its aldermen, who was counsel for the road in defending the action for trespass. The city bonds were hurried out—"Sold and delivered" (half of them) January 1, 1873, sold without public notice and on the heels of and with the knowledge of all the above facts. Would a prudent administrator have so acted?

The city has got to pay its bonds whether legally issued or not; but if its agents acted illegally, and the directors of the road were surely its agents, its trustees, in this matter, are they not to be held reponsible? The writer believes they should be held accountable for every dollar this city has invested in the P. & D. railroad. Is the known ability of these directors to meet responsibility to be a bar to a testing of the question?

"Personally the directors court investigation as to all their doings, and will meet any responsibility which may justly attach to them"—see last annual report, signed "Frank Jones, in behalf of the directors."

That this responsibility be fully and legally tested is due to all parties, and none should be satisfied with less. W.

Political.

The French house of deputies has just voted a million dollars for the relief of the existing distress from trade depression. It was only a year ago that France was cited by the greenbackers as the most prosperous country in the world, because it had more money per capita than any other. Its business boom has been a short one, and the lesson is a good one for the United States.

Reports from Louisiana show that the election must have been a farce in some parts of the State, as in Madison parish, where a republican majority of 2200 in 1876 was changed to a democratic majority of 2292 this year, not a republican vote being returned. It was almost as bad in Concordia, Tensas, Caddo and Natchitoches parishes. The effect of such an election will be two-fold—the continuance of the exodus of negroes from the State, and the strengthening of the feeling in the north against giving the government of the country into the hands of men so ready to violate the rights of citizens and the settlements of the war.—Boston Herald.

The times do not seem very "hard" here just now. The ladies' circle meets once in two weeks, with a good attendance; and there is a flourishing singing school, instructed by Mr. Melvin J. Talpey, who is a very successful teacher, having conducted several schools.

Mrs. William Simpson of this place, now in her eightieth year, has never been to the city of Portsmouth, only twelve miles; she has once been as far as Cider hill in York—five miles from her home, and has travelled as far east as Kennebunk. She has brought up a family of ten children, and is hale and hearty yet.

The schooner Sharon, of this port, is hauled up for the winter; the schooners Gold Hunter and Annabella sailed for Boston yesterday. The captain of the Annabella is an enterprising and capable young man, and I hope good luck will follow him. SUB.

GILMORE & CO., Successors to CHIPMAN, HOSMER & CO., Solicitors, Patents procured in all countries. No fees in advance. No charge unless the patent is granted. No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference cases before the Patent Office, Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation relating to Inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.

Old Bounty Land Warrants.

The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 1,000,000 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & Co., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.

Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & Co. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.

Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & Co. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this proposition should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustration sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president; W. I. P. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D.; C. S. GAUNIT, M. D.; H. J. DOUCET, M. D.; E. H. KLINE, M. D.; J. R. HOLCOMB, M. D.; N. B. LYNCH, M. D., and M. R. O'CONNELL, M. D., faculty of the Pa Medical University of Medicine and surgery; also the faculty of the American University of Philadelphia; also Hon. P. A. PIBBELL, M.D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. dm 4th & 6 nmovw

Notice.

THE undersigned, on behalf of the Executors of the will of William H. Y. Hackett, late of Portsmouth, gives notice that he claims to have issued to the Executors of said deceased certificates for eight shares in the capital stock of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire in lieu of Certificate No. 860, dated Jan. 10th, 1846, for five shares, and No. 2224, dated Nov. 18th, 1867, for one share, and No. 3431, dated Sept. 9th, 1867, for two shares, which said certificates have been lost or destroyed; and all persons interested are notified to show cause, if any exists, why new certificates should not be issued in lieu of those lost, as have been applied for, under the provisions of the by-laws relating to this subject.

THE MODEL RANGE

—FOR—

Hard or Soft Coal or Wood

—HAVING THE—

Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,
New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,
New Patent Extension Leg,
New Patent Double Top,
(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable, and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many uses. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express references to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

Payment of City Bills.

THE TREASURER'S Office will be open for the payment of approved bills Friday and Saturday of each week.

Sept. 12. W. E. HADLEY, City Treasurer.

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once flattered himself that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it and relies upon trusses, to such an extent that life has no enjoyment, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him. Reference given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his successful practice and popularity throughout this country and the West Indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Save this, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal services, he divides his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturday, Monday and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The fame of Dr. Sherman, arising from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain co-fidence men and impostors to represent themselves as Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a fouldor so bad that my presence in a room with other was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was no troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours,

MELBOURNE H. FORD,
Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1876.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived safely at night. I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for this remedy. I have tried many bottles and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, I have not been able to recover my sense of taste or smell until I tried SANFORD'S CURE. You can refer any one you choose to me, and I will cheerfully inform them fully as to the benefit the remedy has been to me.

Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1876.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Not only promptly arrests the corroding discharges of catarrh, but, by its opothetic action, it restores to sound health all accessories of the head that have become affected by it, and exhibit any of the following affections:—

Defective Eyesight, Inflamed and Matter Eyes, Painful and Watery Eyes, Loss of Hearing, Earache, Neuralgia of the Ear Discharges from the Ear, Ringing Noises in the Head, Deafness, Nervous Headache Pains in the Temples, Loss of the Senses of Taste and Smell, Elongation of the Uvula Inflammation of the Tonsils, Putrid Sore Throat, Tickling or Hacking Cough, Bronchitis, and Bleeding of the Lungs.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full and carefully prepared directions for use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

AN Electro-Galvanic Battery, combined with a highly Medicated Plaster, forming the grandest curative agent in the world. Quickly relieves. Battery surpasses all other Plasters heretofore in use. They accomplish more in a week than the old Plasters in a whole year. They do not palliate, they cure. They

Naval Affairs.

Medical Director A. L. Gihon is detached from the naval academy, and ordered to the naval hospital at Norfolk, Virginia.

Medical Inspector A. C. Gorgas is ordered to duty at the naval academy, Jan. 1st.

The orders of First Lieut. G. F. Elliott, U. S. M. C., to the Swatara, have been revoked, and he is ordered to hold himself in readiness to command the marine guard of the Alliance. Second Lieut. W. F. Spicer is ordered to command the marine guard of the Swatara.

Congress.

In the House, on the 15th inst., Mr. Morse of Massachusetts introduced a bill for the encouragement of American shipbuilding, and a joint resolution providing for the appointment of commissioners to report upon a basis for a reciprocity treaty between the United States and the British provinces.

New Hampshire Items.

The New Hampshire State Grange met in Manchester on Tuesday.

The class-day quarrel at Dartmouth college has resulted in the resignation of three of the editors of the Dartmouth, and its affairs will be managed by the remaining five. The present series is fast gaining in popularity.

A young lady named Gracie N. Merrill is sick at Epsom with hydrophobia. She has never been bitten by a mad dog, but once took care of a child who died from that disease.

Regulate the Secretions.

In our endeavors to preserve health it is of the utmost importance that we keep the secretory system in perfect condition. The well known remedy Kidney-Wort has specific action upon the kidneys, liver and bowels. Use it instead of dosing with vile bitters or drastic pills. It is vegetable, and is prompt but mild in action.

—"What is home without a mother?" the poet asks. Well, it's a lonesome sort of a place usually, but when a young man hops down into the best cooking there, with the flower of the family in comfortable proximity, he don't seem to care a cent if the old lady's absence is continued indefinitely.

Winter Butter.

Let a farmer divide his white winter butter into two lots, while yet in the form of cream, and for one make use of Perfected Color, made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., while the other goes to market without color, and he will discover on what course his interest depends. This color gives the fine, rich golden yellow of first quality June butter, not tinged with the dull red tint, objected to in most butter colors.

—A Cincinnati corpse arose in its coffin and quietly remarked: "I feel very queer." The two young men who were sitting up with it had important business down town the next moment, and did not hesitate to pass out through the window to attend to it, either.

Piles! Piles! Piles!

Do you know what it is to suffer with Piles? If you do, you know what is one of the worst torments of the human frame. The most perfect cure ever known is Kidney-Wort. It cures constipation, and then its tonic restores health to the diseased bowels, and prevents recurrence of the disease. Try it without delay.

—At last the milliners have opened their eyes to the beauty of the cockscomb, as a bonnet decoration, and it is now made in satin and chenille, and chenille and velvet in every tint from the faintest rose to deep garnet.

If you have a cough resulting from a sudden cold, procure Adamson's Botanic Balsam, take one half to one teaspoonful three times a day, and your cough will cease. Trial bottles, 10 cts.

A large proportion of children who die early are those whose brain developement is usually large in comparison with the body. Why is this? Simply because the functions of the body are too frail to supply the waste going on in the brain consequent upon active intelligence. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is so prepared that it imparts the vital principal directly to the brain, while it assists in developing a vigorous and robust body.

Admirable Wine for Weakly Persons.

The most certain way to get something strengthening for aged and weakly persons, especially females, is to purchase Speer's Sambuci Wine from druggists, which is beyond a doubt the purest and most admirable ever made. It is rich, nourishing and most delicious, and at the same time free from any sort of spirits. Whatever strength it contains is not added strength, but simply pure juice of the fruit. Many have tasted this tonic, and prefer it to imported wine. Its medicinal properties have been acknowledged. Physicians do not hesitate prescribing it to patients for general debility, etc., for it is a sort of medicine that one would rather take than not.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

Portsmouth Chronicle

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1879.

Stealing a State.

It is announced that Garcelon, governor of Maine, and his council, have decided to elect nineteen trade-and-dicker senators to twelve republicans, and seventy-seven trade-and-dicker representatives to sixty-two republicans, in place of the strongly republican legislature elected by the people of the State. The supreme court of Maine has decided that if the officials are determined to deliberately disregard the law, the constitution, precedent, decency and their official oaths, there is no help for it; so it is probable that Garcelon and his companions in dishonor will succeed in their plan for overthrowing popular government in Maine, for at least a year, and they may conclude to count themselves and their party in again next year, and the next, and so on indefinitely. The opinion is now almost universal that this piece of reckless scoundrelism is but one move in the democratic game of counting in their next candidate for president, no matter how the people may vote; and certainly Garcelon's action indicates that there is nothing in his sense of honor to prevent his giving certificates of election to presidential electors whom he knew to be overwhelmingly defeated. He is evidently a worthy tool of the "solid south."

New York a Republican State.

The official vote of New York was canvassed by the official board at Albany on the 12th inst., the result being that only one democrat on the State ticket—Seymour, for State engineer—is elected, he having 12,441 plurality over the republican candidate, who was very objectionable to his party. For lieutenant-governor the republican candidate, Hoskins, is 290 votes ahead of Clarkson N. Potter the democratic candidate and one of the strongest men that party could have nominated. In considering the result of the late election in New York it should be remembered that the democratic split was on governor only, Tilden and Tammany being united on the rest of the State ticket, and that the very fierceness of the fight between them on the governor question tended to the success of the rest of the ticket by bringing out a full party vote.

News and Notes.

Mainly at the instance of Adelina Patti the pitch of instruments at the Italian opera, London, is next season to be lowered to the diapason normal. It will involve an outlay of $5000 for new wood instruments.

It is proposed to construct immense boats, similar to our railroad boats, to make the transit from London to Paris in eight hours. The trains would go straight through, and there would be no custom house or other delays en route.

The liquor sellers of Windsor county, Vt., are being hardly pushed by the county attorney. At Woodstock, Monday, Ass T. Barron of White River Junction was fined $300 and costs on thirty indictments, and A. J. Grover of the same place was fined $200 and costs on twenty indictments.

Three hundred mounted men recently rode through Elliott county, Ky., whipping all the reputed thieves and hanging two confessed highwaymen.

Col. Cook, a notorious counterfeiter of Nicholasville, Ky., was killed on the 15th inst. by United States officials while resisting arrest. He commanded a Kentucky regiment during the rebellion, and was noted for his reckless daring.

A wealthy Norwich, Conn., widower of seventy years went off to New York suddenly the other day, and married the third daughter of the family to which he had previously allied himself by a first and second marriage. He gave no intimation of his purpose, and his family and friends were greatly surprised at the appearance of the third bride.

Capt. Byron H. Norton of Belfast, Me., has been missing for two or three weeks, and his friends are at a loss to account for his whereabouts. He was in command of the schooner Henry, of Belfast, and recently carried a load of lumber from Bangor to Boston, the schooner being found by her owner at the latter port without any one on board. The parties to whom the lumber was consigned say that Capt. Norton did not draw the freight money, consequently his absence cannot be charged to any attempt to defraud the owner. As he was somewhat given to drink, it is thought that he must have been intoxicated and fallen overboard, or has been shipped away to sea while in that condition.

There is an advertisement in our columns to which we take much pleasure in referring our readers, because we believe in it and can conscientiously and heartily recommend it. We refer to Hall's Hair Renewer. We remember many cases in our midst of old middle-aged people who formerly wore grey hair, or whose locks were thin and faded, but who now have presentable head pieces, and with no little pride announce to their friends that they haven't a grey hair in their heads. It is a pardonable pride, and the world would be better off if there was more of it, for when the aged make themselves attractive to others they are more certain to win and retain the esteem and respect to which a burthen of well spent years entitles them. Try Hall's Hair Renewer if age or disease has thinned or whitened your locks, and you will thank us for our advice.—Pan-Handle News, Wellsburg, W. Va.

OOFTY GOOFT'S

New York Combination

In the thrilling Sensational Drama, entitled:

UNDER THE GASLIGHT!

Re-Written, Re-Arranged and Re-Constructed by the Author, Mr. Augustin Daly, expressly for Oofty Gooft, Mr. Gus Phillips.

Act I. The Wolves of Society.
Act II. A Morning with Justice.
Act III. The 10:30 Down Express.
Act IV. Chloroform and Burglary.

The whole produced with entirely new scenery and mechanical effects including The Famous Railroad Sensation and the Great Pier and East River Bridge Scene?

TO THE PUBLIC.

The changes which I have made in my drama of UNDER THE GASLIGHT, for my friend Gus Phillips (whom the rest of the world know so well through the medium of many a happy laugh as Oofty Gooft) are such changes, I believe, as will bring its leading incidents into closer companionship—and the substitution of some new material for that which has been so long familiar, will give the play, I hope, a color and a spirit nearer akin to this day, and win for it a renewal of that phenomenal favor which greeted its first appearance on the stage, twelve years ago.

AROUND HOME.

"Dr." George F. Gray, editor of the Dover Press, has resigned that position on account of ill health.

The Swampscot Machine Co., of South Newmarket, send this week to Strong & Burt's shoe factory at Dover a new engine and boiler.

The United States district court, Judge Clark presiding, held a brief session at Exeter on Tuesday. No business of any public importance was transacted.

Walker & Co., No. 13 Congress street, advertise a fine line of ladies' shopping bags and gentlemen's silk umbrellas—just the things for holiday presents.

The name of Thomas E. Drake, who is serving a sentence in the State prison, was called in the list of jurors in the Frye murder case in Boston, Monday morning.

The rite of confirmation will be administered in St. John's church on Sunday next by Bishop Niles of the diocese of New Hampshire, assisted by Rev. C. A. Holbrook, rector of the church.

The referee court in the case of the Eastern and Portsmouth & Dover railroads will sit in this city the latter part of this month, Judges Clark, Smith and Bingham composing the board of reference.

Naval Constructor Theodore D. Wilson, at present attached to this navy yard, has been awarded patents for a ventilating air-port and a hydraulic bolt-pulling machine invented by him. The government has ordered the new air-port to be applied to the Lancaster, now undergoing repairs at this yard, and to other vessels; it is unquestionably a great improvement over anything previously produced.

The New Orleans minstrels, who will play at Music hall next Monday evening, performed at Newburyport Saturday evening, and the Herald of Monday says they "had a large house and deserved it. The clog dancing by eight dancers was very fine, the time was perfect and this part of the performance was received with enthusiastic applause. Mr. Dixon's ventriloquism was a very attractive feature of the entertainment, and if the minstrel should appear here again they would be certain of a crowded house. It was one of the best shows of the kind which ever appeared in this city. It is a show that came up to everything advertised, which is not always the case with travelling companies."

Mr. B. P. Shillaber's "Capt. Bob," his new book which has a Christmas smack to it, but is a good antidote for depression of spirits at all times of year, is pronounced by all who have seen it the best thing he has ever done in literature, which is giving the work no common praise. The incidents are carved out of fact, imagination merely supplying the embellishment and the spice. The sea philosopher here introduced under the name of Capt. Bob has been reported to be the author's brother, but we learn that the latter and the hero of the book correspond in name only. The locality is not ideal, the scenes being based upon early associations. The author has seen and experienced much that he has here written about, and we do not need say that very little that is grotesque or genial in the circumstances about him escapes his quick sympathies and perceptions. Mellow humor and ripe, if homely, philosophy are the attractive characteristics of this book.—Boston Post.

Mr. J. Cram, writing from Hampton Falls to the Exeter News-Letter, says: "Some four or five weeks since one of our townsmen lost his pocket book, containing between $100 and $200, besides valuable papers. After advertising and waiting some length of time, he gave up hope of ever seeing it again. He was then advised to call on Mrs. Brown, of Hampton, a remarkable medium for spirit control and instruction. Through her he was put on the track of the person who had the pocket book. He caused this person to be informed that he knew who had the book, and if the pocket book and contents were returned to him, or left where he would find them, nothing should ever be revealed by him; but if not, they would certainly be exposed in a few days. The book and contents were placed where he found them, within a few feet of the house, in plain sight of their daily walk. Could any one hear the loser tell what was told him, through this remarkable medium, I think they would be reminded of the exclamation of one many years ago, 'Come and see a man that told me all things that ever I did.'"

A new oven has recently been put into the Seaman's Home on State street by Hon. Frank Jones, who owns the building, at a cost of $150, to accommodate the largely increased business of the home in the line of furnishing wholesome cooked food to the poor at a cheap rate.

Mr. William A. Drown, said to be the largest umbrella manufacturer in the world, died in Philadelphia Saturday night, at the age of sixty-nine years. He was a native of this city, went to sea at eighteen years of age, and two years later settled in Philadelphia, where he passed the remainder of his life. He entered the service of Mr. Peirce, a great umbrella manufacturer, married his daughter, and finally succeeded to the business. He leaves an estate valued at $1,000,000, his pay-roll bearing the names of eight hundred men.

This evening the Ooity Booft New York Combination will present the thrilling sensational drama "Under the gaslight," at Music hall. We have taken particular pains to look through the press notices given this dramatic company and its speciality, and are surprised to note the general unanimity of excellence with which they all speak. The combination promises to bring some fine scenery, which for realistic effects will be superior to anything recently given on our stage. No doubt a large audience will greet "Under the gaslight."

Lindell E. Hoyt, a young man whose arrest was attempted at Raymond last week, but who then and there escaped the officers by taking to the woods, was arrested at Lowell, Mass., on Monday, for robberies committed at Newmarket. He is one of the gang who all the past summer have been stealing from the Boston & Maine railroad company. On the 8th inst. they pried open the door of the railroad station with an iron bar, and robbed the ticket office. Hoyt confessed, and implicated three others. He was taken to Newmarket and locked up, but escaped during the night by forcing the door of his cell, leaving a perfect wreck behind. He is about twenty-two years old, with a brutal, stolid expression of countenance, but is a very sharp thief.

The schooner Mary E. Caswell has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired since she was towed in from the Shoals, a water-logged wreck, some months ago, and is now a handsomer and apparently better vessel than when she was new. She has received a new rocker-keel, sails, anchors and cables, been fitted with an elliptic stern, had her forecastle ripped out and a new one put in, finished in black walnut and cherry-wood—in fact, hardly any of the original vessel remains except her keel, timbers and part of her knees. Her masts have been cut down five feet on the head, which is a great improvement in her rig for winter fishing, for which she was before oversparred, though she was all right for summer cruising with pleasure parties. The Mary E. Caswell was built in 1867 by Waterman K. Pryor, for Messrs William I. Caswell and Jeremiah Sanborn, and was afterward owned by Dr. William Laighton, Crastien Johnson, and Russell & Odion. In 1873 she was purchased by the Laighton Bros., of Appledore, Isles of Shoals, and by them used during the summer for excursion parties from the island, and in winter let for fishing. In one of the heavy gales last spring she was driven on the rocks at the Shoals, bilged and dismasted, and laid idle all summer, and was then given by the Laightons to Mr. Levi Downs, a worthy and industrious man, who has spared no expense to make her one of the finest fishing vessels sailing out of this port.

THE ODD FELLOWS' FAIR.

The Odd Fellows' Fair opened on Tuesday evening in their new hall in National block, the attendance being very large. The committee of arrangements have labored under many unavoidable difficulties, owing to the incompleteness of the work on the building, but the fair began auspiciously, though the gas-light was not strong enough—a defect that will be at once remedied. The object of the fair is to raise funds to aid in furnishing the elegant hall, which it is intended shall be done in a manner to correspond with the room and building.

The lady friends of the order have rendered invaluable aid, and the various tables are under their charge. The cake and refreshment table is presided over by Mrs. Mary A. Peterson, with Mrs. Lizzie J. Leach and Miss Fannie A. Peterson as assistants. The ice cream table is in charge of Mrs. Nellie A. Clark, Mrs. Maggie Green and Mrs. Mary O. Gray; the fancy articles are in charge of Mrs. Joseph B. White, Mrs. Joseph H. Emery, Mrs. Samuel Joy, Mrs. Stacy Hall and Miss May Vaughan; oyster table—Mrs. George Gilman and Mrs. Charles Neal; ring cakes—Miss Fannie White and Miss Effie Leach; rose bower and post-office—Mrs. Charles A. Wendell, Miss Tilton and Mrs. Griffin; doll bride—Miss Maggie Johnson. Although but a short time was allowed to prepare the tables, they were tastefully arranged and very attractive, and many useful as well as beautiful articles were to be seen.

Notwithstanding it was the "opening," and that the light was insufficient, the first night of the fair was a success, the large number of people present all seeming to enjoy themselves. The fair will increase in interest with each evening, as new features will be constantly introduced. Harlow's orchestra will furnish music throughout the fair, and at the social dance with which it will close on Friday evening.

Among the articles to be awarded by vote are a desk, to go to the young lady graduate or scholar of the high school receiving the highest number of votes; a barber's set to the most popular barber; and an easy chair, to the most popular doctor. A rocking-chair presented by Shaw & Applin, a parlor desk presented by F. M. Holmes, and a Japanese lamp presented by R. Holmes & Co., all of Boston, will be disposed of "by chances." A silver water cooler will go to the most popular Odd Fellow, to be decided by vote; and a beautiful jewel case to the lady receiving the highest number of votes.

This afternoon at two o'clock a children's matinee will be given, admission being only ten cents; a dance will be had in the upper hall, under direction of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Monroe, and other amusements will be provided for the young folks, among them being Santa Claus, who will give a present to all who call to see him.

A BAD GUESS.

A gentleman in this city who has held office in the internal revenue service of the government since 1861, seeks a continuance at the public crib, and is asking our business men to sign a petition that his wishes may be granted.—CHRONICLE.

Yes, and the writer of the above item, who by the way has been clerk of the United States court for many years, was himself one of "our business men to sign a petition" asking that said internal revenue officer be continued "at the public crib."—Times.

Brother, allow us to commend to you the wise saying of Josh Billings, that "It is better not to know so much, than to know so many things that aint so." The "writer of the above item" was never "clerk of the United States court" nor of any other court, and never signed nor even saw the petition referred to.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES.

The Universalist society will have a festival in Mechanics' hall, Christmas evening. The hall will be elegantly trimmed with bunting and evergreen, and three trees laden with presents for the little one—and old ones too, for that matter—will be among the features of the evening.

The Episcopal society—and Christmas was made for Episcopalians, some think—will regenerate and jubilate in the same hall, Saturday evening, Dec. 27th. A feature of their annual festivals is the stuffing of all good little Sunday school children up to their chins with mince pies, doughnuts, etc. It is a noticeable fact that Sunday schools are never so full as they are at Christmas time. Many a poor little girl and boy looks forward to these festivals, much the same as the weary traveller of the desert looks forward to the oasis and its cooling springs. These are bright spots in the lives of the little ones, and we should make them as replete with childish enjoyment as possible.

INTERESTING COMMUNICATIONS.

Ed. Chronicle: It was with sincere regret that many of the citizens of Portsmouth witnessed, several years ago, the efforts being made and which resulted in the opening of the post-office on Sunday; and the recent change, by which the last mail is now delivered at 9:45 P. M., affords them great satisfaction, removing as it does the necessity which was then urged as a reason for the innovation. The change is also duly appreciated by our men of business, as heretofore three trains left this city each week day before the morning mail (which went through this city the night before) could be obtained, and gentlemen going out on these early trains often left behind in the post-office letters materially affecting their interests. This change therefore is most gratifying in many ways, and the community are under great obligations to Col. William H. Hackett for his efforts in bringing it about. If our worthy postmaster, who has already placed us under such obligations for his courteous and efficient management of the post-office, will now cause the time-honored custom of closing the "office" on Sundays to be restored, he will deserve the thanks of the community. It will inspire the hearts of all loyal and true citizens with increased respect for their rulers to see the sanctity of the Sabbath receiving the sanction of the government. G.

Ed. Chronicle: We trust your correspondent "One of 'Em," who calls attention to the rate of taxation in your issue of the 16th inst., isn't one of those "largest tax-payers" who signed the petition circulated by Hon. Frank Jones to have Vaughan street extended through the Raynes ship-yard—a job that is estimated to cost $7,000—and jobs rarely underrun the estimates. We don't consider that any one of that long list of prominent tax-payers has any right to criticise our rate of taxation. Our rate of taxation is large—has increased—and will continue to increase in just such ratio as our influential tax-paying citizens demand. Last spring the municipal committee on finance made a very careful estimate of the wants of the different departments for the present year, which were in the main concurred in by the city councils; but during the year there has been a continuous stream of petitions and requests from "influential tax-payers," calling for this and that improvement regardless of expense—the last and most ponderous being the proposed extension of Vaughan street. Of course the mayor and aldermen have the power to disregard all such requests, and do in all instances deemed impracticable—but by dint of strong influence others are able to carry their point, and it is with no little mortification that we admit that our appropriations for this year are also badly exceeded. One thing is certain; to reduce taxation, less money must be spent; and to spend less is to make fewer improvements. In spite of the fact that our city has striven to put and maintain its thoroughfares in the best condition, several suits have grown out of alleged defects in our highways, some of which have proved expensive to the city. It is evident that to reduce taxes materially, our citizens must be content with poorer streets, unrepaired sidewalks and defective sewerage—the three heaviest items we are called upon to support. In conclusion, we trust "One of 'Em" doesn't suppose that all the brains of the board of aldermen are possessed by three members; all are gentlemen, well known and to be trusted.

ONE WHO KNOWS.

SAD ACCIDENT.

By advices which arrived in this city on Tuesday from Yokohama, Japan, dated Nov. 19th, the sad intelligence was received of the death of Mr. Decatur Weeks, son of the late Capt. Nathaniel Weeks of this city, while on the passage from New New York to Yokohama in ship Grandee, Capt. Jacobs. Sept. 10th, when off Van Dieman's Land, the ship took a heavy gale, during which the mainmast was sprung and the rudder-head twisted, and Mr. Weeks and the ship's carpenter (name and residence not given) were washed overboard and drowned.

VERSATILE ELEVATORS.

Among the other improvements recently introduced at the Jones brewery to facilitate the work of the huge establishment, not the least important is the adoption of the system designed by Mr. Josiah Morrison for the extension of the use of elevators in the old malt house and the one recently built. The capacity of the malt houses at this brewery is enormous—equal to if not greater than that of any other brewery in the country.

The elevator for unloading cars is capable of discharging three thousand bushels of grain an hour, and by means of a screw conveyor distributing it evenly thoughout the spacious buildings. The barley, before it is distributed, is acted upon by a blower and screen, which cleanses it perfectly before it is deposited in the storage rooms, which have a capacity of 250,000 bushels. Mr. John Rafter has especial charge of the malting part of the business, and judging from the large sale of ale made at this place he must thoroughly understand his work. The soaking or steeping process through which the barley passes is done in large tanks, to which the grain is conducted from the store-rooms by chutes; and after being sufficiently steeped, and then allowed to remain spread upon floors (of which there are four for that purpose) for a time, the grain is taken by elevators from either of the four rooms to the two kiln rooms, where it is dried by a heat of about eighty degrees, the heat passing through the floor, which is of iron and perforated with small holes. After being dried it is conveyed through chutes to the malt store-room, where it remains till needed for use.

The elevators (of which there are two) for conveying the malt from the four floors to the kilns, are of a new design, self-adjusting, and hold about thirty bushels each, the machinery being so constructed as to leave the malt at the doors of the kilns where it can be dumped in. A large new engine has recently been put in, which is now used in running three elevators. From the old malt house to the new storage building is a line of shafting and screw conveyors, for filling the new building when needed, and distributing the grain to all parts of it, the same as in the old malt house. These contrivances of course add immensely to the capacity of the establishment, and we are assured by a gentleman who for many years has been employed in putting machinery in breweries all over the Union, that the Jones brewery is the best systematized one in the country.

The improvements and extension of the elevator system have been carried out under the superintendence of Mr. Charles W. Arris, in the employ of Holmes & Blanchard of Boston, a machinist of the most practical and capable kind, who when informed of the end desired to be attained can generally plan so as to attain it, if it is attainable.

The grounds around the buildings have been graded up with gravel, adding much to the general appearance, and many other noteworthy improvements made; but the most remarkable one is the great extension of the elevator system in the malt houses. In passing through the extensive premises we noticed that every man was busily engaged at his assigned place, without any "boss" being visible anywhere.

In none of the many articles that have been written about this establishment have we ever seen one feature of its rules of government mentioned, and that is, when any of the hands employed is taken sick, without fault of his own, his pay is continued during his illness the same as though he was at work.

A South Carolina Case.

The investigation of the case of Mackey, republican contestant for the seat in the House as representative of the second South Carolina district, now held, by Mr. O'Connor, (dem.,) has been completed, and furnishes some very interesting facts in respect to the conduct of elections in that State. The testimony shows that frauds were practiced by the democrats at every poll. At Mount Pleasant, for instance, 625 votes were cast, and yet the box contained 1163 ballots, mostly tissue, when opened. Witnesses, 465 in number, swore that they voted the republican ticket, and yet Mackey was allowed only 108 votes. It is believed that only about fifty legal democratic votes were put into the box, while the remainder of the legal 625 were polled for Mackey. The greatest fraud was committed at the poll at Palmetto engine-house. Mackey brought numerous witnesses to prove that 2500 tissue ballots were cast there, and O'Connor did not bring a witness to show that the charge was illegal. Mr. Wannemaker, one of the democratic election commissioners for Orangeburg county, testified that the managers, on receiving their boxes on the evening before the election, were furnished with a bunch of tissue ballots. It was established by abundant testimony that, with the exception of two, the boxes all contained from 200 to 300 illegal votes each.

—A sailor is not a sailor when he is a-board; a sailor is not a sailor when he is a-shore; but he must be either ashore or aboard; therefore a sailor is not a sailor. This is logic.

—Ex-Senator Goldthwaite, of Alabama, was noted for extreme absent-mindedness, and he was occasionally seen running about the Senate trying to get out and not being able to find the door. He would have half the page boys in the Senate looking for his hat or cane which would be all the while firmly clasped in his hand. He was much given to walking up and down the lobby, plunged in deep thought, often smoking a fragrant Havana, and entirely oblivious of all things about him. Often some cheeky page of the Senate would walk up and ask the Senator for a light. Mr. Goldthwaite would mechanically hand over his cigar, the boy would take a light, put the choice weed in his precious mouth and hand over his old stump to the old gentleman, who would continue his stroll in blissful ignorance. It is related on good authority that, in one of his fits of abstraction, he walked into the Senate elevator, dropped a nickel into the hole back of the mirror, and calmly requested to be let out at "H" street.

You can't afford to laugh, dear girls,
Unless your teeth are white as pearls—
Unless your mouth is pink and sweet,
And your two lips in rosebuds meet;
And you cannot supply this want,
But through the use of SOZODONT!

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BEREFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Suzy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 1

The New Constitution.

The Charter under which the Louisiana State Lottery Company proceeds was, by the vote of the people of Louisiana, imbedded in the new constitution so that no fluctuations of politics or adverse private interests can hereafter interfere with the regular drawings of the Company, the next of which occurs on the 13th January.

This vote of the people shows the confidence felt in the Company at home, where it is best known. Particulars in the advertisement elsewhere, and fuller information obtained by addressing M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or New York.

Cuticura

THE GREAT SKIN CURE,

The most Healing, Soothing, and Refreshing External Application in the World.

It rapidly heals Ulcers, Old Sores, and Discharging Wounds; Itching Piles and other living affections that have been the torture of a lifetime, thus affording unspeakable gratification to thousands; Burns, Scalds, Wounds, and Fevers; all Itching and Scaly Eruptions of the Skin, and all Affections of the Scalp, including Loss of Hair. Nothing like it has ever been known to the most intelligent physicians. It has swept a host of poisonous remedies out of existence. It is revolutionary in its position and mode of treatment and succeeds in curing every external affection. At every stage it is ably assisted by CUTICURA SOAP, which is a part of itself medicinally and at the same time the most delightfully fragrant and refreshing Toilet, Bath, and Nursery soap in existence.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a powerful purifying agent and cooling medicine, should be taken to neutralize and resolve away blood poisons, caused by the virus of scrofula, cancer, malarial or contagious diseases, which maintain and foster diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

SALT RHEUM.

Life a burden from the sufferings caused by this terrible disease.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Please accept my most grateful thanks for the great, very great, comfort I have received from the use of your CUTICURA.

For the past eight or nine years I have been troubled with that dreadful disease, Salt Rheum.

For months I would be helpless,—my very life a burden to me.

I have used everything in the shape of medicine, both internal and external, but without effect.

My hands were in a terrible condition, the backs of them being all raw, and I thought I would try CUTICURA.

I tried it, and so it was as if a miracle had been performed. My hands were as much that in three applications my hands were as smooth as a newborn babe's.

I mention there are hundreds, if not thousands, who know of my case, among whom there may be some one similarly afflicted, and if so I would earnestly advise him to give CUTICURA a trial.

Yours, very thankfully,
A. D. BAKER, Ticket Agent, C. S. R. R.

TETTER OR SALT RHEUM

On the hands Cured. A grateful letter.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Having been troubled for many years with the Tetter or Salt Rheum, and spent many hundred dollars, I was given a trial of your CUTICURA, and thank God, my hands are well. I never had anything do me good like that.

You may put this in the paper and welcome, and may it do some other poor sufferer the same good it has done me! I am well known here, having lived here nearly fifteen years and kept boarders for a living, and sometimes my hands was sore, thinking I would have to give up altogether with my sore hands, and having a small family to take care of; but oh! thank God, my hands are well, so I again return thanks.

Yours respectfully,
ELIZABETH BUCKLEY,
LITTLETON, N. H., May 30, 1878.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC ELECTRIC PLASTERS. KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION;" Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality, the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundred and fifth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing diseases, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The Atlantic Monthly
FOR 1880

Promises to be peculiarly attractive and valuable. It will contain—

Serial Stories, by W. D. Howells, author of "The Lady of the Aroostook," etc.; Henry James, Jr., author of "The Europeans," etc.; and T. B. Aldrich, author of "Prudence Palfrey," etc. Mr. Howells' story begins in January, and will run for six or more months.

Short Stories, two or more in each number, of the excellent quality for which the short stories in the Atlantic are celebrated.

Political and Social Life at Washington, for the last time in the English language, written by a participant in the events of the past year, including papers on persons and incidents of national fame, by one who has been on the spot and known all about them.

Living Questions in Politics, Education, Religion, Art, Social Life, and whatever most interests the American people, will be discussed by persons specially qualified to write of them in an engaging and instructive manner.

Industrial Topics will receive particular attention.

The Literary Features of the Atlantic will be even fuller and better than ever before.

The Contributors' Club, which has proved so popular a feature, will be remarkably full and varied.

The Contributors will include Longfellow, Whittier, Holmes, Lowell, Mrs. Stowe, H. H., Rose Terry Cooke, Miss Larcom, Miss Preston, Miss Woolson, Miss Jewett, Mrs. Piatt, Warner, Warring, Norton, Stedman, Stoddard, Richard Grant, White, Scudder, Mark Twain, DeForest, Bishop and others.

A superb life-size portrait of Dr. Holmes has been secured and will be furnished to Atlantic subscribers for One Dollar.

☞ Beginning with January, 1880, The Atlantic will be printed with new and larger type and page; and the numbers will have sixteen additional pages, making 144 pages or more to each number.

Terms:—$4.00 a year, in advance, Postage free; 35 cents a number. With superb life-size portrait of Dr. Holmes, Lowell, Whittier, Bryant, or Longfellow, $5.00; with two portraits, $6.00; with three portraits, $7.00; with four portraits, $8.00; with all five portraits, $9.00.

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler door makes perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and pain of a truss, is now in Boston, and can be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once flattered himself that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it and the thousands of trusses, to such an extent that life has no enjoyments, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affection, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him. Reference given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his success in all practices and popularity therefrom throughout this country and the West Indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extreme cases taken before and after cured, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Save this, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN
251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal services, he divides his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturday, Mondays and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Truth is to your friend.

The fame of Dr. Sherman, arising from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain so called parties and imposters to represent themselves as Dr. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so bad that my presence in a room with other was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was no troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours,

MELBOURNE H. FORD, Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1876.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived here to-night all right. I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for this remedy. I have tried nasal Douches and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, I have not been able to recover my senses of taste and smell until I tried SANFORD'S CURE. You can refer any one to me, and I will cheerfully inform them how much it has to the benefit it has done to me.

Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1878.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

not only promptly arrests the corroding discharges of catarrh, but, by sympathetic action, it restores to sound health all the organs of the head that have become affected by it, and exhibits any of the following affections:—

Infective Eyesight, Inflamed and Matter Eyes, Painful and Watery Eyes, Loss of Hearing, Earache, Neuralgia of the Ear Discharges from the Ear, Ringing Noises in the Head, Dizziness, Nervous Headache Pains in the Temples, Loss of the Senses of Taste and Smell, Elongation of the Uvula Inflammation of the Tonsils, Putrid Sore Throat, Tickling or Hacking Cough, Bronchitis, and Bleeding of the Lungs.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Nasal Tube, with full and carefully prepared direction for use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

AN Electro-Galvanic Battery, combined with a highly Medicated Plaster, forming the grandest curative agent in the world of medicine, and utterly surpassing all other Plasters heretofore in use. They accomplish more in one week than the old Plasters in a whole year. They do not pulliate, but cure. They Relieve Affections of the Chest.

Relieve Affections of the Lungs.
Relieve Affections of the Heart.
Relieve Affections of the Liver.
Relieve Affections of the Spleen.
Relieve Affections of the Kidneys.
Relieve Affections of the Spine.
Relieve Affections of the Nerves.
Relieve Affections of the Muscles.
Relieve Affections of the Joints.
Relieve Affections of the Bones.
Relieve Affections of the Sinews.

No matter what may be the extent of your suffering by one of these Plasters. Relief is instantaneous, a fact supported by hundreds of testimonials in our possession; bear in mind that the most important discoveries in Chemistry date back less than ten years, and that combinations of gums and essences of plants and shrubs are rapidly coming into use, and that a curative Plaster, in soothing, healing, and strengthening properties, is far superior to all other Plasters heretofore in use, as the scientific physician is to the home-leech.

Price, 25 Cents.

Be careful to call for COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER, and you get some worthless imitation. Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Horse Racing at Fairs--A "Fat" Illustration.

Last month we took care to withhold any endorsement of an implied sanction of horse-racing, etc., at fairs, by our stated contributor. He himself wrote half in vexation at the state of things as we know he has for many years labored to secure a different state of affairs. We refer to the matter now to give an extract from a letter from one of our Nebraska readers: "It occurs to me that we might increase the usefulness of our Sunday schools by making them more attractive. This could be done by establishing a 'cock-pit' in connection with each school. It is 'innocent amusement;' no cock need fight unless he wants to; by doing this we would attract a great many low characters and other people that need the influence of a Christian education, that can never be reached unless our Sunday schools are made more attractive. Charge twenty-five cents admission, ten per cent to go to the owner of the winning chicken, and the rest to go to keep the school. This plan will also serve a good end in creating an interest in breeding good chickens. In wealthy communities, when people can afford it, we might have a dog fight after Sunday school as a sort of side-show; make the admission fifteen cents, and use the proceeds for missionary purposes and in extending the Sunday school. Call a national Sunday school reform convention, and make the writer of the article president, and me secretary. Get Commissioner Gen'l Dudley to recommend it in his coming report, on the ground of its tendency to create an interest in the improvement of chickens and dogs."—American Agriculturist.

—Some students think it necessary to be behind in their lessons in order to pursue their studies.

—Ye sleepless, look here! The following is recommended for your cases, and if it does you no good the experiment will amuse you in your wakefulness:—"Wet half a towel, apply it to the back of the neck, pressing it upward toward the base of the brain, and fasten the dry half of the towel over so as to prevent too rapid exhalation. The effect is prompt and charming, cooling the brain, and introducing calmer, sweeter sleep than any narcotic. Warm water may be used, though most persons prefer cold. To those suffering from over-excitement of the brain, whether the result of brain work or pressing anxiety, this simple remedy is an especial boon."

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

Regulate the Secretions.

In our endeavors to preserve health it is of the utmost importance that we keep the secretory system in peefect condition. The well known remedy Kidney-Wort has specific action upon the kidneys, liver and bowels. Use it instead of dosing with vile bitters or drastic pills. It is vegetable, and is prompt but mild in action.

Winter Butter.

Let a farmer divide his white winter butter into two lots, while yet in the form of cream, and for one make use of Perfected Color, made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., while the other goes to market without color, and he will discover on what course his interest depends. This color gives the fine, rich, golden yellow of first quality June butter, not tinged with the dull red tint, objected to in most butter colors.

Piles! Piles! Piles!

Do you know what it is to suffer with Piles? If you do, you know what is one of the worst torments of the human frame. The most perfect cure ever known is Kidney-Wort. It cures constipation, and then its tonic restores health to the diseased bowels, and prevents recurrence of the disease. Try it without delay.

If you have a cough resulting from a sudden cold, procure Adamson's Botanic Balsam, take one half to one teaspoonful three times a day, and your cough will cease. Trial bottles, 10 cts.

A large proportion of children who die early are those whose brain developement is unually large in comparison with the body. Why is this? Simply because the functions of the body are too frail to supply the waste going on in the brain consequent upon active intelligence. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is so prepared that it imparts the vital principal directly to the brain, while it assists in developing a vigorous and robust body.

Admirable Wine for Weakly Persons.

The most certain way to get something strengthening for aged and weakly persons, especially females, is to purchase Speer's Sambuci Wine from druggists, which is beyond a doubt the purest and most admirable ever made. It is rich, nourishing and most delicious, and at the same time free from any sort of spirits. Whatever strength it contains is not added strength, but simply pure juice of the fruit. Many have tasted this tonic, and prefer it to imported wine. Its medicinal properties have been acknowledged. Physicians do not hesitate prescribing it to patients for general debility, etc., for it is a sort of medicine that one would rather take than not.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1879.

News and Notes.

Gen. Grant on the 16th inst. completed his journey around the world, arriving at Philadelphia on that date, and having an enthusiastic reception; 30,000 people were in the procession.

The annual report of the Lake Shore railway shows the net earnings to be $6,280,000, an increase over last year of $786,835. The report of the Michigan Central shows net earnings of $2,721,100.

Hanlan has declared that he will not entertain Courtney's proposition to wait till next June to row for the $6,000 prize. If Courtney's deposit is not made good by the 22d inst., for the race on the Potomac, Hanlan will make a formal demand on Soule for the prize, and will base his future action on that gentleman's reply. Should Riley or any other oarsman in America challenge him for a race, to come off in April or early in May, he might be disposed to remain in America and defer his proposed English trip for a month or two.

A proposition is made to erect additional elevators on the Cape Elizabeth side of Portland harbor, near the dry dock, with every facility for a large grain shipping business, all the railroads to unite in sharing its facilities. It is also proposed to build an elevator on Union wharf. These improvements will increase Portland's facilities for handling grain indefinitely.

The Maine State Educational Association will hold its thirteenth annual meeting at Gardner, December 31st and January 1st and 2d. The statute makes it incumbent upon the State superintendent of schools "to take such measures as he may deem necessary to secure the holding of a State educational convention once each year, with a view of bringing together teachers, school committees and friends of education generally, for the purpose of consultation with reference to the interests of common schools and the most approved methods for instruction. Lectures and papers, followed by discussions, will be given upon important educational questions.

Verdicts against towns for large amounts for damages incurred from defective highways are so common that in a case against the city of Lynn, Mass., for injuries incurred by falling into a catch-basin, where the jury gave $400, the plaintiff wants the verdict set aside on the ground of inadequate compensation.

Claude Etienne Minie, the inventor of the Minie bullet, the most potent instrument of death ever contrived, has just died in Paris.

Rev. Gideon W. Tripp of South Westport, Mass., was found dead December 13th. The deceased was a minister of the Christian denomination, and was much beloved throughout the town, where he has preached for nearly forty years.

Rev. William A. Drew, the oldest Universalist clergyman in Maine, died in Augusta, December 4th. He has writen a number of interesting books, and has also been connected editorially with some of the leading papers of that State.

A Russell, Mass., farmer quarreled with his neighbor, and as a consequence cut an aqueduct pipe belonging to that neighbor, which crossed his land. Much to his surprise he was arrested, and on being confronted with Judge Lewis learned that he was liable to $1,000 fine and a long term of imprisonment for the offense. He waived examination and was bound over, but will probably settle the matter without a trial.

New Publications.

A Fool's Errand, by one of the Fools: New York; Forbes, Howard & Hurlburt, 27 Park place. This is a book which is attracting no little attention all over the country, and from the numerous notices we have seen, we infer that the publishers have sent large numbers of volumes to New England reviewers. The name selected by no means indicates the character of the book. While in the shape of a story, the author gives us some truthful accounts of his personal experience as a man from the north, endeavoring for legitimate purposes to become a resident in the south since the war. The author claims that he shows an honest, uncompromising truthfulness of portraiture, as his pen-pictures are from real life. It is a straightforward narrative of the way and manner in which the fools of the south have behaved since the war in their hostility to enterprise, capital, intelligence and industry, and in their preference for the old ways of ancient days and by-gone nations.

A learned preacher remarked the other day that every novel preached to some extent a sermon. There is no doubt as to the force of the remark when applied to the "fool's errand." While abounding in the comic, eccentric and happy, it has pathetic passages and most interesting descriptions. It is full of interest and yet the story is one of oppressive tyranny. The accounts of the conduct of the men in some sections of the southern country seems almost incredible. How long it will take to eradicate the evil is a question which it may be difficult to answer; but this we know, if Mrs. Stowe, with her Uncle Tom's Cabin, could do so much to show the world the true story of slave life, and by her book become one of the methods in the hands of an all-wise providence to begin the reform which ended in the cessation of slavery, it may be that "one of the fools" will by his well-written book, which combines so many pleasing pictures and repulsive sketches, so contribute in directing the present sentiment of our country to an examination of the condition of affairs in Dixie that, as reconstruction progresses, an era of sense and judicious conduct may succeed the follies and blunders of the unfortunate southrons. The book has already made an impression where it has been circulated, and we regard it as one of the kind of works which certain exigencies of the times always bring out, and which to a great extent have an influence in shaping the destiny and governing the economy of a large section of our land.

The Watch Trade.

A fond parent in Brooklyn, whose daughter was approaching her eighteenth birthday, ascertained that a handsome watch was what she wanted for a present. He had a friend in Maiden lane who selected a watch and chain with great care, and the birthday gift was received with many expressions of delight. One night soon afterward the young lady forgot to wind up the watch, and in the morning the hands and wheels were motionless. She was frightened and took it for granted that she had used the watch carelessly and that something was broken inside. She did not like to say anything to her father about it, but going to a Fulton street jeweller the next day asked him to look at the watch and see what was the matter with it. The jeweller took it, put a magnifying glass before his eye, opened the case, touched the wheels with a pick, and remarked that it needed cleaning, as it was very dirty. On inquiring the cost of such an operation she was told it would be $2.50. The young lady was amazed, for she had had the watch only three days and was reluctant to believe that it required so extensive a renovation. She passed on to the best known jeweller's store in Brooklyn and handing her watch to the man at the counter, preferred the same request as before. He went through the same process of inspection, and said the hair spring was broken and the watch needed cleaning. Inquiring the cost again, she was told it would be $4. She said she would see her father about it, and at night when he came home she told him of her day's doings, and said his friend must have cheated him. Her father took the the watch to New York in the morning, and in the course of the day stepped into his friend's store and asked him to look at the watch and see why it had stopped. His friend after looking at it a moment took up a key and winding it up, handed it back with the remark: "No watch will run unless it is kept wound up."

—Mlle. Sarah Bernhardt is said to have resumed negotiations for a brief American tour next December, including New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

—Erhard Zapf, a San Francisco longshoreman, claims to be Lotta's husband and offers to settle for $4000. The actress says this is the fourth so-called husband who has appeared on the scene.

—"Boy, may I inquire where Robinson's drug store is?" "Certainly, sir," replied the boy respectfully. "Well, sir," said the gentleman, after waiting awhile, "where is it?" "I have not the least idea," said the urchin.

—"Why did Gen. Washington cross the Delaware on the ice during the storm of an awful night?" asked a teacher of her young class in history. "I reckon," piped a small voice in answer, "it was because he wanted to get on the other side."

—Christmas fast approaches, and no married man with a proper regard for his pocket book will fail to acquaint his wife with the fact that a celebrated physician has declared seal-skin unhealthy. Eight-cent calico and five-dollar shawls are very wholesome, we believe.

—Little Will thinks his papa the end of all perfection. One day he said; "Mamma, how good is God? As good as papa?" "Oh, yes," said mamma, "a great deal better." Will looked up at her as if she had uttered a heresy, and remarked emphatically, "Well now, I don't believe that!"

—A certain young man brought his affianced down from the country to see the sights. One day while they were passing a confectioner's the swain noticed in the window a placard bearing the announcement, "Ice cream—one dollar per gal." "Well," said the young man as he walked into the saloon, "that's a pretty steep price to charge for one gal; but Maria, I'll see you through, no matter what it costs. Here's a dollar, waiter; ice cream for this gal."

—Some fiend in human shape went into the electric battery room at a San Francisco hotel, the other day, and turned the whole force of the forty-eight Rumpkoff cells on the reverse way at once. Instantly loud shrieks resounded through the corridors, and in the next ten minutes the waiters found over sixty guests hanging by their thumbs to the electric buttons in their rooms, capering round like maniacs and yelling for release. One old lady was drawn up into such a knot that two doctors haven't got her flattened out since.

—A benevolent Bostonian, living in England, has given $100 to each of two old ladies in Scituate, Mass., who, when girls in the war of 1812, frightened a British man-of-war away from the coast by a drum and playing a fife, as if a detachment of American troops were at hand. Says the Chicago Tribune; "If there had only been one of the present generation of Chicago girls on hand with a piano, we venture to say that the man-of-war would have struck her colors at once."

—Said a justice to an obstreperous prisoner, on the day of his trial: "we want nothing but silence, and but little of that."

—An exchange, telling of a fire, says a man "jumped from a window in his night-dress." What the mischief did he have a window in his night-dress for?

PROBLEM! A certain piece of land is fenced with cubical blocks of stone, four stones high; the number of cubic feet in each block is two-thirds of the square feet of its surface. The number of stones required to fence the field is equal to the number of acres which the field contains.

How many acres in the field, or how many stones are required to fence it?

AROUND HOME.

The funeral of Mr. John Henry Bowles, on the afternoon of the 17th inst., was attended by a very large number of the prominent men of the city—the men who to a great extent controlled affairs twenty or thirty years ago, and many others, of a later generation, whose influence is more strongly felt to-day—who gathered to pay the last public token of respect and affection to the pleasant and kindly old gentleman. The services, conducted by Rev. Mr. McGinley, were simple and impressive, in keeping with the modest and unassuming character of the deceased, several appropriate selections being beautifully rendered by a volunteer quartette of well known vocalists.

The following is a revised list of the divorces decreed at the October term of the supreme court for Rockingham county: Philena Emma Schelling from Chas. R. Schelling; Louise F. Carr from Joseph C. Carr; Miranda McDevitt from Henry McDevitt; Sophia M. Abbott from Horace M. Abbott; Jenny S. Beane from Orestes Irving Beane; Florence A. King from John E. King; Emma Gannett from Albert Gannett; Ida M. Stone from Frank S. Stone; Victoria J. Brown from Levi C. Brown; Sarah E. Fowler from Warren P. Fowler; Sarah L. Martin from William Martin; Benjamin T. Stevens from Lydia S. Stevens; Ira E. Randall from Anna Randall; Annie L. Tilton from Geo. A. Tilton; John C. Davis from Mary E. Davis.

Capt. E. D. Coffin left his horse and wagon standing in front of the gas house for a few moments, Wednesday noon of this week. The horse took advantage of the absence of his master and started off on a lively trot through Bow street into Market street, throwing out robes, cushions, whip, etc., in his progress. A lady who was crossing the street from Brown & Co.'s towards C. E. Myers & Co.'s barely escaped being knocked down by the flying steed. Mr. John W. Caswell leaped from his wagon, and catching the runaway by the bridle, brought him to a stand after a brief struggle. Edward arrived on the scene of action shortly afterward, and gave a humorous description of his race after the wagon, declaring that he could have overtaken it with his ulster on, if the horse had only left it against a post somewhere.

The U. S. S. Lancaster, now undergoing repairs at this naval station, will be when complete one of the finest and most substantial vessels in the navy. The estimates for the needed repairs which were made and submitted to the navy department will be largely reduced from the original, owing to the skillful mechanics employed on the navy yard. In the steam engineering department it is ordered that the new boilers built by the Providence Steam Engine Company and the engine of the Antietam, be placed on board of the Lancaster, which will add much to her efficiency. A new screw propeller, of greater diameter and area of propelling surface, will nearly double the engine power of this ship, and greatly increase her speed against a head sea and wind. The boilers are designed to carry forty pounds of steam, and will indicate 1600 horse-power. It is presumed this will give the vessel a good speed during the whole life-time of these boilers.

Mr. Joseph R. Curtis of this city we are informed is a candidate for the position of storekeeper under the internal revenue department, which position has been held by Mr. John Hodgdon since some time in 1861. We do not propose to specially advocate the claims of any person to the office; but if Mr. Hodgdon is not to be re-appointed, we think the aspirations of Mr. Curtis not at all presumptuous, as he is intelligent, temperate and trustworthy, and has an excellent war record. Mr. Curtis enlisted in 1861, in the 1st Maine Cavalry, and returned with the regiment in August, 1865, having never been absent from the it except when a prisoner of war,—he having been taken prisoner at the second battle of Bull Run, and rejoined his command immediately on being exchanged; and it is a matter of history that the 1st Maine Cavalry, by order of the war department, bore upon its colors the names of more battles than any other regiment in the Union service. Some years since Mr. Curtis met with an unfortunate accident, which while incapacitating him for some kinds of hard labor—of which he was never afraid when he had two good arms—would not in the least militate against his efficiency in the position to which he aspires; and we do not know why he should not be considered "a crippled soldier" as much as any of those who were actually disabled on the field of battle, he having bravely taken the chances which resulted in the death of so many of his comrades, all through the war. We do not say he should have the position to which he aspires; we do say he is a proper person to have it.

The sudden turning out of the lights in the common council room on Wednesday night at precisely half-past seven o'clock was hardly understood by the large number of citizens who were gathering to hear the report of the committee appointed to report upon the feasibility of establishing a shoe factory in this city. We assure our friends that there was nothing ominous in this; on the contrary, we believe the starting of the enterprise in the immediate future is a certainty, an assured fact. There is really no further need of a public meeting; all the public desires to know is, will it go? and the composition of the committee is answer enough for that. Messrs. Jones and Mendum were in Boston and Lynn on the 17th inst., and satisfied themselves fully of Mr. Knights' high reputation for integrity and business ability; the state of the market was also examined into thoroughly, and found to be propitious for the going ahead at once. We expect to announce very soon the organization of the Portsmouth Boot & Shoe company, and to publish its list of officers.

Editor of Chronicle: I am glad to see that one of your correspondents has a good word for the post-master. The lock-boxes, and many improvements, are certainly to be be gratefully remembered and occasionally mentioned in his praise. But his genial and courteous disposition ought to be suspended long enough to say to the loungers inside the office during the time the mails are being assorted, "You have no right to be here, and must leave." He might also suggest to some of his clerks that if they do not wish to accommodate the public, whose servants they are, there are plenty of capable men and women in town, ready to fill their places, and to the much better satisfaction of THE PUBLIC.

A commodore is no less a commodore when he carries his chickens home himself, than he would be if the "store boy" carried them. Yet a good many people could not help looking at one of these naval heroes as he progressed up Congress street on the 17th inst., with a gold-headed cane in one hand and a pair of nice plump chickens in the other, unconscious of the attention he was receiving.

The alarm of fire, Wednesday afternoon of this week, was occasioned by a slight conflagration in the upper story of the premises on Vaughan street occupied by Howard F. Newman. The fire caught from a stove-pipe, where it went through a partition; the damage amounted to about $100, principally from water. Insured in Morse & Ilsley's agency.

Joseph Stott of Newmarket, ninety-one years of age,—and who by the way deserted from the English army in the war of 1812 and joined the American forces near Lake Champlain—is a remarkably well-preserved man, and has been at work all the fall cutting and piling wood—a cord being his "stint" per day.

There is probably to be an investigation into the alleged improper management of the building of the breakwater at Newcastle, and those parties who have so assiduously circulated stories of "funny" frauds may have all the fun ahead that they possibly can take care of.

William Cobbett, a painter formerly in the employ of E. D. Coffin of this city, is in the Maine general hospital, hopelessly crippled by chronic rheumatism.

The new postal cards have appeared, and business men will find them of immense advantage and convenience in their business correspondence.

Stillman Boyd Allen, Esq., of Boston, was admitted to practice in the supreme court of the United States this week.

THE ODD FELLOWS' FAIR.

The Wednesday matinee for the children of the public schools at the Odd Fellows' fair was a success. Over two hundred children attended, all of whom enjoyed themselves greatly in the varied amusements which were planned. The dancing by the children in the various waltzes, under the direction of Mrs. Munroe, elicited great applause. Santa Claus was represented by Mr. Kennedy, who is always ready to respond to any call, and was greeted by the young folks with marked pleasure. Over three hundred persons were present, and the management provided all manner of games to amuse them.

Mr. John H. Slater sent in several samples of tea in beautiful cans and chests, which will add much to the appearance of the tables, and to the "purse."

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

In the upper and northern part of Eliot snow fell to the depth of six inches on Sunday, the 14th inst.; good sleighing is the result.

E. O. Emerson, a brother of Capt. Emerson of York, lost by the recent conflagration at Red Rock, Pa., 26,350 barrels of oil,—a loss of $45,000.

We are informed that it took three men to kill a hog last week in Eliot. The animal had his head nearly cut off in the melee, and this not finishing him, he was stamped to death by the butchers!

You can't afford to laugh, dear girls,
Unless your teeth are white as pearls—
Unless your mouth is pink and sweet,
And your two lips in rosebuds meet;
And you cannot supply this want,
But through the use of SOZODONT!

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Suzy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the grinding, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 1

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken for bedtime will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. 4 th&c

The Gallery of the House.

A writer in the Atlantic Monthly in giving reminiscences of Washington, refers to the House of Representatives and says that ladies had been originally excluded from the galleries, in accordance with the British precedent. When the famous Jay treaty was brought home for ratification, the House came near refusing to make the necessary appropriation for carrying it into effect, and heated debates ensued. One night at a party, Mrs. Langdon of New Hampshire, whose husband was a member, expressed her regret to Hon. Fisher Ames of Massachusetts that she could nor hear the arguments, especially his speeches. Mr. Ames gallantly replied that he knew of no reason why ladies should not be permitted to hear the debates. Then, said Mrs. Langdon, "if you will let me know when you next intend to speak, I will make up a party of ladies and will go and hear you." The notice was given, and since then Congressional orators have always had fair hearers.

—Retired from the "service"—a broken tea-cup.

—A lady poet goshes forth, "I love an engine! for it seems half human." A good many men might as well claim her love. They smoke like the locomotive, and they whistle, and some of them are not much more than half human, according to appearances.

A Lady's Wish.

"Oh, how I do wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so," answered the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. "By using Hop Bitters, that makes pure rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me, as you observe." Read of it.—Cairo Bulletin.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood impartial.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price $1.00, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

THE MODEL RANGE

— FOR —

Hard or Soft Coal or Wood

— HAVING THE —

Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,
New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,
New Patent Extension Leg,
New Patent Double Top,
(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many since. They do all work evenly and steadily, which is great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

Ranges, Cooking and Parlor Stoves,

Etc., can be seen at the old stand of

M. W. EARING,

No. 61 Market Street,

Where also can be found a full and complete assortment of KITCHEN WARE, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, etc., which the residents of Portsmouth and vicinity are respectfully invited to inspect before purchases are made elsewhere.

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN--and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once flattered himself that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it must feel very distressed, to such an extent that life has no enjoyments, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even into death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him. Reference given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his wonderful practice and popularity therefrom throughout this country and the West Indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed free to those who send 10 cents. Save this, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal services, he divides his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturdays, Mondays and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The time of Dr. Sherman, spending from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain so falsely men and impostors to represent themselves as Dr. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and suffered daily in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so bad that my presence in a room with other was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was no troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours,

MELBOURNE H. FORD,
Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1876.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived yesterday right all right. I don't know that I should have use it if had not been for this remedy. I have tried Nasal Douches and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, I have not been able to recover my senses of taste and smell until tried Sanford's Radical Cure. You can say to those to me, and I will cheerfully inform them I feel so to the benefit the remedy has been to me.

Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1876.

SUITABILITIES.

That ladies too broad by many inches should adopt costumes which cause them to look broader by as many more, is one of the most lamentable facts of the day. The attempt to give you an idea of the results produced, would be to describe that which is indescribable, and therefore it is left to your imagination. Now to a slender form, there is nothing more becoming than the panier style of dress, but, that seems hardly a reason why it should be chosen by some matrons already weighted down by the consequences of advancing years. It can only be accounted for on the ground of that idea of self sacrifice which is prominent in the female mind, that devotion to duty which is so beautiful a trait. Doubtless that woman's husband likes her to be in the fashion, and to please him she makes a very caricature of herself. Yet if we would only think about it, we would find that there is always some means of avoiding a duty; and going yet deeper into the matter, we should discover that there is generally a loop-hole somewhere if we but have the wit to find it. And such is the fact, for just here we have the Directoure style of dress, which is straight and close fitting at the sides, although bouffant at the back.

DRESSING THE HAIR.

There never was such liberty in dressing the hair; you may wear it in any way you please, and yet be fashionable. High, low, medium, ornate or simple, just as your fancy for the moment may dictate. I hope however, that these lines will not meet the eye of any individual who wears either the French twist or long curls, for such individual would seem to be irreclaimable and utterly past hope in so far as fashion is concerned. Short curls, on the other hand, are very stylish, and mix in prettily almost anywhere. And do let me entreat you furthermore, my good sisters, to vary the mode of arranging your hair. Do not always have it either high, low or an other way. Let it be sometimes one thing, sometimes another. We don't want always to see the same expression on your faces, and there is nothing more tiresome than the hair always disposed in an unvarying contour. If an ornament be desired, choose some one or more of those fanciful devices in tortoise shell, silver or gilt which are at present so fashionable that flowers are quite driven out.

CHILDREN'S OUTFITS.

For a little boy of from five to six, the Beaufort suit is jaunty and becoming, consisting of a box plaited skirt and half-fitting jacket. The Celine costume would be pretty for a school girl, and is suitable for almost any material of the day. With this as a street covering, the Meros jacket of medium length, with loose double-breasted fronts and half-fitting back, is at once stylish and simple, and can be made up in either cloth or suit goods. The Nina coat would be a tasteful out-door garment for a little girl. And finally, though scarce perhaps appropriate for this heading, I must give some description of an elegant costume worn by Mme. Ambre of the Mapleson Opera company. It was a Regina dress of dark blue satin, plain and brocaded. The front was trimmed with a number of flounces, over which was tied a brocaded scarf with deep fringed ends. The overdress was cut away, and the train attached at the back by a deep shirred heading. Corsage square. Elbow-sleeves.

EXTREMES.

Christmas brings up lists of fancy articles of all kinds, and the prices quoted by houses which cater to highly fashionable trade are a commentary on republican simplicity. "Shopping bracelets," (having a pencil attached) are quoted at $185. This of course to the mind of the Fifth Avenue belle is indicative of economy, as she is enabled thereby to straighten out her expences without loss of time. Single pencils are quoted at $300; shoe buttoners $6.50; glove buttoners $16; hair pin boxes $9; traveling bags $475; bon bon boxes $50; glove stretchers $50; shopping bags $100; tablets $50; umbrellas $150, and higher. For gentlemen, we observe liquor flasks, $150; liquor sets $70; cork screws, $38; decanters $150, and upwards; toddy kettles $220; silver mounted corks $25; wine stands $250; wine coolers $700; beer mugs $100; tankards $500; bottle handles $24; ash receivers $40; segar cases $50, and upwards; segar lighters $30; shaving brushes $42. On comparison it will be found that extravagance is not altogether on the side of the ladies. I have furthermore placed the heading "extremes" with a purpose, for I know of no market in America, where goods are shown at as low prices as in New York.

LUCY CARTER.

Portsmouth Chronicle

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1879.

A Well Executed Job.

The committee on elections of the Maine council, of which committee "Hon." E. C. Moody of York is chairman, on the 16th inst. finished the "readjustment" of the results of the Maine election, and certificates were issued to some of the republicans who were chosen at the polls, and to many democrats who were elected by Garcelon, Moody et als. The readjusting has been so skillfully done that the legislature when it meets will have a fusion majority,—twenty fusionists to eleven democrats in the Senate, and seventy-eight fusionists to sixty-one republicans in the House, in place of the large republican majority of seven in the Senate and thirty in the House, which the people elected. So careful were the Garcelon-Moody-Pillsbury gang to cover all possible points, that they readjusted enough democrats into the House to give the fusionists one more than a quorum, so that even if all the republicans should withdraw Mr. Pillsbury could still carry on his government. That the tools with which to carry out this shameless piece of infamy were well chosen, is shown by the exceedingly neat manner in which they finished up their job.

News and Notes.

Mr. Lafayette E. Batley, an aged and quite wealthy man, was found in his yard at North Oxford, Mass., early Wednesday morning the 17th inst., with terrible wounds in the head, and died at ten o'clock. He had been called out by unknown persons between three and four o'clock. His pocket-book, in which he usually carried quite a sum of money was missing.

Rev. Charles H. Malcom, D. D., formerly of the Baptist denomination, and lately secretary of the America Peace society, was on the 17th inst. admitted to deacon's orders in the Protestant Episcopal church by Bishop Clark in Grace church at Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Oakley T. Lee of Norwich, Conn., whose confessed innumerable immoralities secured her husband a divorce and herself expulsion from the Baptist church, now accuses her husband of cruelty, and claims that her intimacy with certain members of the church was actually sanctioned by him. It is said the matter will now get into court, where persons of high church and society standing will be exposed. The Lees lived in the "bad-air" house where Wesley Bishop poisoned his wife, and Lee reports that the building seems to be an unfortunate one, and that a curse has rested upon it since the Cobb-Bishop affair. Both Lees were of high standing in the local Good Templar lodge, as were also Wesley Bishop and his wife, and Kate Cobb and her husband.

Two sons of William Adams of Waldo, Me., aged respectively thirteen and fifteen years, were recently drowned while skating.

Miss Ida M. Watcher, aged twenty-five years, a respectable school teacher in Northport, Me., committed suicide on the 17th inst. by drowning, while temporarily insane.

Stanley T. Pullen, Esq., editor-in-chief of the Portland Press, arrived in New York on the 16th inst. from Europe. His health is reported to be much improved.

The Pacific Mail steamship Clyde has been put in the government dry dock at the Norfolk navy yard for repairs.

The Portland, Me., Argus says: "Mr. E. Frank Lombard, the cigar dealer on Middle street, Portland, has left town, leaving a number of creditors sadly in the lurch. Before leaving he got rid of his entire stock, leaving only empty boxes. Four or five attachments were put on his place of business Monday afternoon."

Details of the last Chilian victory received in London state that the allied forces of Peruvians and Bolivians, 11,000 strong, marching northward from Noria effect a junction with a reinforcement of 5000 men under the president of Bolivia, attacked on the 21st of November a Chilian advanced corps of 6000 men, who occupied an intrenched position at Dolores, near Agua Santa. The Chilian heavy cannon committed great ravages among the ranks of the enemy, whose cavalry charged three times upon the guns and attempted to carry them off, but their efforts were unsuccessful. In the evening the reserve of the Chilian force came up and decided the day. The allied forces were driven back, their camp was taken with thirteen cannon, many wounded officers, including the Bolivian General Villegas, were taken prisoners, and another of the allied generals killed. The losses of the Chilian forces were heavy.

Patrick Flynn, a Middlefield, Mass., farmer, was found dead in a pasture on the 16th inst. He had been leading a pair of steers with a rope, which was found wound around his arm, and he is supposed to have stumbled and pulled one of the steers over upon him, causing instant death.

New Publications.

Harper's Magazine for January fully sustains the brilliant record of this popular monthly in both its literary and artistic features. The number opens with the reproduction of Keats' remarkable poem, "The Eve of St. Agnes," with nine beautiful illustrations by Abbey. Frank Mayer, the artist, contributes an entertaining sketch of "Old Baltimore and its merchants," with nine illustrations. A paper entitled "The Isms of forty years ago" contains some terse descriptions of the most remarkable movements and experiments of the reformers of 1840, especially those of New England, and is illustrated with portraits of Theodore Parker, Wm. Ellery Channing, William Miller, Edmund Quincey, George Combe, Lydia Maria Child, Vincenz Priessnitz, Samuel Hahnemann, Samuel Thompson, Sylvester Graham, Abby Kelley Foster, John Pierpont and Isaac Pitman. Mr. A. A. Hayes, Jr., continues his interesting series of papers on Colorado, with a vigorous and comprehensive description of the sheep-raising industry, which is illustrated with fifteen admirable pictures by Rogers. Some recent educational institutions in Brooklyn—the "attendance schools" and the "truant home"—for the enforcement of compulsory education, form the subject of a suggestive paper by Miss F. E. Fryatt, illustrated by Miss Jessie Curtis and Sol Eytinge, Jr. Besides Keats' poem, there are two others which are illustrated: "Zlobane," by Z. B. Gustafson, based on a touching incident in the recent Zulu war, and furnishing Mr. Reinhardt with motifs for two excellent pictures; and a "Christmas anthem" by Philip O. Sullivan, with two exquisite illustrations by Miss Oakey. A. H. Louis contributes a poem entitled "Music and words." A good short story by Virginia W. Johnson, "The old woman and her bag," is finely illustrated; and Miss Phoebe Yates Pember, the author of "Southern story," contributes a clever tale, entitled "The ghost of the nineteenth century." One of the most interesting articles in the number is Edwin De Leon's, concerning Ferdinand De Lesseps as minister at Rome in 1849, accompanied with a portrait. John Habberton finds in the report of the fisheries award commission some very curious information relating to the habits and haunts of fishes, which he presents under the title of "First families of the Atlantic." Miss Mulock's novel, "Young Mrs. Jardine," is concluded. "White Wings; a yachting romance," by William Black, and R. D. Blackmore's novel, "Mary Anerley," are continued. In addition to these varied attractions, there are graceful and timely discussions of current topics in the Editor's Easy Chair, full intelligence concerning the latest books in the Literary Record, and an Editor's Drawer brim-full of rich humor and anecdote. The magazine can now be procured of W. G. Myers, or at Moses Brothers' news depot.

The current number of the Sanatarian contains—as every number of it does—many articles of interest and value, among them being papers on "Marine hygiene, and the prevention of epidemic disease by commerce," the recent plague in Russia, "Facts concerning hot-air furnaces," hard vs. soft water, etc. Published by A. N. Bell, No. 47 Lafayette place, New York city; $3 per year; single number thirty cents.

New Hampshire Items.

A tenement house at Lake Village, owned by Samuel B. Smith, was burned on the 17th inst. Loss $1000; insured $700.

Business is improving in Keene, and the Ashuelot steam mills are about to start up, which will employ about a hundred hands in the manufacture of furniture. This mill has been idle for about twelve years.

Capt. Benjamin Lovering of Hopkinton was on the 18th inst. gored by an ox in a horrible manner, his injuries being almost certainly fatal.

At a meeting at Concord on the 17th inst., the trustees of the New Hampshire Unitarian association confirmed the purchase made by a committee of the property at Andover to establish a school.

Thursday was a cold day in some parts of the state. At Littleton the thermometer was twenty below zero; at Lancaster, sixteen below; at Whitefield, fourteen below; at Hanover, twelve below.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood wherever taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. 1 thf

We are indebted to Senator Rollins for valuable public documents.

Coal freights at Baltimore for this port this week are quoted at $2.65.

Rev. Mr. Pitblado lectured in Augusta, Maine, Thursday evening, and to-night will lecture in Biddeford.

A lady named Ham was seriously and perhaps fatally injured in Dover on the 16th inst., by a fall on a slippery sidewalk.

Dover has fifteen regular medical practitioners, and it is the greatest wonder in the world how anybody can manage to die there.

One thousand dollars of Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad 4 1-2 per cent bonds of 1937 were sold at auction in Boston on the 17th inst., and brought 75 1-4.

D. F. Borthwick displays handsome novelties in linen goods, for the Christmas trade. He has a fine line of damasks, towels, table covers and napkins, at very low prices.

A Morse & Ireland safe weighing 3000 pounds was put into the office of C. M. Gignoux in National block, last Thursday. Ten riggers, under the supervision of Mr. Jos. C. Muchmore, did the job.

Any one who desires to figure for a Christmas present can consult Marston's advertisement. Mr. Marston believes in selling a good article at a low price, and it will repay one to examine his stock.

The seventy-second annual meeting of the Strafford medical society was held in Dover on the 17th inst. Dr. John W. Parsons of this city, president of the society, delivered the annual address upon the subject "Medical ethics."

The Granite State base ball club will give a ball in Congress hall on New Year's eve. The assemblies given by the club have been well conducted, well attended, and productive of much pleasure to the participants; and we presume the ball under the same management will have a similar result. The boys intend if possible to put in the field next season a nine that will be the equal of any amateur nine in New England, and the object of their series of social assemblies is to raise a fund to help defray the preliminary expenses.

The CHRONICLE says that the writer of the internal revenue item which appeared in that paper a few mornings ago, was not "clerk of the United States court" nor of any other court, and "never signed nor even saw the petition referred to." Beg pardon; but we wonder if said clerk of the United States court, who is an owner of the CHRONICLE, and one of its most lynx-eyed supervisors, will deny that he signed said petition, and allowed said fling to appear in his paper? On which side of the fence?—Times.

Our neighbor begs the question. It asserted, without any qualification whatever, that the writer of the "internal revenue item" referred to "has been clerk of the United States court for many years," and signed a certain petition—both of which statements were untrue.

It should also be borne in mind that election laws are made for the special purpose of securing the rights of all parties; and the law is the scale to measure and determine those rights. To fail in the strict and just application of the law to every case, so far from forwarding the ends of justice, would be to leave all elections completely in the power of the executive officer for the time being.

Ed. Chronicle: The above is an extract from an editorial article on Maine politics in the Times of the 17th inst. And to it, "so say we all of us!" Strike out from the extract the single word "election," and see how perfectly it endorses the writer's position in regard to the Portsmouth & Dover railroad. But while knowing his position in that matter to be unassailable, he cannot but be gratified to have the question of the whole point for which he has been contending conceded, even if unwittingly, by a paper always said to have been and now believed to be controlled in the interests of Frank Jones, the president of the P. & D. R. R.! We hope, therefore, under its new editor for (a) better "Times." Truth is mighty, etc. W.

The canaries at Wendell's hardware store sing sweetly and swing neatly in their bright cages.

Schooner Mary J. Adams, of this port, now at Portland, has been chartered to load with hay at $6 per ton, and potatoes at thirty cents per bushel.

"Citizen," in the Times of Thursday evening, squeals dismally over a communication in the CHRONICLE of Thursday morning. Was "Citizen" hit?

Thursday morning last was more like winter than anything we had previously experienced for weeks. The thermometer was down to nine above zero at five o'clock.

The directors of the Eastern railroad made an official inspection of the Portsmouth & Dover line on the 16th inst. As a result, the Dover Democrat reports that steps will probably soon be taken towards building a new depot on the site of the present "rookery" in Dover.

The stores of O. C. Ingraham, shoe dealer, and William M. Cources, grocer, in Dover, were burglarized on Tuesday night of this week. The thief got only about $2.50 in both places, in money, but he stole a lot of cigars and a pair of boots, and had a good feed in the grocery store.

Reports say that Mr. Joseph R. Curtis is to be the successor of Mr. John Hodgdon in the store under the revenue department. Mr. Curtis is an honorable soldier, and an esteemed gentleman. Now here is an opportunity for republicans to show their appreciation of the services he rendered them and his country.—Times.

Elegant, massive brass rails are being placed in front of the store windows in National block, which add much to the beauty of this handsome building; and though intended only as a protection to the windows, will be very convenient for those people who cannot stand on their feet when gazing at handsome window displays.

At the annual meeting of the New Hampshire Patrons' Mutual Relief Association, held in Manchester on the 17th inst., Hon. Frank W. Miller of this city was elected vice president of that association; and at the annual meeting of the State Grange, held the same day, Mrs. F. W. Miller was elected lady assistant steward.

Miller's Weekly informs us that the friends of Mrs. Abba Goold Woolson are beseeching her to favor Portsmouth with her lecture on Yosemite valley. Let the friends guarantee an audience that will pay expenses, if they are so anxious to hear Mrs. Woolson; the fact that several lectures given in our city of late have not been a pecuniary success, is sad, but at the same time undeniable. We hope the time will come, when as of yore, a sensible lecture, and a good course indeed, may succeed, but at present any sort of entertainment, intellectual, dramatic or musical is in great danger of showing an unfortunate result when the books are balanced.

THE ODD FELLOWS' FAIR.

The attendance at the Odd Fellows fair increases each evening; many additional items of interest have been added, among them the skating rink, which is attracting much attention and affording quite a source of revenue. The prizes which are to be awarded by the season tickets will be drawn this evening, and will be the first in order. The other prizes will be announced as soon as possible. The chair to be voted to the most popular doctor is receiving a large share of attention; every doctor in the vicinity has received votes.

MASONIC ELECTION.

At the annual meeting of Davenport Council No. 5, Royal and Select Masters, the following officers were chosen:

Thomas E. O. Marvin, T. I. M.;
John R. Holbrook, R. I. M.;
William P. Walker, I. M.;
Benj. F. Webster, Treasurer;
Joseph R. Curtis, Secretary;
Charles W. Norton, Con. of Council;
John Pame, Capt. of Guard;
Alfred J. Hill, Marshal;
Harry G. Tanton, Steward;
William B. Randall, Sentinel.

SHOE MANUFACTURING NOTES.

"It never rains but it pours." It is rumored on the street that should the starting of a shoe factory here be successful, several more will be put in operation at once; there is talk already of a company being formed that will take the brick building on Water street belonging to Dennis Shea, drain pipe manufacturer, and turn it into a shoe factory; this is one of the most substantially built structures in the city, and with a little alteration would make a most desirable manufactory for this business.

The committee appointed on Monday, the 15th inst., will report at a meeting to be held in the common council room on Tuesday evening, the 23d; everything is progressing satisfactorily, and the committee hope to be able to report a definite plan of procedure, so that operations may commence at once. The report that the gentlemen comprising the committee intended gobbling up all the stock in the enterprise is sheer nonsense; they were appointed for a specific purpose, and when this is done any one can have any rights in the premises that another has, if he chooses to, and is willing to pay for them.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening:

Mr. Joseph H. Gardiner appeared before the board in behalf of the Odd Fellows, and extended an invitation to the mayor and aldermen to attend the dedication of their new hall in National block on the evening of Jan. 1st. The invitation was accepted, and a vote was passed thanking the order for their courtesy.

The mayor notified the board, in view of any trouble which might arise in relation to laying the track on Elm street, that he had authorized the city clerk to procure a copy of the charter, which had been done.

Petition for a naphtha light on the corner of Union and State streets,—referred to committee on street lights to report.

Committee on burying grounds recommended that no more burials take place in the North cemetery without special premission of the Mayor, and that they be empowered to select some new location for a cemetery and report the result to the board; adopted.

The mayor was authorized to hire as much money as is needed to meet the current expenses. He also notified the board that a conditional receipt had been prepared by the counsel of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad and the cities of Portsmouth and Dover, to be presented to the Eastern railroad for rental due December 31st.

Execution was rendered against the city by Charles H. Sides to the amount of $574.60.

Voted that the city clerk present the same to the Eastern railroad for settlement.

The mayor informed the board that the Eastern railroad in laying the new track is encroaching on the city land on Elm street.

Voted that the city clerk, under the advice of the city solicitor, notify the Eastern railroad of the trespass.

Repairs needed on No. 2 engine house were referred to committee on fire department, with power.

Committee on claims reported that the Aqueduct company had abated the bill for water said to be used on stone crusher engine.

Voted that the sum allowed by statute be paid Henry S. Hartshorn for maintaining a watering trough on Sagamore road.

Voted that the city clerk be instructed to notify the Globe Gaslight company of Boston that the city did not authorize the purchase of the posts and lanterns and would not be responsible for them, and that the lamplighters be notified to discontinue lighting them and using any material belonging to the city.

Adjourned for two weeks.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Joshua G. Emery, aged about nine years, son of Joshua Emery of York, was drowned in that town on the 17th inst. by breaking through the ice on a pond. His body was recovered in about an hour after the accident.

At the seventy-second annual meeting of the Strafford district medical association, held in Dover on the 17th inst., Dr. E. Q. Adams of Kittery point was elected a member of the association, and appointed one of the orators for the ensuing year.

The York county delegation in the Maine legislature, as elected at Augusta by "Hon." E. C. Moody et als., is as follows: Senators, John Q. Dennett and Ira S. Libby, fusionists, elected at Augusta; Charles P. Emery, republican, elected by the voters of the county. Representatives—Mark F. Wentworth of Kittery, George Getchell of Wells, Horace P. Emmons of Limington, Jeremiah M. Mason of Limerick, John F. Hall of Alfred, five republicans; Bartholomew Wentworth of South Berwick, Reuben D. Chadbourne of North Berwick, Stephen Lord of Lebanon, Zebulon G. Horn of Acton, Lovrn T. Staples of Parsonsfield, Abel G. Smith of Buxton, Moses Harriman of Kennebunkport, Carlos Heard and "Rev." H. A. Wales of Biddeford, nine trade-and-dicker men.

Political.

The result of the meeting of the republican national committee at Washington on the 17th inst., was the election of Don Cameron as chairman and the selection of Chicago as the place for holding the next republican national convention. The convention will be held June 3d, 1880.

The vote in New York by senatorial districts shows that the republicans carried the State by 40,000 majority.

Both houses of Congress have passed a bill transferring to the trustees of the Holy Communion (Roman Catholic) church United States property at Charleston, S. C., to be used for sectarian purposes. This looks as though the Catholic church was fast becoming the ruling power in American politics.

The Philadelphia Times, a thoroughly democratic journal of independent tone, briefly remarks: "The very first thing Governor Garcelon's patched-up legislature in Maine should do is to render itself into committee of the hole, and pull the hole in after them."

It is possible that Gov. Garcelon's trip down south, a few months ago, was to learn the methods there in vogue in disposing of majorities, when the majorities are for the other side. If so, he apparently was an apt pupil.—Lowell Mail.

—"Yesterday afternoon," says a Tennessee paper, "the handsome Miss Jennie Taylor was borne to the cemetery before a large concourse of grieving men, women and vehicles."

Regulate the Secretions.

In our endeavors to preserve health it is of the utmost importance that we keep the secretory system in perfect condition. The well known remedy Kidney-Wort has specific action upon the kidneys, liver and bowels. Use it instead of dosing with vile bitters or drastic pills. It is vegetable, and is prompt but mild in action.

Piles! Piles! Piles!

Do you know what it is to suffer with Piles? If you do, you know what is one of the worst torments of the human frame. The most perfect cure ever known is Kidney-Wort. It cures constipation, and then its tonic restores health to the diseased bowels, and prevents recurrence of the disease. Try it without delay.

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON

THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

BILIOUSNESS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS.

by restoring free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Bilious pains and aches?
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation?
Why frightened over disordered Kidneys?
Why endure nervous or sick headaches?
Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and One package will make six quarts of medicine. Get it of your Druggist, he will order it for you. Price, $1.00.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work, published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundred edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains valuable and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Beautiful French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president; W. H. P. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D.; C. S. GAUNT, M. D.; H. J. DOUCET M. D.; R. H. KLINE, M. D.; J. R. HOLCOMB, M. Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,
New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,
New Patent Extension Leg,
New Patent Double Top,
(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation, Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

Ranges, Cooking and Parlor Stoves,

Etc., can be seen at the old stand of

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN--and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once flattered himself that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it and the injury it causes, to such an extent that life has no enjoyments, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him. References given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his success in actual practice and popularity therefrom throughout this country and the West Indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and thus be informed for themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Save this, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal services, he divides his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturdays, Mondays and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The fame of Dr. Sherman, arising from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain so Called men and impostors to represent themselves as Dr. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has bestowed on me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so bad that my presence in a room with other was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was no troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD,

Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 8, 1878.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived to-night all right. I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for this remedy. I have tried Dr. Dixon's and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, I have no more been able to recover my senses of smell and taste, which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1878.

The Thomas Statue.

Artists pronounce the statue of Gen. Thomas the finest specimen of the sculptor's handiwork in Washington. To the chance observer it tells a more thrilling story. High above the crowd, almost flush with the house tops, one sees in the attitude and expression that the old hero has just ridden to a summit where he overlooks the battle going on below. In the face and position of the rider are written self-possession and confidence, while from the open mouth of the horse one almost hears the neigh of mixed terror and defiance.

The statue stands on a pedestal of granite, in horizontal sections of elliptical shape, about sixteen feet in height, on which there are bronze tablets representing the badge of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland, partly surrounded by a wreath of laurel. Gen. Thomas is represented as having suddenly checked his horse on the summit of a slight acclivity to make an observation, and he sits with loosened rein and hat off surveying the field with searching eye. The horse looks abroad with head raised high in the air, swelling neck and chest, and fore feet firmly planted on a strip of a rock. His mane and uplifted tail are tossed by the wind, and one of his hind feet on the slope is placed before the other. Rider and steed are erect and eager at the first view, and full of the glow caused by the quick ride up. The horse is especially good anatomically, and has careful veining.

The face of General Thomas is expressive, and the head well modelled; the intent expression, as he looks with firmly compressed jaw and with that intense interest which imparts earnestness to the entire figure, is well rendered.

The whole work is about fifteen feet in height from the ground on which the animal stands to the top of the rider's head, nearly on a level with which his own rises. The figures are about twice life size. The color of the bronze is clear, light brown, almost the color of the alloy.

The contract for the statue was made with Mr. J. Q. A. Ward nearly six years since by a committee of the Army of the Cumberland, the price to be paid being $40,000. About six months ago he completed a design in plaster and sent it to the founders, Messrs. Bureau Brothers & Heaton, of Philadelphia, who received $10,000 for their labor.

The entire weight of the statue is about 7,500 pounds, the horse and rider weighing 5,300 and the base 2,200. The site selected for the statue is the spot where the salute of 800 guns was fired on April 3d, 1865, in honor of the fall of Petersburg and the capture of Richmond, and where one week later a salute of 500 guns was fired in honor of the surrender of General Lee's army. The statue faces south, the line of vision being directly toward Arlington, the former home of General Lee.

—The latest hanging hat racks are in the shape of an immense horseshoe, and are of ebony, with huge steel nails to form the hooks.

—A fellow walked into a Troy music store, called for a piece of music entitled "Act on the square," and while the clerk was looking for it, walked off with $6.50.

—It is reported that a retail millinery house in New York is offering Derby hats at ten cents apiece, hoping thereby to render this style of hat unpopular with the better class, as a Derby requires little or no trimming.

—Mr. Curtis once asked Mr. Greeley in response to a similar question put to him by the great editor: "How do you know, Mr. Greeley, when you have succeeded in a public address?" Mr. Greeley, not averse to the perpetration of a joke at his own expense, replied: "When more stay in than go out."

—The New York World says four men were missed in that city Thursday. Strange to say, observes the Oil City Derrick, we missed a man on the same day. We dropped a brick out of the window and missed him by two inches. Then he missed us. We were on the roof when he came up stairs.

—A little girl in the infant class of a Sunday school thoroughly appreciated the difference between begging good from choice and from necessity. At the close of the school one day the teacher remarked: "Beckie, dear, you have been a very good little girl to-day." "Yes'om, I couldn't help being good; I got a tin neck," Beckie replied, with perfect seriousness.

A Lady's Wish.

"Oh, how I do wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so," answered the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. "By using Hop Bitters, that makes pure rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me, as you observe." Read of it.—Cairo Bulletin.

The Counting-Out in Maine.

A comparison of the result of the Maine election, as declared by the Garcelon-Moody-Pillsbury gang, with the actual result before that batch of honorables set themselves to work on the returns, is quite interesting.

In the Senate the fusionists are given twenty members, and the republicans eleven. By the actual result of the election, according to the official returns before they were changed by the method of counting adopted by the council, the republicans had nineteen members and the fusionists twelve. The governor and council counted out eight republican senators and counted in eight fusion candidates, as follows: Two senators in York county, three senators in Cumberland county, one senator in Franklin county, one senator in Lincoln county, one senator in Washington county. This makes a net change of sixteen in the senate.

In the House, by the election returns, the republicans had ninety members, and the fusionists sixty-one. As readjusted by Garcelon and his pals, the fusionists are given seventy-eight members and the republicans sixty-one; and five cities, viz.: Portland, Bath, Lewistown, Rockland and Saco, are disfranchised on the merest technical quibbles, the cities named having elected twelve republican representatives,—the Portland representatives having an undisputed majority of seven hundred, and the pretext on which they were refused certificates being that cetain votes (which it was not pretended had any influence on the result) were returned as "scattering," an informality the correction of which is provided for by law, which law the readjusters refused to recognize. Seventeen republican representation were counted out, and seventeen fusion candidates counted in. The House as elected gave twenty-nine majority to the republicans; the House as counted gives seventeen majority to the fusionists, making a net change of forty-six.

By the election returns the republicans had a majority of thirty-six on joint ballot; as counted by Garcelon and his experts, the fusionists have a majority of twenty-six on joint ballot.

It is announced that "a committee of the council is engaged in preparing a statement made to justify the count which they have made." They will have to make a good many "statements" before the public will be overburdened with faith in their honor or honesty.

A "Globe" Menace.

The Boston Globe, which has appeared to be the "official organ" of the political thieves of Maine ever since the scheme for stealing that State from the people was first suggested, in a recent issue says:

Congressman Frye sought to relieve his lacerated soul by remarking to a newspaper man: "We will bury them out of sight the next time we get at 'em." But William forgot that the governor and council will still be with "'em" when "next time" comes.

The Maine scamps will hardly thank their Massachusetts abettor for this intimation that they propose to repeat in 1880 the infamy of 1879, regardless of what the popular vote may be.

How They See It.

Though not a single democratic paper in New England has had a word to say in opposition to or denunciation of the outrageous trickery and dishonesty by which the verdict of the people of Maine, as rendered at the polls, has been reversed by the fusionist "readjusters," some of the party papers outside of New England do not hesitate to speak—seeing as they do, the damaging effect the outrage must have on democratic prospects at large, even though it may result in making a notorious secession copperhead State printer of Maine, and secure a dozen or two of petty offices to local wire-pullers. We give a few democratic comments on the Maine steal:

Governor Garcelon and his council should hasten to make a full and explicit explanation of exactly what they have done and why they did it. So much they owe to the democracy of the United States. The people will be satisfied with nothing less.—New York Express (Tammany democratic organ.)

Gov. Garcelon and his advisers have made a serious political, and a not less serious moral mistake. They have nullified the will of the people of Maine, as expressed at the latest election, on account of technical errors and oversights. These errors and oversights were committed, not by the electors, but by the local canvassers. The votes were, in fact, thrown out on account of informality in the manner in which they were returned. There is no pretence that this informality was such as to leave the intention of the voters in doubt. The tenor of all statutes, judicial decisions and treatises which deal with elections is, that every presumption should be made in favor of giving effect to the real intention of the voters. The canvassers in Maine have unquestionably nullified the real intention of the voters. There is no dodging that fact, and, with fair-minded people, that fact will be decisive of any controversy that may be raised. It is plain that the defeated legislators who have thus been rounded to ought to refuse to serve, and leave the organization of the legislature to the republicans who were elected to it.—New York World.

The effect of this shameless fraud in Maine must be to arouse the good men of all parties to rescue our boasted free institutions from the fatal power of the placemen who summon fraud as their chief reliance for success.—Philadelphia Times (ind. dem.)

The work of the governor and council of Maine is only preliminary. It does not interfere with the right of each branch of the legislature to decide upon the qualification of its own members. It does not remove from the two houses the responsibility of deciding who is not elected. We presume that the men counted out on technicalities will appear as contestants. It will then be in order to investigate each case and to decide it upon the evidence. It is hardly possible that enough members to whom certificates have been given will be willing to stultify themselves by maintaining the position taken by the governor and council. The paltry price of the State printing and half a dozen offices which scarcely pay the wages of a mechanic, which was sufficient to debauch the governor and council, becomes very thin when spread over the whole legislature. We shall expect to see justice at the hands of the members of the legislature, as long as we can do so with any confidence.—Boston Herald.

News and Notes.

The United States Senate only remained in session fifteen minutes, Friday, and adjourned until after the holidays. A large number of Senators have already left Washington.

The Presbyterian Synod of Long Island has sustained Dr. Talmage by dismissing the appeal from the decision of the Presbytery in his case by a two-thirds vote.

There is great excitement at Losantville, Ind., over the disappearance and supposed murder of a Jewish peddler, by John Caraday, the peddler's wagon having been sold in the neighborhood by Caraday's son, and his horse having been found buried on Caraday's farm. Caraday has been arrested, but the son has disappeared.

Charles Lawrence, aged about twenty-two years, has been arrested at Worcester, Mass., on suspicion of complicity in the Baltey murder at Oxford on the 17th inst.

Capt. James Young, of Newburyport, was found dead near his stable on the afternoon of the 17th inst. It is thought he was knocked down by his horse, a restive animal.

John Hallman, John Davis and John Roberts were drowned on the night of the 17th inst., at Gratze, Ky., by the capsizing of a flat-boat in which they essayed to cross the Kentucky river during a freshet.

It is said that the late Cashier Barron, of the Dexter, Me., savings bank, was a defaulter to the amount of $4796.82.

Suspicions of murder were aroused at New Canton, Ill., by finding a house recently occupied by a man and wife deserted, but with all the furniture intact, and blood on various articles about the place. Upon investigation it was found that a neighbor, who had threatened their lives, had shipped his goods to Loraine, in the same State, and that he had packed the bodies of his victims in cases and took them along. The excitement is intense. Men are scouring the country in search of the remains and of the supposed murderer.

The Bank of Virginia, of Virginia City, Nev., has suspended on account of carrying too much mining stock, which had greatly fallen last month.

It is announced that Gordon Pasha will shortly return to the Island of Massowah, Abyssinia, to confer with delegates and King John on conditions of peace between Egypt and Abyssinia.

Ismail Pasha, ex-Khedive of Egypt, is seriously ill.

The British government has granted a pension of £500 annually to the widow and £100 to the mother of the late Sir Louis Cavagnari, who was murdered at Cabul.

Two men were driving along a road that skirted a precipice, at Crawford, Ia., and rain and darkness came upon them. They had heard that horses could see in the dark, and therefore let go of the reins, trusting to their brute's instinct; but it happened that this horse was blind, which fact they did not know until after a good many of their bones had been broken.

A young man eloped with an Illinois girl, and abandoned her at Hays City, Kan., giving her a draft for $100, and advising her to return home, as he was going to Texas. She met with some delay in getting money for the draft, but as soon as possible she bought a horse, a revolver, and some provisions, and started after the fugitive. Interesting news is expected from her.

New Hampshire Items.

A meeting of the governor and council was held Thursday. Herman W. Scott, Samuel F. Nutting and George L. Whitehouse, convicts, were pardoned from the State prison. No business of public interest was done.

The aged mother of Chas. S. Whitehouse of Great Falls, who, in company with Hon. David H. Buffum, went to Concord on Thursday to meet her son, who was to be pardoned from the State prison, was nearly suffocated at the Phenix hotel the same night by imprudently turning off the gas.

At Nashua, Friday, Michael O'Neil, driver of a coal cart, was thrown from his team by its striking against a post, and the horse ran away at a fearful speed, throwing O'Neil, who struck on his forehead, tearing the scalp almost entirely off and carrying away his right ear. His recovery is doubtful.

The house, barn, and all their contents, including the live stock, in Hooksett, owned by a man named Wiggin, was destroyed by fire Thursday night. Loss not known.

The dangerous and contagious disease known as pleuro-pneumonia has broken out among the cattle of James Merrill of Haverhill, in this State. A commission to investigate the circumstances has been appointed by the governor. Great excitement exists among the neighboring farmers.

You can't afford to laugh, dear girls,
Unless your teeth are white as pearls—
Unless your mouth is pink and sweet,
And your two lips in rosebuds meet;
And you cannot supply this want,
But through the use of SOZODONT!

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—L. dies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

AROUND HOME.

Nice weather for an ice harvest.

The subject of Rev. Dr. Alden's lecture on Sunday evening will be "The Successful Merchant."

Work on the breakwater will continue through the winter, should the weather prove not too severe.

Alpheus A. Hanscom, Esq., editor and proprietor of the Times, has become a subscriber to the Mechanics' reading room.

Mr. Geo. W. Davis and wife, of Greenland, have gone to Florida to pass the winter with a sister of Mr. Davis, who resides there.

Twenty-one of the twenty-five trusses necessary to hold up the roof of Franklin block are in position; the other four will go up to-day.

National block is not to be disfigured by those nuisances, swinging signs; and there will be no signs of any sort, save those over the store fronts.

The United States Senate has confirmed the nomination of John W. Welsh, formerly of Dover, to be United States consul at Carrara, Italy.

The post-office will now redeem damaged postal cards that have not passed through the mails, at the rate of five for four cents. This is in accordance with a new order from the department at Washington.

"It was the cat" story, as published by the Journal of this week, that appeared in the Newburyport Herald of several weeks ago, the "local" man of the Journal is trying to palm off as occurring in this city. Give us something fresh.

At Cyrus F. Davis', on Elm street, may be seen a very fine portrait of Mrs. Richter of Portsmouth, N. H.,—a sister of Mrs. Elbridge Gerry of this city—painted by Tenney of Providence, R. I. The flesh tints are all good, the hair is particularly well done, and the likeness is called excellent.—Portland Press.

Piscataqua Lodge, I. O. O. F., has sold the unexpired lease of the old Odd Fellows hall on Daniel street, to a party of gentlemen of this city, for $145 per annum, the lease running for four years. By this transaction the last hindrance to this lodge going into the new hall is removed.

It is stated that a movement is to be made to increase the pay of the post-office clerks in other cities in this State to the same rate that is paid at the Portsmouth office, and the officers of the department have been asked to examine into the relative duties performed in the various offices, with a view to equalize, as far as possible, their salaries.

We understand that Mr. William H. Page of Manchester is to succeed Mr. Dodge as local reporter of the Times on Jan. 1st. Mr. Page is a pleasing, unassuming gentleman, and no doubt will find many friends in our city. Mr. Dodge retires after ten years active service in this department, in which he has rendered valuable service to Mr. Guppy in the conducting of that paper.

THE ODD FELLOWS' FAIR.

The attendance at the fair on Friday evening was much greater than on any previous night. In the early part of the evening the lady's rocking chair was disposed of, William H. Haddock being the lucky person. Both of the guess cakes fell into the hands of William G. Billings, he guessing nearest to the weight. John H. Locke received the cradle quilt. The exciting event of the evening was the drawing of the prizes to be awarded to the persons holding the lucky numbers of the season tickets. Robert B. Adams, A. Coburn Hoyt and Henry G. Smith being selected as a committee to superintend the drawing, the articles were given away as follows: Ticket No. 254 drew the gold watch—not called for; No. 264 the sewing machine, ticket held by R. H. Perkins; No. 356 the gold chain, held by Frank M. Donnett; No. 46 the mantel clock, held by John O. Downs; No. 712 the dictionary—not called for; No. 574 the barrel of flour, held by Josiah Lewis; No. 641 the extension table, held by Stephen Marden; No. 476 ten dollars in gold, held by Hiram C. Locke; No. 440 the German student lamp, held by John H. Rose; No. 61 the web of cloth, held by Mrs. George M. Hanscom. The barber's set was the next article disposed of, the lucky man being Martin Hoyt; the doctor's chair was awarded to Dr. R. C. Grant, as he received the highest number of votes; Miss Newton received the lady's desk, Miss Noyes the jewel case, William G. Billings the parlor desk, and William Noyes the water cooler.

The committee having charge of the arrangements have worked hard in their efforts to make the fair a success, and have been rewarded by securing a large fund for aiding in furnishing their elegant hall.

A CONTRACTOR'S TALK.

Under the heading "Alas! Our Navy," the American Ship, a paper published in New York, recently published an article in which the writer indulged in a fling at the Portsmouth navy yard, and made personal attacks upon Naval Constructor Wilson and Postmaster E. G. Pierce, Jr. After stating the amount of money appropriated and expended, he makes a mighty appeal in favor of having the naval work done by contract instead of as at present. He says:

The work should be done by contract outside of the navy yard where practical mechanics direct it, and workmen are employed for their qualifications; and moreover, the men are beyond the influence of politicians. Under the present corrupt system there can be no stimulus to the development of genius in designing, nor incentive to economy in the cost of construction. Estimates are furnished by the constructors with a view to drawing the work to their respective yards.

The American Ship writer could find some (to him) extremely interesting reading concerning contract work on national ships, in the report of the naval investigating committee which visited this yard in 1876, with Congressman Mills of Texas as chairman. The official figures show that it cost the government $12,000 to rebolt, copper and recaulk the contract-built ship Enterprise, at this yard, after she left the contractor's hands; and that on her arrival at Norfolk, Va., she leaked through her keelson, the leakage being caused by slack bolts, and that she was there docked, had her shoe taken off, her keel felted and the felt covered with a two-inch plank, and the shoe then replaced. How much this speaks in favor of "contract" work we do not assume to decide. The contract advocate goes on to say:

It the actual cost of making an effective navy out of the present fleet of disproportioned ill-adapted hulks were known, it would stagger any appropriation committee. And this farce is being enacted under the most economical administration of the navy department which the present system has yet enjoyed. To what lengths of corruption may not the practice be extended if the present system is perpetuated? To illustrate, let us bring a few facts to the point: The U. S. steamer Marion was rebuilt at the Portmouth, N. H., navy yard, under the head of "repairs." The workmen on this vessel were supplied by the postmaster, and no man can tell her cost; the books of the department fail to show it, nor can they show how many elections this rebuilding job tided over, both in Maine and New Hampshire. A repetition of this act is now on exhibition at the same yard, under the same constructor, assisted by the same postmaster who supplied the operative labor for the Marion.

Any man "can tell the cost" of rebuilding the Marion, or any other vessel of the navy, if he chooses to make enquiries, every dollar expended having to be accounted for by vouchers, and monthly, quarterly and annual reports, which are on file at Washington; and these documents show that the cost of rebuilding the Marion was about $160,000 less than it took to rebuild the Vandalia, a vessel of the same class rebuilt at the Boston yard at the same time, the Marion's work being acknowledged to be much superior to that of the other. If the postmaster "supplied the operative labor" for the Marion the government had better keep him at it.

The American Ship man also goes for the Lancaster, now rebuilding at this yard; he says she is now more than twenty years old, and when new was "remarkable for nothing but her flexibility, as evinced by a change of status, while receiving her guns on board."

The vessel's flexibility was owing to a want of harmony in the design, plans of projection and distribution of buoyancy. These were also out of harmony with the distribution of materials; the frame timbers being short and ending on diagonal lines, following the seams of the planking. Certainly two, and probably three, more effective vessels than either the Marion or the Lancaster, can be built for what the rebuilding of this vessel will cost, if "the customs of the service" are adhered to. To build such a vessel after twenty years of service, and perpetuate nine to ten knots speed on eighteen feet draft, is a folly which should not receive the sanction of the navy department of the United States. All the materials used by the navy are either contracted for or are bought by open purchase. Why may it not be so with the labor of construction and repairs? It is not wise to invite, nor yet to accept the lowest bid for any kind of government work.

Contrary to this writer's unsupported assertions are the statements of numerous naval officers who have sailed in the Lancaster, and who pronounce her one of the best cruising ships in the navy, if indeed not the best. And now we will make an "assertion"—which is that the Lancaster, when completed, will have cost less than any other vessel of her class in the navy, on which a similar amount of work has been done. We agree with the American Ship that it may not be "wise to invite, nor yet to accept the lowest bid for the government work," as in such case a second contract might be necessary before the work was done, as was the case at this navy yard.

We close this article with an extract from the Vallejo (Cal.) Chronicle of a late date, as it illustrates the advantages of having the work on government ships done by contract:

The "Adams" arrived a few months ago from the Asiatic station for repairs. A survey was held, and it was estimated that it would require $20,000 to place her in repair, and in tearing the ship to pieces it was found that other repairs were badly needed; she was built by contract at Boston, only four years ago, out of first-class timber furnished by the government, the timbers and planking being badly fastened, and the oakum driven in such a manner that it allowed the planks to check or spread apart, in such a manner that the water soaked through and caused them to rot.

About 12 o'clock Thursday night an unknown man went into the Eastern railroad depot at Saco, the night operator and watchman being present, and began to demolish the furniture. The parties present not being able to overcome him, he was shot in the legs, but this did not prevent his kicking over the stove and breaking the lamps, in breaking one of which his clothes took fire. The operator and watchman, finding that they could do nothing with him, left for help, but before assistance arrived the fire was communicated to the buildings, and the depot, freight house and sheds, excepting a small portion of the tank house, were totally destroyed, the track for several rods also being rendered unfit for use by the warping of the rails and burning of the sleepers. The man was burned to death, his remains being found Friday morning among the ruins, burned almost to a cinder. The man was apparently crazy, about thirty-five years old, thick set and about five feet five inches tall. He had been driven from the baggage room about five o'clock in the evening, and had been loitering around until the time of his entering the depot. The loss on the buildings will be about $2500.

STATE STREET, NEXT POST-OFFICE.

Political.

Ten republican States, including all New England, voted for Gen. Averill (Blaine's candidate) for the chairmanship of the republican national committee. Of the twenty-two States voting for Cameron only two are surely republican.

The democratic State central committee of Illinois met fifty prominent democrats from various parts of the State at Chicago on the 18th inst., to decide on a plan for arranging the State campaign. John R. Oberly introduced a resolution, which caused an acrimonious debate of four hours, condemning unqualifiedly any fraud whereby the will of the people is subverted by national or State authorities or individuals. The meeting voted down an amendment exempting the Maine case from the provisions of the resolution, and then defeated the resolution.

Practical Joking at a Wake.

Recently a man died near San Fernando, California, and his friends decided to hold an Irish wake. The corpse was stretched on a bench and covered with a cloth. After the parties had sat around the body for a couple of hours, it occurred to them that a bucket of beer would not be amiss, and one of the boys went to get the cheering beverage. As soon as he was gone, his friends removed the body into another room, and one of the wakers, with awful levity, stretched himself on the bench and, assuming the rigidity of a dead man, allowed himself to be covered with the cloth. At this juncture an old lady and an old man entered the room for the purpose of helping to watch the body and probably also to help drink the beer. On returning, the messenger placed the foaming stuff on the table and proceeded to dip it to the crowd. Suddenly the supposed corpse raised himself stiffly on the bench, and said: "Ow! ow! but I want some of that meself." This was sufficient to set off the poor uninitiated fellow, who jumped through the window with an unearthly yell, carrying away with him sash and glass in his hurry. The old man made for the window at a 1:25 gait and got clear away. The old lady bolted for the same place of exit, but fainted near the window sill, while the cold sweat broke out over her wrinkled brow. The old man and his wife have since recovered, but they cannot be prevailed upon to attend another wake. As for the beer carrier, he has not been heard from since, and is believed to have gone to Arizona.

Plain Food.

More nourishment is obtained from plain food, like bread, simply cooked meats, fish, fowls, etc., than from rich food, such as cakes and puddings, particularly noticeable for their excess of sweets, oils, fats and spices. The complex nature of these, with the consequent difficulty of their digestion, renders them practically innutritious, the extra effort of the stomach in disposing of them detracting just so much from the nourishment of their elements. Nature deals in simples, only four prominent elements being found in the animal and vegetable kingdoms. By the adoption of plain food the digestive organs are kept in their normal state, active and healthy, or in a condition to appropriate and assimilate the largest percentage of the nourishment taken, sustaining a good and natural appetite, uniform as a general principle. A large percentage of disease and suffering would be avoided by correct habits of living, simple food taken regularly and in moderation, with light suppers, personal cleanliness, reasonable rest and sleep.

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

If you have a cough resulting from a sudden cold, procure Adamson's Botanic Balsam, take one half to one teaspoonful three times a day, and your cough will cease. Trial bottles, 10 cts.

A large proportion of children who die early are those whose brain development is usually large in comparison with the body. Why is this? Simply because the functions of the body are too frail to supply the waste going on in the brain consequent upon active intelligence. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is so prepared that it imparts the vital principal directly to the brain, while it assists in developing a vigorous and robust body.

Admirable Wine for Weakly Persons.

The most certain way to get something strengthening for aged and weakly persons, especially females, is to purchase Speer's Sambuci Wine from druggists, which is beyond a doubt the purest and most admirable ever made. It is rich, nourishing and most delicious, and at the same time free from any sort of spirits. Whatever strength it contains is not added strength, but simply pure juice of the fruit. Many have tasted this tonic, and prefer it to imported wine. Its medicinal properties have been acknowledged. Physicians do not hesitate prescribing it to patients for general debility, etc., for it is a sort of medicine that one would rather take than not.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

Regulate the Secretions.

In our endeavors to preserve health it is of the utmost importance that we keep the secretory system in perfect condition. The well known remedy Kidney-Wort has specific action upon the kidneys, liver and bowels. Use it instead of dosing with vile bitters or drastic pills. It is vegetable, and is prompt but mild in action.

Piles! Piles! Piles!

Do you know what it is to suffer with Piles? If you do, you know what is one of the worst torments of the human frame. The most perfect cure ever known is Kidney-Wort. It cures constipation, and then its tonic restores health to the diseased bowels, and prevents recurrence of the disease. Try it without delay.

Cuticura

THE GREAT SKIN CURE,

The most Healing, Soothing, and Refreshing External Application in the World.

It rapidly heals Ulcers, Old Sores, and Discharging Wounds; Itching Piles and other Itching affections that have been the torture of a lifetime; thus affording unspeakable gratitude to thousands; Burns, Scalds, Wounds, and Festers; all Itching and Scaly Eruptions of the Skin, and all Diseases of the Scalp, including Loss of Hair. Nothing like it has ever been known to the most intelligent physicians. It has swept a host of poisonous liver medicines out of existence. It is revolutionary in its co position and mode of treatment and succeeds in curing every external affection. At everyage it is equally assisted by CUTICURA SOAP, which is a part of itself medicinally and at the same time the most delightfully fragrant and refreshing Toilet, Bath, and Nursery soap in existence.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a powerful purifying agent and liver stimulant, should be used to neutralize and resolve away blood poisons, caused by the virus of scrofula, cancer, mercurial or contagious diseases, which maintain and foster diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

SALT RHEUM.

Life a burden from the sufferings caused by this terrible disease.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Please accept my most grateful thanks for the great, very great, comfort I have received from the use of your CUTICURA.

For the past eight or nine years I have been troubled with that dreadful disease, Salt Rheum. For months I would be helpless,—my very life a burden to me.

I have used everything in the shape of medicine, both internal and external, but without effect.

My hands were in a terrible condition, the backs of them being all raw, and I thought I would try CUTICURA.

I tried it, and to it was as if a miracle had been performed, for I will take my oath that in three applications my hands were as smooth as a new-born babe's.

I presume there are hundreds, if not thousands, who know of my case, among whom there may be some one similarly afflicted, and if so I would earnestly advise him to give CUTICURA a trial.

Yours, very thankfully,

A. D. BAKER, Ticket Agent, C. S. R. R.

TETTER OR SALT RHEUM

On the hands Cured. A grateful letter.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Having been troubled for many years with the Tetter or Salt Rheum on my hands, and having used dollars, I was given a trial of your CUTICURA, and thank God, my hands are well. I never had anything do my good like that.

You may put this in the paper and welcome, and may it do some other poor sufferer the same good it has done me! I am well known here, having lived here nearly fifteen years and kept boarders for a living, and sometimes my heart was sore, thinking I could have to give up altogether with my sore hands, and having a small family to wash for and, but all thank God, my hands are well, so I again return thanks.

Yours respectfully,

ELIZ BETH BUCKLEY.
LITTLETON, N. H., May 30, 1878.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Lost manhood, exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or any vitality impaired by the errors of youth or over-close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundred edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of vast experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very elegant engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail postpaid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

DR. J. A. SHERMAN--and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Lost manhood, exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or any vitality impaired by the errors of youth or over-close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundred edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of vast experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very elegant engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail postpaid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, do we scan and many others; embracing the Choicest critical and short story literature of the Leading Foreign Periodicals, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical

in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientist; Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, consisting in great amount of matter, with freshness, having to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

Three and a quarter Thousand

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, is the only sufficiently FRESH and COMPLETE combination of an indispensable current literature,—indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it comprehensively, adequately and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"Living to-day, it is the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that though its pages alone it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Int. Eclectic Phila.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"It is INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a thorough compendium of all that is admirable and noteworthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Boston Advertiser.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

Published WEEKLY at $8 00 a year, free of postage.

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, which especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, sometimes so foul as to be offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was no troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours,

MELBOURNE H. FORD, Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1876.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived safely night before last. I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for the remedy. I have tried various nostrums and everything else, and although I have not used the entire contents of the offensive discharge, I have no reason able to recover my senses of taste and smell until I tried SANFORD'S CURE. You can send the balance you choose to me, and I will cheerfully inform them I detail as to the benefit the remedy has done to me.

Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 19, 1876.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

not only promptly arrests the corroding discharges of catarrh, but, by sympathetic action, it restores to sound health all the organs of the head that have become affected by it, and exhibits any of the following affections:—

Defective Eyesight, Inflamed and Matter Eyes, Painful and Watery Eyes, Loss of Hearing, Earache, Neuralgia of the Ear, Discharges from the Ear, Ringing Noises in the Head, Dizziness, Nervous Headache, Pains in the Temples, Loss of the Senses of Taste and Smell, Elongation of the Uvula, Inflammation of the Tonsils, Putrid Sore Throat, Tickling or Hacking Cough, Bronchitis, and Bleeding of the Lungs.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Injecting Tube, with full and carefully prepared direction for its use. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

A NEW Electro-Galvanic Battery, combined with a highly Medicated Plaster, forming the grandest curative agent the world of medicine, and utterly surpassing the other Plasters heretofore in use. It accomplishes more in one week than the old Plasters in a whole year. They do not pretend, like others, to Relieve Affections of the Chest.

Relieve Affections of the Lungs.
Relieve Affections of the Heart.
Relieve Affections of the Liver.
Relieve Affections of the Spleen.
Relieve Affections of the Kidneys.
Relieve Affections of the Spine.
Relieve Affections of the Nerves.
Relieve Affections of the Muscles.
Relieve Affections of the Joints.
Relieve Affections of the Bones.
Relieve Affections of the Sinews.

No matter what may be the extent of your suffering or one of these Plasters. Relief is instantaneous, a fact proved by thousands of testimonials. Remember, in mind that the most important discoveries in Pharmacy date back less than ten years, and that combinations of gums and essences of plants and shrubs arranged with Electricity to form a curative Plaster, or nothing, healing, and strengthening properties far superior to all other Plasters heretofore in use the scientific physician is to have no more leeches.

Price, 25 Cents.

An Extraordinary People.

At the meeting of the British Association at Sheffield, the well-known African explorer, Commander Cameron, who was received with applause, apologized for not having his paper prepared, but he did not believe, in detailing the manner and customs of the people of Urua, in Central Africa, this would be a drawback. Urua was one of the largest States in Africa. It was bounded on the coast by Tanganyika, on the north by independent tribes in Manguema, on the west by Ujunda, and on the south by mountains south of the lake Bangdela. The great chief was Kasongo, and the race was perhaps the most civilized in Central Africa. The chief claimed divine honors. On his death all his wives save one were slaughtered at the grave, and the one whose life was not taken was handed over to the chief's successor. The spirit of the deceased prince was supposed to pass into the body of the successor. Authority was maintained by mutilation. Hands, feet, ears and noses were mutilated, and the natives did not seem to mind it much. One woman had cut off her own ears. This woman was one of Kasongo's wives; he had about 1,000 of them. She asked permission to mutilate herself. The body-guard of the chief was composed to a great extent of mutilated people whose affection for the chief seemed no way decreased; indeed, it would appear that mutilation strengthened their regard for their chief. The name of the idol was Kungwo a Banza, and profound reverence was shown to it. Fire was obtained by friction from a fire block, and in one case a chief used the shinbone of one of the other chiefs who had been conquered. The dress of the people is very simple, consisting of an apron. Members of the royal family wore large skins, and junior members of the family wore green monkey skins. The hair-dressing of this people was curious, varying more with districts than with rank. In some cases it was worked up into four ring plaits, crossing at the top of the head like a crown, and surrounded at the bottom by a band of cowries or other shells. Skewers were inserted in the hair, one end of which could be used in tattooing. The people were not a hairy race, but they managed to grow their beards and plaited them like a Chinaman's pigtail, invariably putting it at the end of each a lump of mud to weight it. Some of the beards reach to the waist. The woman, not having beards to amuse themselves with, were tattooed extensively. Tattooing generally commenced at the age of seven, and might be completed at about the age of twelve or fourteen, which was the age for marriage. Beautiful patterns were used and the tattooing was done in raised cuts. Sometimes a husband, when he was displeased with his wife, cut off all these raised pieces, and the woman could not appear in public again; she was not received into society until she was re-tattooed.—London Times.

Regulate the Secretions.

In our endeavors to preserve health it is of the utmost importance that we keep the secretory system in perfect condition. The well known remedy Kidney-Wort has specific action upon the kidneys, liver and bowels. Use it instead of dosing with vile bitters or drastic pills. It is vegetable, and is prompt but mild in action.

—A new invention has been tried with success in London in the utilization of the power generated in stopping street cars for the purpose of restarting them and thus saving the extra exertion of the horses. The contrivance is a coiled spring, which is wound up by the stopping of the car, and which, when released, acts on the wheels so as to impart motion. It acts, too, as an assistance to horses up a steep grade, the power having been acquired in a preceding down grade and kept stored in the spring until the energy is required.

Piles! Piles! Piles!

Do you know what it is to suffer with Piles? If you do, you know what is one of the worst torments of the human frame. The most perfect cure ever known is Kidney-Wort. It cures constipation, and then its tonic restores health to the diseased bowels, and prevents recurrence of the disease. Try it without delay.

—A remarkable invention or improvement has just been patented in Germany by Prof. Klinkerfuen, the principal astronomer at the observatory of Gottingen, and widely known for his meteorological and physical researches. The improvement now referred to consists of a method by help of which it will be possible to dispatch as many as eight different messages simultaneous along a single wire. An apparatus has likewise been devised by which all the messages will all the same time be mechanically written down.

If you have a cough resulting from a sudden cold, procure Adamson's Botanic Balsam, take one half to one teaspoonful three times a day, and your cough will cease. Trial bottles, 10 cts.

A large proportion of children who die early are those whose brain developement is usually large in comparison with the body. Why is this? Simply because the functions of the body are too frail to supply the waste going on in the brain consequent upon active intelligence. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is so prepared that it imparts the vital principal directly to the brain, while it assists in developing a vigorous and robust body.

—Although many changes have been rung on the "tribe," we still notice that it points heavenward when it means the most mischief. We are sorry to add that it has many human imitators.

The Maine Steal.

There was an immense gathering of republicans at Augusta, Me., Friday evening, to denounce the scoundrelism of the democratic counters-out, hundreds being unable to find even standing room in the hall. Senator Blaine made a speech, in which he used the following plain language:

The governor and council have refused certificates to twenty-nine republicans of the House and to eight senators—thirty-seven in all—swept off and cut by one wave of an autocratic hand. Of this entire number there was not one case for which the law did not provide and direct the mode of correction. But the council said the law was unconstitutional, and they set it aside! They gave out that Henry W. Paine of Boston advised them that this was their proper course. When I see an opinion of Henry W. Paine that the executive department may at will set aside the laws they are sworn to enforce, I will unite with his other Kennebec friends in deploring the decay of his splendid intellect and the loss of his admirable judgment; until then I prefer to remember Henry W. Paine as I have known him for a quarter of a century. * * * * And all the fatal defects are in republican senatorial and representative districts. Not one of the democrats or greenbackers elected to the Senate or House was found to have a defective return behind him! of course not, after the returns had been secretly and surreptitiously doctored, as openly charged by Hon. Charles B. Rounds. These returns were cooked and made over to fit the requirement, and the council never dared to accept Mr. Rounds' offer to prove his charges. It is understood that they are taking characteristic revenge on Mr. Rounds by counting him out of the office of county attorney, to which he was honestly elected.

The board of aldermen of Rockland, by vote of five to two, one democratic alderman voting with the republicans, on Thursday evening passed resolutions denouncing the act of Garcelon and his council in disfranchising that city as "infamous;" and an assistant-secretary in the State treasurer's office last week resigned his position, not being willing to be officially connected in any way with men guilty of such a reckless political crime as a deliberate attempt to overthrow popular government for partisan ends.

Hon. Wm. L. Putnam, ex-mayor of Portland, a prominent democrat and one of the ablest lawyers in Maine, in an interview with a Press reporter said that if the papers had correctly reported the matter, "the governor and council have acted neither according to law nor justice. The clear course for them to have pursued was to refer all questions of law of a novel character to the supreme court, as provided for by the State constitution. The supreme court has always been non-partisan on these questions, from the beginning of the State government to the present day, which non-partisanship has been expressly shown in the late mandamus hearing by Judge Virgin, who, with two exceptions, is the newest comer from the republican party upon the bench. If the action of the governor and council has been correctly reported, it is the duty of every citizen in the State of Maine, whatever his position on national matters, who desires henceforth fair dealing in the matter of elections, to unite with the republican party in Maine for the purpose of crushing out this coalition which now controls the State government."

News and Notes.

Norris Bassick, aged twenty-two years, son of Wm. Bassick of Waldo, Me., was killed at Leadville, Col., recently, by a snow slide.

Lambert Nickerson, captain of a schooner belong in Chatham, Mass., was killed by the cars in New Haven, Conn., Friday. He was about fifty-five years of age.

Two convicts jumped from a railroad train in New Jersey on Thursday, one named Sawyer being killed, and the other fatally injured.

Dr. Holloway, who killed Vinson Brown last spring, was hanged at Statesboro, Ga., Friday. Two thousand people witnessed the execution. Frank Baker, a negro, was hanged at Sussex Court house, Va., Friday, for the murder of Henrietta Shands, and her child.

An enterprising Uxbridge, Mass., lad fourteen years old, lately purchased a revolver of one of the storekeepers in town, and has been amusing himself by pointing the revolver at the heads of his schoolmates, and making them get down on their knees and say their prayers.

James Milledge Flagg, aged sixty-four years, formerly a dry goods dealer, committed suicide at Providence, R. I., last Thursday morning, by shooting himself. He had invented a loom which was to have been built in Manchester, N. H., but a failure of the negotiation depressed him.

A Detroit despatch of Friday says the Northern transport steamers Maine and Milwaukee "are frozen fast in Lake Erie, several miles south of Colchester, Ont. Another steamer, name unknown, is also there and all are flying flags of distress."

Mrs. M. K. A. Brackley, a writer of some note and well-known to the Episcopal church as an earnest advocate of woman's recognition in church work, and identified with the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, with the temperance movement and woman's suffrage, died in New York last week. Mrs. Brackley left her remains to the Women's medical college of New York for dissection.

The agitation for the suppression of indecent and immoral shows, in Cincinnati, resulted Friday in the passage by the board of councilmen of an ordinance making it a penal offense to give any kind of an exhibition, show or performance, without a license.

M. D. Nieman, a blacksmith of New Orleans, was shot and instantly killed Friday by John Curry, clerk of the fourth district court. It is stated that Curry called on Nieman to collect a bill, when Nieman seized an iron bar and attempted to strike Curry, who drew his pistol and fired.

The trial at Madison, Ind., of Major John D. Simpson, editor of the Star, for killing Wm. Howard, late city treasurer, having been in progress since Monday, the 15th inst., closed Friday evening with a verdict of not guilty.

A company to be known as the Central Massachusetts Telephone Co. will soon be organized in South Framingham, Mass. It will operate a line from Worcester to Boston, and work on it has already commenced, with prospects of completion early next year.

Hon. E. R. Little, a prominent lawyer of Richmond, Va., was shot and killed in his office on Friday by James H. Arnold. The men were brothers-in-law, having married two daughters of Mary L. Hood; and it was a dispute about property left to her two daughters by the mother which occasioned the murder.

Capt. Anderson of barque Portlaw, and two seamen, were drowned on the night of Dec. 13th, at Pensacola, through the capsizing by a squall of their boat, in which they were trying to board the vessel. Two other seamen held on to the boat for seven hours, when they were rescued by a schooner.

The Hop Bitters manufacturing company, in view of the fiasco in which the attempt to get up a race between Hanlan and Courtney has resulted, now offer to give $5000 to be rowed for by professional oarsmen of any place, and a $500 cup to be rowed for by amateurs at the same time. The Eastern rowing association of Boston is to have charge of all arrangements.

Samuel Horton, a farmer of Jamaica, L. I., was fired at by highwaymen while driving home from New York, Thursday night, between Brooklyn and Glendale. He returned the fire and saw one robber fall. The police from Jamaica subsequently found pools of blood on the road, and evidences that the highwaymen carried the wounded robber off, but no arrests have been made. There have been several highway robberies the past fortnight of farmers on that road.

A workman on the the Canada Pacific railroad at Rat Portage, Manitoba, last week slipped and fell while carrying a can of nitro-glycerine. An explosion was the result, by which four men were blown to pieces, and three wounded.

The Jennings estate, which has been in litigation in England since 1798, and furnished Dickens with his famous case of Jarndyce against Jarndyce, has again come before the British courts on the suit of one Martin against the Earl of Beauchamp, one of the present possessors. Martin estimates the property worth from $35,000,000 to $50,000,000 in spite of all the expensive having it has been through.

New Hampshire Items.

Last Thursday afternoon, while Benjamin Hall was engaged in felling a tree in Barrington, he was hit with a limb on the top of the head, killing him instantly. He was thirty years old, married, and the father of four children. He was a native of Madbury.

Hon. R. F. Gale, ex-mayor of Concord, died Saturday morning, at the age of about sixty years.

A case of some considerable importance has arisen on the claim of the town of Salisbury against the county, for the support of an alleged pauper. The general laws provide that if any question shall arise between any claimant and the county commissioners relating to any claim in favor of or against the county, the same must be laid before the court for its decision.

In northern New Hampshire preparation has been made to cut twice the average amount of spruce timber during the coming winter, and although there is no snow there as yet, doubtless a very large stock will be put into the mills in that section as well as into the Connecticut and Androscoggin rivers. The Connecticut lumbermen say they will get in 80,000,000 feet of spruce for the spring drive. Men are in good demand at from $12 to $18 per month and board. Messrs. Vandyke & Morrill, whose mill is at Melrose Falls, Vt., have recently bought the Colebrook academy grant on Indian stream, in Pittsburgh, containing 7500 acres of heavy timberland, for $45,000. Geo. W. Libbey, of Whitefield, Henry O. Kent, of Lancaster, and others, have also bought, for $40,000, a tract of 20,000 acres of spruce timber on the mountain range between Lancaster and Jefferson on the south, and Milan, Stark and Groveton on the north. They propose to erect a large steam mill in the spring, several miles northeast of Lancaster, with a track connecting with the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad.

Robert Smart, recently a resident of Great Falls, died in Durham on Monday, Dec. 8th, at the advanced age of seventy-seven years. His remains were brought here for interment on the following Thursday. His brother, Jacob Smart, who was also a former resident of Great Falls, but removed from this village to Michigan in 1835, died at Hersdon, Ga., November 25th. Mrs. Charlotte Pendergast, a sister of the above gentlemen, died at Newmarket, Nov. 24th. The decease of Robert closed the lives of the three only surviving members of this family, and although living in different towns, an interval of only fourteen days elapsed between the death of the first and last.—Great Falls Journal.

New Hampshire Governorship.

A New Hampshire politician, who is in a position to know the inside workings of the party leaders in his State, says ex-representative Frank Jones, of Portsmouth, is quietly laying his plans to run for governor next year, and will be prepared to spend a large sum of money to carry the State for the democracy. The recent change in the proprietorship of the Manchester Union was in the interest of Mr. Jones, and his money is believed to have purchased the paper, as Mr. Stilson Hutchins, the alleged proprietor, has all he can do to keep his paper here [Washington, D. C.;] the Post, from following the road to the newspaper cemetery, which so many democratic papers established here during the past fifteen years have travelled; he has not invested any of his own money in the Manchester Union, for that would be an impossibility, but has been selected by Mr. Frank Jones as a suitable person to try and make a readable democratic paper in New Hampshire, and to aid in the scheme to take away the State from the republicans next year.—SCOTT, in Boston Traveller.

—A bad stovepipe is like a bad man. Too much crook of the elbow and too much smoke.

—It is well to always add a line or two in the margin of a letter to a lady. You can't imagine how much satisfaction a woman obtains in turning a letter upside down to read a postscript.

—"You seem sad and dejected to-night, Claude, dear." "Yes, darling; men of my emotional nature are easily affected either by the smiles or frowns of fortune." His washing woman had discharged him.

You can't afford to laugh, dear girls,
Unless your teeth are white as pearls—
Unless your mouth is pink and sweet,
And your two lips in rosebuds meet;
And you cannot supply this want,
But through the use of SOZODONT!

Thirty Years' Experience of an Old Nurse.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best Female Physicians and Nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from the feeble infant of one week old to the adult. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, and gives rest, health and comfort to mother and child. We believe it the Best and Surest Remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or from any other causes. Full directions for using wi l accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of Curtis & Perkins is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. 3

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

A stout backbone is as essential to physical health as to political consistency. For weakness of the back and disorders of the liver and kidneys, the tonic and moderate diuretic action of the Bitters is the one thing needful. Remember that the stomach is the mainstay of every other organ and that by invigorating the digestion with this preparation, the spinal column and all its dependencies are strengthened.

For Hostetter's ALMANAC for 1880, apply to Druggists and dealers generally.

AROUND HOME.

The thermometer was down to four below zero on Sunday at sunrise.

Persons having demands against the city will find something to interest them in another column.

Butler & Laighton advertise a specially fine assortment of choice staple and fancy groceries for the Christmas trade.

Mrs. J. Horace Kent was the holder of the lucky number which drew the lady's gold watch at the Odd Fellows' fair.

Rev. R. R. Shippen, secretary of the American Unitarian association, preached at the Unitarian church in this city on Sunday. Mr. DeNormandie officiated on that day at Manchester, Conn.

The Weekly remarks that the result of settling the Daniel Austin estate, showing about $32,000 to pay $40,000 of personal legacies, "effectually squelches any hopes of Langdon park trustees, the city of Portsmouth, or other contingent residuary legatees, of receiving any funds from this source. Verily, riches make themselves wings, and fly away."

Ship Frolic, commanded by Capt. Bush of this city, which arrived at New York from Havre last week, reports came the middle passage; had strong easterly winds until Nov. 28th, when the wind came out northwest. Had fine weather to Dec. 14th, when soundings were got off Shinnecock, Long Island,—weather heavy, raining and blowing hard; that day wind shifted again to northwest and blew a gale, driving the ship off shore. Arrived at New York Dec. 18th.

This evening the New Orleans minstrels, with "eight eminent end men, eight challenge clog dancers, eight star song and dance artists, eight superb solo singers" and a big company generally, will give an entertainment at Music hall. The Newburyport Herald says this company "does everything it advertises to do;" the Auburn, N. Y., Auburnian says "the statue trial clog dance, by eight dancers, was the best thing in the terpichorean line ever exhibited on the stage in this city;" the Oil City Derrick says the company "gave the best minstrel show" in that place for years; and these and other papers also specially commend James Holbrook's comic songs, the ventriloquism of another member of the troupe, the farce "No Pinafore," and all the other features of the entertainment. See advertisement.

"The Blessed Company of all Faithful People," by Harriet McEwen Kimball: New York, Anson D. F. Randolph & Co., 900 Broadway. This is the title of a collection of poems by Miss Kimball, who gives us a choice array of touchingly beautiful verses, full of devout expression and abiding faith. Miss Kimball's poems are read throughout the land. We notice them coming back from our far-away exchanges, whose selections give evidence of appreciating taste and refined judgment in the discrimination between much that passes current for poetry, and the productions of the true poet. The little gem that comes to us at this season, contains twenty-four selections of varied devotional character, all breathing a trusting, fervent spirit, serious but not sad, and which will afford consolation and solace to many a weary heart, and will oftimes help "To sweeten all the cups earth's sorrows fill, Till earth and sorrow cease."

Rev. Mr. McGinley, of the North parish, on Sunday preached an able sermon upon the birth and mission of the Carpenter's Son. The new pastor of this time honored parish is an eloquent preacher, with original ideas, a fine presence and an excellent command of language. He presents the gospel truth not in the harsh and uninteresting manner of bygone times, but in the attractive and natural style that interests all his hearers. The parish are fortunate in their selection, and with the acquisition of a fine residence for the occupancy of their pastor, which will tend to a more protracted pastorate than perhaps otherwise would be the case, it is to be hoped that it will continue to maintain its position as one of the strongest religious organizations in the State. The singing in the North church is of the congregational order, and in it the attendants upon the services quite generally participate, which gives a far better token of worship than the most expensive salaried choirs can effect.

On Saturday all work in the department of steam engineering at the navy yard was suspended until the 1st Monday in January—a suspension of two weeks.

The wife of Lafayette E. Battey, who was called out of his house and murdered early one morning last week, in Massachusetts, is a sister of Mrs. Joshua Varney of Dover.

Ten clerks on the postal routes radiating from this city have to report to Postmaster Peirce daily, and a room has been fitted up in the post-office for the accommodation of these servants of the public.

Capt. G. F. Towle, of the 19th United States infantry, is ordered, under date of Dec. 11th, "when he can be spared, from his present station, Baxter springs, Kansas, to proceed to Fort Lyon, Colorado, on public business."

The rock now being blasted at Murphy's island for the breakwater is a beautiful gray granite, close grained and without seams. A piece was taken out last Saturday weighing twenty tons, and was as handsome as any granite quarried on the coast of Maine.

On Saturday work was commenced at re-painting and whitewashing the Col. Sise engine house. Why was it the committee on fire department did not give the job to some of the members of the engine company, a number of whom are painters, and would have been glad to do the work?

The little steamer Pinafore, formerly the Mollie, owned by Leighton Bros. & Co., of the Shoals, and employed as a ferry-boat between Appledore and Star islands during the summer, is having a new boiler put in, which will make her a reliable ferry-boat between the islands and this port during the winter.

The Methodist society will have a Christmas tree and festival in their church Wednesday evening, Dec. 24th. Santa Claus will give out the presents. The ladies of this parish are working up evergreen, and the church is to be handsomely trimmed with festoons, wreaths, anchors, crosses, etc., to remain during the winter months.

Col. John B. Clarke, of the Manchester Mirror, gives the proprietor of the Portsmouth Times the following complimentary "send-off;" "We are glad to see brother Hanscom so quickly and so well placed again. He is a newspaper man of long experience, industry, and much ability; a good writer, a courteous opponent, and a reliable friend. He is neither a Hessian nor a hypocrite. He has been the brain and backbone of the democratic organs in this city for years, and his party in Portsmouth may congratulate themselves on the change which gives it his services. If he receives the support he deserves, he will give the people of that section a better paper than they have ever had under democratic management."

The Medical Society of Covington and Newport, Ky., passed the following resolutions on the death of their associate, the late Dr. James Keith, who died at the Sea View house, Rye beach, in November last:

Whereas, This society learns with deep regret of the death of their friend and associate physician, Dr. James Keith, therefore be it

Resolved, That we have lost from our ranks a high minded practitioner and a Christian gentleman—one who ever commanded respect and admiration for his many noble qualities of heart and mind, and who the better known, was more esteemed and loved.

Resolved, That while we are again reminded of the weakness of our humanity, we rejoice in the knowledge that our friend, long a sufferer in the flesh, has gone to the untroubled possession of the reward which we are permitted to hope shall one day be ours.

Resolved, That our sympathy is extended to the family and friends of the deceased in their great affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes, and a copy of the same be transmitted to the city journals for publication.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The Kennebunk shoe factory has recently purchased about thirty new sewing machines.

First Lieut. John Dennett, U. S. R. M., of Kittery, has been assigned to the revenue steamer Seaward.

Saco was counted out by Garcelon and his crowd, because the names of a majority of the aldermen were not affixed to the certificate of returns. Biddeford was in precisely the same predicament, but the officers were notified of the omission, and a democratic alderman went from Biddeford to Augusta and rectified the error. The reason why what was sauce for the goose wasn't sauce for the gander in this case, was because Saco elected republicans and Biddeford elected democrats. All over the State it was the same; democrats and greenbackers had every facility for correcting errors, while the republicans could not get a sight of the returns at all.

The Biddeford Times of Friday last, in its account of the burning of the Eastern railroad depot in Saco the previous night, when an apparently insane tramp lost his life, says the man during the evening told some person that he had a brother by the name of Gallagher, who was an orderly sergeant on the Kittery navy yard. It further says that "Mr. C. W. Knowles, station agent, and Mr. J. W. Anderson, night operator, the two men who were in the depot last night are very loth to say anything about the affair, and appear very nervous," and it winds up its account as follows: "There are a great many rumors afloat as respecting the conduct of the men in charge of the depot, some of which, should they prove true, will place them in no very enviable light. The fact that our reporter was unable to obtain from them any information, which they ought to have been willing and glad to have given, is in itself a suspicious feature in the case. Again, it is not easy to convince the public that two strong men were compelled to fetch into play a pistol to subdue a crazy or drunken man, and the public will not be satisfied short of a complete investigation of the case."

Naval Affairs.

The school ship Minnesota arrived at New London, Conn., on Saturday, from New York; she will winter in New London harbor.

The Swatara will shortly join the Asiatic squadron.

Second Lieut. W. F. Spicer, U. S. M. C., is ordered to command the marine guard of Swatara.

Capt. Bunce, of the United States ship Marion, received a letter recently from F. Wyneken, of Konigsburg, East Prussia, which reveals a novel domestic freak. While the Marion was lying at anchor at Villefranche Mrs. Wyneken saw her and admired the bird-like grace with which she rode the billows, and, furthermore, was charmed with the name "Marion," hitherto new to her. She at once named her baby girl Marion, and resolved to obtain permission to register the ship as godmother to the child. Mr. Wyneken asks Captain Bunce to give him some such certificate as this: "I hereby certify, as the commanding officer of the United States ship Marion, that there is no objection to the ship being registered as godmother of the daughter of Frederick Wyneken and his wife, Lucy Wyneken."

New Publications.

We have received from Harper & Bros., New York, No. 129 of Harper's Half-Hour Series, "American Ballads," by Thomas Dunn English, M. D., LL.D. This is a choice little volume, containing 156 pages and 33 poems, and the price is so low, only twenty-five cents, as to bring it within the reach of all.

The Nursery for January contains a good deal in the way of song, sketch and picture, which is specially appropriate to the holiday season. There are pretty poems by Alice Williams Brotherton, Geo. Cooper, Mary D Brine and others; Harrison Weir contributes a drawing-lesson; there are directions for a kindergarten game, and a bit of Chistmas music completes the number. Little folks who find the Nursery protruding from their stocking or hanging on their Christmas tree will be happy indeed. John L. Shorey, publisher, 36 Bromfield street, Boston.

—As the Christmas tree is bent, so is the youthful heart inclined.

—Butterflies apparently caught in the meshes of the lace work are used to decorate ruches.

—An eccentricity of the season is an owl's head with staring eyes, worn on the warm winter hats of ladies.

—A sufferer says that there is an advantage in having Indian parents—that moccasins are softer than slippers.

—If you want lawyers to work with a will give them a will to work with, especially where the estate is large and the heirs quarrelsome.

Political.

Senator Voorhees and his democratic friends in Indiana are much troubled by the exodus of colored people from the south to that State. They say the laws of Indiana regulating citizenship are very loose, and the negroes who may be brought into that State up to within a week of the election will be entitled to a vote, simply on their own affidavit that they intend to become residents. Well, the laws they speak of were made by the democrats, purposely to facilitate the voting of the five or ten thousand Kentucky democrats who at every election go into Indiana to vote, and furnish the democratic majorities there.

Gov. Garcelon don't rise to the dignity of a thief. He is simply a chore-boy in the employ of thieves.—Manchester Mirror.

Gentlemen's Jewelry.

The trade in gentleman's scarf jewelry is growing extensive, and the designs for rings and pins, sleevelets, etc., are becoming very numerous. These goods are made principally at Attleborough, Conn., and manufacturers there have done a great business in them. At tale season, as the holidays approach, they are taxed to their utmost, and the distribution from jobbers is quite brisk. The trade this year is full three times as large in these goods as a year ago.

In pins and rings the horse shoe seems to be a popular ornamentation, either plain, or with whips, canes, guns, in coral, and gold and silver. There are designs for sportsmen, yachtsmen, archery devotees, and no doubt the bicycle will yet be introduced, for the improved base ball are remembered. A curious design is that of an old-fashioned clock, which is run down, indicating "no tick." A new horse shoe has the heads of the nails of different colors and costs $12 a dozen. Amethysts are in great demand, but cameos are in less. The skull and cross bones are popular with the college students, and so are pug dogs and fans. There are weasels, cranes, anchors and hundreds of very original things, all tending to show what a trade exists in these goods.

In buttons for the wrist and neck there are also many different patterns. The trade in these goods is immense, and one factory turns out $40,000 worth. The genius of the inventor has been directed to buttons of late, and there are no less than forty-two patents upon them. A very good one is one that by pressing a knob spring the top can be lifted. Other patents are also good, all more or less facilitating the taking off of these buttons without any pulling upon the cuff. Link buttons, which were some time ago considered out of style, are now in again, and are the thing. Stones, such as onyx and moss agate, are much used in these goods; pearls are also worn. These goods range in price from $2 to $12 a dozen.—Fashion letters.

—Rev. Joseph Twitchell, of Hartford, Conn., who as an army chaplain saw much of General Hooker during the war, relates that, sitting in the general's tent one day, he said, taking advantage of his position, "Now, general, why are you continually thinking unpleasant things about so many of these your brother officers? You are getting old, and we're all getting old, and even if you don't like them very much, why not overlook their failings and be friends with them?" The old general smiled and replied: "That's right, chaplain, that's all right," as much as to say, "Dan! is the consistently proper thing for you, in your position, to say?" "But," he continued, "don't you see that what I say about these gentlemen don't hurt them, and it does me a heap of good?"

Admirable Wine for Weakly Persons.

The most certain way to get something strengthening for aged and weakly persons, especially females, is to purchase Speer's Sambuci Wine from druggists, which is beyond a doubt the purest and most admirable ever made. It is rich, nourishing and most delicious, and at the same time free from any sort of spirits. Whatever strength it contains is not added strength, but simply pure juice of the fruit. Many have tested this tonic, and prefer it to imported wine. Its medicinal properties have been acknowledged. Physicians do not hesitate prescribing it to patients for general debility, etc., for it is a sort of medicine that one would rather take than not.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

A Lady's Wish.

"Oh, how I do wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so," answered the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. "By using Hop Bitters, that makes pure rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me, as you observe." Read of it.—Cairo Bulletin.

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. E. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says: "In cases of Kidney-Wort I do not hesitate to recommend it as a cure. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON T. SPENCER, of Stockport, N. Y., says: "My wife has suffered from Kidney Complaint for years, and has tried many remedies, but Kidney-Wort has cured her."

C. S. HOGADON, of Fredonia, says: "One package has done more for me in a reasonable time than any medicine I ever took for Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY? BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

American and Foreign PATENTS.

(ESTABLISHED 1857.)

GILMORE & CO., Successors to CHIPMAN, HOSMER & Co., Solicitors. Patents procured in all countries. No fees in advance. No charge unless the patent is granted. No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference Cases before the Patent Office, Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to Inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.

Old Bounty Land Warrants.

The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,857,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & Co., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.

Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & CO. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.

Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & Co. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address,

GILMORE & CO.,

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or SELF-PRESERVATION; containing 125 pages, 125 engravings, elegantly bound in French Muslin, and sent by mail post-paid, for only $1.00. The author, a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the National Medical Association, has combined practical and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing diseases, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French Muslin and gilt, only $1.00, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrate ed sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president; W. H. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D.; C. S. GANNETT, M. D.; H. J. DOUCET, M. D.; R. H. KLINE, M. D.; J. E. BOLCOMB, M. D.; N. R. LYNCH, M. D., and M. R. O'CONNELL, M. D., faculty of the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery, and the Society of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia; also Hon. P. A. ISSELL, M.D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, Office, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

THE MODEL RANGE

—FOR—

Hard or Soft Coal or Wood

—HAVING THE—

Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,

New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,

New Patent Extension Leg,

New Patent Double Top,

(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, which is a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range perfect in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted given by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft and cover flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

Ranges, Cooking and Parlor Stoves,

Etc., can be seen at the old stand of

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted at his office, 251 Broadway, New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once flattered himself that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from the injury of trusses, to such an extent that life has no enjoyments, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him. Reference given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his successful practice and popularity therefrom, throughout this country and the West Indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Give age, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal services, he divides his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturday, Mondays and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The fame of Dr. Sherman, resulting from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain co-fakers and impostors to represent themselves as Dr. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration of the Patent Office." THADDEUS BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1879.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1869, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

BOSTON, January 1, 1879. 3tawjan186

THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Alphan, Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will pour into its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, above named and many others; embracing the Choicest Serial and Short Stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical

in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientists, Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than

Three and a quarter Thousand

double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific, Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE compilation of an indispensable current literature, —indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best critical publication."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages alone it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so bad that my presence in a room with other was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was no troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD, Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1876.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived safely to night all right. I don't know what I should have done if I had not been for the remedy. I have tried nasal Douches and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharges, I have not been able to recover my senses of taste and smell until tried SANFORD'S CURE. You can refer any one to me, those to me, and I will cheerfully inform them in detail as to the benefit the remedy has been to me.

Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1876.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

not only promptly arrests the corroding discharges of catarrh, but, by sympathetic action, it restores to sound health all the organs of the head that have become affected by it, and exhibits any of the following effections:—

Defective Eyesight, Inflamed and Matter Eyes, Painful and Watery Eyes, Loss of Hearing, Earache, Neuralgia of the Ear, Discharges from the Ear, Ringing Noises in the Head, Dizziness, Nervous Headache, Pains in the Temples, Loss of the Sense of Taste and Smell, Elongation of the Uvula, Inflammation of the Tonsils, Putrid Sore Throat, Tickling or Hacking Cough, Bronchitis, and Bleeding of the Lungs.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full and clear printed directions for use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

SHERIDAN'S RIDE.

Mr. Editor: Some time ago the Utica Observer published, under the heading of "Grant's Revelation," an article alluding to Sheridan's achievements and status: In reference to Cedar Creek it says:

Sheridan had no business to be twenty miles away on that occasion—his absence at Winchester was scandalously inexcusable.

Now I would ask this writer if he ever has read Sheridan's official report of the battle of Cedar Creek—a concise and modest document of a few pages, whose naive simplicity is more thrilling than Buchanan Read's poem, and the reading of which makes one regret that there was no great word-painter an eye-witness of the events of that memorable day—such a man as Kinglake, who has written the great prose-epic of the invasion of the Crimea, including the charge of Balaklava:

During the whole war all operations were made secondary to the covering of Washington, and to effect this more securely Sheridan was pestered by the bureaucratic heroes of Washington to fortify Manasses Gap. An excellent spirit of confidence and enthusiasm prevailed in Sheridan's little army, operating in the Shenandoah valley; it felt fully equal to meeting the enemy in the field, and Sheridan urged that it would impair the spirit of his troops to place them behind fortified lines. His representations were overruled, and he was at length peremptorily ordered to report himself at Washington, to discuss the question of fortifying Manasses Gap. Sheridan, accordingly, set out for Washington, leaving General Wright of the 6th corps in command, taking Russell's regiment of cavalry as an escort to Manassas Gap; but he had only proceeded part of the way when he was overtaken by a courier who handed him the following dispatch:

General Early: Move forward to-morrow and we will crush Sheridan.

"LONGSTREET."

This dispatch was communicated by signal flag to Early, and the signal officers of Sheridan's force, who had a key of the confederate signals, read it off, and General Wright immediately sent a copy of it after Gen. Sheridan. Thereupon Sheridan ordered Russell's regiment of cavalry back to rejoin Wright, and sent Wright some suggestions as to the disposition of troops to meet the threatened attack—which in view of subsequent events were prophetic,—and proceeded to Washington via Manassas Gap. Early attacked Wright the following morning, about six o'clock, and routed him.

Sheridan remained only a few hours in Washington, and was returning with all speed to his army, via Winchester, which place, distant about twenty miles from Cedar Creek, he reached about nine A. M., three hours after the attack on Wright; but even then it was reported to him that stragglers, teamsters and animals, were coming pell-mell along the road from Cedar Creek to Winchester, and he ordered the garrison of Winchester to deploy as skirmishers across the road and stop the stream of fugitives,—then, with an aid-de-camp, Major G. A. Forsyth, mounted his horse and rode the "ride,"—dropping words of encouragement among the stragglers, who on seeing Sheridan immediately turned their faces once more to the enemy and set out with eagerness and cheers to rejoin their commands.

Sheridan arrived near the scene of the morning's disaster about 11 A. M., and found only Getty's division of the 6th corps intact; and it held a line about two miles in advance of the rest of the army. He immediately ordered the troops on to a prolongation of Getty's line, and made his dispositions for meeting the enemy. He rode down their front, uttering a few curt expressions to restore their shattered confidence; but the sight of Phil Sheridan was enough for his men; the line of men, lately crestfallen fugitives, were electrified, and cheer upon cheer went up from their lusty throats! For with Sheridan no longer twenty miles away, but present and visible to their eyes, they felt themselves invincible.

At one P. M., two hours after Sheridan arrived on the disastrous field, the enemy renewed his attack, but with what a different result? Almost in less time than it takes to tell it he was totally routed, and hotly pursued for nearly twenty-six miles, losing numbers of prisoners, and guns, and colors.

During Sheridan's operations in the valley he captured upwards of 13,000 prisoners—more than his own command numbered!

On other fields Sheridan was uniformly successful. He never failed to make his point.

When he won Five Forks the knell of Lee's army had struck. Had Five Forks been lost the army of the Potomac would have had to go back to its original lines in front of Petersburg. Sheridan's troops caused the surrender of Lee; they were not under Meade's command, but acted independently of the army of the Potomac, reporting direct to Grant; Custer, "the bravest of the brave," was under Sheridan's command, and personally received the flag of the army of the northern Virginia.

If this writer in the Utica Observer has any political animus towards General Sheridan, let him confine himself to his political record, of which many honorable men disapprove; but let him not try to belittle or misrepresent the achievements of a great and successful soldier, whose calibre he fails to realize. News and Notes.

A schooner, supposed to be the Mary D. Pomeroy, bound from Crescent City to San Francisco, has been sighted off Point Reyes, bottom up. The Pomeroy had a crew of eight men, and twelve passengers, all of whom are supposed to be lost.

The shoddy mill of Seymour G. Stone, at Bennington, Vt., was burned Saturday, and the owner lost his life in the flames; his wife became a raving maniac at once, and had to be tied. William King's house at Greenpoint, N. Y., was burned Saturday night, and Mr. King, aged seventy-eight years, and his sister, Mrs. Maria Miller, aged eighty, were burned to death.

Advices from Chatham, Cape Cod, say the south lighthouse pitched over the bank on Monday, the 15th inst.; no one was hurt, the fall having long been expected and the lighthouse abandoned.

New Hampshire Items.

Samuel Grant's building in Great Falls was damaged to the extent of $300 by fire on Sunday. J. D. Trotter, barber, lost $500, with no insurance; J. H. Smille, cobbler, lost $150, but was insured; H. Estes, butcher, lost $50, no insurance. The fire caught from a cigar.

Upon examination of the cells of the State prison on Friday, a large knife, made from a file, was found secreted in the cell of Sylvester H. Cone, who was convicted of murder in the second degree at the Carroll county court in 1876, and sentenced to thirty years' imprisonment.

Manchester's thermometers marked nine below zero, Sunday morning.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Alliance will not be put out of commission; all her officers except the commander, Comdr. A. R. Yates, will be relieved.

Lieuts. Gheen, Mason and Heald, Masters Downes and Banter, Ensigns Coltman and Veeder, Chief Engineer Ayres, Passed Assistant Engineer Currie and Cadet Engineer Cooley have been detached from the Alliance and placed on waiting orders. Lieut. Royal B. Bradford has been detached from the Alliance and ordered to the torpedo station. Passed Assistant Paymaster Charles H. Bartlett has been detached from the Alliance and ordered to settle accounts.

Lieut. George E. Ide has been ordered to the Alliance as executive officer. Lieut. Charles P. Perkins, Master Milton K. Schenke, Midshipmen Horatio Harrison, Frank B. Case, O. G. Dodge and Albert W. Grant, Assistant Engineer Fry and Passed Assistant Paymaster George E. Baughman have been ordered to the Alliance. Lieut. Clifford H. West has been detached from the New York navy yard and ordered to the Alliance. Master Auger has been detached from the nautical almanac and ordered to the Alliance. Passed Assistant Engineer Burnap has been detached from special duty and ordered to the Alliance. Passed Assistant Engineer Jefferson Brown has been detached from the experimental board and ordered to the Alliance.

Constructors Webb, Pook and Mintoyne, and Capt. Batchelder, a naval board which has been surveying the Hartford, now at Boston, to ascertain what repairs were needed on her, completed their labors on Wednesday of last week, and went on to Washington the same evening to report. The survey shows that one-half of the gun-deck beams and two-thirds of the spar-deck beams are rotten; the hanging knees are decayed in about the same proportions, and the ceiling generally.

New Publications.

The Medical News and Abstract, a consolidation of the "Medical News and Library" and the "Monthly Abstract of Medical Science," is issued by Henry C. Lea, Philadelphia, at $2.50 per year, in advance; furnished in conjunction with the "American Journal of the Medical Sciences" (quarterly) at $5.00 per year. The first number of the consolidated publication, that for January, 1880, has appeared, and the medical profession will find in it much of interest and value.

The Folio for January is a double holiday number, and contains a fine lithograph portrait (full-page) of Mde. Marie, nine pieces of choice music, and a large amount of interesting reading matter. White, Smith & Co., 516 Washington street, Boston, publishers; annual subscription, $1.60; single number fifteen cents.

The January number of Lippincott's Magazine has the opening chapters of a new serial by the widely-read author of Dorothy Fox, with the somewhat ancient title of Adam and Eve. Celia Thaxter contributes a pleasing little poetic sketch "From a corner." The monthly gossip has several interesting and instructive features, which will well repay perusal. The yearly subscription is four dollars; single numbers thirty-five cents. Our booksellers have it on their counters.

The Lady's Almanac and Year Book for 1880 is issued by the New England News Co. of Boston, in the same convenient and handsome style as last year, with full meteorological data, and ruled leaves (with illuminated title pages) for letters received and sent, calls made and received, cash account, shopping list, etc. For sale by Moses Bros. and W. G. Myers.

The Seven Wonders.

A favorite topic with the ancient writers was the seven wonders of the world. These have come down to us embalmed in the eloquence of the poet and historian. One of the wonders of our own time is that great fashion journal—Andrews' Bazar. Six years ago launched on the sea of journalism, where have been so many shipwrecks, to day with a subscription list of 75,000, it stands pre-eminent, the acknowledged standard of American fashion, absolutely reliable on all matters pertaining to the toilet, superbly illustrated, and brimful of chaste and brilliant literature. Andrews' Bazar was founded in Cincinnati, but the great demand for it in the East has compelled its publisher to establish his main office in New York, where its Fashion, Editorial and Literary departments are now conducted.

It is published simultaneously in both cities. For $1 per annum every lady can have this invaluable fashion mentor. Every early subscriber is presented free with 50c worth of Andrews' Bazar Patterns; and, notwithstanding these wonderfully low figures, with the January number the publisher will give his new yearly subscribers a supplement sheet of designs worth $10. Every lady should send a year's subscription, or ten cents for a sample copy, to W. R. Andrews, publisher, Tribune building, New York.

—Door-bells are not favored in Leadville. If a man is too proud to kick the door and holler he's too high-toned for that locality.

—The strangest news coming to us from Germany, is that a learned doctor has discovered a means of dyeing human eyes any color he likes, not only without injury to the delicate orbs, but, as he asserts, with positive advantage to the powers of sight. He cannot only give fair ladies eyes black as night or blue as orient skies by day, but he can turn them out in lue of silver or of gold. He says golden eyes are extremely becoming. Nothing goes down without a grand name; therefore the German doctor calls the discovery "Ocular Transmutation." He declares himself quite ready to guarantee success and harmlessness in the operation.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. 1,3,5&7

A Lady's Wish.

"Oh, how I do wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so," answered the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. "By using Hop Bitters, that makes pure rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me, as you observe." Read of it.—Cairo Bulletin.

If you have a cough resulting from a sudden cold, procure Adamson's Botanic Balsam, take one half to one teaspoonful three times a day, and your cough will cease. Trial bottles, 10 cts.

A large proportion of children who die early are those whose brain developement is unusally large in comparison with the body. Why is this? Simply because the functions of the body are too frail to supply the waste going on in the brain consequent upon active intelligence. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is so prepared that it imparts the vital principal directly to the brain, while it assists in developing a vigorous and robust body.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

AROUND HOME.

Hope your coal-bins are full.

There will be slaying and sleighing for Christmas.

One session was the rule in the public schools, Monday.

Rev. Chas. A. Holbrook baptized six persons at St. John's church last Thursday evening.

Harry Hodgdon's minstrels will give an entertainment at Music hall on Tuesday evening, Dec. 30th.

The "gifted son" was not greeted with a very full house Monday evening—but then the weather was bad.

All the trains were behind time Monday, and snow plows were kept busy all day trying to keep the track clear.

The weather was very thick outside the harbor Monday, and the fog-horn kept up an incessant "tooting" all day long.

Mr. William F. Sharp, of New York, is canvassing this city for Shake-peare's and Dickens' works and Moore's poems.

The silver wedding of Edwin A. Peterson, Esq., and wife, of Greenland, was observed at their home Saturday evening.

It is expected that Hon. Marcellus Eldredge of this city will be one of the delegates from New Hampshire to the next democratic national covention.

Mr. Michael J. Ryan, who runs a hairdresser's saloon on Water street, slipped on an icy side-walk, Sunday evening, and broke one of his legs in two places.

Rt. Rev. William W. Niles, D. D., Bishop of New Hampshire, occupied the pulpit at St. John's church on Sunday, and administered the rite of confirmation to eighteen persons at the evening service.

The train from Dover due in this city at 7:10 o'clock A. M., Monday, did not arrive until about twenty minutes of ten o'clock, owing to not having a sufficient quantity of water to supply the boiler. A messenger was sent back to Dover, who telegraphed to Portsmouth for an engine.

The third entertainment in the Rockingham course will be given on Wednesday evening of next week, by Miss Nella F. Brown, undoubtedly one of the best dramatic readers on the American stage, and by many considered the best,—assisted by Sol Smith Russell, well known in this city, as one of the most amusing burlesque actors and humorists that ever appeared on a Portsmouth platform.

Baird's New Orleans minstrels had but a small audience at Music hall Monday evening—no doubt partly on account of the bad walking and cold weather—but gave a first-class show of the kind, every number on the programme being gone through with in good shape. The clogdance by eight men was the best thing of the sort we ever saw; there was some very good ventriloquism; and musical oddities, caricature speeches, etc., made up a good show. James Holbrook, one of the prominent "end men" and a native of this city, is evidently a "big card" in the company, for his performance Monday evening, (though he was evidently disappointed and chilled by the meagerness of the attendance,) if given by somebody from some other city we believe would have been much more warmly received. The company performs just what it advertises to do.

We are informed that Mr. John D. Swain, foreman ironplater at the navy yard, has resigned his position to accept the superintendency of the Nashua Iron & Steel Co. at Nashua. Mr. Swain has long filled the position he now leaves, and he has always been regarded as one of the most efficient master-workmen on the yard. He leaves here to assume his new duties on New Year's; his family will continue to reside in Portsmouth for the present. We learn that Naval Constructor Wilson has recommended the appointment of Mr. William H. Lovell of this city, who for thirteen years past has been employed in the iron-plater's shop, as successor to Mr. Swain, and under the avowed rule of civil service reform which requires the selection of competent and experienced men for places of this kind, there can be no doubt that Mr. Lovell will be designated as the proper person for the position.

The Scientific American for Dec. 27th has an engraving of a folded car step, applied to passenger cars to facilitate the ascent and descent of passengers from the platform, and to avoid climbing and jumping in getting on and off the cars. It is something long-needed on the Eastern railroad, the steps of whose cars are so high above the floors of the stations that platforms are mounted with difficulty by aged or fleshy people. We hope to see the improvement soon introduced upon that road.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR.

At the annual meeting of Sagamore Lodge, No. 258, Knights of Honor, held Monday evening last, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

Oliver M. Knight, Past Dictator;
Alfred M. Lang, Dictator;
George A. Mudge, Vice Dictator;
Chas. A. Shannon, Assistant Dictator;
Clarence B. Mason, Reporter;
William O. Sides, Financial Reporter;
George E. Hodgdon, Treasurer;
Daniel L. Randall, Chaplain;
Thomas E. O. Marvin, Guide;
George A. Perkins, Guardian;
Edwin H. Leslie, Sentinel.
Washington Freeman, R. H. Perkins, Stephen W. Clarke, Trustees.
Stephen W. Clarke, Representative to Grand Lodge; Charles H. Marston, Alternate.

Installation January 12th, by Deputy Grand Dictator Clarence B. Mason.

THE PROPOSED SHOE FACTORY.

The committee appointed to examine into the feasibility of establishing a shoe factory in this city, will report at the meeting to be held in the common council room this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The gentlemen composing this committee are acknowledged to be among our most careful and shrewd business men, and they have given the subject under advisement the most careful attention; and any statement they may make or suggestion they may offer our citizens may accept without misgiving. We do not wish to anticipate the report,—and we do not think we violate any rule of courtesy when we say that it will be in everyway satisfactory.

The times are propitious and there is a ready demand in all the boot and shoe markets. We have a factory available, and in the very business centre of our city; all that is needed is a little loosening of the purse-strings, and an industry will spring up in our midst that will benefit mechanic, trader and capitalist alike. We do not need to urge our citizens to be present to-night; the interest manifested, and the large number present at the last meeting, is guarantee enough that the council room will be filled.

PORTSMOUTH BOYS IN THE WEST.

A letter recently received by Mr. Edwin R. Laighton of this city from an uncle, Mr. Joseph E. Laighton, who writes from Sequim Prairie, Clallam county, Washington Territory, gives the whereabouts of several Portsmouth men who left for the far west many years ago. Mr. Laighton himself went away thirty years since, and has never returned; he was one of the party that went to 'Frisco in '49, in the old barque Martha, Capt. Joseph Grace. Of other wanderers he says: "Jack Locke has left Port Townsend, and I understand he has gone up the Sound to some of the mill towns. We have one Portsmouth boy to represent one of our counties in the Territorial legislature; his name is Horace A. Tucker; he represents Jefferson county, and lives in Port Townsend; when he was in Portsmouth his name was Horace Anderson; he is married, has three or four children, and is comfortably situated. Frank Laighton I saw four years ago, and have not seen or heard of him since; he thought at that time he should go up i to eastern Oregon, and go into sheep raising, which is a good business and pays well." Mr. Laighton makes enquiries for a number of his shipmates of '49, and is particularly desirous of learning "whether the Duke (Peverly) has ever finished that song he used to attempt to sing down between decks in the old barque Martha thirty years ago, 'With fifty thousand men, my boys,' etc., which our trip to 'Frisco wasn't long enough for him to get through with?" As the old barque was six or seven months on the passage, the song must have been of superior length, whatever its other qualities.

CRUISES WITH CAPT. BOB.

Our genial former townsman, Ben. Partington Shillaber, has written another book, denominated "Cruises with Captain Bob, on sea and land;" published by Lee & Shepard of Boston; and sold by Mercer Goodrich at his book store on Pleasant street, at $1.25.

The world in general, and people in this region in particular, have long known and admired the writings of Mr. Shillaber. Since the days long past and gone when he stood at the case in the composing-room of the Boston Post, and "followed copy" of jokes not half as good as he was himself constantly perpetrating, down through the era of the Carpet-bag and Evening Gazette, he has constantly, as Mrs. Partington would say, been breaking out with humor. He has filled an important space in the make-up of our race, in this country, where the daily joke, the good-natured repartee and the lively sally of wit never fail to secure their appreciative readers. He has identified his leading characters with a charm of naturalness and an artless utterance which provokes the smile, while we admire the keen insight which sees so much to chronicle in the daily walks of life, and does not have to reach out for far-fetched witticisms.

In the volume before us, the "inexperienced writer," as he dubs himself, in a Pickwickian sense, essays to launch his bark upon the sea, and relates to the boys through the medium of Capt. Bob Davit, the sea yarns of that retired mariner. The narrations are listened to by a group of boys, who ply the narrator with questions which only serve the better for the old sea-dog to give an extra twist to his yarn. The author does not claim to have picked up his knowledge of these specialties from personal experience, but we of Clamshell—corner know whence it comes. The early lessons were gathered in navigating rafts upon the north mill-pond, while as the boy grew apace, no doubt he indulged in frequent miniature voyages on the Piscataqua, perhaps in boats "borrowed" from that seat of lively commerce of which he once sang:

"For my market!—how affection clings
To thee, best of remembered things."

Then, too, the Brother Joe, who never let a yarn shrink in the telling, must have supplied to the youthful Ben a vast store of sea material, then safely stowed away in the memory of his admiring brethren of Rock pasture, and now like bread cast upon the waters, found after many days.

Added to this, a two years' sojourn in the tropics gives to the writer an abundant material, and he has used it with his experience of ripened years, as few others could have employed it. The book contains twenty chapters, each full of interesting incidents told in Mr. Shillaber's attractive style, and it will be a favorite with the boys all along the Atlantic coast; while for those who had not the fortune to be born within the sound of the ocean's roar, there will be found an aroma of the salt sea to be gathered from the reading, which will be none the less enjoyable because before unknown to them.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The residents adjacent to Sturgeon creek, Eliot, will have a Christmas tree and sociable in Mason's hall of that town, Christmas eve.

The Methodist and Baptist societies at Kittery foreside, and the churches at the point, will each have Christmas trees and festivities during the present week.

We are informed that Mr. Wallace Jackson and Mr. George Patch, of Kittery, will shoot at fifty glass balls each on the navy yard bridge, Christmas day, for a prize of a leather belt. Capt. John Perkins will act as referee.

Mr. John Low has established an extensive lumber yard at Stimpson's wharf, York harbor; during the past season he has received six cargoes from Bangor. Importing lumber is a new business for York, as it has always been known as a lumber producing town.

Schooner Addie Jordan, bound for Boston with 500 tons of coal, ran on Toddy rocks in Boston harbor, Sunday morning, under all sail and with a gale blowing from the northwest, and soon bilged. She is 376 tons register, and is owned in Saco; partially insured. Vessel and cargo probably a total loss.

A loaded team belonging to Mr. Fernald Thompson, proprietor of the Thompson house at York beach, was going down Mathes' hill in Cape Neddick on Thursday last, when some part of the gear broke, letting the vehicle forward against the horse; the animal started on a gallop, but was thrown down and run over, the wheels passing over and breaking his hind legs. The driver, Mr. Edgar Freeman, was thrown into the air and a considerable distance from the wagon, but falling in a thick clump of bushes was not much injured. The horse, which was a valuable one, had to be killed.

Mr. William Furbish of Beach Ridge, York, is making extensive improvements to his farm buildings, and is about putting up a large structure for a "geesery," he expects to raise for the market, during the coming year, between five hundred and a thousand geese. We are informed—but do not vouch for the correctness of the information—that Mr. Furbish last season raised a carrot five feet and four inches long, and an onion that weighed three pounds and fourteen ounces. It is rather remarkable that some Chinaman did not get hold of the other end of that carrot, and pull it through.

Two of the republicans who were elected to the Maine Senate from York county were counted out by Gardelon and the contemptible creatures composing his council, and the Portland Advertiser says the third one would have been "but for an accident in Wells," as follows: The third fusion candidate in York county was Josiah A. Stover, but in the town of Wells his vote was returned as for "Josiah Stover." This being an "informality," and Stover being a democrat, the Gardelon-Moody gang invited the town clerk of Wells to correct this return, so that by refusing to allow the correction of informalities which would tell against the republican candidate, they could count Stover into a position to which he was not elected. The town clerk, seeing through their tricky game, declined, and thus Stover not only failed of an election, but failed to get a certificate of election from the fellows who wished to give it to him.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely pure—made from Grape Cream of Tartar, imported exclusively for this Powder from the Wine-district of France. Always uniform and wholesome. Sold only in cans by all grocers. Most cheap powders contain alum; dangerous to health; avoid them, especially when offered loose or in bulk.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

A stout backbone is as essential to physical health as to political consistency. For weakness of the back and disorders of the liver and kidney, the tonic and moderate dietetic action of the Bitters is the one thing needful. Remember that the stomach is the mainstay of every other organ and that by invigorating the digestion with this preparation, the spinal column and all its dependencies are strengthened.

For Hostetter's ALMANAC for 1880, apply to Druggists and dealers generally.

Political.

Garcelon, the individual who disgraces the gubernatorial chair of Maine, has issued a weak and quibbling manifesto in defence of the great steal. If what he has done were the best he could do, he had far better have held his tongue. The Boston Journal plainly says that Garcelon is guilty of "deliberate falsehood."

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

Regulate the Secretions.

In our endeavors to preserve health it is of the utmost importance that we keep the secretory system in perfect condition. The well known remedy Kidney-Wort has specific action upon the kidneys, liver and bowels. Use it instead of dosing with vile bitters or drastic pills. It is vegetable, and is prompt but mild in action.

Piles! Piles! Piles!

Do you know what it is to suffer with Piles? If you do, you know what is one of the worst torments of the human frame. The most perfect cure ever known is Kidney-Wort. It cures constipation, and then its tonic restores health to the diseased bowels, and prevents recurrence of the disease. Try it without delay.

Admirable Wine for Weakly Persons.

The most certain way to get something strengthening for aged and weakly persons, especially females, is to purchase Speer's Sambuci Wine from druggists, which is beyond a doubt the purest and most admirable ever made. It is rich, nourishing and most delicious, and at the same time free from any sort of spirits. Whatever strength it contains is not added strength, but simply pure juice of the fruit. Many have tested this tonic, and prefer it to imported wine. Its medicinal properties have been acknowledged. Physicians do not hesitate prescribing it to patients for general debility, etc., for it is short of medicine that one would rather take than not.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES
KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY-WORT I find it benefited like a charm. It is our household remedy for PILES, and has never failed to act effectually."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of great value to me. For years I suffered great suffering from Piles and Costiveness. It completely cured me."

C. S. HOGADON, of Pittsfield, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

TRY IT NOW!

Is a compound of the virtues of sarsaparilla, stillingia, mandrake, yellow dock, with the iodide of potash and iron, all powerful blood-making, blood-cleansing, and life-sustaining elements. It is the purest, safest, and in every way the most effectual alterative medicine known or available to the public. The sciences of medicine and chemistry have never produced so valuable a remedy, nor one so potent to cure all diseases resulting from impure blood. It cures Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Pimples and Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Humors, Salt Rheum, Scald-head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Mercurial Disease, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, Jaundice, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility.

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the foul corruptions which contaminate the blood, and cause derangement and decay. It stimulates and enlivens the vital functions. It promotes energy and strength. It restores and preserves health. It infuses new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any disease which arises from impurity of the blood need despair, and will give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a fair trial. Remember, the earlier the trial, the speedier the cure.

Its recipe has been furnished to physicians everywhere; and they, recognizing its superior qualities, administer it in their practice.

For nearly forty years AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has been widely used, and it now possesses the confidence of millions of people who have experienced benefits from its marvellous curative virtues.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or any disease or disorder arising from errors or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundred and thirty-fifth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, and has received a gold and jeweled medal of the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of twenty years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president; W. H. P. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D.; C. S. GAUNTT, M. D.; H. J. DOUCET, M. D.; E. R. KLINE, M. D.; J. R. HOLCOMB, M. Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,
New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,
New Patent Extension Leg,
New Patent Double Top,
(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The doorknobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

Ranges, Cooking and Parlor Stoves,

Etc., can be seen at the old stand of

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only sure cure for Rupture by local external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once flattered himself that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it and the injury of trusses, to such an extent that life has no enjoyments, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him. References given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his unsurpassed practice and popularity therefrom throughout this country and the West Indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Save this, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal services, he will devote his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturdays, Mondays and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The fame of Dr. Sherman, arising from his great success in the treatment and cure of ruptures, has induced certain co Adders men and impostors to represent themselves as Dr. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Riphan, Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will for ish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, able translators and many others; embracing the choicest critical and short stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical

in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientist, Critics, Discoverers, and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than

Three and a quarter Thousand

double-column octavo pages of reading matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, having its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE compilation of an indispensable current literature, —indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it come o ely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philad phia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages alone it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"It is INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a through compendium of all that is admirable and noteworthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Boston Advertiser.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

Published WEEKLY at $8.00 a year, free of postage.

EXTRA OFFER FOR 1880.

To all new subscribers for 1880 will be sent gratis those numbers of 1879 which contain, besides other interesting matter, the first chapters of "HE WHO WILL WON WINS" BY MAY, a new story by MRS. OLIPHANT, now appearing in THE LIVING AGE from advance sheets.

Club-Prices for the best Home and Foreign Literature.

"Possessed of the LIVING AGE and one or other of our vivacious American monthlies, a subscriber will find himself in possession of the ne plus ultra."—Phila. Evening Bulletin.

For $10.50 THE LIVING AGE and either one of the American monthlies (or Harper's Weekly or Bazar) will be sent for a year, by the post-paid; or, for $9.50 THE LIVING AGE and the St. Nicholas, or App ton's Journal.

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so that my presence in a room with other was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was no troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours,

MELBOURNE H. FORD, Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 5, 1878.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived here to-night all right. I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for this cure. I have tried Douches and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, I have no seen able to recover my sense of taste and smell until tried SANFORD'S CURE. You can refer any one to those here, and I will cheerfully inform them in detail as to the benefit the remedy has been to me.

YOURS, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1878.

A Phenomenon in Literature.

Andrews' Bazar, to-day the leading fashion paper of this continent, is an example of what business energy and business promises faithfully fulfilled can do. From the start this magnificent journal has commanded the admiration of every one who has seen it. Its Fashion Departments are always fresh and reliable; its literary excellence unsurpassed; and its fun joyous and refined. Notwithstanding its low price—only $1 per annum—every subscriber, new or old, for 1880, will be presented free with 50c. worth of Andrews' Bazar Patterns, and, furthermore, those who subscribe in time to secure the January number, will receive as a New Year's gift an immense supplement sheet—the largest ever printed—filled with useful and practical designs for making laces, worsted and other fancy work, for painting on china, silk and satin, etc., which could not be purchased separately for $10. Every lady should subscribe for this splendid journal, or at least send ten cents for a sample copy, to W. R. Andrews, Publisher, Tribune Building, New York.

Grape Wine for Communion.

The superior quality and entire purity of Speer's Port Grape Wine, of New Jersey, and the success that physicians have had by its use, has induced them to write about it, and caused hundreds to prescribe it in their practice as the best and most reliable wine to be had. It is held in great favor for Communion purposes, and said to be curative for consumptives.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1879.

A Very Different Matter.

The whole republican press in this State seem to have joined the procession of political mourners in Maine, and outdo, if possible, the disappointed expectants of office themselves in the length and dolefulness of their sympathetic moans. The people in general are very little affected by the groans of disappointed office seekers. They would much rather see them at work in some honest calling to earn their own living than see them making such a blubbering because they are not fed on government pap.—Times.

If only the "disappointed office-seekers" of Maine were interested in the matter at issue, our neighbor's view of the Maine steal would agree very closely with our own; but as it happens, the question of who shall or shall not hold office in that State is but a minor one, of no importance whatever outside of the State, and having no bearing at all upon the question at issue. That question is this:

Shall the will of the people of a State, as lawfully expressed by the people at the ballot box, be nullified and reversed in defiance of justice, the constitution and the law, by the men who have been appointed to impartially execute the law and who have solemnly sworn to do so?

That a blatant secession-copperhead like Eben F. Pillsbury may be State printer of Maine is a small matter; that an unscrupulous governor and a dishonest council can overthrow popular government in a New England State is a serious matter, and merits all the attention and condemnation it is receiving from the nation at large—for if the Garcelon infamy succeeds, popular government in the United States is at an end, and "the republican bubble is bursted" more effectually and more surely than the English statesman asserted the rebellion had succeeded in doing in the early days of the war.

It is not a question of party at all, but of the perpetuity of American institutions, to which Garcelon and his crew have dealt a blow that may prove more deadly than the ordinance of secession could possibly have been even had the rebellion succeeded.

News and Notes.

The bullet which entered "Rev." Mr. Kalloch's chest last August, and has since his convalescence caused him considerable trouble, was on Sunday last extracted from his left armpit.

Dan Rice, the famous circus man, announces that he has been converted and will at once enter the field as an evangelist. He has had an interview with Mr. Moody and will probably begin his new career by speaking at Moody's meetings.

Courtney writes Blakie, the referee, that he will row Hanlan under the present terms in April, either at Washington or Saratoga.

Mr. George W. Gammon of Columbia, Ga., sixty-five years of age, while going home Friday night had his throat cut and his pockets rifled.

A singular fatility attends the State's witness in the Stannard murder trial in Connecticut. Since the arrest of Hayden two of the female witnesses have died natural deaths; one male witness, upon whom the defense are endeavoring to fasten the responsibility of the murdered girl's death, is lying very seriously ill; and on Thursday, while two of Mary Stannard's half brothers were walking on a railroad track at Wallingford, Conn., one of them was struck by a train and instantly killed, and the other barely escaped.

William Burke, a New York rough who murdered Alice Strickland, his mistress, on the 9th of June, 1877, has been sentenced to the State prison for ten years.

The situation in Russia does not improve, and a reign of terror is predicted.

In the Friendship street Baptist church at Providence, R. I., Sunday evening, Mrs. H. M. Fiske died of heart disease, almost instantly, upon concluding an exhortation.

A young woman named Mary Cadwell was arrested in Providence, R. I., Saturday night, on a charge of shoplifting. She had been operating in several shops, and had accumulated much plunder. The most terrible thing about the affair was the fact that she was training her three children of tender years to be thieves, and that they had made such progress that they boldly avowed their criminality in an effort to screen their mother when the officers were searching the woman's house.

Fred Jones, a twelve-year-old boy at Mansfield, Mass., has been arrested for placing obstructions on the Old Colony railroad. He is said to be a bad boy, and his mother wants him sent to the reform school.

Two Italians, giving their names as Peter Marik and Michael Mori, were arrested at Webster, Mass., on Saturday, for passing counterfeit fifty-cent pieces. About $30 in counterfeit money and $150 in genuine bills were found in their possession. They were bound over to the superior court in January, in $3,000 each.

Charles Lawrence, the man arrested on suspicion for the murder of Lafayette Batley at Oxford, Mass., was arraigned at Webster on Saturday, and committed fully to await further investigation.

Brig Nellie Ware, of New York, has been wrecked near Vera Cruz, Mexico, and all hands, eight in number, lost.

The United States court has decided to grant an injunction prohibiting the interference of the post-office authorities with the mails, and returning to the writers the letters addressed to lottery dealers.

The signal corps station at Ludington, Mich., reports that the propeller City of Toledo went on the beach seven miles north of there Sunday night. The crew and a few passenger had not been rescued on Monday, and a heavy sea was running.

Edward Harney and James McGeever, two Irish boys engaged in peddling dry goods, were murdered on Friday night near Jernigan, Ala., and their bodies thrown into the river, by several negroes. On Sunday two of the murderers, who confessed their guilt, were hanged by a mob of whites and colored men.

There was a disgraceful fight in a Pittsburg, Pa., church Sunday night, two rival clergymen leading the riot. Heads were punched, eyes were blackened, arms broken, and women knocked down. The police were called in and after some difficulty succeeding in quelling the row.

Naval Affairs.

A London, Eng., despatch of December 22d, says the United States frigate Trenton has sailed from Gibraltar to Villa Franche, and frigate Constellation has sailed from the same port for the Brooklyn navy yard.

New Hampshire Items.

On the 17th inst., James M. Locke, a well-known lumber dealer of Barrington, while preparing to slaughter his hogs, fell through a trap-door in his shed, a distance of some seven feet, striking upon the scalding tub below. Injured severely; recovery doubtful.

At a meeting of the governor and council on Friday, a petition was presented from James Merrill, of Haverhill, asking that a commission be appointed to investigate the character of a disease prevailing among his herd of cattle, believed to be pleuro-pneumonia, of which four have died, and to take measures to prevent the spread of the same; and considering it of sufficient magnitude to require attention, they appointed Dr. A. H. Crosby of Concord, Dr. H. P. Watson of Haverhill, and James O. Adams of Manchester, with directions to examine the matter at once, and take such measure as are provided by Chapter 116 of the general laws to prevent its spreading.

George D. Harvey of Colebrook, while at work scalding a hog on the 13th, was struck on the head by a falling plank and rendered unconscious, in which condition he remained on the 17th.

It is stated at Concord that heavy capitalists are considering a proposition to erect next season a large cotton factory at Garvin's falls in the lower part of that city. They believe that if they get one-half of the stock subscribed that the Amoskeag manufacturing company of Manchester, which owns the land and water power, will take the other half. Mayor Brown has been interviewed on the subject, and says that he will use his influence to have a municipal act passed which will exempt the property from taxation for a limited term of years. If the project should succeed it would add greatly to Concord's wealth and population.

Don't Rub Off the Enamel

of the teeth with gritty preparations. The teeth are too valuable to be trifled with. When gone, you must have false ones or "gum" yourself through life. Use SOZODONT, which contains no grit. It cleanses the mouth and vitalizes the secretions.

Thirty Years' Experience of an Old Nurse.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best Female Physicians and Nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from the feeble infant of one week old to the adult. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, and gives rest, health and comfort to mother and child. We believe it the Best and Surest Remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or from any other causes. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of Curtis & Perkins is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. 3

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines; excellent for Ladies and invalids.

An Open Business.

The great success won by the Louisiana State Lottery Company has been gained by the strict fairness of its dealings with the public. All its methods of doing business are open as the day, and buyers of tickets have learned that they have only to contend with the laws of chance, and that all are served alike. When anyone asserts the contrary of this it is safe to call him a liar or a blackmailer. The regular monthly drawing will take place on the 13th January.

Notice.

ALL persons having demands against the city are requested to present them before January 1, 1880. D. J. VAUGHAN, City Clerk.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH

BITTERS

A stout backbone is as essential to physical health as to political consistency. For weakness of the back and disorders of the liver and kidneys, the tonic and moderate dietetic action of the Bitters is the one thing needful. Remember that the stomach is the mainstay of every other organ and that by invigorating the digestion with this preparation, the spinal column and all its dependencies are strengthened.

For Hostetter's ALMANAC for 1880, apply to Druggists and dealers generally.

AROUND HOME.

A seal has been sporting about in the river for the last week.

Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad stock sold at the broker's board in Boston, Tuesday, at $102 per share.

Mr. M. J. Leary, the sole agent in this city of the Boston Sunday Herald, will leave the paper at the houses of subscribers promptly on their arrival each Sunday morning, which is usually at about nine o'clock, and often earlier. Orders left at Preston's drug store will receive due attention.

We learn from fishermen who were out-side the harbor on Monday, that well off ashore they had the wind from the southeast and quite warm; but when making for this harbor they suddenly ran into the northeast wind, which caused the temperature to drop thirty or forty degrees in half as many minutes, reminding old bank fishermen of the approach to a big iceberg in the summer season.

The lumber for Messrs. J. Brooks & Co.'s grain elevator, to be built on the Concord railroad grounds, has arrived. It is a very superior quality of spruce, comes from the White mountain region, and is furnished by Samuel Adams & Co. Mr. Moses Yeaton, the veteran builder, will superintend the erection of the elevator, which will furnish facilities which have long been needed in this city for the speedy handling and storage of grain.

An order has been issued for the examination of candidates for the position of apprentice in the joiners', spermakers' and painters' departments at the navy yard, there being an opening for one apprentice in each department. It is required that each applicant shall have had a good common-school education, and shall produce a certificate of good moral character from his school-teacher, and a letter of consent from his parents or guardian; age must not be less than fifteen nor more than seventeen years. This offers a good chance for a young man to learn a good trade.

Mr. Holmes, the miller at the north mill, mentions as an illustration of the intense cold of Monday last that the tidegates were "stuck" with ice for the first time since he has had charge of the mill, a period of three years. During that time the pond has never coated with ice so quickly but that the incoming tide would open the gates; but on Monday the ice held the gates closed until the water on the outside was more than twenty inches higher than its level on the inside, the ice—and salt-water ice, at that—having formed to the thickness of fully three inches during the fall of the tide from the previous high water.

A happy family gathering—the complete reunion of a family that had not before all met together for twelve years—occurred at the home of Capt. John C. Bush on State street in this city, on Monday. The family consists of Capt. Bush, (who commands the ship Frolic, of Boston,) and his wife; John C. Bush, Jr., who is mate with his father; William, in business at Leon, Iowa; Frank G., in business in New York; and George and Maggie, who are attending school. On the previous Saturday only Mrs. Bush was at home of the entire family; on Monday all were at home, though the happy reunion was of but too short duration, William having to leave for his Iowa home on Tuesday, and Capt. Bush and the mate of the Frolic on the same day for Boston, on duties connected with the ship.

An incident, odd if true, is related to us as follows: There was a "Wayside inn" festival in the vestry of the Universalist church some weeks ago, and lots of good things were provided; the attendance was large, and the greater part of the aforesaid good things were devoured during the evening, but there was still quite a lot left over, including an uncut roast turkey, corned beef, etc., all which were stowed away in the cellar back of the kitchen. Next morning all the eatables had stepped out, though all the dishes were left and nothing was destroyed, so everybody connected with the festival supposed the provisions had been properly disposed of by somebody else who had a right to act in the premises, and it was not until last Sunday that it was discovered that the stored eatables were "hooked," probably by enterprising but not particularly good boys.

The afternoons are lengthening at the rate of a minute a day.

Tuesday was the finest day that December has yet given us.

Christmas service will be held at the South Parish this (Wednesday) evening at half-past seven o'clock,—to which all are welcome.

Over sixty men started on a six-days walk in New York, at one minute past midnight, last Monday morning. Among this grand army of tramps is Patrick Madden, of Dover.

Not for months have our streets been so crowded with humanity as they were Tuesday afternoon and evening; the stores were also well filled, with purchasers intent on buying Christmas gifts for loved ones.

Rev. George W. Bicknell, formerly of this city but late of Philadelphia, preached his first sermon as pastor of the First Universalist church of Lowell, Mass., last Sunday, on "Fidelity," to a large audience despite the severe weather, and was very favorably received.

The Odd Fellows' hall in National block will be dedicated to the use of the Order by the R. W. Grand Lodge of New Hampshire on Jan. 1st, 1880, at 7:30 o'clock P. M. Each member will be entitled to a ticket admitting himself and one lady; and as the accomodations are limited, the rule will be strictly adhered to. A member of the committee will be in the ante-room of the new hall from 9:00 to 12:00 A. M., and from 2:00 to 6:00 P. M., on Monday, Dec. 29th, to deliver tickets; and after that time they can be obtained of W. S. Hazel, at M. Goodrich's store under the city building.

By order of Dedication Committee.

THE PROPOSED SHOE FACTORY.

The committee appointed to enquire into the feasibility establishing a shoe factory in this city reported favorably on Tuesday evening, and recommended that a company be formed with a capital stock be $25,000, in 250 shares of $100 each. The report was adopted and a committee of three, consisting of Dr. Fred E. Potter, and Messrs. Henry M. Clark and Charles H. Mendum, was appointed too elicit subscriptions to the stock. The meeting adjourned to meet at the call of this committee. Several gentlemen present subscribed to the stock before leaving the meeting.

LEGION OF HONOR.

At the annual meeting of St. George Council, No, 21, American Legion of Honor, held on Tuesday evening, the 23d inst., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

William P. Walker, Past Commander;
A. Coburn Hoyt, Commander;
Frank E. Dearborn, Vice Commander;
Stephen W. Clarke, Orator;
John H. Lowd, Chaplain;
Joseph R. Curtis, Secretary and Collector;
Simon R. Marston, Treasurer;
Edwin A. Tilton, Guide;
James Sanborn, Warden;
George E. Burt, Secretary;
Samuel C. Whittier, Medical Examiner;
Samuel C. Whittier, William A. Hodgdon, James Sanborn, Trustees.

The council is in a very flourishing condition, and its membership constantly increasing. The insurance feature of this order is claimed to be superior to that of any other order extant, and is receiving the attention of thorough business men.

A PORTSMOUTH SCHOONER LOST.

The schooner T. J. Trafton, Capt. Eaton, of this port, bound from New York for Boston with 360 tons of coal, foundered between Race point and the Gurnet on Sunday forenoon. The Trafton ran past the cape early in the morning, and had not lost Race point when the weather began to thicken, with snow squalls. The schooner was put about to get into Provincetown. Soon after her course was changed the schooner was taken by a heavy sea, and pitched so hard that the masts were carried away and came down on the deck of the vessel, which rolled heavily and took in much water, and began to settle. The captain and crew (six in all) took to the boat and put off. Before they had gone a gunshot from the vessel she sank. The captain and his crew landed at Ellisville, in the south part of Plymouth, Mass.

THE COLORED PEOPLE'S CHURCH.

The following communication, which was handed to us on Friday of last week but was accidentally mislaid, will interest quite a number of people:

PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 19th, 1879.

It will be remembered by many of the friends of the colored people in Portsmouth that we organized a Baptist church, consisting of colored brethren and sisters, in 1873, and for a time we flourished in the ward room so kindly tendered to the young church by the city authorities. Our attendance was large and our services interesting then; but being unavoidably called away we were succeeded by Elder John Tate, who has since been called away to his eternal rest, since which time the actual services of the church have been suspended and things have gone wrong, up to last week, when we returned to Portsmouth, after having succeeded in obtaining pastors and supplies for the young churches that we had previously organized at Lawrence, Haverhill and West Newton, Mass., all which are doing well. Since our return here we have been holding meetings at Mr. R. Braxton's, Melcher street, with marked effect; the meetings have been well attended, and much seriousness has prevailed; there has been one convert and many inquirers, and we expect to baptize next Lord's day week; the unmistakable indications are more hopeful for the young than ever before. We have received into the church since our arrival here several additions by letters.

EDMUND KELLY.

CHRISTMAS.

On Tuesday the streets of our city were thronged from early morning to late in the evening; a large proportion of the people, many of them being from the country, seeming to be engaged in the purchase of Christmas dinners or Christmas presents. It may be set down as a safe rule that the dealers who advertise most liberally are the best to trade with, and we will briefly mention a few of the places where the seeker after something to eat or to give away can procure just what is wanted, at a fair price.

In groceries, a large assortment of the best quality of staples and fancies can be found at Butler & Laighton's, C. E. Laighton & Son's, or H. F. Gerrish's; and the purchaser at either place will get just what is represented, at as low prices as the wholesale market will allow. Immense stocks to select from are kept by all the dealers named, and almost everything needed for one's own Christmas dinner, or for a dinner to send to some unfortunate family that would otherwise have none, can be procured at either place.

In the line of Christmas presents, the stocks in the stores are larger than for many years, and the buyers we are pleased to say more numerous.

For watches, rings, pins, buttons, pencils, combs, and jewelry of all kinds, from the most elaborate and costly articles down to those of moderate price, no one need seek further than Hutchinson & Connell's, on Market Square, who keep on hand a large stock of everything in their line, and have made special preparation for the holidays.

W. G. Myers, at the Congress block bookstore, has a bewildering stock of such fancy articles as are kept in a first-class stationery store, in addition to all the standard authors, costly and elegant annuals, holiday cards, etc.

Mercer Goodrich, under the city building, makes a big display of all sorts of toys and small wares, papeteries, pictures, etc., and the person who cannot find something in his store to purchase must be hard to suit.

Montgomery's picture and music store, under the CHRONICLE office, should not be visted by anybody who doesn't intend to spend something on presents, because if any one goes in there determined not to buy, the resolution will surely be broken. The store is one of the most attractive in the city, and contains almost every conceivable article in that line of trade.

N. K. Walker & Son, in Congress block, have a choice stock of ladies' shopping bags and gentlemen's silk umbrellas, (in addition to their large stock of furs, trunks, etc.,) which are eminently suited for holiday gifts.

Preston's has for years been a favorite place for the purchase of holiday gifts, and as usual everything in the shape of perfumes, brushes and combs, vinaigrettes, and innumerable other articles, can be found there, of the best and at low prices.

Even in a hardware store a Christmas present may be found, and a pair of choice skates from John H. Bailey's or Fred P. Wilson's store will make glad the heart of the boy or girl receiving them.

At the house-furnishing stores of John P. Sweetser or Matthew Earing, a large variety of valuable and serviceable articles suitable for presents can be found to select from; nothing neater or more useful, for a person who does not already possess one, can be found than one of the new library lamps.

In dry goods, Ayers & Locke have an immense stock of silks, shawls and choice fancy goods in their line, laid in expressly for the holiday trade, which they are selling at prices to suit the times.

D. F. Borthwick, at the Popular store, Market street, has a special line of linens and domestics, as well as a large general stock, all which he is selling at low rates.

C. H. Marston, Market street, has a large stock of holiday goods, from the penny toy to the choicest articles of wearing apparel and household goods, which he is offering as cheaply as similar articles can be procured in Boston.

Morris C. Foye, Market street, a shrewd and energetic young business man, has a large stock of ladies' and children's underwear, handkerchiefs, fringes, silk knots, and other goods in that line, and promises satisfaction to all patrons.

And last, but by no means least, if any husband wishes to present his wife with a "love of a bonnet," or anything else in the millinery line, it can be found at the establishments of Mr. John M. Tebbetts or Miss Myra F. Bickford, and exquisite taste in trimming and adornment can be relied on at either place.

We thus hastily mention a few of the most prominent and reliable dealers of this city, in their several lines; and any further information desired can be gleaned from our advertising columns.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. Frank Cutts, formerly of Kittery, but for nineteen years past a resident of Nevada, where he has long been engaged in making bricks, recently arrived home on a visit to his friends in Kittery and this city.

Schooner Addie Jordan, of Saco, before reported ashore on Toddy rocks, Boston bay, was stripped of her sails, running rigging, etc., on Monday. Her bottom was then badly stove in, and at high water she was rolling very heavily; the chance of saving her was considered very small.

We learn from good authority that the report which appeared in some of the New York papers that Mr. E. O. Emerson of Titusville, Penn., formerly of York, Me., had met with a loss of $45,000 by the late fire at Red Rock, is incorrect. The entire loss of oil and tanks was nearly up to that sum, but by the custom among oil men it was distributed by means of a "general average," by which process every holder of oil in the united pipe lines contributes his proportion of a loss. By this means of protection the actual loss in case of a fire becomes only a matter of equitable contribution, and Mr. Emerson's individual loss, we are happy to be able to state, comes nearer forty-four hundred than forty four thousand dollars. Without some such mode of protection as this the oil men would be subject to great hazard, and we are glad to know that Mr. Emerson fares so well, in comparison with what his friends in this region were induced to fear was his loss.

Important.

When you visit or leave New York city, save Baggage Expressage and Carriage Hire, and stop at Grand Union Hotel, nearly opposite Grand Central Depot. 350 elegant rooms reduced to $1 and upwards per day. European Plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse Cars, Stages and Elevated Railroad to all depots. Be careful and see that "Grand Union Hotel" is on the sign where you enter office in the centre of the block. d&wtaus1"80

Edison's Electric Light.

Edison now announces his public exhibition of the lighting of Menlo Park, N. Y., with the electric light, to take place on New Year's eve. Edison's electric light, incredible as may appear, is produced from a little bit of paper, that a breath would blow away. Through this little strip of paper is passed an electric current, and the result is a bright, beautiful light. Edison makes the little piece of paper more infusible than platinum; more durable than granite; and this involves no complicated process. The paper is merely baked in an oven until all its elements have passed away except its carbon frame-work. The latter is then placed in a glass globe connected with the wires leading to the electricity-producing machine, and the air exhausted from the globe. Then the apparatus is ready to give a light that produces no deleterious gases, no smoke, no offensive odors; a light without flame, without danger; requiring no matches to ignite, giving out but little heat, vitiating no air and free from all flickering; a light that is a little globe of sunshine, a veritable Aladdin's lamp. And this light, the inventor claims, can be produced cheaper than that from the cheapest oil.

A Bogus Widow.

In 1877, Joseph L. Lewis, an eccentric old miser who lived in Hoboken, N. J., died, leaving a will by which he bequeathed his fortune, amounting to $1,800,000, to the government, to be used in paying the national debt. Soon after his death a woman who gave the name of Jane Hastings Lewis, appeared, claiming to be the miser's widow, and demanding his property. She was backed in her statements by a number of witnesses, the manager of her case being Marcus T. Sacia. The case has been pending before a master in chancery in Jersey City for more than two years. The woman's attorneys, among other confirmatory evidence, put in a marriage certificate dated Nov. 18, 1853. The lawyers for the government were convinced from the outset that this certificate was a forgery, and that the whole case of the pretended widow was a conspiracy and a fraud. S. J. Lowell, a detective, formerly of Boston, was employed on the case, and he discovered that the certificate had been printed since 1862, when an accident happened to the original plate and a slight alteration was made in it. The other side attempted to explain this; but the advantage gained was followed up, and three or four witnesses for the petitioners finally acknowledged their perjury, and in a hearing just completed, confessed all the details of the conspiracy. They claimed that Sacia induced them to perjure themselves by the hope of a rich reward; stated further that the pretended widow was not even known to Mr. Lewis, and that the whole affair was the bold scheme of a gang of unscrupulous adventurers. Sacia, the author of this bold conspiracy, turns out to be the man who figured in the famous Spence-Pettis case in Boston a few years ago, when he attempted to secure the acquittal of Pettis by manufacturing a bogus notary public's seal and attaching it to a paper purporting to have been executed in New York by the prisoner on the day when the government claimed he was in Boston.

Political.

The southern democrats nominated Grant in the extra session; the Maine democrats are now rising to second the nomination. Every new piece of evidence that the country gets of the reactionary temper and revolutionary purposes of the democracy goes towards making that nomination unanimous and by acclamation.—Traveller.

THE exquisite flavor and undoubted purity of Sanford's Jamaica Ginger "the delicious," recommend it so strongly that no other preparation of ginger can possibly satisfy those who have once tried this elegant and effective remedy for all internal pains, colds, and summer complaints. Among stimulants and tonics it must take the front rank, and will prove itself invaluable as a substitute for every form of spirituous liquors. The public are cautioned against imitations said to be as good.

The jury at Elizabeth, N. J., in the case of Michael Sullivan, tried for murder by burying alive his daughter's illegitimate child, rendered a verdict of manslaughter, with a recommendation to mercy.

My Good Woman

Why are you so out of sorts, never able to tell folks that you are well? Ten to one it's all caused in the first place by habitual constipation, which has no doubt finally caused deranged Kidneys and Liver. The sure cure for Constipation is the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It is also a specific remedy for all Kidney and Liver diseases. Thousands are cured by it every months. Try it at once.

Brig Black Swan, from Miragoane for Boston with logwood, was wrecked off Chatham, Cape Cod, Sunday afternoon; crew saved by the life-saving crews, with life-cars. Schooner J. H. DeWolf was abandoned by her crew off Chatham, Sunday afternoon, she then being in the breakers, leaking, and partially dismasted; a gang of wreckers boarded her, and started with her for Boston.

It has wonderful power on Bowels, Liver and Kidneys! What? Kidney-Wort, try it.

Cuticura

THE GREAT SKIN CURE,

The most Healing, Soothing, and Refreshing External Application in the World.

It rapidly heals Ulcers, Old Sores, and Discharging Wounds; Itching Piles and other Itching affections that have been the torture of a lifetime, thus affording unspeakable gratification to thousands; Burns, Scalds, Wounds, and Festers; all Itching and Scaly Eruptions of the Skin, and all Affections of the Scalp, including Loss of Hair. Nothing like it has ever been known to the most eminent physicians. Ethereal balm and balm of poisonous remedies out of existence. It is revolutionary in its co position and mode of treatment and succeeds in curing every external affection. At every stage it is ably assisted by CUTICURA SOAP, which is a part of itself medicinally and at the same time the most delightfully fragrant and refreshing Toilet, Bath, and Nursery Soap in existence.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a powerful purifying agent and liver stimulant, should be taken to neutralize and resolve away blood poisons, caused by the virus of scrofula, cancer, mercurial or contagious diseases, which maintain and foster diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

SALT RHEUM.

Life a burden from the sufferings caused by this terrible disease.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Please accept my most grateful thanks for the great, very great, comfort I have received from the use of your CUTICURA.

For the past eight or nine years I have been troubled with that dreadful disease, Salt Rheum. For years I would be bed-fast,—my very life a burden to be.

I have used everything in the shape of medicine, both internal and external, but without effect.

My hands were in a terrible condition, the backs of them being all raw, and I thought I would try CUTICURA.

I tried it, and yet it was as if a miracle had been performed, for I will take my oath that in three applications my hands were as smooth as a new-born babe's.

I presume there are hundreds, if not thousands, who know of my case, among whom there may be some very severely afflicted, and if so I would earnestly advise him to give CUTICURA a trial.

Yours, very thankfully,
A. D. BAKER, Pr. Agent, C. S. R. R.

TETTER OR SALT RHEUM

On the hands Cured. A grateful letter.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Having been troubled for many years with the tetter or Salt Rheum, and spent many hard-earned dollars, I will give a trial of your CUTICURA, and thank God, my hands are well. I never had anything do me good like that.

You can put this in the paper and welcome, and may it do some other poor sufferer the same good it has done me! I am well known here, having lived here all my life, and keep a lot of boarders for a living, and sometimes my heart was sore, thinking I could have to give up altogether with my hands; and having a small family to take care of, but put thank God, my hands are well, so I wish return thanks.

Yours respectfully,
ELIZ. BETH BUCKLEY,
LITTLETON, N. H., May 30, 1878.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1; RESOLVENT, per bottle, $1; CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC ELECTRIC PLASTERS

Placed over the centre of the nervous forces, the pit of the stomach, they furnish the absorbents with that marvelous vitalizing and restorative agency, Electricity, united with the curative properties of our fragrant Balsams and Pine. For weak and sore lungs, palpitation of the heart, painful kidneys, liver complaint, billious colic, weak stomach and bowels, rheumatism, neuralgia, and sciatica, they are the best remedy in the world.

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON

THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

BILIOUSNESS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NEROUS DISORDERS, by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Billious pains and aches? Why tormented with Piles, Constipation? Why frightened at dreadful urinary and kidney troubles? Why not be free from the pains that racked you? Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY-WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and One package will make six quart of Medicine.

Good as it proves, let no one delay to try it for yourself. Price, $1.00.

Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,
New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,
New Patent Extension Leg,
New Patent Double Top,
(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once flattered himself that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it and the injury of trusses, is such at the risk of his life, or enjoyment, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him. References given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his great full practice and popularity therefrom throughout this country and the West Indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Save this, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal services, he divides his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturdays, Mondays and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The fame of Dr. Sherman, arising from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain so-called men and imposters to represent themselves as Dr. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents. Boston, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Alphan, Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, above-named and many others; embracing the Choicest Serial and Short Stories by the Leading Force on Novelists, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical

in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientists, Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than

Three and a quarter Thousand

double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE combination of an indispensable current literature, is obvious, because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it promptly, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—New York Daily Advertiser, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages alone it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"It is INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a through compendium of all that is admirable and noteworthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Boston Advertiser.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

Published WEEKLY at $8.00 a year, free of postage.

EXTRA OFFER FOR 1880.

To all new subscribers for 1880 will be sent gratis those numbers of 1879 which contain, besides other interesting matter, the first chapters of "HE WILL DO WHAT HE MAY," a new story by MRS. OLIPHANT, now appearing in THE LIVING AGE from advance sheets.

Club-Prices for the best Home and Foreign Literature.

"Possessed of the LIVING AGE and one or other of our vivacious American monthlies, a subscriber will find himself in command of the whole situation."—Phila. Evening Bulletin.

For $10.50 THE LIVING AGE and either one of the American $4 monthlies (or Harper's Weekly or Bazar) will be sent for a year, both postpaid, or for $9.50 THE LIVING AGE and the St. Nicholas, or Appleton's Journal. Address,

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so bad that my presence in a room with other ladies was offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was so troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD, Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1876.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived here last night. I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for this remedy. I have tried several Douches and everything else I thought I could, but I can not stop the offensive discharge. I have not been able to recover my senses of taste and smell until I tried SANFORD'S CURE. You can refer any one you choose to me, and I will cheerfully inform them I consider it so to the benefit the remedy has been to me.

Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1876.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

not only promptly arrests the corroding discharges of Catarrh, but, by sympathetic action, it restores to some health all the organs of the head that have become affected by it, and exhibit any of the following affections:—

Defective Eyesight, Inflamed and Matter Eyes, Painful and Watery Eyes, Loss of Hearing, Earache, Neuralgia of the Ear, Discharges from the Ear, Ringing Noises in the Head, Dizziness, Nervous Headache, Pains in the Temples, Loss of the Senses of Taste and Smell, Elongation of the Uvula, Inflammation of the Tonsils, Putrid Sore Throat, Tickling or Hacking Cough, Bronchitis, and Bleeding of the Lungs.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full and carefully prepared direction for its use, in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

No matter what may be the extent of your suffering or one of these Plasters. Relief is instantaneous, a fact imported by hundreds of testimonials in our possession. Bear in mind that the most important ingredient in this pharmacy date back less than ten years, and that combinations of gums and essences of plants and shrubs are rendered with Electricity to form a curative Plaster, in soothing, healing, and strengthening properties far superior to all other Plasters heretofore in use in the scientific physician is to the horse-leech.

Price, 25 Cents.

Be careful to call for COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER and if you get some worthless imitation, Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Notice.

THE undersigned, on behalf of the Executors of the will of William H. Y. Hackett, late of Portsmouth, gives notice that he claims to have issued to the Executors of said deceased certificates for eight shares in the capital stock of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire in lieu of Certificate No. 960, dated Jan. 10th, 1844, for five shares, and No. 2824, dated Nov. 18th, 1857, for one share, and No. 3131, dated Sept. 9th, 1867, for two shares, which said certificates have been lost or destroyed; and all persons interested are notified to show cause, if any exists, why new certificates should not be issued in lieu of those lost, as have been applied for, under the provisions of the laws relating to this subject.

Daily Chronicle.

"What are you going to do about it?"

The language of thieves is the same everywhere. The question defiantly asked by Boss Tweed in New York, when his crimes were exposed, is to-day repeated by thieves who have stolen the State of Maine. And it is a matter of serious concern to all honest and honorable men to know what is to be done about it. It is evident something must be done. But what? What is the offense? It is treason, for it is an attempt to overturn popular sovereignty. The hanging of Jefferson Davis after the rebellion would have prevented this crime; but men of narrow minds, like the governor and council of Maine, fail to see the magnanimity of a great nation in the fact that Jefferson Davis still lives, but only that treason has sometimes escaped punishment. And so they dare plot treason in the north; in a more cowardly manner than the other traitor, to be sure, for he risked his life, but still it is treason. The suggestion of the Louisville Courier-Journal that Garcelon be hanged is eminently just, but not lawful. If Watterson will lead his famous "hundred thousand unarmed men" to Maine and accomplish that result, our head-line will be answered. But no one seriously proposes any such means of meeting the emergency.

In this State, in a similar case, the republicans protested against but made no forcible opposition to the illegal acts of a democratic governor. That crime was like this in character, but of infinitely less magnitude. The republicans had the State government with the exception of one branch, and there was no danger that the crime would be repeated. In Maine it can be repeated, indefinitely. This is not a question of expediency, but of duty; not whether Maine's governor for the next one, two or three years shall be a republican, democrat or greenbacker, but whether the government of the people shall continue,—whether elections shall be carried by the voters or by the persons who count the vote.

The exigency requires determined measures. Let the nineteen republican senators and ninety republican representatives who were duly elected on the 8th day of September last take the seats belonging to them on the first Wednesday of January next, without reference to any certificate from Governor Garcelon. Let them receive such democratic and greenback members as will act with them, and then proceed to elect State officers. Pass an act that any man who shall willfully violate his official oath shall be deemed guilty of perjury and punished accordingly. Erect a tablet in the State house bearing the names of the present governor and council of Maine, and such others as are clearly proved to have aided and abetted them, and adding "These men plotted treason against the State of Maine. They failed, and were punished by the universal execration of all honorable men." If Governor Garcelon and his council, who are the last seven wonders of the world for political stupidity, wish to maintain their plot by force, violence must be met by violence. If that be revolution, the illegal act of the governor and council was the beginning of it. Popular government must be maintained by force if its illegal subversion is plotted. No other remedy exists that is prompt enough and effectual to meet the case.

The republican party could afford to await the condemnation of the Maine conspirators at the polls; it would perhaps be expedient for them as a party to do so; but every man who desires the continuance of popular government must unite to defeat this Androscoggin plan, for if successful it will furnish a precedent and plausible excuse for republicans to do the same. And all parties should unite in providing suitable punishment for any person who shall hereafter commit such a crime, be he republican, democrat or greenbacker. HULL.

A Phenomenon in Literature.

Andrews' Bazar, to-day the leading fashion paper of this continent, is an example of what business energy and business promises faithfully fulfilled can do. From the start this magnificent journal has commanded the admiration of every one who has seen it. Its Fashion Departments are always fresh and reliable, its literary excellence unsurpassed; and its fun joyous and refined. Notwithstanding its low price—only $1 per annum—every subscriber, new or old, for 1880, will be presented free with 50c. worth of Andrews' Bazar Patterns, and, furthermore, those who subscribe in time to secure the January number, will receive as a New Year's gift an immense supplement sheet—the largest ever printed—filled with useful and practical designs for making laces, worsted and other fancy work, for painting on china, silk and satin, etc., which could not be purchased separately for $10. Every lady should subscribe for this splendid journal, or at least send ten cents for a sample copy, to W. R. Andrews, Publisher, Tribune Building, New York.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 25, 1879.

Christmas.

This is the day on which the nativity of our Savior is observed. Not that any one is at all certain that the 25th of December was the day upon which Jesus was born. Indeed, it is maintained that this period is the height of the rainy season in Judea, and Shepherds could then hardly have been watching their flocks by night on the plains. Still, such an occurence might have taken place. All this, however, as a matter of chronological certainty, does not interest the expectants of Christmas presents this morning; nor, as we partake of the good cheer, and enjoy the happy festivities of the day, are we inclined to array the laws of nature against the tradition of our ancestors. What we have in hand to-day is the full appreciation of a holiday throughout christendom.

We forget the fate of the Christians in the reign of Diocletian, fifteen centuries ago, when the monarch on one occasion, at Nicomedea, on being told that a large number of Christians had met to celebrate the birth-day of the Savior, ordered that the doors of the church in which they had assembled be closed, and set fire to the edifice, by means of which all the worshippers perished in the flames. No; ours is the fortune to celebrate this annual festivity in a free, happy and social way—to welcome the period with pleasant anticipations, and to associate the day with all that is cheerful and glad. Now is the season of delight for the little ones, who full of hopeful anticipations can hardly await till the moment shall arrive which brings the looked-for presents; then, too, it is the time when the thoughtful-minded ones remember the poor, of whatever degree, when a well-intended donation cannot be amiss, and when the goodness of God to the donor is recognized by an exercise of a proper discharge of duties of his stewardship towards those less favored in the distribution of this world's goods than he or she may have been.

It is well to observe days like this. In the busy paths of life, a rest by the way, a recreation, with its friendly enjoyments incident to the season, like those of Christmas, always produces a salutary result. We all are, or ought to be, better for the day and its associations; and whatever shadows may have fallen over our paths during the year that is closing, let us now hopefully look for brighter hours to be enjoyed in a

"MERRY CHRISTMAS."

Another Ocean Horror.

Steamship Borussia sailed from Liverpool for New Orleans, Nov. 20th, with a crew of fifty-four men, and 180 passengers, 105 of the latter embarking at Liverpool and seventy-five at Corunna, Spain, the vessel leaving the latter port Nov. 24th. On the 1st of December the ship sprang a leak in a heavy gale, and next day was partially abandoned, several boat-loads of seamen and a few passengers leaving in eleven boats. On the 5th inst. one boat, containing the chief engineer, doctor, boatswain and six seamen, was picked up, and the men were landed in Liverpool on the 23d. They say the steamer must have gone down soon after they left her, and there is little hope that any of the 225 persons in the vessels or the other boats escaped.

News and Notes.

Dr. Gage, a dentist of West Medford, Mass., was knocked down and mercilessly kicked some days ago by Gardner B. Chapin of the same town, a commission merchant. Dr. Gage is a little man and Chapin a big one; the former was terribly injured internally, and it is feared will die. Dr. Gage's wife was so much excited over the occurrence that she gave premature birth to a child, and was for several days in a critical condition.

At a meeting of the Farragut association in Philadelphia, Monday evening, Dec. 22d, a committee was appointed to go to Washington to urge the Senate committee on naval affairs to introduce a bill authorizing the payment to the officers and men composing Farragut's fleet, as bounty for the destruction of the enemy's vessels below New Orleans, $143,643.

The Wisconsin State board of charities and reform, which has investigated the management of the Milwaukee house of correction, reports that there is ample proof of brutal treatment by McGarry, Kennedy and Haze and some of their subordinates. The board says that some of the meat furnished to prisoners was unfit for use and should have been thrown to the dogs, and condemns the practice of contracting for prisoners' meat.

Through the efforts of Stephen A. Douglas, a law was enacted in Illinois in 1855 requiring the Illinois Central railroad to pay into the State treasury, in lieu of taxes, seven per per cent of the gross earnings of the road. Under this law the State has received $7,938,778.51 on receipt by the road of $103,024,575.41, and the State is now out of debt.

Royal S. Carr has been found guilty of willful murder, in killing the half-breed Indian Murcummock in Vermont, in December, 1878.

A man was in Portland, Me., recently, looking for his runaway wife and her paramour. A box addressed to the eloping man had been sent to Portland. On the 19th a man answering to that name appeared at the office in search of a box, and was at once arrested, but proved after a lively time that he was another man of the same name as the one desired.

New Hampshire Items.

Four sisters of mercy have arrived in Laconia from Cynthiana, Ky., and have taken possession of St. John's convent.

Mrs. Daniel Eastman of North Conway died on the 21st inst., at the age of eighty-five years, from the effect of a fall by which her hip was broken a few days before.

New Publications.

The Christmas (January) number of Wide Awake,—edited by Lila Farman, published by D. Lothrop & Co. of Boston at $2 per year or twenty cents per single number,—is received. We always marvel, when we take up this excellent magazine for young people, at the immense improvement in periodical literature of this class within the past thirty years; every one of the numerous pictures in Wide Awake is a study, and the poorest is immeasurably ahead of the average engravings in the illustrated magazines of a quarter of a century since; while the reading matter shows careful and judicious editorial supervision, and not only teaches as good lessons in morality as the Sunday school books about "good little boys who died young" used to do, but is such as absorbingly interests the youthful reader, which the aforesaid stories about good little boys, etc., not unfrequently failed to do. A year's subscription to Wide Awake is a fine holiday present for a boy or girl, and will last a whole year.

With the number for Jan. 3d, 1880, Littell's Living Age begins its 144th volume. There is no other such publication; it is unique. Each weekly number contains sixty-four pages, making a total of over 3,300 pages during the year; and this great space is filled with the choicest essays in science, art, theology, politics and general literature, from the pens of the foremost writers of Europe. It is now publishing, from advance sheets, a new serial by Mrs. Parr, entitled "Adam and Eve," and another by Mrs. Oliphant. The publishers present to new subscribers for 1880 the six numbers of 1879 which contain the opening chapters of the two new serisls above mentioned. The present is therefore a favorable time for beginning a subscription. Terms, $8 per year; and for $10.60 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with the Living Age for a year (including the extra numbers of the latter), both postpaid. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

—Young ladies who smoke—if there are such—should take care not to be surprised at it. Neglect of such a precaution has cost Miss Payne of St. Paul, in Minnesota, a desperate experience. She put her cigarette into her pocket to prevent some sudden callers from seeing it, and was set on fire and nearly burned to death in consequence. A burning cigar is no fitting ornament for the mouth of a young lady, but it is even less appropriately disposed of in her pocket.

Don't Rub Off the Enamel

of the teeth with gritty preparations. The teeth are too valuable to be trifled with. When gone, you must have false ones or "gum" yourself through life. Use SOZODONT, which contains no grit. It cleanses the mouth and vitalizes the secretions.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. eod&w

See a Woman!

In another column, packing grapes for SPERRY'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines; excellent for Ladies and invalids.

AROUND HOME.

No CHRONICLE to-morrow.

Take heed lest ye fall.

Christmas being a legal holiday, there will be no work at the navy yard.

One of our toy stores sold $400 worth of goods on Tuesday, the 23d inst.

Mr. Richard Philbrick, of Kittery, has taken charge of the steamer James Sampson.

The public schools were dismissed at noon on the 24th inst., to assemble again on Monday, Jan. 5th.

At Exeter, on the 22d inst., the upper half of the house of Mary Farnum was destroyed by fire; loss $500.

The Odd Fellows cleared just about eight hundred dollars from their fair, which was doing very fair.

A gentleman living in Boston, on the 24th inst. telegraphed to the committee on soliciting funds for the shoe factory, subscribing for ten shares.

Christmas will be celebrated at St. John's church to-day with appropriate services; the musical programme will be varied and interesting; services at 10:30 o'clock, A. M.

C. M. Cignoux, general agent in New Hampshire of the Mutual life insurance company of New York, is the first to occupy apartments in National block, having moved in on Monday, the 22d inst.

Rev. Mr. Pitblado will lecture in the Methodist church on Friday evening; subject, "Poets." There will also be readings by Miss Nellie Giddings, one of our most popular and pleasing local readers.

The dividend due January 1st, 1880, on the Concord & Portsmouth railroad shares held in this city, will be paid at the office of the clerk, Wm. H. Hackett, on Market square, on Saturday, 27th inst.

The members of Storer Encampment, Post No. 1, G. A. R., are requested to meet at Mercantile hall on Pleasant street Friday evening, the 26th inst., for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year.

The appropriations for schools for the year 1879, with literary fund added, amounted to $20,756.65; the total expenditures to $20,752.50; leaving a balance of $4.15. The total expenditures have been $3000 less in 1879 than in 1878.

The board of trustees of the new Christ Episcopal church have organized by the choice of Right Rev. Bishop Niles as president, and Mr. John Hatch as secretary and treasurer. Nothing will be done towards the erection of the church edifice until spring.

The board of aldermen have laid out the new road to Eliot and awarded land damages to the amount $1,405, which includes the fencing of the road, the whole length. The next thing is for the bridge company to construct the bridge over Salmon Falls river, and then the completion of the whole line will be assured.—Dover Democrat.

Forty men belonging to Newcastle are at work in shoe factories in Massachusetts, seven of the number leaving home last week. Should this industry be revived in our city, these men, and also the scores who have been forced to leave our city to obtain employment, would gladly return even if less wages were paid here than elsewhere.

The schooner T. J. Trafton of this port, previously reported dismasted and sunk off the Race point on Sunday, the 21st inst., was owned by Robert Roberts, George T. Vaughan, Thomas S. Gay, Wm. Downs & Son and Charles Walker, of this city; Augustus Spinney and D. Albert Hill, of Kittery; and Abraham Brooks, of Eliot. She was built at this port in 1866, by Mr. Wm. F. Fernald, and registered 217 tons.

The papers report the "steam-tug J. T. Hoffman" as being laid up for the winter at Gardiner, Me. Wonder if this is the steamer J. T. Hoffman that pretended to run between this port and York harbor, six or seven years ago, and which was so slow that she couldn't get out of her own way, besides which her machinery was accustomed to give out two or three times a week, when she would have to be towed in by a man in a dory.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, Dec. 22d.

On Monday of last week, at noon, Mr. Tom Sanborn saw a fox trotting along the highway near the residence of Mr. Thomas Locke, and with a club and by the aid of his dog, succeeded in killing the animal. This explait puts the crack sportsmen of Portsmouth to an open shame, for not one of them ever killed a full-grown, healthy fox, in the open ground, with a club! Mr. Sanborn gave the prize to Mr. John O. Foss, thinking he could obtain a bounty, but was disgusted on learning that he could get no bounty, and that the fox's skin was quite valuable. Next time he kills a fox with a club he will save the skin.

On Wednesday of last week the schooner Elizabeth M. Smith, Capt. Raymond, of Portsmouth, sailed for Boston from the harbor at Locke's neck, with sixty cords of wood from the farm of Mr. David Jennes on the south road.

A series of protracted meetings was begun in the Advent church on Wednesday evening of last week, a fair-sized congregation being in attendance. Elder P. J. Smith preached an eloquent sermon, denouncing "dime novels" and such other sensational literature of the day as poisons the minds of the young. The meetings were continued each evening during the week, but owing to the bad weather the attendance was not so large as it should have been. Elder Smith is an earnest worker in the cause, as are his wife, father and father-in-law, and other members of the family.

On Thursday evening last a social gathering came off at the town hall, and was well attended; music by the Rye quadrille band.

On the 15th inst. Mr. Christopher Grant, a worthy and industrious man, was stricken with paralysis and now lies in a precarious condition. Mr. Grant has been very unfortunate, having been crippled for a number of years by rheumatism; his wife is sick with consumption, a sister of hers is seriously ill, and her brother is insane.

G. H. Jenness, Esq., assistant enrolling clerk of the national House of Representatives, arrived home from Washington on Saturday evening, for the holiday recess.

The Congregational society held their festival in the town hall on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week.

SCRIBE.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVALS.

The interior of the Methodist church presented a beautiful and brilliant appearance Wednesday evening, the 24th; graceful festoons of evergreen, and numerous wreaths, anchors, stars, crosses, and other devices everywhere met the eye. The trees, three in number, groaning beneath the weight of many hundred presents; the bearded Santa Claus in Esquimaux apparel; and the lively, joyous throngs of children, made up a scene almost fairy-like. Rev. Mr. Pitblado, the eloquent pastor of this society, received many valuable and useful presents, as also did that estimable lady, his wife.

The Congregagational Sunday school will have their festival in the chapel on Middle street, the Christian society will have theirs in the church on Court street, and the Universalists have theirs (without a "tree") in Mechanics' hall—all this (Thursday) evening.

The Episcopal Sunday-school will hold the annual holiday in Mechanics' hall on Saturday evening. Christmas carols and stage performances will be rendered.

CHRISTMAS TREE AT THE COUNTY FARM.

For several weeks persons in this city interested in the old people at the county farm, (many of whom have "seen better days,") and the children there, thirty-five in number, have been making preparations to have a Christmas tree at the farm; and on Tuesday evening, the 23d inst., the affair came off. Two trees were loaded with little gifts, chiefly presented by members of the North church, a few friends outside the church, and others in Epping, also contributing; there was enough to give something to each of the aged and juvenile poor present at the services, and those not able to attend were supplied in their apartments.

The services commenced at 6:30 o'clock P. M., Supt. Haven L. Scott officiating most agreeably as chairman. After singing by the choir of the Baptist church at "the Corner," assisted by Dr. Spaulding and Miss Stearns of Epping, devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Newhall, chaplain at the farm. The choir then gave another appropriate selection, and by request the missionary from Portsmouth made a few remarks; after which the children sang in chorus, "Jesus loves me." As the children's hymn ended a loud knocking was heard, and Santa Claus (Mr. Newton Johnston) mysteriously appeared, remarking that he loved cold and could stand smoke, but the steam was very bad when he was coming down the chimney; he then proceeded to distribute the "fruit" from the tree to the happy recipients.

Many of the neighbors attended the exercises, which added much to its interest. Mrs. Sleeper, one of the neighbors, presided at the organ; and Mrs. Scott and the assistant matron, Miss Golder, rendered efficient aid in preparing the trees, as also did the young men employed in the institution. Next morning the inmates of the asylum were supplied with cakes, nuts, etc. The occasion was one of peculiar pleasure, and the friends who so kindly contributed towards the good time may rest assured that their offerings were duly appreciated.

A SUGGESTION.

A correspondent of the Portsmouth Advertiser, speaking of the recent celebration of the Mechanics' association, says:

The speech of the evening, and one which concerns the present and future of our city, was made by Col. Wm. H. Hackett, and related to the need of more manufacturing business with us, and that our citizens ought to make a specialty of some kind of manufacturing; and cited a number of places celebrated for their cutlery, clocks, brittania ware, etc. If we should judge by the advertisements which occasionally greet our eyes in papers printed in adjoining States, one would suppose that we made a specialty of ribbed goods, for there are more "Portsmouth" ribbed goods sold than could be manufactured in our city provided every resident was employed in the business. Portsmouth people, in days gone by, acquired a reputation for ribbed goods, which is being taken advantage of by scores of men in the business in other sections of the country. If the capitalists of Portsmouth are desirous of starting industrial works in this city, why isn't the hosiery business one of the best in which to venture? The reputation for an excellent quality of goods has already been acquired. The business is being conducted here on a small scale, employing nine men, and I understand that the gentleman managing it is looking about for increased facilities, as there is quite a demand for his goods. The present seems to be an opportune time to give the business an impetus and reap some of the advantages of a reputation already acquired.

ANOTHER VIEW.

Mr. Editor: It seems to many that while this spirit of aiding our city by way of encouragement to manufacturers is abroad in our midst, we might look forward to a more liberal policy toward the railroads which terminate in, and those which pass through, our city. While we as citizens of this good old city have some rights which the aforesaid railroads ought to respect, let us look for a moment to the large amount of money disbursed among our merchants by these railroads, through the men employed on their wharves and at their workshops,—an amount which is being increased every year, notably so by the Eastern railroad, which a few years ago was content with a small workshop near the depot, but now has a large number of men employed in their machine shop near the round-house.

The time will come, and at a not far distant day, when the workshops of the Eastern railroad will get nearer to the centre of their business; for the time has passed when the road was run merely for local traffic, with only a few trains passing through this city, and nearly all the business was done at the Boston end of the line, making it necessary for the shops to be in Boston, where the larger part of the work was needed. Now the road is a part of a grand through line, more business being done at this end in proportion than ever before, making it necessary for a change in the location of the workshops, and where would they be more likely to locate than in this city? Here they own a very large amount of property which could easily be made available, and here they would be convenient for the Conway division, besides being situated midway between Boston and Portland, making it without doubt the most convenient location that could be selected, and also enabling them to dispose of valuable property held elsewhere for workshops.

Why quarrel with the road about these damages, those gates, and other unimportant matters, when without doubt, as I have been informed was the case in relation to filling the pond near the Creek, with the proper person authorized by the city government to talk over all the matters pertaining to the interest of the road and city, a mutual understanding would be arrived at which would be not only advantageous to the city but to the road, and the lawyers would be minus?

Let us not be content with the present, but so act that the future of our city may be not only what nature designed her for, one of the most delightful cities to live in, but also one of the best to do business in. OH MY!

AN IMPROVED SPLICE.

The Portland papers, in speaking of of the new barque Henry Warner, say:

This fine barque, belonging to Messrs. Russell Lewis & Co., has been thoroughly built. Her frame was seasoned while on the stocks, and is of the best of New Hampshire oak. She seems to combine the two desirable qualities of speed and capacity to more than a usual degree. She was designed for the South American trade, and has fine between decks for the mule and cattle business, which has been a lucrative employment for many of our Maine vessels from the river of Plate to the West Indies and to Africa. She has all the recent improvements that are of use, among others a new way of splicing or securing the wire rope shrouds. The work has been done by our townsman, Mr. Alvin Neal, and makes a fine appearance. The change from the old, hard, tedious and unreliable splice seems to be that no parts of the rope are touched or interwoven with the other parts. The parts in this case are merely laid side by side and then secured by moulding or casting a melted metal in, through and around the parts, making a solid mass of the metal and wires, making a neat and strong splice which will neither decay nor be liable to be eaten by the moths.

This arrangement we understand has been patented in this country and Europe by Capt. W. P. Healey, of Boston, formerly of Hampton Falls in this State. Capt. Healey has had tests of his splice made at several private establishments in Boston and at the navy yard near this city, always with one result. The attention of builders of suspension bridges has been called to this new splice, and experts pronounce it a great desideratum in the use of wire rope.

Political.

The Yazoo county, Miss., grand jury have solemnly decided that making a lead mine of the back of the man who so far forgets his manhood as to run for office on an independent ticket is no crime. Memphis Avalanche, (dem.)

Governor Garcelon has issued a defence of his course, of some length, which amounts simply to a general denial that any conspiracy exists, and an assertion that he and his council have acted as the constitution directs, and have fortified themselves with legal advice, at every step. We do not know that anybody has charged that they have not the color of law for most of their acts, although this color is very thin in spots. The charge is that they have by design changed the complexion of the legislature by seeking out all the petty technicalities which could be found in the returns of the towns carried by their opponents, and make them an excuse to disfranchise whole towns and districts without affording opportunity for correction. It is also charged that Boss Pillsbury, the State printer, had printed, and the secretary of State sent out, blank returns having only three lines and spaces for alderman, whereas a majority of the signatures were required. Into this trap fell several cities. Governor Garcelon merely tells what the constitution demands of a return. He does not specify the server l resses for all the wholesale changes for which he is responsible, nor would he dare to go before the people with any such statement. We are glad to see the indignation meetings go on, and we hope they will make it very warm for Governor Garcelon.—Worcester Gazette.

From the sturdy, firm and regular beat of the heart, replacing interrupted and feeble action of that organ, demonstrated in a variety of cases, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is known to exert a powerful tonic effect on the muscles of the heart.

It has wonderful power on Bowels, Liver and Kidneys! What? Kidney-Wort, try it.

Why throw away so much money trying worthless medicines, when for 35 cents a remedy can be procured that will cure Coughs, Cold, sore Lungs and Croup? Give it a trial. Adamson's Balsam will do it. Trial bottle, 10 cts.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work entitled by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood invigorated.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

THE MODEL RANGE

—FOR—

Hard or Soft Coal or Wood

—HAVING THE—

Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,

New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,

New Patent Extension Leg,

New Patent Double Top,

(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back or range. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

Ranges, Cooking and Parlor Stoves,

Etc., can be seen at the old stand of

M. W. EARING,

No. 61 Market Street,

Where also can be found a full and complete assortment of KITCHEN WARE, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, etc., which the residents of Portsmouth and vicinity are respectfully invited to inspect before purchases are made elsewhere.

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is undoubtedly the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external application.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once flattered himself that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it and the injury of trusses, to such an extent that life has no enjoyments, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him. Reference given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his wonderful success and popularity therefrom, and from this country and the West in cities for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographs, the likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Save this, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal services, he divides his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturdays, Mondays and Tuesdays; and in Boston Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The fame of Dr. Sherman, arising from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain so-called men and impostors to represent themselves as Dr. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

THE GUNMAKER OF MOSCOW.

A TALE OF THE EMPIRE UNDER PETER THE GREAT.

CHAPTER I.

THE GUNMAKER AND THE MONK.

The time at which we open our story is midwinter, and towards the close of the seventeenth century. Russia had passed throug' the long and bitter ordeal of national Night. The Tartar yoke had been worn till the very bones of the nation were galled; and when this was thrown off civil dissensions and insurrections commenced. The Poles and Swedes plundered the country, and amid general tumult and confusion some half dozen men were clamoring for the throne. At length a few patriotic citizens, pledging everything they held dear on earth to the cause of freedom from this curse of anarchy, and headed by a noble prince and an humble, patriotic butcher, made a bold stand to save the country. Moscow was retaken, and Michael Romanoff was chosen Czar; and this illustrious family still occupies the imperial throne. And now the day of Russian greatness dawned; but the sun was not fairly up—the broad light opened not upon the empire—until Peter came to the throne.

In the department of the Sloboda—the suburbs of Moscow—and very near the river Moskwa, stood an humble cot, the exterior of which betrayed a near arrangement and show of taste that made up for its smallness of size. Nor was it so very small in fact, but only in contrast; for near at hand about it stood many large, shabby, structures that overlooked the prim cot, as bleak mountains may look down upon a verdant hill. And within, this cot was as neat as without. The two apartments in front, one of which was only used in winter, were furnished not only with neatness, but with a fair show of ornament and luxury. Back of these were a large cooking and dining-room, and two small bedrooms; and back still from these was an artisan's shop, and other out-buildings. This shop was devoted to the manufacture of firearms, mostly. Some swords, and other edged weapons, were made here upon special application.

The gunmaker now stood by his forge, watching the white smoke as it curled up towards the throat of the chimney. He was a young man, not over three-and-twenty, and possessed a frame of more than ordinary symmetry and muscular development. He was not large—not above medium size—but a single glance at the swelling chest, the broad shoulders, and the sinewy ridges of the bare arms, told at once that he was master of great physical power. His features were regular, yet strongly marked, and eminently handsome; his brow, which was full and high, was half covered by the light brown curls that waved over it; while his eyes, which were of a bright, brilliant, deep gray in color, lent a cast of genius to the intellect of the brow. His name was Ruric Nevel. His father had been killed in the then late war with the Turks, and the son, leaving his mother with a sufficiency of sustenance, went to Spain soon after the bereavement. There he found work in the most noted armories; and now, well versed in the trade, he had returned to his native city to follow his calling, and support his mother.

Near by stood a boy—Paul Peepon—a bright, intelligent lad, some fifteen years of age, who had bound himself to the gunmaker for the purpose of learning the art. His hair and his eyes were darker than his master's, and if he possessed not so much sound intellect, he did surely possess an unwonted degree of keen, quick wit, and a principle of unswerving integrity.

The sun had been some time below the horizon, and the only light of any consequence that made things partially visible within the shop came from the dull blaze of the coals on the forge, as Paul ever and anon bore down upon the brake that moved the bellows. Suddenly Ruric stepped back from the deep reverie into which he had fallen, and having bade his boy to see that matters were all properly disposed for the night, he turned towards the door, and was soon in the kitchen, where his mother had supper all prepared and set out.

Claudia Nevel was a noble-looking woman, and the light of her still hand some countenance was never brighter than when gazing upon her boy. She had seen the snows of fifty winters, and if they had left some silver upon her head, and some age-marks upon her face, the sunshine of as many summers had left her with a thankful, loving heart, and a prayerful, hopeful soul.

"It is snowing again, faster than ever," remarked Paul, as he took his seat at the table.

"Ah," returned Ruric resting his knife a few moments while he bent his ear to listen to the voice of the storm. "I had hoped 'twould snow no more for the present. The snow is deep enough now. And how it blows!"

"Never mind," spoke the dame, in a trusting, easy tone, "it must storm when it listeth, and we can only thank God that we have shelter, and pray for those who have none."

"Amen!" responded Ruric, fervently.

After this the trio remained some minutes silent, seeming to be listening to the storm-notes that came pealing about the cot. The wind was high, and the snow now came dashing upon the windows with a dreary, melancholy sound. The meal was at length eaten, and the table set back, and shortly afterwards Paul retired to his bed. It was his wont to retire early, for he rose betimes to build the fires and prepare for the labors of the day.

Ruric drew his chair close up to the fireplace, and leaning against the jam he bowed his head and pondered again. This had become a habit with him of late. Sometimes he would sit thus during a whole hour without speaking, or even moving, and his mother did not interrupt him, supposing he might be solving some mechanical problem that had arisen to bother him. But those fits of thought had become too frequent, too lengthy, and too moody for such a hypothesis, and the good woman was forced to believe that they were caused by something more remote than the business of the forge or the lathe. The youth now sat with his brow resting upon his hand, and his eyes bent upon the hearth. For half an hour he had not moved, and his face wore an anxious, troubled look.

"Ruric, my son," spoke the mother, at length, in a low, kind tone, "what is it that occupies your thoughts so much?"

The young man started and turned his gaze upon his mother.

"Did you speak to me, mother?" he asked, after having recalled his mind to things about him.

"Yes, my boy," she said. "I did speak to you. I asked you what it was that occupied your thoughts."

As she spoke thus she moved her seat close to where Ruric sat, and placed her hand upon his arm.

"Tell, me my boy," she added, in a low, persuasive tone, "what it is that dwells thus upon your mind."

Ruric reached out and took his mother's hand, and having gazed for some moments into her face, he said:

"I was thinking—and I have been thinking much of late, my mother—of—of—Rosa and Valdai."

Claudia Nevel started as she heard that name, and for the while the color forsook her cheeks.

"What, my dear boy—what of her have you thought?" she asked tremulously.

"What but of one thing could I think, my mother? You have seen her?"

"Yes, Ruric."

"And you have marked the grace—the loveliness—the surpassing beauty of the noble girl?"

"I know she is beautiful, my son; and also that she is good—at least, so I think."

"Then what but love could move me with deep thought of her? Oh, my mother, I do love her. I love her with the whole strength of my heart and soul."

"Alas, my Ruric, she will never dare love thee."

"You know not that," the youth quickly replied, his eyes turning deeply, and his open brow flushing. "Did I not know she loved me, be sure I would never have allowed my thoughts such range. We were children together, and even then we loved. Fate has dealt differently by us in the years that have passed since those childhood times; but yet I am sure her love for me is not changed, save as increasing age must change all the emotions of our natures into deeper, stronger lights and shades."

"But think, my boy. You, a mere artisan; she, the off-spring of nobility and the ward of a duke—a stern, cold, proud aristocrat, who looks upon people of our station only as harsh masters look upon their beasts of burden. I fear you will find little else but misery in such a course of thought."

"At least, my mother, I will see Rosalind; and if she loves me as I love her, and if she would accept my hand—"

"Hush, my boy. Do not cherish such hopes. Why should she mate with thee when the richest nobles of the land would kneel for her hand?"

"Hold," cried Ruric, starting to his feet—his handsome face flushed, and his bright eyes burning. "Speak not thus,—at least, not now. I flatter not myself, but I claim a soul as pure, a heart as noble as any man in the land. My mind is as clear; my hopes are as high; my ambition as true to real greatness, and my will as firm, as any of them. If Rosalind seeks the love of a true heart, and the protection of stout arms and determined success, then I fear not to place myself by the side of any suitor in the land. But if she seeks immediate wealth, and the glitter of some high-sounding title, then—ah, I know she does not. But let it pass now; I will see her."

Claudia would not oppose the wishes of her son; and she said no more upon the subject. For a while nothing further was said, until Ruric remarked upon the increasing force of the storm.

"Hark!" exclaimed his mother, bending her ear in a listening attitude. "Was that a knock upon our door?"

"Surely no one is out on such a night that could seek shelter here," continued Ruric. "You must have—"

The youth did not finish his sentence, for at that moment the knock came so loud that it was not to be mistaken. The youth caught up the candle and hastened to the door. He opened it, but the blast came roaring in, whirling a cloud of snow into Ruric's face, and extinguishing the light at once.

"Is there any one here?" the gunmaker asked, bowing his head and shielding his eyes from the driving snow with one hand.

"Yes," returned a voice from the Stygian darkness. "In Heaven's name let me in, or I shall perish."

"Then follow quickly," said Ruric. "Here, give me your hand. There—now come."

The youth found the thickly-gloved hand—gloved with the softest fur—and having led the invisible applicant into the hall, bolted the door, and then led the way into the kitchen. As soon as the candle was re-lighted Ruric turned and gazed upon the new-comer. He was a monk—and habited something like one of the Black Monks of St. Michael. He was of medium hight, and possessed a rotundity of person which was comical to behold. He was fat and unwieldly, and waddled about with laughable steps. His huge, black robe, which reached from his chin to his toes, was secured about the waist with a sash of the same color, and the snow, which lay upon his shoulders and back, presented a striking contrast. Ruric brushed away the snow with his own hand, and having taken his visitor's thick fur bonnet, the latter took a seat near the fire.

Before a word was spoken, the youthful host carefully examined his guest's features; and the latter seemed equally desirous of discovering what manner of people he had fallen in with. The monk's face was a peculiar one. The features were very dark and prominent, and almost angular in their strongly-marked outlines. His brow was very fair in mental development, and his eyes dark and brilliant. The slight circle of hair that escaped from beneath the tight skull-cap which he retained upon his head, was somewhat tinged with silver, though his face did not betray such advanced age as this silvery hair would seem to indicate.

"You have been caught in a severe storm, good father," said the youth, after his guest had somewhat recovered from the effects of the cold.

"Aye—that have I, my son," the monk replied, in a deep, rumbling tone. "I left the Kremlin this morning, little thinking of such a change. This storm has commenced since I started on my return. About half a mile from here my horse got foundered in the snow, and I left him with an honest peasant, and then started to make the rest of my way on foot; but I reckoned wildly. The driving storm blinded me, and the piling drifts swallowed me up at every dozen step. My body is not very well adapted to such work. Ha, ha, ha! But I saw your light, and I determined to seek shelter here for the night. By St. Michael, but this is a most severe storm! yet you are comfortable here."

"Aye, father, we try to be comfortable," said Ruric. "My mother could hardly survive a winter in some of the dwellings that stand hereabouts."

The monk made no reply to this save a sort of commendatory nod; and shortly afterward the youth asked:

"Do you belong here in the city, good father?"

"Aye—at present I do," the monk replied. And then, with a smile, he added: "I suppose you would like to know whom you have thus received. My name is Valdimir, and my home is wherever I may chance to be on God's heritage. At present I am residing here in Moscow. There—could you ask me to be more frank?"

Ruric smiled, but he made no direct reply. He was too deeply interested in the face of the monk to enter with much eagerness into conversation. At length the guest asked if he could be accommodated with some sleeping place, and being answered in the affirmative the youth lighted another candle and conducted him to a chamber which was located directly over the kitchen, and which was very well warmed by means of several iron tubes that connected with the furnace below.

"Mother," said Ruric, as soon as he had returned to the kitchen, "who is that man?"

"How should I know?"

"But have you never seen him before?" Ruric asked, in an earnest, eager tone.

"I cannot tell, my son. His face most surely calls up some strange emotions in my mind, but I think I never saw him before."

"And yet he seems familiar to me," the son resumed. "Those eyes I surely have seen before, but to save my soul I cannot remember when or where."

And so Ruric pondered and pondered, but to no avail. After he had retired to his bed he lay awake and thought of the strange face; and all through the night his dreams were but startling visions of the Black Monk.

CHAPTER II.

A STANGE PRECEEDING.

When Ruric came down in the morning he found the monk already there, and breakfast nearly ready. But little was said during the meal. The monk seemed busy with thoughts of his own, and Ruric was wholly engrossed in studying the strange man's features, and pondering upon the various doubts and surmises that had entered his mind. After the meal was over the monk accompanied the gunmaker to his shop, and there he spent some time in examing the quaint articles of machinery that were used in the manufacture of arms.

Ruric was engaged in finishing a pair of pistols, and for some minutes the monk had stood silently by his side watching his movements. At length the youth stopped in his work and laid the pistol down.

"Excuse me, good father," he said, rather nervously, at the same time looking his visitor in the face; "but I must ask you a question. Where have I seen you before?"

"How should I know?" the monk answered, with a smile.

"Why," resumed Ruric, with some hesitancy, "I knew not but that you might enlighten me. I have surely seen you somewhere."

"And are there not hundreds whom you have seen in this great city—aye, thousands—whom you might recognize as you recognize me?"

"Ah—it may be so; but not like this. There may be a thousand faces I would recollect to have seen, but not one of them would excite even a passing emotion in my soul. But your face calls up some powerful emotion—some startling memory of the past—which bothers me. Who are you, good father? What are you? Where have we met before? Was it in Spain?"

"No," said Valdimir, with a shake of the head. And then with a more serious shade upon his face he added—"Let this pass now. I will not deny to you that there may be some grounds for your strange fancies; but I assure you most sacredly that until last night I never came in direct companionship with you before; at any rate, not to my knowledge. You have acted the Good Samaritan towards me, and I hope I may some time return the favor."

"No, no," quickly responded the youth; "if you return it then it will be a favor no more. I have only done for you what every man should do for his neighbor; and so far from needing thanks for my services, I would rather give them for the occasion, for I know of no source of joy so pure and uncontaminated as that feeling in the soul which tells us that we have done a good act."

The dark monk reached forth and took the youthful artisan's hand, and, with more than ordinary emotion, said:

"You touch the harp strings of the soul with a noble hand, my son; and if any deed of kindness can give me joy, it will be a deed for you. We may meet again, and until then I can only say God bless and prosper thee."

With these words the monk turned away, and ere Ruric could command presence of mind enough to follow him he had gone from the house. The youth wished to say something, but amid the varied emotion that went leaping through his mind he could gather no connected thoughts.

After the monk had gone Ruric returned to his bench and resumed his work. He asked his boy if he had ever seen the strange man before, but Paul only shook his head and answered dubiously.

"What do you mean?" the gunmaker asked, looking the boy in the face. "Do you think you have seen him before?"

"I cannot tell, my master. I may have seen him before, and I may not. But surely you would not suppose that my memory would serve you better than your own."

Ruric was not fully assured by this answer. He gazed into Paul's face, and he fancied he detected some show of intelligence there which had not been spoken. But he resolved to ask no more questions at present. He had asked enough he thought upon such a subject, and made up his mind to bother himself no more about it, feeling sure that if his boy knew anything which would be for his master's interest he would be communicated in due season. So he applied himself anew to his work, and at noon the pistols were finished.

Towards the middle of the afternoon, just as Ruric had finished tempering some parts of a gun-lock, the back door of hi shop was opened and two men entered. They were young men, dressed in costly furs, and both of them stout and good-looking. The gunmaker recognized them as the Count Conrad Damonoff and his friend Stephen Urzen.

"I think I speak with Ruric Nevel," said the count, moving forward.

"You do," returned Ruric, not at all surprised by the visit, since people of all classes were in the habit of calling at his place to order arms.

The count turned a shade paler than before, and his nether lip trembled; but Ruric thought that might be the result of coming from the cold into a warm atmosphere. However, he was soon undeceived, for the count's next remark was significant.

"You are acquainted with the Lady Rosalind Valdai?" he said.

"I am," answered Ruric, now beginning to wonder.

"Well, sir," resumed Damonoff, with much haughtiness, "perhaps my business can be quickly and satisfactorily settled, if it is my desire to make the Lady Rosalind my wife."

Ruric Nevel started at these words, and he clasped his hands to hide their tremulousness. But he was not long debating upon an answer.

"And why have you come to me with this information, sir?" he asked.

"You should know that already. Do you not love the lady?"

"Sir Count, you ask me a strange question. What right have you to question me upon such a theme?"

"The right that every man has to pave the way for his own rights," replied Damonoff, sharply. "But if you choose not to answer, let it pass. I know you do love the lady. And now I ask you to renounce all claims to her hand."

"Sir Count, your tongue runs into strange moods of speech. I renounce all claims to Rosalind Valdai's hand? Was't so you meant?"

"Aye, sir—precisely so."

"Perhaps you will inform me what claims I may have in that quarter," Ruric replied, with some tremulousness in his tone, for the subject was one that moved him deeply.

"Ruric Nevel, you shall not say that I did not make myself fully understood, and hence I will explain." The count spoke this as speaks a man who feels that he is doing a very condescending thing, and in the same tone he proceeded: "The Lady Rosalind is of noble parentage and very wealthy. My own station and wealth is equal with hers. My station, at all events. She may possess the undivided right to more property than I do. But that matters not. I love her, and must have her for my wife. I have been to see the noble duke, her guardian, and he objects not to my suit. But he informed me that there was one impediment, and that was her love for you. He knows full well—as I know, and as all must know—that she could never become your wife; but yet he is anxious not to interfere too much against her inclination. So a simple denial from you, to the effect that you can never claim her hand, is a thing that is necessary. You understand me, I trust. We seek this only for the fair lady's own good. Of course, you must be aware that the duke would never consent to her union with you; and yet he would wish to have your denial to show to Rosalind when he announces his decision. I have a paper here all drawn up, and all that will be necessary is simply your signature. Here—it is only a plain, simple avowal on your part that you have no hopes nor thoughts of seeking the hand of the lady in marriage."

As the count spoke he drew a paper from the bosom of his marten doublet, and having opened it he handed it towards the gunmaker. But Ruric took it not. He drew back and gazed the visitor sternly in the face.

"Sir Count," he cried, in a tone full of noble indignation, "what do you suppose I am? Do you mean to tell me that Olga, Duke of Tula, has commissioned you to obtain such a renunciation of me?"

"Stephen," spoke the count, turning to his companion, "you heard the instructions the duke gave me this morning?"

"Aye," return Urzen, directing his speech to Ruric. "I did hear; and you have stated the case plainly."

"I may be as much surprised as yourself," resumed the count, haughtily, "at this strange taste of the duke. Why he should seek this signal from you I can only imagine upon his desire to call up no regrets in the bosom of his fair ward. He knows that she was once intimate with you, and that she now feels a warm friendship for you. For her sake he would have this signal from you."

"But how for her sake?" asked Raric.

"Why," returned Damonoff, "do you not see? Rosalind, in the simplicity of her heart, may think that you—a—that you might claim her love; and out of pure principle grant it to you simply because you were the first claimant."

"But I never claimed her love," said Raric, warmly. "If she loves me, she loves me from her own heart. With the noble duke I never spoke but once, and then he came here for me to temper his sword. If you would marry with the lady, do so; and if you seek help in the work, seek it from those who have some power in the matter."

"You mistake, sir," said the count, hotly. "I seek not power now. I only seek a simple word from one who may have some influence—even as a beggar, having saved the life of a king, may, through royal gratitude, wield an influence. Will you sign the paper?"

Now, all this seemed very strange to Raric, and he knew that there was something behind the curtain which he was not permitted to know. He knew the proud and stubborn duke well enough to know that he never would have sent such a message as this but for some design more than had yet appeared. In short, he could not understand the matter at all. It looked dark and complex; such conduct was in direct conflict with the nature of the man from whom it now appeared to have emanated. Raric pondered upon this a few moments, and he made up his mind that he would on no account yield an atom to the strange demand thus made upon him.

"Sir Count, he said, calmly and firmly you have plainly stated your proposition, and I will as plainly answer. I cannot sign the paper."

"Ha!" gasped Damonoff, in quick passion. "Do you refuse?"

"Most flatly."

For a few moments the count gazed into Raric's face, as though he doubted the evidence of his own senses

"It is the duke's command," he said, at length.

"The Duke of Tula holds no power of command over me was the gunmaker's calm reply.

"Beware! Once more I say: Sign this paper!"

"You but waste your breath, Sir Count, in speaking thus. You have my answer."

"By heavens! Raric Nevel, you shall sign this!" the count cried madly.

"Never, sir."

"But look you, sirrah! Here is my whole future of life based upon my hopes of union with this fair girl. Her guardian bids me get this paper of you ere I can have her hand. And now do you think I'll give it up so easily? No! I'll have your name to this, or I'll have your life!"

"Now your tongue runs away with you, Sir Count. I have given you my answer. Be sure that only one man on earth can prevail upon me to place my name upon that paper.

"And who is he?"

"I mean the emperor."

"But you will sign it!" hissed Damonoff, turning pale with rage. "Here it is—sign! If you would live—sign!"

"Perhaps he cannot write," suggested Urren, contemptuously.

"Then he may make his mark," rejoined the count, in the same contemptuous tone.

"It might not require much more urging to induce me to make my mark in a manner not at all agreeable to you, sir," the youth retorted, with his teeth now set, and the dark veins upon his brow starting more plainly out. "You have come upon my premises, and you have sought your purpose. You now have your answer, and for your own sake—for my sake—I beg you to leave me." Portsmouth Chronicle

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1879.

The Garcelon Gang's "Impartiality."

The Times, under the heading "Who shall judge?" says:

The CHRONICLE considers the question of who shall hold the offices in Maine "a minor one," the great question being, "Shall the will of the people of a State, as lawfully expressed by the people at the ballot-box, be nullified and reversed in defiance of justice, the constitution and the law, by the men who have been appointed to impartially execute the law and who have solemnly sworn to do so." Just so, and don't Gov. Garcelon and his council declare that, so far as their action is concerned, "they have followed the requirements of the constitution and laws with fidelity and impartiality?"

Yes, they do so declare; but we do not believe a word of it; neither, we imagine, does any other person—not even Alonzo Garcelon. When Garcelon and his precious gang of political freebooters deliberately refused to obey the provisions of a statute which with all other statutes they had sworn to obey—the statute which provides for the correcting of clerical errors and technical informalities in election returns—on the ground that it was "unconstitutional," they usurped the prerogatives of a co-ordinate branch of the government, and they knew it; and unless they are all even greater dunderheads than their late amazing performance would justify us in supposing, they were perfectly aware that such action was not in accordance with "the requirements of the constitution and the laws." The Times further says:

And, pray, who but those charged by the constitution with the power to decide is to be the judge of what the law requires? * * So every public officer must decide for himself, with such legal advice as he may obtain, as to what is his duty under the constitution and laws.

It is popularly supposed that the supreme court of the State is the power "charged by the constitution to decide what the law requires"—not the governor, who is bound to execute the laws until the supreme court declares them unconstitutional. And Garcelon took excellent care not to obtain any "legal advice" from the highest tribunal in the State as to "what was his duty under the constitution and the laws." Usurping the judicial power, he coolly arrogated to himself the functions of the supreme court, and kicked that august body and the State laws out of doors together. Once more the Times:

It does not appear that the CHRONICLE has published Gov. Garcelon's statement, or given any consideration to his defence.

We have not indeed published Garcelon's labored-and disingenuous statement, and do not intend to; but we have given it careful consideration, and we consider it exactly on a par, so far as honesty is concerned, with the action it is intended to palliate.

Garcelon and his council claim that they "followed the requirements of the constitution and laws with fidelity and impartiality."

Did they! Excellent men!

These "impartial" constitution-observers, who would not allow the legal correction of technical errors in the returns from towns which gave republican majorities, stand publicly charged with allowing such corrections to be surreptitiously and illegally made in towns which gave fusion majorities; this charge was made in writing by the county attorney of Washington county, who asked an investigation that he might prove it; and the "impartial" and law-abiding governor and council did not dare grant the investigation asked for. And that it would have been proved is conclusively shown by the astounding fact that from none of the towns which gave fusion majorities were the returns found defective, when the legal time for examining them arrived.

The returns of Saco and Biddeford, according to the Biddeford Journal, were sent to Augusta, each having the same technical error; when they were opened—that is, legally opened—Biddeford's return was found correct; Saco's return was not, so Saco was disfranchised. Saco elected a republican representative, and Biddeford two democratic ones—which accounts for the "impartial" treatment of those cities.

In Danforth the republican candidate was Charles A. Rolfe, and he was so voted for and elected; but the town clerk, a democrat, either carelessly or purposely made out his return in the name of "Charles Rolfe," and on this flimsy pretext the "impartial" Garcelon and his gang counted Mr. Rolfe out. This principle, if accepted as sound, would enable an unprincipled returning officer at any time to defeat an overwhelming opposition majority, simply by a clerical error in the returns, purposely made.

But Skowhegan gives perhaps the best illustration of all, of the "impartiality" and "fidelity to the laws" shown by the Garcelon crew. In that town the republican candidate for representative was John Burnham, and the democratic candidate was Alfred Cushman. Burnham was elected. But some of the votes cast for Burnham were printed "Burnam," and some of those cast for Cushman were printed "Alford Cushman;" if all the improperly-printed ballots had been rejected, Burnham would still have been elected; so the righteously "impartial" governor and council threw out the defective republican ballots and counted the defective democratic ones, and thus managed to give Cushman a majority!

Another curious bit of "impartiality" was shown in dealing with the classed towns of Lisbon, Webster and Durham—the two former being republican towns, and the latter democratic. The three together elect one representative, and the republican candidate had a large majority; but the "impartial" counters-out threw out the votes of Lisbon and Webster, counted the vote of Durham only, and gave a certificate to the democratic candidate. This was done because, as the council say, they thought the signatures of the selectmen to the returns from the republican towns were in each case written by one person! No notice was given the parties, and no evidence was taken or sought; and now the selectmen all swear that they individually signed their names—which sinks Garcelon and his crew a little deeper in infamy perhaps, but does not give the seat to the candidate elected by the people. There was not even a pretence of any irregularity of the returns in this case.

Before Alonzo Garcelon's protestations of "fidelity and impartiality" become worthy of consideration, it will be necessary for him to explain the phenomenal accuracy of the returns from all the towns which gave fusion majorities—many of which the republicans claim are known to have sent in returns which were defective, but which were found to be perfectly regular when publicly opened by Garcelon and his pals. He will also need to explain how it occurred that the devotion of himself and his council to the constitution and laws, which was not strong enough to cause them to prevent nor object to the illegal and surreptitious correction of returns from democratic towns, should happen to jump into activity at the precise moment needed to prevent the legal correction of the returns from republican towns. In the meantime, Garcelon's labored defence is like himself and his council—utterly contemptible.

Christmas at Bangor.

There was an excited time at Bangor on Christmas afternoon, caused by the attempted removal from the State arsenal in that city to Augusta of a large quantity of arms and ammunition. Two trucks loaded with the munitions were stopped by the populace, on their way to the depot. A young man named French, claiming to be a clerk in the adjutant-general's office, was bossing the job of removal, and said he was acting under verbal instructions from Garcelon to remove the arms; and a man named Thayer, landlord of the Penobscot Exchange hotel, sent the teams to do the work. Public excitement was increased by the report that J. L. Smith, the greenback candidate for governor, S. W. Hoskins, the fusion Indian agent, and Major M. M. Folsom of Oldtown, were closeted at the Penobscot Exchange during the day; and Major Folsom appeared on the ground after the teams had turned back and told French that he had made a mistake in not pushing through to the depot, and urged him to change his orders for their return to the arsenal. French, however, was unwilling to assume the responsibility of a collision with the populace. As soon as the teams turned back for the arsenal the excited throng of citizens dispersed.

New Hampshire Items.

Warren Bailey of Windham was recently attacked by two highwaymen who demanded his money. He started to run, when one of them put a bullet through his hat, but without injuring the wearer.

A resident of Warner recently received a letter which was written to him and mailed in the year 1861. Where it has been since then is a conundrum for postmasters to answer.

A Lady's Wish.

"Oh, how I do wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so, answered the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. "By using Hop Bitters, that makes pure rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me, as you observe." Read of it.—Cairo Bulletin.

Thirty Years' Experience of an Old Nurse.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best Female Physicians and Nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from the feeble infant of one week old to the adult. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, and gives rest, health and comfort to mother and child. We believe it the Best and Surest Remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhoea in Children, whether it arises from teething or from any other causes. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of Curtis & Perkins is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. 3

AROUND HOME.

Eight degrees below zero in this city, Friday morning.

Concord & Portsmouth railroad dividends paid this morning.

Sanding the slippery side-walks on Christmas morning was sensible, salutary and Sise-like.

The furniture for the new Odd Fellows hall arrived Friday, and is of the most elegant description.

The Rockingham National bank and the New Hampshire National bank each pay a dividend of 3 1-2 per cent, Jan. 1st.

The inimitable Harry Bloodgood, with a large company, will give a minstrel entertainment at Music hall on Monday evening next. The price of the best seats is put at only fifty cents.

The most valuable Christmas present received by anybody in Portsmouth was bestowed upon Mr. William Kennedy. William is a good fellow—about as good as they make 'em—and by previous good conduct had honestly earned his present.

Rockingham Lodge, No. 37, I. O. G. T., will hold an adjourned meeting Monday evening, Dec. 29th, at 7:30 o'clock. New Year's eve (Wednesday evening next) will be observed by a pound party under the auspices of the lodge.

The alarm of fire, Christmas evening, was caused by woodwork in the second story of the Walker house on Elm street taking fire from an overheated funnel. The fire was put out by the extinguishers; damage not large; insured.

Mr. Byron, long an attache of the Boston Journal, and publisher and editor of the Charlestown Advertiser, passed as much of Christmas day with his brother-in-law, Hon. Marcellus Eldredge of this city, as his business duties would permit.

In the case of Gen. Alfred Hoitt of Durham against the Boston & Maine railroad, to recover for loss of house and goods said to have been burned by a locomotive of defendant's road, the referees have sent in their report in favor of Hoitt, awarding damages at $1061, and about $1900 interest. Gen. Marston for Hoitt; A. R. Hatch for the railroad.

Hon. Joshua G. Hall, representative in Congress from this district, was in town on Friday in conference with Gen. Thom of the corps of engineers, Mayor Sise and officers at the navy yard, concerning the removal of gangway rock—an obstruction upon which two men-of-war have struck within ten years. The cost of the removal is estimated at eighty thousand dollars.

The schooner Active, of this port, Capt. Matthews, was on Christmas day ashore in the harbor of Hyannis, Mass., but it was supposed would get off without serious trouble. The Active, bound from Port Johnson for Salem, with a cargo of coal, left Vineyard Haven for her destination at the same time as the T. J. Trafton, and the two vessels rounded the cape nearly together; on taking the storm which destroyed the T. J. Trafton the latter vessel kept on, but the Active got into Hyannis and tried to ride it out at anchor, but was driven ashore on the southwest ground.

At Newmarket, on Christmas eve, Patrick Behen and Michael Carrigan were engaged in a carousal at the latter's house. Next morning Behen was found dead in the house, and his face black, as though he had been strangled. Deceased was about fifty years old, and leaves a wife and children. Foul play being suspected, Coroner Shackford summoned a jury and an inquest was begun. The inquest was adjourned over to six o'clock Friday evening, and in the meantime Sheriff Kent went on the war-path for evidence, and nearly froze himself riding about all day, at the end of which time he had little doubt that Behen died from natural causes, or at least that he was not murdered.

On New Year's day a dinner will be given at Bow mission hall, to all the poor children of the city who have no connection with any religious society or Sunday school. The occasion will be enlivened by music and other entertainments that will be pleasant to the little guests. A competent committee have the matter in charge, who will solicit such aid from the friends of the enterprise as it needs to make it a success.

Mr. Calvin Weeks of Greenland killed an eighteen-months-old hog weighing 612 lbs. dressed, on Dec. 24th.

A wild cat was shot on Gerrish's island, Kittery, a few days ago; and on Christmas day a silver-gray fox was run down and captured by hounds in the swamp back of Pocahontas point.

The turnout of fast horses and handsome sleighs was large and fine, Christmas day, and many sharp brushes took place between rival teams. Seventy-three teams passed the academy inside of fifteen minutes.

Now is the time to look up your good resolutions to commence the new year with. Almost everybody has on hand a stock of old ones just as good as new—made a year ago and but very little used. With a little brushing up these will answer just as well as new ones.

The banjo man at Music hall, the other evening, made a good hit when he told of his falling down a very deep well, whence he could not get out. There he stayed for many days, until, as he said, "I happened to think to telegraph to the governor and council of Maine, and they counted me out!" The joke was so good that after the others had recovered their gravity, several democrats went out and smiled.

G. A. R. ELECTION.

At the regular meeting of Storer Encampment, Post 1, G. A. R., held Friday evening, the following persons were elected officers for the ensuing year:

Commander, George E. Hodgdon;
Senior Vice Comdr., Wm. H. Smith;
Junior Vice Comdr., Marcus M. Collis;

Surgeon, John W. Parsons;
Chaplain, Alfred M. Lang;
Officer of the day, Willard Young;
Officer of the Guard, Samuel Taylor;
Representative to Grand Encampment, Rob't E. Rich; Alternate, Adolph Nelson.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR.

At the annual meeting of Gov. Goodwin Lodge, No. 1661, Knights of Honor, held on Wednesday evening, Dec. 24th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Aaron Young, Past Dictator;
John E. Colcord, Dictator;
William E. Noyes, Vice Dictator;
John H. Locke, Asst. Dictator;
William A. Ashe, Reporter;
Joseph H. Gardiner, Financial Reporter;
Stephen L. Marston, Treasurer;
Oliver M. Jellison, Guide;
Daniel W. Jones, Chaplain and Medical Examiner;
Joseph B. Fletcher, Guardian;
Aaron Young, Representative to the Grand Lodge; John E. Colcord, Alternate; Elbridge G. Peirce, Jr., Joseph H. Gardiner, and Aaron Young, Trustees.

A PANIC AVERTED.

A panic, which might have proved serious if not fatal in its consequences, was averted through the presence of mind of one of the gentlemen in charge of the festival in Mechanics' hall, Christmas evening. An alarm of fire was sounded in the street soon after the large audience was seated in the hall, and a crowd of rough boys and young men who were standing as uninvited guests in the entry-ways of the building, made a simultaneous rush down stairs, shouting "fire!" at the top of their voices. The confusion was instantly communicated to the people within the audience room, and a rush for the stairs was commenced, when the gentleman above alluded to sprang to the door, fastened it, and in a stentorian voice commanded all hands to regain their seats. The effect was magical; men, women and children sank obediently to their places, and order was immediately restored.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

North church services, Sunday, at 10:30 A. M., "Thoughts upon the close of the year." At 7:30 P. M., "The need and fact of Divine help in man's deliverance from sin."

Several Christmas pieces will be sung at the bethel service Sunday afternoon by a special cuoir.

The subject of Rev. Dr. Alden's lecture on Sunday evening will be "The Star in the East."

A HAPPY GATHERING.

Among the many pleasant family reunions in this city on Christmas, probably none exceeded, either in the numbers present or the pleasures of the occasion, a gathering at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Jenness on Hanover street, where thirty persons, representing four generations, were assembled. For some time past Mr. Jenness and his wife have hoped to be able to gather all the family connections of Mrs. Jenness at their home, and this was done on that day. Mrs. Jenness' mother, the widow of William Hill, Esq., of Dover, over eighty years of age but still enjoying good health, was the oldest person present; the youngest of the company was aged about two years. The old lady preferred, in making the journey to this city and back, to ride in a sleigh rather than in the cars, and enjoyed the ride exceedingly and apparently without ill result. The family is honorably represented in the manufactories of Dover, Great Falls and several towns in Massachusetts, by men of superior business qualities and thorough integrity. The family of Mr. Jenness was represented by himself and his sister, Mrs. Robert C. Sides, Jr., of this city, they being the only surviving members. May they have many other happy family reunions.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVALS.

At the Children's Home on Court street there was a festival on Christmas eve, with tree and presents, the little people being greatly delighted.

The Universalist Sunday school jubilated at Mechanics' hall, Christmas evening, and had a most happy occasion, the room being thronged with children of all sizes and ages. The hall was handsomely trimmed with festoons of evergreen, and over the entrance was the legend, wrought in evergreen and gift, "Joy to the world." The stage performances were of an interesting and amusing character, happily conceived and well executed. The recitations by thirteen little children, and the singing, were especially fine; and Mother Goose was never better illustrated since the "Man in the Moon inquired the way to Norwich." The exercises on the stage concluded with an enjoyable presentation of a handsome solid gold watch chain to the pastor, Rev. E. M. Grant, and an elegant bouquet of rare flowers to the Superintendant of the Sunday school. Miss E. Hanscome made the presentation with graceful manner and felicitous speech, to which the pastor responded in words expressive of grateful appreciation and thanks. The seats were then removed from the floor and the young people spent a couple of hours in dancing.

There were also festivals in the Court street Christian church, the Congregational vestry on Middle street, and the Pearl street church, Christmas evening, all being largely attended by the young people and those interested in their welfare and happiness, and an apparently happy time was enjoyed by all present.

A number of friends of the poor, including Mayor Sise and several ex-mayors, having kindly and thoughfully provided the means for a Christmas tree at the city farm, a very handsome one was put up in the old ladies' hospital, on Christmas eve, each inmate of the almshouse receiving a present, and the superintendent providing a handerchief for each. An appropriate service, Supt. Shannon presiding, was held before the venerable Santa Claus made this his first appearance at that place. Much credit is due Mr. Shannon and his family for their labors and kind interest. During the evening one of the old ladies, eighty-four years old, gave a short recitation; and all the old people appeared particularly to enjoy the singing of some old-time pieces by the friends present. C. M.

Some of the boarders at the county retreat on Islington street presided over by Col. Kent, on Christmas eve gave a minstrel entertainment in one of the corridors to a "crowded house." We are told that the boys did well, and should judge that they did from the Christmas dinner furnished them by the sheriff and his excellent lady,—roast sparerib and vegetables in abundance, with a very nice dessert. On Christmas morning the prisoners were treated to nuts, cakes and candies by a few outside sympathizers, and appeared to be very grateful. ***

At Faith Home, as usual on Christmas eve, the stockings were hung up near the mantel, there being twenty-four of them in all, being one each for the inmates, the members of Mr. Loyne's family, and the help; and in each, on Christmas morning, was found a generous supply of presents, the old ladies receiving aprons and other useful articles. During the day the good deacon from Hampton (Mr. Leavitt) made his annual visit with a load of vegetables, pastry and milk, the gift of himself and neighbors; the annual gift of plum pudding and sauce from a lady in this city, a liberal supply of tea from a gentleman who has often before made similar donations, a plum pudding and other articles from friends in Dover, and several other gifts from friends in this city, were also received. W. A. L.

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

Why throw away so much money trying worthless medicines, when for 35 cents a remedy can be procured that will cure Coughs, Cold, sore Lungs and Croup? Give it a trial. Adamson's Balsam will do it. Trial bottle, 10 cts.

My Good Woman

Why are you so out of sorts, never able to tell folks that you are well? Ten to one it's all caused in the first place by habitual constipation, which has no doubt finally caused deranged Kidneys and Liver. The sure cure for Constipation is the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It is also a specific remedy for all Kidney and Liver diseases. Thousands are cured by it every months. Try it at once.

News and Notes.

Three robbers entered the house of Bernard Pickers, an Ohio farmer, Dec. 25th, and demanded his money. When he resisted they killed him, and then tortured his wife until she told them where to find the money; they stole $1500, and escaped.

The Bagley hat factory, at Newburyport, was burned Dec. 25th, causing a loss of about $110,000 and throwing 200 persons out of employment.

Rev. A. W. Paige, for many years a reputable preacher of the Previdence conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, proves to have been a miserable hypocrite, and goes to jail in Connecticut on his own confession of criminal misconduct with women.

Henry Ramsdell of Lincoln, Me., was found near a pond on Tuesday of this week, shot in the breast and head. He went out Sunday to look for an otter he had wounded late Saturday afternoon. He is supposed to have accidentally shot himself, dying from his wounds and the intense cold. He was thirty-five years old and unmarried.

Two servant girls attacked and drove off a mulatto burglar named John Robertson, who was attempting to rob Gen. Hendrickson's house in New York, on Monday night of this week. One of the girls was brutally beaten, stamped on, and her skull broken so that she will die. The ruffian was soon captured.

The destruction of the Bagley hat factory at Newburyport entails a serious loss on that city. The hat factory was one of the few industries that flourished in Newburyport, and its success has been due largely to the business sagacity of Hon. John J. Currier, the present mayor of that city, who is the principal spoke in the wheel that has moved it.

American Inventive Genius.

What with electric lights, telephones, elevated railroads, and the thousand and one minor articles of every-day use, there seems to be no limit to the creative mind of American artisans. Our patent laws offer them a better protection than those of any other country, and at a much less price. This is only a deserved recognition of those who contribute so largely to the welfare of a great people; but many inventors fail of reaping their just reward by not having their inventions properly placed before the patent commissioners. This can only be done through an experienced agent; one not only conversant with all the workings of the government office, but also thoroughly posted as to patents already granted, and capable to advise as to the patentability of a new article and the judiciousness of securing letters patent therefor in foreign lands. Probably there is no living solicitor of more extended experience in this line than Mr. R. H. Eddy of Boston. For nearly forty years he has held a foremost place in the patent business (to his efforts we are mainly indebted for the registry of trade-marks and designs,) and no solicitor stands higher in general estimation than Mr. Eddy. His office is still at 76 State street, Boston, as for many years past.

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.
The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood
The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.
The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen holding the paper before the light.

Cuticura

THE GREAT SKIN CURE,

The most Healing, Soothing, and Refreshing External Application in the World.

It rapidly heals Ulcers, Old Sores, and Discharging Wounds; Itching Piles and other Itching affections that have been the torture of a lifetime, thus affording unspeakable gratification to thousands; Burns, Scalds, Wounds, and Fissures; all Itching and Scaly Eruptions of the Skin, and all Affections of the Scalp, including Loss of Hair, Nothing like it has ever been known to the most intelligent physicians. It has swept a host of poisonous remedies out of existence. It is revolutionary in its composition and mode of treatment and succeeds in curing every external affection. At every stage it is ably assisted by CUTICURA SOAP, which is a part of itself medicinal; and at the same time the most delightfully fragrant and refreshing Toilet, Bath, and Nursery emollient ever made.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a powerful purifying agent and liver stimulant, should be taken to neutralize and resolve away blood poisons caused by the virus of scrofula, cancer, malarial or contagious diseases, which maintain and foster diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

SALT RHEUM.

Life a burden from the sufferings caused by this terrible disease.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Please accept my most grateful thanks for the great relief and permanent cure I have received from the use of your CUTICURA.

For the past eight or nine years I have been troubled with that dreadful disease, Salt Rheum.

For months I would be bed fast,—my very life a burden to me.

I have tried everything in the shape of medicine, both internal and external, but without effect.

My hands were in a terrible condition, the backs of them being all raw, and I thought I would try CUTICURA.

I tried it, and, as I said, it was as if a miracle had been performed, for I will take my oath that in three applications my hands were as smooth as a newborn babe's.

I presume there are hundreds, if not thousands, who know of my case, among whom there may be some one similarly afflicted, and if so I would earnestly advise him to give CUTICURA a trial.

Yours, very thankfully,
A. D. BAKER, Sup't. Ch. S. R. R.

TETTER OR SALT RHEUM

On the hands Cured. A grateful letter.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen—Have for been troubled for many years with the otter or Salt Rheum, and spent many hard-earned dollars, which was thrown away. Your CUTICURA, and thank God, my hands are well. I never had anything do me so little (but) good.

You may put this in the paper and welcome, and may it do some other poor sufferer the same good it has done me! I am well known here, having lived here nearly fifteen years and kept boarders for a living, and sometimes my hurt was sore, but now I would have to move up altogether with my very hands, and having a small family to take care of, but oh! thank God, my hands are well. I can never thank

Yours respectfully,
ELIZ BETH BUCKLEY,
LITTLETON, N. H., May 30, 1878.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small size, containing large boxes, contains 50 cents; medium size, containing three times the quantity of small, $1 per bottle; CUTICURA RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle; CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Hard or Soft Coal or Wood

—HAVING THE—

Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,
New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,
New Patent Extension Leg,
New Patent Double Top,
(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back outlet. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

Ranges, Cooking and Parlor Stoves,

Etc., can be seen at the old stand of

M. W. EARING,

No. 61 Market Street,

Where also can be found a full and complete assortment of KITCHEN WARE, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, etc., which the residents of Portsmouth and vicinity are respectfully invited to inspect before purchases are made elsewhere.

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of curing Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, can now be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once fancied himself that it was a trifle. Every man who has a rupture and every man who now suffers from it and the injury of trusses, to such an extent that life has no enjoyments, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and misery comes upon him. Reference given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gent emen, clergymen and merchants of his success in actual practice and popularity therefrom; send for this book and the West Indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Save this, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal service, he divides his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturday, Monday and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The fame of Dr. Sherman, arising from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain co-laborers and impostors to represent themselves as Dr. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, D. W. R. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, the Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Oliphant, Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-eight year, admittedly survived and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, all-no-name is and many there, embracing the Choicest Serial and Short Stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical

in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientists, Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than

Three and a quarter Thousand

double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE compilation of an indispensable current literature,—indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price or one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages alone it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

IT IS INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a thorough comprehension of all that is admirable and note worthy in the literary world."—Post & Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Boston Advertiser.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

Published WEEKLY at $8.00 a year, free of postage.

EXTRA OFFER FOR 1880.

To all new subscribers for 1880 will be sent gratis those numbers of 1879 which contain, besides other interesting matter, all the first chapters of "HE WHO WILL NOT WHEN HE MAY," a new story by MRS. OLIPHANT, now appearing in THE LIVING AGE from advance sheets.

Club Prices for the best Home and Foreign Literature.

"Possessed of the Living Age and one or other of our vivacious American monthlies, a subscriber will find himself in command of the whole situation."—Phila. Every's Bulletin.

For $10.50 THE LIVING AGE and either one of the American $4 monthlies (or Harper's Weekly or Bazar) will be sent for a year, both post-paid; or, for $9.50 THE LIVING AGE and the St. Nicholas, or Appleton's Journal. Address,

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so bad that my presence in a room with other was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was no troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD, Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1876.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived here to-night all right. I don't know what I should have done if I had not been for this remedy. I have used Douches and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, I have not been able to recover my senses of taste and smell until tried SANFORD'S CURE. You can refer any one to me if you desire, and I will cheerfully inform them of the benefit to me the remedy has been to me. Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1876.

not only promptly arrests the corroding discharges of catarrh, but, by sympathetic action, it restores to sound health all the organs of the head that have become affected by it, and exhibit any of the following affections:

Defective Eyesight, Inflamed and Matter Eyes, Painful and Watery Eyes, Loss of Hearing, Earache, Neuralgia of the Ear, Discharges from the Ears, Ringing Noises in the Head, Dizziness, Nervous Headache, Pains in the Temples, Loss of the Senses of Taste and Smell, Elongation of the Uvula, Inflammation of the Tonsils, Putrid Sore Throat, Tickling or Hacking Cough, Bronchitis, and Bleeding of the Lungs.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full and carefully prepared directions for use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

AN Electro-Galvanic Battery, combined with a highly Medicinal Plaster, forming the grandest curative agent in the world of medicine, and utterly surpassing all other Plasters heretofore in use. They accomplish more in one week than the old Plasters in a whole year. They do not palliate, they CURE. They Relieve Affections of the Chest.

Relieve Affections of the Lungs.
Relieve Affections of the Heart.
Relieve Affections of the Liver.
Relieve Affections of the Spleen.
Relieve Affections of the Kidneys.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26th.

As an offset to the claim of the democrats that they will make a gain of one in the Senate by unseating Kellogg of Louisiana comes a story that the English mission is to be offered to Senator David Davis, thus giving place for a republican from Illinois. What the authority for the story is I don't know, but it seems to have gained credence quite generally. Hon. E. B. Washburn is named as Judge Davis' successor. There is one curious fact in connection with the senatorial situation which perhaps people have not noticed. A few years ago the democrats controlled so many northern legislatures that no change could be made by death or resignation without profiting them, and they gained some thus. Now, it is exactly the reverse. The republicans control every legislature in the northern States except Indiana, (unless the counting-out scheme prevails in Maine,) and therefore would gain wherever there should be changes in a State now represented by democrats.

The rivals of General Garfield for the senatorship in Ohio are getting slightly mixed; they say he is too valuable a member to send up from the House, and at the same time that he ought not to go to the Senate because he is a free trader; but the fact is, General Garfield is not a free trader, having done more to maintain the present revenue system than almost any other man in his party. If General Garfield is so valuable in the House, why would not he be in the Senate?

It is said that prominent members of Congress are organizing a movement to still further reduce the rate of interest to be paid on the national duty to be refunded in the future. Many think it can be refunded at the rate of three per cent. The secretary of the treasury does not think so, but many of the democrats suspect him of holding that opinion because so low a percentage will not allow margin enough for the syndicates who are expected to help sell the new issue.

The friends of Senator Cameron say he will make a vigorous leader of the republican forces next year, and I find his selection as chairman of the national committee is received with great favor. He is a very popular man, and the democrats will have to look sharp for a leader to marshal their forces with equal spirit and success.

The families of Senators Allison, of Iowa, Blaine and Cameron, and Representatives Morton, Chittenden and Robeson, are mentioned as to figure most conspicuously in social events this season.

A Lady's Wish.

"Oh, how I do wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so," answered the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. "By using Hop Bitters, that makes pure rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me, as you observe." Read of it.—Cairo Bulletin.

My Good Woman

Why are you so out of sorts, never able to tell folks that you are well? Ten to one it's all caused in the first place by habitual constipation, which has no doubt finally caused deranged Kidneys and Liver. The sure cure for Constipation is the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It is also a specific remedy for all Kidney and Liver diseases. Thousands are cured by it every months. Try it at once.

—A little girl in Sunday school, who had been pulling her doll to pieces during the week, was asked by the teacher: "What was Adam made of?" Answer: "Dust." "And what was Eve made of?" Answer: "Sawdust."

It has wonderful power on Bowels, Liver and Kidneys! What? Kidney-Wort, try it.

—An observing editor, who has probably tried the experiment, says that no amount of training will teach a dog to sit in front of a baker's shop while his master is in a saloon.

Why throw away so much money trying worthless medicines, when for 35 cents a remedy can be procured that will cure Coughs, Colds, sore Lungs and Croup? Give it a trial. Adamson's Balsam will do it. Trial bottle, 10 cts.

—"Embroidered crash is much used for piano covers," which makes a terrible sameness about the instrument.

From the sturdy, firm and regular beat of the heart, replacing interrupted and feeble action of that organ, demonstrated in a variety of cases, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosites is known to exert a powerful tonic effect on the muscles of the heart.

Will He Be a Candidate?

It is said that Frank Jones is to be nominated for governor of New Hampshire, as an unwilling candidate; and after the persuasive efforts of his friends, Barkis-like, is to yield and become the democratic standard-bearer.

This will depend upon the outlook. If the republicans nominate a man in their Presidential convention whom the democrats can be induced to believe they can defeat, and if a canvass of the chances look as if, with the aid of Mr. Jones' personal magnetism, this State could be captured, he will sail in and take his chances for being governor. Mr. Jones says, and we think sincerely, that he enjoys business better than politics; but let some zealous democrat tell him he cannot be elected, and he will fire up sufficiently to make it warm work for the republicans to defeat him. The suggestion that Mr. Jones is to be the man, in any event, under whose leadership the democracy hope to carry the State next fall, should be a sufficient notice to the republicans to select a man as their candidate who has work in him. If Mr. Jones concludes to take the nomination of the democrats there will be a vigorous campaign, though it may be carried out upon the plan of a still hunt. He is by far the strongest man the democracy can bring into the field, and this fact he is aware of. He will not be trotted out unless he is pretty sure, in his own mind, that he will have a fair prospect of winning.

The atrocious manner in which the democratic governor of Maine has in his recent usurpation behaved, has convinced very many republicans who, sixty days ago, might have been induced to vote for Frank Jones from personal reasons, that a democrat in power, controlled by party lies, may at times prove disastrous to the best interests of the people, and a menace to popular government.

The Pure but Slandered Garcelon.

The complaints against Gov. Garcelon and his council may in the main be resolved into this, they have not allowed the republicans to amend the count, names, returns, and so forth, in their own favor, but have applied the law, in its exactness, to every case.—Times.

This statement is about as flatly opposed to the real state of the case as it is possible to make it. The complaint against Garcelon and his gang is that they did not "apply the law"—the law of 1877 providing for the correction of technical and clerical errors in election returns, and which law, with the other State laws, every man of them solemnly swore to support when they took their oaths of office—"in its exactness, to every case;" but that they positively refused to apply it at all in cases where there were technical errors in the returns from towns or cities which gave republican majorities, while at the same time illegally permitting the correction of defective returns from towns which gave fusion majorities. Even Garcelon himself is not brazen enough to pretend that he and his crew of counters-out paid any attention to the statute of 1877.

In this they have but followed republican precedents.—Times.

Not so. Garcelon and his men have counted out on technical points more members of the legislature than the republicans refused seats to on similar grounds during the entire period the State has been under republican control; in fact, during fifty-nine years, just sixteen persons apparently elected were refused certificates by the governor and council on account of fatally defective returns, while the Garcelon gang have counted out thirty-seven who were fairly and indisputably elected. In Portland, for instance, last year the fusionists elected the representatives by thirty or forty majority, and in the returns a number of votes were put down as "scattering," instead of the name of each person voted for being given, but Gov. Conner and his council gave certificates of election to the men who were really elected; in Portland this year the republican candidates for representatives had over four hundred majority over all others, the same "scattering" occuring in the returns—and so Garcelon and his crew disfranchised the city! Not much "following the republican precedents" there.

Those in office are to act, as a general rule, upon their own judgment in the performance of their duty, and not to go to the court for instruction at every step, like a pupil to a schoolmaster. When they have acted, those who feel aggrieved have their remedy by application to the court. But in case an officer desires legal advice he may ask it of the judges or others. Gov. Garcelon says he has the best legal advice to sustain his action in the election cases.—Times.

The executive of a State is sworn to execute the laws—not merely such laws as may suit his fancy, but the whole of them—until they are declared unconstitutional; and the only tribunal empowered to make such declaration is the supreme court of the State. Neither the governor and council, nor any third-rate or first-rate lawyer whom they may choose to consult on the matter, has any such authority; and if Garcelon was told by "the best legal advice" that the law which he and his council have ignored was unconstitutional, it was his self-evident duty to have directed the supreme court to pass upon the question,—not to coolly set the law aside, and himself above the law and the courts.

He has done his duty according to his best judgment, and will presently turn his work over to the legislature, where each house is the judge of the election of its own members. The disappointed politicians within and without the State should possess their souls in patience and let the law take its course.—Times.

The only meaning which we can take from this is, that Garcelon and his gang having fixed up a legislature to suit themselves and whoever is behind them pulling the wires, the proper thing to do now is for the elected members of the legislature who have been counted out to "possess their souls in patience," and keep quiet until the defeated candidates who have been counted in choose to vote themselves out of the seats dishonestly given them, and to seat the rightful owners! This is a very nice plan; but even if it were certain that the men elected by Garcelon would give up their seats to the men elected by the people, it is pretty certain that they would not do it till they had organized both houses of the legislature, and chosen a fusion governor and council to again count the vote of the people next year; and it is possible they might select a set of unscrupulous and dishonest scamps who would deliberately attempt to defeat the will of the people by the most unblushing trickery, shameless partisanship and reckless disregard of law and decency.

News and Notes.

A tramp giving the name of Edward Murphy nearly murdered Mrs. Eldrich at Mount Holly, N. J., Christmas day, because she refused him alms. He was arrested.

A house, barn and twenty-three head of cattle, belonging to Henry Pease of Little River, near Westfield, Mass., were burned Saturday morning. Loss, $17,000; insurance $14,000; incendiary.

Two discharged employes of the Bridgeport, Conn., Cutlery Works have been fined $75 each for intimidating workmen hired in their places.

Timothy G. Stone of West Suffield, Conn, aged thirty-five years, hung himself in a tobacco-barn Friday afternoon. The coroner's jury found him insane.

Hon. Alexander Campbell and wife of Cherryfield, Me., celebrated their golden wedding Dec. 13th. Their son, Fred I. Campbell, was married to Miss Josie O'Brien the same day.

During the progress of a dance at a residence near Ellerton, South Carolina, Christmas eve, William Bates, while drunk, went into the house and shot Stephen Bush, killing him almost instantly. Bates was lodged in jail.

A Barre, Vt., man recently bought some buckwheat flour for his wife to make into cakes. She set it on for breakfast, but said it would not rise satisfactorily. It appeared to be gritty. While they were trying to eat it, up comes the grocer's clerk and wanted to exchange the flour, saying that he had put up plaster of Paris by mistake.

It is rumored that Gov. Van Zandt of Rhode Island has been tendered the office of minister to Russia.

A man about thirty years old, named George Fields, of Westminster, Vt., committed suicide last Thursday afternoon by shooting through the heart. He was unmarried and lived with his parents. Dissolute and intemperate habits were the causes.

There was a mutiny on board the Italian barque Francisco Donavaro, on her recent passage to New York, during which the cook and boatswain and the two mutineers were killed.

A vessel has arrived at Liverpool with five more survivors of the steamer Borussia on board, but nothing new concerning the disaster can be obtained. The owners of the steamer allege that they believe the vessel still afloat, as she is built with water-tight compartments; and she may be fallen in with, as she is in the track of American vessels.

Irwin Russell, the well known dialect writer and poet, and formerly a contributor to Scribner's Magazine, died at New Orleans recently in destitute circumstances, and among strangers, after a few hours' illness. This should be a solemn warning to young men against indulgence in what is termed dialect poetry!

Three of a gang of negro thieves who have been robbing the farmers of New Jersey were sent to prison Dec. 25th, and others have been arrested.

P. S. Gilmore's new national anthem entitled "Columbia" was produced in New York on Christmas day, and was pronounced a grand success.

Whitcher and Josiah Minot, with Mr. Minot as president and James Minot as cashier.

Hon. Charles H. Bell has been elected a trustee of Phillips Exeter academy to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. Amos Tuck.

The stock of the estate of the late Betsy Whitehouse of Pembroke was sold at auction at Concord, Dec. 23d, and brought the following prices: Eighty-eight shares Maverick Wharf Co. at $16, 7 shares Newburyport Gas Co. at $19, 175 shares Jersey City and Hoboken Gas Co., "par 20," at $30, 37 shares Rondout and Kingston Gas Co. at $19.352 shares Concord Railroad at $92.25, 20 shares Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad, preferred, $84.

Political.

The Boston Journal thinks it has found the origin of the plot to steal the legislature of Maine. The engineer in the employ of Messrs. Alfred Mudge & Son, printers, of Boston, used to have among other callers a printer out of work, lately from Calais, Me., who was an old acquaintance, drop in to see him frequently. This man showed before election a mysterious knowledge that the republicans in Maine were going to be counted out, and in gossip about it, said he had been employed to print secret circulars for the fusionists, and that E. F. Pilsbury, who was expecting the United States senatorship, was the head of the conspiracy. A fortnight ago this printer left for New York. The engineer having mentioned what he heard, was induced to go with a reporter to New York after "the man with a secret." The printer, without denying anything he had told, resolutely refused to tell any more. Later, when the reporter had left, and probably after his stern resolution had been somewhat moistened, the printer, being cross questioned, repeated in fragments all he had said before and gave further details. Charles F. Whidden, Jr., editor of the Calais Times, where the man was employed, was deep in the plot, and several meetings were held in his office. The plan to disfranchise Portland and other cities was discussed, and it was planned to send out the imperfect blanks as one means for the purpose. The man also directly implicated Tilden's friends in New York in it, and said an envoy went to New York and returned with promises that a new "barl" should be opened. The ultimate object of the plot was to count in Maine for Tilden in 1880. This, we may remark, has been hinted at before, in other quarters.

The anti-Tilden democratic journals now name Horatio Seymour as their best man for a candidate for the presidency. This is done to kill off Mr. Tilden. We cannot see what especial difference it makes; if the democrats propose to steal the Presidency the next time, any candidate will answer their purpose.

The law never intended that the popular will should be thus nullified, and no legal technicalities can disguise the fact that the people of Maine elected a republican legislature, and are therefore entitled to it. Such being the case, the "Fusionists," as they are called, have committed a blunder equivalent to a crime, and cannot escape the penalty attached. Their temporary victory will prove worse than the worst defeat.—St. Louis Republican (dem.)

AROUND HOME.

A dividend that for thirty years had been uncalled for, was paid by the treasurer of one of the railroads terminating in Portsmouth, last week.

A little son of Medical Inspector C. J. Cleborne, U. S. N., fell down stairs Saturday afternoon, and broke one of his hips. The lad is about four and a half years old.

Manufacturing companies pay better dividends this week than in July. The Salmon Falls Co. increases from two per cent to three, the Newmarket Co. from three to five, and the Manchester mills from five to six.

Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad bonds sell in the market at seventy-five. They pay 4 1-2 per cent interest, which is six per cent upon the market price, and they are attracting the attention of investors.

Work in the department of construction and repair at the navy yard was suspended on Saturday, until the 2d day of January. The departments of yards and docks, steam engineering and equipment had previously suspended.

Mr. J. E. Lord, one of the most popular readers on the New England circuit, will give one of his fine entertainments in the Court street Christian church this (Monday) evening. Mr. Lord will also read in Dover, on Thursday evening, Jan. 1st.

Patrick Madden of Dover withdrew from the six-days tramping match in New York on the third day of the race, Dec. 24th, he having then made 147 miles, and being a long way behind the leading men, with no possible chance of winning a prize.

Through the dropping out of a figure in an item regarding the award to Gen. Alfred Holt, of Durham, as damages for the burning of his farm buildings by a spark from a Boston & Maine railroad locomotive, we were made to give the amount awarded as $1061; it should have read $10,616.

To-morrow evening, at Music hall, a minstrel entertainment will be given by Harry Bloodgood's company. Bloodgoods is an acknowledged leader of artists in the burnt cork line, and the amusement lovers who go to see him and his troupe will probably not be disappointed in the performance.

The sleighing during the latter part of last week was excellent throughout all the surrounding country—never better, many persons say. On Sunday the fine travelling was taken advantage of by many suburbans, who came into town to attend church, and by townspeople who drove out just to get a change of air.

We are informed that Mr. Wm. J. Moat, formerly assistant brewer at Jones' brewery in this city, but for the past year employed as brewer by Messrs. Carney, Lynch & Co., of Manchester, is to return here and take charge of Jones' brewery on January 1st. Mr. Josiah H. Morrison, the present brewer, being in ill health, is to make an extended visit to Florida with his family.

The schooner Hattie Lewis is laid up for the winter at the wharf of the Raynes shipyard; the G. W. Raitt and the Triton at Call's wharf, inside the Noble's island bridge; the Union Flag at Sise's wharf; the Jesse Williamson, Jr., and the Wingaersheek, at a wharf near the spring market; the Mary Willey and the Unison on opposite sides of the dock just south of the foot of Daniel street; and the E. A. Creed at Liberty bridge.

A correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter, writing from Washington, gives a list of the persons holding appointments under the United States treasury department who are credited to New Hampshire, with the salaries attached to their respective offices. In the list of employees at Washington we find the names of three persons from this city, as follows: Israel Kimball, in the internal revenue department, salary $2250; P. H. Folsom, clerk, $1900; Mary S. Laighton, clerk, $900. The lighthouse keepers credited to New Hampshire are: White island, Isles of Shoals—Edwin J. Hobbs, keeper, $820; Alden W. P. White, assistant, $470. Whalesback — Leander White, keeper, $700; F. L. Chauncey, assistant, $400. Boon island—Andrew J. Leavitt, keeper, $820; David R. Grogan, first assistant $470; George O. Leavitt, second assistant, $420.

Mr. Frank Foye, of Brocton, Mass., a brother of Mr. Samuel D. Foye of this city, was thrown from his carriage on Monday, Dec. 15th, and striking on his head was rendered insensible, in which condition he remained until the following Sunday, when he revived, coming at once into full possession of his senses, and is now in a fair way to recover. It is a remarkable case.

Never did Mechanics' hall contain a merrier crowd than that which swarmed into it on Saturday afternoon. It seemed that every boy and girl in the city must be there. The Episcopal society is noted for its large Sunday school—and especially so when there is a picnic or Christmas festival, the latter being the occasion of the gathering last Saturday. A fine tree laden with hundreds of presents, and scores of tables richly burdened with a great variety of nameable and nameless goodies, were points on which were focussed hundreds of glistening eyes whose owners patiently awaited the arrival of the supreme moment when a share of the gifts and goodies should be theirs by possession. The glorious moment arrived, and committee men and women forgot their weariness in contemplating the happy scene before them; the way in which cakes and sweetmeats disappeared down the little throats was astonishing, and teachers and scholars alike seemed to enjoy the fun. The rector of the church, and his wife, were generously remembered. The entertainment closed at seven o'clock, having been an occasion of great pleasure to all participating.

PORTSMOUTH GRANGE.

The annual election of the officers of this organization took place on Wednesday evening of last week, in Grange hall, resulting as follows: Master, Frank W. Miller; overseer, A. A. Fernald; lecturer, Charles T. Wiggin; steward, George A. Murray; assistant steward, James R. Yeaton; lady assistant steward, Mrs. A. A. Fernald: chaplain, Mrs. C. H. Mendum; treasurer, Amos Pearson; secretary, Clarence B. Mason; gate keeper, Josiah F. Adams; Ceres, Mrs. Robert C. Sides, Jr.; Pomona, Miss Eliza W. Garrett; Flora, Mrs. M. Parry Jones. The installation of officers will take place on Wednesday evening, January 14th, accompanied by a harvest feast at half-past six o'clock, provided by the ladies, with social exercises. All members with their families, and Patrons generally, are cordially invited.

ODD FELLOWS' ELECTION.

At the annual meeting of Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., held Thursday evening of last week, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Frank W. Grogan, N. G.;
Charles H. Bessellevre, V. G.;
Edward T. Morrison, Rec. Sec.;
Charles A. Neal, Treas.;
C. Dwight Hanscom, Per. Sec.

THE CHILDREN'S DINNER.

The dinner which is to be given the poor children of the city at Bow mission hall on New Year's day, will take place at two o'clock P. M. The hall will be open at eight o'clock on the morning of that day, and articles of food that may be donated should be sent there at an early hour; a committee will be in the hall ready to receive whatever may be sent. All donations of money may be made to Mr. D. H. Montgomery, at his music store. Those who contributed food last year are again solicited to do so, and all others who wish to help in this matter are invited to contribute whatever they may feel able to.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Dec. 27; Batchelder; J. John Carroll, drunk, $9.90. Sent to county farm.

I. O. O. F.

The Odd Fellows' hall in National block will be dedicated to the use of the Order by the R. W. Grand Lodge of New Hampshire on Jan. 1st, 1880, at 7:30 o'clock P. M. Each member will be entitled to a ticket admitting himself and one lady; and as the accomodations are limited, the rule will be strictly adhered to. A member of the committee will be in the ante-room of the new hall from 9:00 to 12:00 A. M., and from 2:00 to 6:00 P. M., on Monday, Dec. 29th, to deliver tickets; and after that time they can be obtained of W. S. Hazel, at M. Goodrich's store under the city building.

By order of Dedication Committee.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

An eagle measuring eight feet and nine inches between the tips of the extended wings, was shot at Hart's beach, Kennebunk, on Wednesday of last week.

Messrs. Williams and Phillips have each opened shops at Kittery point, where ladies are employed in making vests and pantaloons, which are disposed of by Boston firms.

Mr. Thomas Langdon, of Eliot, on Christmas day killed a hog eighteen months old which weighed 770 lbs. dressed. So the boys say; and if their story is true, that porker must have gained about three pounds and a quarter a day, right along.

An animal resembling a wildcat, but somewhat larger, is reported as having been seen by several persons at different times recently, between Ogunquit and Cape Neddick.

Early on Monday morning of last week the house of Mr. Daniel Thompson of Opunquit took fire in the attic, and when discovered had burned through the roof. A severe storm was prevailing at the time, but Mr. Thompson, who is seventy years old, raised a ladder to the roof and mounted it and fought the fire, while his aged wife carried water. Finding himself unable to cope with the fire, he hastened to his son's house and called him up, and the two finally succeeded in putting the fire out with no great damage.

There was a lively go-as-you-please race in Sanford one day last week, in which a professional pedestrian was beaten by relays of amateurs, part of the latter being ladies. Four tramps were passing the house of Mr. George Young, when one of them espying a pair of pants hanging on a line, Garcelowed them and started down the road at full speed. His performance was noticed by the ladies in the house, and as they were its only occupants they gave chase to the fellow, following him quite a distance until they met some men, who then took up the chase and ran the bummer down. The thief was allowed to depart without even a thrashing, on giving up the stolen garment.

NAUGHTY TALK TO "HON." E. C. MOODY.

The Boston Globe, the first paper to hint at and advocate the counting-out of the republican majority in the Maine legislature by Garcelon and his gang, and the thick-and-thin defender of that outrageous offence against popular government since its consummation, received the following from Biddeford, under date of Dec. 26th:

Day before yesterday, at the post-office in York, the Hon. E. C. Moody, councillor from the first district, and chairman of the council committee on elections, was grossly insulted and abused by the chairman of the republican town committee, who, in addition to other vile language, said: "I am one of ten who stand ready to give you a coat of tar and feathers at any time." Such abuse of a citizen of the town, and the only one who has ever been elected an executive councillor, is generally discountenanced.

A large majority of the people of Maine will no doubt say that if the "Hon." Moody is a fair sample of the sort of councillors the town of York is likely to furnish, he should for all coming time enjoy the distinction of being "the only one who has ever been elected an executive councillor;" but why his townsmen should be surprised at his conduct as a councillor we cannot conceive, for they must have understood his character thoroughly, long ago, and known just what to expect from him. He is a good fellow personally, owns a nice farm and runs it to make money, and pays his debts; but we never heard of his being accused or even suspected of possessing any political principles whatever.

—General Rueben was seated on a mackerel barrel, with his feet on a couple of sugar-hogsheads, and had just given an account of how he froze them sliding down hill in the winter of '76. There was silence for a few minutes, interrupted by an interrogation from Mozart Dufloodi. "Do you mean, general, to have our understanding comprehend dat you froze both of dem feet in one winter?" "Boff," replied the general, cutting off a piece of tobacco about the size of a toy harmonica. After another reign of silence the general demanded, "Do you doubt that statement, sah?" "No," replied Mozart, "I was only thinking what a long, hard winter it must have been."

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

ARRIVED, Dec 27.

Sch Jesse W Starr, Burton, Philadelphia.

Don't Rub Off the Enamel

of the teeth with gritty preparations. The teeth are too valuable to be trifled with. When gone, you must have false ones or "gum" yourself through life. Use SOZODONT, which contains no grit. It cleanses the mouth and vitalizes the secretions.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

See a Woman!

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines; excellent for Ladies and invalids.

—A preparation to make the bare come outcould be sold to sporismen.

—Paper is now used for car wheels. It has been used for tracts for a long time.

—The postal card is fourteen years old, and no bigger then when it first started out.

—The latest idea in cloak buttons is to have the wearer's initials or monogram carved on them.

—Children's balls are now in great vogue in France. The latest novelty for them is the ribbon dance. Eight ribbons of different colors are attached to a ring in the ceiling. Four girls and four boys hold the ends of the ribbons. The orchestra strikes up and the eight children dance a measure which enables them to plait the ribbons. The orchestra then starts another measure, the children another step, and the plait is unplaited. Each of the dancers may be dressed according to the color of the ribbon that he or she holds, and the mingling of the colors will be all the more brilliant.

—Kate Field met with a lucky stroke of fortune in her telephone enterprise in London. Her assistance was required to bring the matter successfully before the public. She did excellent service in this business, singing, talking and reading through it in prominent and private places; and calling attention to it both socially and commercially. For her work she received a salary and a certain number of shares of stock, which as they originally sold for $50, and can hardly be had now for $1,000, have brought her a generous return for her somewhat unpleasant and certainly arduous labors.

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

Grape Wine for Communion.

The superior quality and entire purity of Speer's Port Grape Wine, of New Jersey, and the success that physicians have had by its use, has induced them to write about it, and caused hundreds to prescribe it in their practice as the best and most reliable wine to be had. It is held in great favor for Communion purposes, and said to be a cure for consumptives.

A stout backbone is as essential to physical health as to political consistency. For weakness of the back and disorders of the liver and kidneys the tonic and moderate diuretic action of the Bitters is the one thing needful. Remember that the stomach is the mainstay of every other organ and that by invigorating the digestion with this preparation, the spinal column and all its dependencies are strengthened.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits. Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries, that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion, should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published, the standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which may be worth the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president; W. H. H. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D.; C. S. GANNIT, M. D.; J. J. DOCKET, M. D.; E. H. KLINE, M. D.; J. R. HOLCOMB, M. THE MODEL RANGE

—FOR—

Hard or Soft Coal or Wood

—HAVING THE—

Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,
New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,
New Patent Extension Leg,
New Patent Double Top,
(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, for any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler doors make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft and curve flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

Ranges, Cooking and Parlor Stoves,

Etc., can be seen at the old stand of

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the inconvenience and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has had experience has satisfied himself that it was but a trifling ailment; and every man who now suffers from it and the injury of trusses, to such an extent that life has no enjoyments, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon him. References given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his successful practice and popularity throughout this and other countries and the West Indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Save this, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

251 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal services, he divides his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturdays, Mondays and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The fame of Dr. Sherman, arising from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain so-called men and impostors to represent themselves as Dr. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, Th. Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Alphan, Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Guizot, Buckin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, above-named and many others, embracing the choicest critical, short stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical

in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientist, Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than

Three and a quarter Thousand

double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best literature of foreign Reviews, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of the foremost Periodical Literature.

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE compilation of an indispensable current literature—indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharges has been thick and bloody, emitting a fetor so bad that my presence in a room with other was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was no troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were all gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD, Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1876.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived here tonight all right. I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for this remedy. I have tried Nasal Douches and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, it has not been able to recover my senses of taste and smell until I tried SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. You can refer any one you choose to me, and I will cheerfully inform them I retail as to the benefit the remedy has been to me. Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1876.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

AN Electro-Galvanic Battery, combined with a highly Medicated Plaster, forming the grandest curative agent in the world of medicine, and utterly surpassing all other Plasters heretofore in use. They accomplish more in one week than the old Plasters in a whole year. They do not pulliate, they cure. They

Relieve Affections of the Chest,
Relieve Affections of the Lungs,
Relieve Affections of the Heart,
Relieve Affections of the Liver,
Relieve Affections of the Spleen,
Relieve Affections of the Kidneys,
Relieve Affections of the Spine,
Relieve Affections of the Nerves,
Relieve Affections of the Muscles,
Relieve Affections of the Joints,
Relieve Affections of the Bones,
Relieve Affections of the Sinews.

No matter what may be the extent of your suffering try one of these Plasters. Relief is instantaneous, a fact supported by hundreds of testimonials in our possession, bear in mind that the most important discoveries in pharmacy date back less than ten years, and that combinations of gums and essences of plants and shrubs are even united with Electricity to form a curative Plaster, in soothing, healing, and strengthening properties far superior to all other Plasters heretofore in use, as the scientific physician is to the horse-leech.

Price, 25 Cents.

Be careful to call for COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER and you get some worthless imitation. Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

The United States steamer Nipsic, one of the smallest of our vessels, but in the best condition, has been ordered to proceed, without delay, to the coast of Venezuela, to protect our consular agent there. It was a question with the department whether to send the Nipsic, which is at the Norfolk yard, or the Swatara, which has just gone into commission at Boston but the Nipsic, being in a more perfect condition of readiness, was selected. She will touch at St. Thomas to take on board our commercial agent, Mr. Eckert, who is reported to be a refugee at that place from Laguayra. The Nipsic, after completing this duty, will return to Hampton roads.

Commander Wilson, of the United States ship Constellation, makes the following report relative to the abandonment of barque Olivo, the crew of which the Constellation rescued and landed at Gibraltar: At daylight on the morning of Nov. 24th, in lat. 34.27 north, lon. 28.57 west, while lying to in a northeast gale, a vessel hove in sight to the westward, and signalled "Immediate Assistance Wanted." Wore ship and ran down to her, and found her in a sinking condition, leaking badly, and had lost her rudder. Sent two boats to her, when the captain and crew were brought on board this ship. Our boats could not go alongside of her on account of the heavy sea; the people jumped overboard and were hauled into the boat. On the last trip Ensign L. K. Reynolds was in charge of the boat, and had orders to set fire to the vessel, which he did. He got on board by jumping to her from his boat, and swam to the boat on returning. We laid by her all night and saw her burn. In the morning nothing could be seen of her. Her captain reported 4 1-2 feet of water in her at one time, and her pumps choked with grain, (with which she was loaded in bulk.) She was the Austrian barque Olivo, of Trieste, owned by Ghezzo and Bonomo and commanded by Capt. Luciana Babarovich. Had left New York on Oct. 27th bound to Gibraltar for orders, loaded with 22,000 bushels of wheat, and had a crew of twelve men, including officers. Had experienced very heavy weather since the 10th of November.

My Good Woman

Why are you so out of sorts, never able to tell folks that you are well? Ten to one it's all caused in the first place by habitual constipation, which has no doubt finally caused deranged Kidneys and Liver. The sure cure for Constipation is the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It is also a specific remedy for all Kidney and Liver diseases. Thousands are cured by it every months. Try it at once.

A Lady's Wish.

"Oh, how I do wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so," answered the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. Terrible Railroad Accident.

While a train from Edinburgh to Dundee, Scotland, was crossing the bridge over the Firth of Tay, Sunday evening at about a quarter past seven o'clock, it was precipitated into the water through a portion of the bridge having been blown down. The first despatch from London said: "The gale was so strong that the steamboats were unable to reach the scene of the disaster, but several mail bags have been washed ashore four miles from the bridge, and there is no doubt that the train is in the water. The passengers, who are certainly all drowned, are variously estimated at from one hundred and fifty to two hundred in number."

A later despatch, from Edinburgh, says: "The portion of the bridge, which fell consisted of several large superincumbent girders at the central and navigable portion of the river, which averages from forty to forty-five feet in depth. The train would fall about ninety feet before reaching the water. Some time elapsed before the nature of the disaster was ascertained. The damage to the wires on the bridge, and the badness of the weather, interfered with the transmission of news, and it is unknown whether the girders were blown down before the train entered the bridge or were carried away with it, and it will probably never be ascertained, as there are no survivors. The bridge was only opened for traffic in May, 1878. It was considered a triumph of engineering skill, was about two miles long and had eighty-five spans, the widest of which was 245 feet at the highest point. It was one hundred thirty feet above high water."

The train consisted of one first-class car, one second-class, four third-class, and the brakemen's car. At the last station before entering the bridge the tickets were taken, and the train was then crowded. Vast quantities of wreckage, such as doors and roofs of carriages, pieces of the bridge and articles of wearing apparel, were washed ashore. The entire thirteen girders of the long central span of the bridge are gone. The night was bright moonlight, but the wind was blowing a hurricane. The loss of life was estimated at 300, Monday noon.

Great Fire in Boston.

A fire on Devonshire and Franklin streets, Boston, Sunday night, destroyed property valued at over a million dollars. Among the business houses burned out are Rice, Kendall & Co., Houghton, Osgood & Co., the North National bank, Claflin & Brown, D. Faulkner, the Union Express, the Ashland Valve company and numerous other heavy dealers.

"Straight Democratic" Opinions of the Maine Outrage.

What republicans think of the Garcelon performance is well known; and the Boston Traveller of Saturday evening made known how two prominent democrats of the straightest sect, and both able jurists, regard the steal. A Traveller reporter first called upon Hon. John Quincy Adams, the late democratic candidate for governor in Massachusetts, who premised that he had made no careful examination of the law and did not know whether Gov. Garcelon was acting legally or not, and added:

But I know that he is acting stupidly; he and his associates have made a miserable blunder in counting out a decided republican majority on mere technical points. The governor was bound to execute the spirit of the law rather than the letter. Had he done that he would have satisfied the people of his State without distinction of party, and his own conscience. As it is he has made a fatal mistake, a bad blunder, one that will have an injurious effect upon the political party to which he belongs. I am surprised that Governor Garcelon should have allowed himself to be influenced into such action. He must have had very bad counsel for it.

The reporter then called upon Hon. Josiah G. Abbott, who spoke as plainly as did Mr. Adams. Among other things Judge Abbott said:

There is, I believe, a statute of Maine which especially provides for amending imperfect returns before they are counted, so that justice may be done; a statute clearly designed to carry into effect the spirit and intent of the constitution. I judge from what I see, but I may be in error as to this point, that Gov. Garcelon and his council have disregarded that law, on the ground that it is unconstitutional. Now, if they have, it is somewhat extraordinary, because they are merely ministerial officers, as I should claim, and as it will be everywhere conceded, in returning the result. For merely ministerial officers to disregard a statute that has been duly passed by both legislative branches and signed by the governor, without an intervention of the supreme court, is certainly extraordinary, and nothing but an extraordinary exigency would justify such an act; more especially where the governor and council could have submitted that question to the supreme court, and obtained its decision upon its constitutionality. I think that a great error has been committed.

News and Notes.

Four negroes imprisoned upon the charge of murder, were taken from jail at Amite, La., Sunday night, by a mob of fifty men, and shot to death. Two other prisoners were liberated.

The First National bank of New York, on a capital of $500,000, it is said has made the enormous dividend of 120 per cent for the year, after adding $500,000 to its surplus, and also leaving $267,000 undivided. Don't believe it.

Herman Roberts, a saloon keeper at Springfield, Mo., was shot dead Friday night by a stranger named John Vaughan who did not have money to pay for drinks. The murderer was captured, and it was with great difficulty that lynching was prevented, even the rope having been secured; but the officers lodged Vaughan in jail.

Two brothers, named George and Haight Drummond, living near Woodmansie, N. J., were drowned while skating Friday.

Six detachments of Cincinnati police, five men each, moved simultaneously Saturday night upon six gambling houses, and arrested nineteen men. Two wagon loads of gambling implements were taken to the station house.

The New York Herald says the laboratory of Mr. Edison, at Menlo park, was brilliantly illuminated on Saturday night with the new electric light. Forty lamps were burning from six o'clock until ten. The light given was of the brilliancy of the best gas jet, perhaps a trifle stronger. The effect of the light on the eyes was superior to gas in softness.

Wilhelmus Westfall, a farmer of Sussex county, N. Y., had a narrow escape a few days ago from death from a wild cat nearly six feet long. He was saved by the early arrival of his son, who shot the animal dead. Westfall's body was terribly lacerated and his clothes were torn to shreds.

John M. Waite and M. B. Gould, both prominent and respected business men of Chicago, on Saturday evening, thinking to play a practical joke upon a colored janitor, disarranged the contents of Mr. Waite's room, and then concealing themselves in a closet waited until the janitor appeared. The latter, becoming excited at the condition of the room, procured a revolver, and hearing a noise in the closet, tried to pull the door open, and falling in that fired through the door. The shot passed through Mr. Gould's head, and he died shortly after.

Robert Mitchell, a wealthy furniture dealer of Cincinnati, on Christmas day had at his residence a family reunion, consisting of his wife, two sons and their wives, two daughters and their husbands, and a third daughter, ten in all, among whom he divided equally $500,000 in stocks and other evidences of pecuniary value, as Christmas presents. It was a very pleasant occasion.

The news from the Ute country is alarming. Gen. Hatch, who heads Schurz's Peace Commission, has given up all hopes of securing the Indian murderers, and, as his departure is tantamount to a declaration of war, much anxiety is felt as to his fate. The treacherous redskins seem to have completely trapped the whites, and it is feared they will all be massacred.

Mrs. Reuben Whitford of Hanson, Mass., while in a fit of temporary insanity, recently, jumped into a well ninety-two feet deep. There was not sufficient depth of water to drown her, and on being rescued it was found that one leg and ankle were broken.

Considerable excitement exists in Newburyport at the prosecution of two respectable citizens, Charles C. Bamford, foreman of engine Naiad Queen, No. 4, and John W. White, for taking as trophies several half-burned hats at the late fire at Bayley's hat factory. They were fined $3 and costs in the police court on Saturday.

A bridge across the Mississippi river at Carondelet, Mo., is spoken of as to be immediately built, at an estimated cost of between two and three millions of dollars.

Bernard Shanley, a quarryman, was engaged Saturday with one other man in splitting open a large rock at East Rock, Conn., with wedges; the rock opened and he fell between the two pieces, which, from some unknown cause, came together again, imprisoning him as in a vise. He retained consciousness, and directed the work of prying apart the segments of the rock. His abdomen was crushed frightfully, and he died several hours after being extracted.

Two Providence, R. I., girls, aged respectively fourteen and fifteen years, of pleasant appearance and well dressed, pleaded guilty to shop-lifting Thursday, and were fined, after a warning that the reform school would be their home after the next offense.

An Italian named Frank Mack, or Maggi, was arrested in Providence, R. I., Saturday, on the charge of passing counterfeit half dollars of new and deceptive manufacture. He was brought before the United States commissioner and held in $2,000 for examination.

The pupils of a Wheelock, Vt., school have put out their teacher, Percy Johnson of St. Johnsbury, after the father of a boy he had punished for disobedience had told Johnson that his boy should do what he liked.

Hon. George A. Morey, of Fairlee, Vt., on Christmas day fell ten feet from a wood pile in his shed, fracturing his left hip. Judge Morey is eighty-eight years old, and has held prominent places of trust in town and State.

A Portland, Me., paper says: "A little baby was left by Dr. West, the runaway dentist, with a family in Saccarappa, about a week before he cleared out. They were to be richly paid for caring for the infant, but so far have heard no word from the old scoundrel."

Two men, Sam Woodruff and Joe Seminole, (the latter a half-breed Indian,) who murdered R. B. Haywood, a farmer of Jefferson county, Col., on the 10th of last September, were taken from jail at Golden, Col., and lynched, at one o'clock Sunday morning, by one hundred and fifty masked men. The murder for which the two men were lynched was cold-blooded and cowardly. Seminole was arrested at the Flute agency, Dakota, and Woodruff, the principal in the murder, at Big Grove, Iowa.

The Nautical Gazette of Dec. 27th says: "Babcock & Wilcox began this week to put their first marine tubular boiler on board of Clyde's steamer Benefactor, at foot of East 12th street, New York city. This type of boiler for land purposes has proven far superior to anything in the market in every respect, and if it is as successful on the water as it has been on shore, the time is not far distant when it will take the place of the marine boiler now in use."

Stratton Black, paying teller of the Quebec bank at Three Rivers, P. Q., on Saturday night received a letter from the manager of the bank, while at supper. He arose, embraced his wife, drew a revolver and shot himself in the head.

Steamer Prairie City blew up on the Wabash river, near Evansville, Ind., Saturday afternoon. Two men and two women were killed, and several others injured.

Frank Teters was shot dead Saturday afternoon in Mitchell's hotel at Odell's Lake, Ohio, Saturday afternoon, by the clerk of the hotel, named Cady. Teeters had Cady arrested last summer on a charge of criminal intimacy with the former's wife, but the case never came to trial. Cady pleads self-defence.

The Blackfeet Indians, who are reported to be destitute and starving, number about 1500, and together with the Bloods and Piegans inhabit a reservation of 30,000 acres on the upper Missouri near the Canadian line in Montana. The Blackfeet have always been in bad odor, never visiting the agency to draw rations, and ranging north of the British line mostly, where whiskey drinking and the vices of lawless white men fast increase their poverty and diminish their numbers. They are among the lowest and most disreputable of the tribes, and consequently are not particularly deserving of sympathy.

James T. Fields commences next week a course of weekly lectures on modern English authors, to be given at Hathorne rooms in Boston, on Wednesday, at twelve o'clock.

Sullivan & Gilbert's new "Pinafore" is not a success in New York. The attempt to show the Americans how to render this oft-repeated extravaganza does not succeed, because it has always been better presented in this country than in England—and then again, we need a rest.

The Week of Prayer.

The following is the programme recommended by the Evangelical Alliance to the churches of the United States for the observance of the coming week of prayer:

Sunday, Jan. 4th. Sermons on the "Fullness of Christ's salvation."

Monday, Jan. 5th. Thanksgiving for the blessings of the past year, and prayer for their continuance.

Tuesday, Jan. 6th, Confession of sin, and humiliation before God.

Wednesday, Jan. 7th. Prayer for the church of Christ, its ministers, its increase, and its growth in grace, and for revivals of religion throughout our country.

Thursday, Jan. 8th. Prayer for Christian education; for the family, and institutions of learning; for Sunday schools and Christian associations.

Friday, Jan. 9th. Prayer for nations, rulers and people; for peace and religious liberty.

Saturday, Jan. 10th. Prayer for home and foreign missions; for the outpouring of the spirit upon all flesh, and the conversion of the world.

AROUND HOME.

The eel-spearers were at work on the north pond, Monday.

Sunday was the Festival of the Holy Innocents, and was observed by proper religious services at the Episcopal and Catholic churches.

Michael J. Ryan, the Water street barber who broke his leg by a fall on the sidewalk a week or so ago, as previously reported, has entered suit against the city for $2000 damages.

At Music hall, this evening, Harry Bloodgood's minstrels will appear in a programme of choice minstrelsy. Bloodgood is one of the best and best-known negro minstrels on the stage, and has with him a troupe of his own selection; the price of the choice seats is put at only fifty cents, and there will probably be a large audience present this evening to greet the old time favorite.

Washington despatches say that invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Annie M. Badger, daughter of Capt. O. C. Badger, U. S. N., and Lieut. Geo. F. Elliott of the marine corps. The ceremony will be performed Jan. 6th, at the church of the Epiphany, Washington. The reception in the evening will be at the Hamilton house, where Capt. and Mrs. Badger are passing the winter.

Parties from South Braintree, Mass., were in this city on Monday looking for men to work in the shoe factories at that place; but not obtaining all the help desired, the agents sent a despatch to Belfast, Me., for more men. They report the greatest activity in the shoe business in southern and western Massachusetts, the number of car-loads of goods now being sent off being more than double the shipments of last year at this time, Brockton doing fully four times as much business as a year ago.

On Christmas evening there was a reunion of the family of Mr. William Cartledge at the house of his son-in-law, Mr. James Douglass, three generations of the old gentleman's descendants being represented, by about thirty persons, including fifteen great-grandchildren, the oldest of whom is sixteen years of age. The oldest person present at the happy gathering was Mr. Cartledge, who was eighty-one years old on the 10th of December; the youngest was a great-grandchild about three months old. Christmas was also the twenty-first birth-day of one of the grand-children present.

The hearing of the claim of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad against the Eastern railroad, which was appointed to be had on Wednesday of this week, has been postponed by the referees, upon application of the counsel for the Eastern railroad. The principal cause alleged is the recent death of Mr. Howe, the principal witness of the defendants. A new day for the hearing will be announced, as soon as agreed upon by the referees. It is understood that the semi-annual rent of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, due on the first day of January, will be paid by the Eastern railroad company, subject to any deduction to which they may hereafter be found entitled by the decision of the referees.—Times.

It was stated in Boston on Monday that the preliminary agreement had not been signed by the representatives of one of the railroads in interest, although the terms had been practically agreed upon.

On Christmas afternoon a gentleman who does business not far from the Eastern railroad station, and who causes the beam of the scale to fly upward with much liveliness when he gets on the platform, saw a number of pigeons in the street near his place, and thought to give them a Christmas dinner. So he collected a lot of crumbs in a plate and stepped out upon the plank sidewalk, intent on carrying out his benevolent idea; but the planks were slippery, and after performing a brief and eccentric war-dance in front of the astonished pigeons, waving the plate triumphantly over his head the while, he suddenly assumed a sitting posture, at the same time bringing the plate down with a vigor that sent the pieces all over the street. The pigeons, judging from the concussion and crash, and the bits of plate flying around, that they had been shot at with a howitzer loaded with broken crockery, took unto themselves wings and flew away without waiting for any dinner; and the benevolent gentleman returned to his place of business amid the sympathizing and consolatory remarks of "the boys," to which, though taken entirely by surprise, he feelingly and appropriately responded.

The fine sleighing was pretty nearly spoiled by the warm weather of Monday.

Watch meeting services will be held in the Methodist church, Wednesday evening.

The Middle street Baptist society will have a New Year's party in Mechanics' hall on Thursday evening, Jan. 1st.

To-morrow evening, at Music hall, the third entertainment of the Rockingham course will be given by Miss Nella F. Brown, one of the best and most popular readers on the American stage, assisted by Sol Smith Russell, the versatile and amusing character actor, who heads the list in his line.

Garrie H. Rheutan, of Hartford, Conn., a gentleman well known in this city, formerly for several years foreman of boiler-makers at this navy yard, has been granted a patent for an improved water front for horizontal steam boilers. Mr. Rheutan is a thorough mechanic, and resigned his position on the navy yard to take charge of one of the largest private boiler shops in New England.

The Boston Traveller has a despatch from this city as follows: "Apropos of the counting-out process in Maine, —a few days after the Maine election Councillor Moody was in this city, and a well-known and reliable gentleman said to him: 'Well, Moody, I am sorry you got beat.' Moody replied: 'Don't you worry; I am going to stay there another year; I am going to help count them votes.'"

The Granite Monthly for December has for a front-spiece a good likeness of Ex-Gov. Person C. Cheney, accompanied by a sketch of his life. Other articles are, "College journalism at Dartmouth," by George S. Wright; "John Darwin Currier," by C. C. Lord; "The Langdon mansion" at Portsmouth, by Fred Myron Colby; "Snowed up," a Christmas story by Wm. O. Clough; a descriptive article on Laconia, and several short poems. J. N. McClintock, publisher, Concord; $1.50 per year, single number fifteen cents.

The baking facilities of the Seaman's Home, No. 6 State street, having been largely increased, the proprietor is now ready to cook, at reasonable rates, hams or corned beef sent in for the purpose by outside parties; hot brown bread and baked beans can be obtained there every Sunday morning, and cooked meats are always on hand and for sale by the pound. A "good square meal" can be procured at this establishment at a cheap rate; and tea and coffee, with pastry and cakes, bread and butter, etc., are always ready throughout the day and evening.

REED V. RAND.

In another place will be found a notice of the death of Mr. Reed V. Rand, an aged and worthy citizen, who passed away on Sunday at the age of eighty-two years. Mr. Rand was a well-known builder, and was noted for the faithful and substantial manner in which all work done by him or under his superintendence was performed. He was one of the oldest and most respected members of Piscataqua Lodge of Odd Fellows, and of the Mechanics' Association, having joined the latter organization in 1839. In the days of the old town government he was several years one of the selectmen. For some years past he has been an invalid, but was able to move about the house and take his meals with the family until the day before Christmas, when he was prostrated by a severe cold, from which he never recovered. He leaves an aged wife and several children.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.

The Odd Fellows' hall in National block will be dedicated to the use of the Order by the R. W. Grand Lodge of New Hampshire on Jan. 1st, 1880, at 7:30 o'clock P. M. Each member will be entitled to a ticket admitting himself and one lady; and as the accomodations are limited, the rule will be strictly adhered to. A member of the committee will be in the ante-room of the new hall from 9:00 to 12:00 A. M., and from 2:00 to 6:00 P. M., on Monday, Dec. 29th, to deliver tickets; and after that time they can be obtained of W. S. Hazel, at M. Goodrich's store under the city building.

By order of Dedication Committee.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Twenty calkers and reamers were "required" in the department of construction and repair at the navy yard, Monday, to calk the spar deck of the Lancaster. The job will last about three weeks.

At the navy yard, on Saturday, at noon, Mr. John D. Swain, the retiring foreman of the iron-platers' shop, was presented by Mr. D. M. Shapleigh of Kittery, on behalf of the employes in that department, with a frosted silver ice-cooler, salver and goblets, finely engraved and suitably inscribed, and accompanied by a complimentary letter signed by all the employes in the department.

City Marshal Grant of Saco understands human nature pretty well. As quite a number of horsemen were "sending" their speedy animals down Main street, Saco, Christmas afternoon, Mr. Grant stepped out into the street, and taking a note-book out of his pocket commenced to take the names of the men as they drove past, and the result was they didn't "speed" the second time.—Biddeford Times.

New Hampshire Items.

The directors of the New Hampshire Fire Insurance Co., at Manchester, voted on Monday to pay a semi-annual dividend of four per cent, Jan. 1st.

The Northern railroad had a suit decided in its favor in Boston last week, wherein a traveller claimed damages for being refused the privilege of riding upon a limited through ticket after the expiration of the time for which, by its terms, it could be used.

C. B. Patten, Esq., cashier of the State national bank of Boston, recently gave an interesting talk upon banking before the Christian Union in Boston. Mr. Patten is a native of Kingston, in this county, and a brother of the late Wm. C. Patten.

The house, barn and part of the furniture of Mrs. Sarah A. Langley at Charlestown, were burned Monday morning. Loss $3500; insured $3000.

A Washington despatch of Dec. 28th says: "The movement inaugurated here, prior to the recess, to secure the appointment of Chief Justice Doe of the New Hampshire bench to a place on the supreme bench, soon to be vacated by Justice Hunt, has developed considerable strength. The entire delegation of the State is working for it, and many friends of Doe throughout New England urge it since Senator Edmunds' declination." No better selection could be made.

The name of the post-office in this county hitherto called Newton depot, has been changed to Newton junction.

At Concord, Friday, a Frenchman named Dufranse was kicked in the head by a horse that he was leading, and died from his injuries on Saturday. He was about thirty-five years old, and was unmarried.

David Meloon, aged forty-five, and his son, aged sixteen years, living on Bear island, Lake Winnipi-segee, while skating home from Meredith on Friday night, broke through the ice. The son escaped, but the father was drowned. His body was recovered.

Don't Rub Off the Enamel

of the teeth with gritty preparations. The teeth are too valuable to be trifled with. When gone, you must have false ones or "gum" yourself through life. Use SOZODONT, which contains no grit. It cleanses the mouth and vitalizes the secretions.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. t,th&f

Political.

The Biddeford Journal suggests that Garcelon and his council are like necessity—they know no law.

The wrong committed against Maine is a wrong against free government in every State; it is a wrong against every faithful, law abiding citizen of the Union, and the plain duty of every reputable public journal, and of every patriot of whatever political faith, is to make common cause in the now indispensable work of arresting electoral crime in all sections and parties. If it shall not be done, "government of the people, by the people, and for the people" must speedily "perish from the earth."— Philadelphia Times (ind. dem.)

Popular liberty has its throat cut in liberty-loving New England by the scalpel of a down east doctor, and nothing but the hope that the infinite justice of Heaven will overtake him stands between this and the future subjection of the State of Maine to his dictatorship, if he is brazen enough to continue this kind of work. There is but one thing that would meet the case with perfect justice, and that would be the short shrift of this man with a stout cord from one of the elms of Augusta.—Louisville (Courier-Journal (dem.)

It has wonderful power on Bowels, Liver and Kidneys! What? Kidney-Wort, try it.

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

Grape Wine for Communion.

The superior quality and entire purity of Speer's Port Grape Wine, of New Jersey, and the success that physicians have had by its use, has induced them to write about it, and caused hundreds to prescribe it in their practice as the best and most reliable wine to be had. It is held in great favor for Communion purposes, and said to be a cure for consumptives.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

A stout backbone is as essential to physical health as to political consistency. For weakness of the back and disorders of the liver and kidneys the tonic and moderate dietetic action of the Bitters is the one thing needful. Remember that the stomach is the mainstay of every other organ and that by invigorating the digestion with this preparation, the spinal column and all its dependencies are strengthened.

For Hostetter's ALMANAC for 1880, apply to Druggists and dealers generally.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. L. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

Sold by all Druggists.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the results of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which has been worth hundreds of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An extract or sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most-trently ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

The top is double, and very large, with extension shelf and towel rack attached at either end. The fire box is arranged with express reference to economy, and easily repaired; the grate can be taken out without moving the brick lining. The ash sifter is perfect in its operation, and free from dust. The oven is very large, ventilated properly, and bakes thoroughly. The ash-pan is especially convenient. The ventilated broiler does make perfect combustion and economy of fuel. Durability, cleanliness, ease of management, great working capacity, rapid and perfect in operation. Pipe collar adjustable for either top or back of range. Patent check draft, and curved flue will save one-third of the fuel that is usually wasted. The door-knobs and name plate are nickel plated, making it very attractive for the home. The top is less likely to crack, being double.

This Range, with a large variety of other

PRICE 25 CENTS.

RUPTURE

DR. J. A. SHERMAN—and the only Dr. Sherman known to the public for the past 35 years or more for his successful method of treating Rupture without the annoyance and injury trusses inflict, may now be consulted weekly at his New York and Boston offices. Dr. Sherman is the discoverer of the only known cure for Rupture by local external applications.

No man is safe who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant he may consider it, for every man who has died from it once flattered himself that it was but a trifling affair, and every man who now suffers from it and the injury it causes, to such an extent that life has no enjoyments, once regarded it as unworthy special attention. It is not a stand-still affliction, it is steadily progressive, even unto death; and he is wise who takes the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the trifling allowing and gloom comes upon him. Reference given to gentlemen in the city who have been cured.

Patients from abroad can receive treatment and leave for home same day.

HIS BOOK ON RUPTURE

gives the most reliable proofs from distinguished professional gentlemen, clergymen and merchants of his success and practice and popularity therefrom among about this country and the West indies for the past 35 years or more. The afflicted should read it and inform themselves.

It is illustrated with photographic likenesses of extremely bad cases before and after cure, and mailed to those who send 10 cents. Sent free, and remember in writing or calling the address is

Dr. J. A. SHERMAN

261 Broadway, cor. Murray St., New York, and 43 Milk Street, Boston.

In consequence of the great demand for Dr. J. A. Sherman's personal service, he divides his time between New York and Boston—will be at his N. Y. Office on Saturday, Mondays and Tuesdays; and in Boston, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Tell this to your friend.

The fame of Dr. Sherman, arising from his great success in the treatment and cure of rupture, has induced certain so called men and impostors to represent themselves as Dr. Sherman, the original Dr. Sherman, etc., for the purpose of deceiving and victimizing the unsuspecting.

THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, the Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Alphan Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will for late to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, above-named and many others, embracing the Choicest Serial and Short Stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical

in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientists, Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than

Three and a quarter Thousand

double-column octavo pages of reading matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Scientific Biographical, Historical, and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE compilation of an indispensable current literature, indispensible because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"It is INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a through compendium of all that is admirable and note worthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Episcopalian, Philadelphia.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

Published WEEKLY at $8.00 a year, free of postage.

EXTRA OFFER FOR 1880.

To all new subscribers for 1880 will be sent gratis those numbers of 1879 which contain, besides other interesting matter, the first chapters of "HE WHO WILL NOT WHEN HE MAY," a new story by MRS. OLIPHANT, now appearing in THE LIVING AGE from advance sheets.

Club-Prices for the best Home and Foreign Literature.

"Possessed of the LIVING AGE and one or other of our vivacious American monthlies, a subscriber will find himself in command of the whole situation."—Phila. Evening Bulletin.

For $10.50 THE LIVING AGE and either one of the American $4 monthlies (or Harper's Weekly or Bazar) will be sent for a year, both postpaid; or, for $9.50 THE LIVING AGE and the St. Nicholas, or Appleton's Journal. Address,

CATARRH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so bad that my presence in a room with other was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE I was so troubled with it at all. My senses of taste and smell which were wholly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours,

MELBOURNE H. FORD,
Short-Hand Writer

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1876.

LATER.

Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURE arrived two days ago, and I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for this remedy. I have tried many Douches and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive discharge, I have no more been able to recover my sense of taste and smell until I tried SANFORD'S CURE. You can refer any one you choose to me, and I will cheerfully inform them in detail as to the benefit the remedy has been to me.

Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1878.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

not only promptly arrests the corroding discharges of catarrh, but, by sympathetic action, it restores to sound health all the organs of the head that have become affected by it, and exhibit any of the following affections:—

Defective Eyesight, Inflamed and Matter Eyes, Painful and Watery Eyes, Loss of Hearing, Earache, Neuralgia of the Ear, Discharges from the Ear, Ringing Noise in the Head, Dizziness, Nervous Headache, Pains in the Temples, Loss of the Senses of Taste and Smell, Elongation of the Uvula, Inflammation of the Tonsils, Putrid Sore Throat, Tickling or Hacking Cough, Bronchitis, and Bleeding of the Lungs.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Injecting Tube, with full and carefully prepared direction for use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

AN Electro-Galvanic Battery, combined with a highly Medicated Plaster, forming the grandest curative agent in the world of medicine, and utterly surpassing all other Plasters heretofore in use. They accomplish in one week what the old Plasters in a whole year. They do not palliate, they cure. They Relieve Affections of the Chest.

Relieve Affections of the Lungs.
Relieve Affections of the Heart.
Relieve Affections of the Liver.
Relieve Affections of the Spleen.
Relieve Affections of the Kidneys.
Relieve Affections of the Spine.
Relieve Affections of the Nerves.
Relieve Affections of the Muscles.
Relieve Affections of the Joints.
Relieve Affections of the Bones.
Relieve Affections of the Sinews.

No matter what may be the extent of your suffering or one of these Plasters. Relief is instantaneous, as is supported by hundreds of testimonials in our possession. Let it be borne in mind that the most important discoveries in pharmacy date back less than ten years, and that combinations of gums and essences of plants and shrubs are rapidly uniting with Electricity to form a curative Plaster, in soothing, healing, and strengthening properties far superior to all other Plasters heretofore in use, as the scientific physician is to the horse-leech.

Price, 25 Cents.

Be careful to call for COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER, as you get some worthless imitation. Sold by Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Notice.

THE undersigned, on behalf of the Executors of the will of William H. Y. Hackett, late of Portsmouth, give notice that he claims to have issued to the Executors of said deceased certificates for eight shares in the capital stock of the Eastern Railroad in lieu of said certificates, viz: Certificate No. 960, dated Jan. 10th, 1844, for five shares, and No. 2824, dated Nov. 18th, 1857, for one share, and No. 3431, dated Sept. 9th, 1862, for two shares, which said certificates have been lost or destroyed; and all persons interested are notified to show cause, if any exists, why new certificates should not be issued in lieu of those lost, as has been applied for, under the provisions of the by-laws relating to this subject.

How the Heathen Chinee Works it.

A California paper tells us how John Chinaman proposes to get even with 'Melican man, when he makes law 'bout what Chinaman shall do with his dead friends.

Not more diligently doth the little busy bee improve each shining hour than doth the heathen Chinee observe and assay each newly hatched 'Melican law' devised for the purpose of contributing to his unhappiness. As is well known, the bones of every defunct Chinaman, duly assorted, labelled and certified to, must be sent back to China, to be there permanently interred. A law passed by the late legislature is aimed at this little weakness of the moon-eyed son of the "Flowery Kingdom." This law is now in force, and under heavy penalties forbids the digging up of the remains of any dead human being without first obtaining a permit from the board of county commissioners. Wishing to know what the Chinese thought of the new law, we at once interviewed a leading member of the Hop Sing company in regard to the matter. He said:

"Well, what can do, must do. White man makee law bizness, Chinaman makee new plan, that all."

"How you make new plan, John?"

"Well, new law bizness makee some trouble. No matter; we makee some bizness, too."

"What you do, John, dig dead man up at night!"

"No 'casion. New jacket have got. No more put em dead men in the grave; no put in ground."

"What you do!"

"Come see; me show."

The Chinaman led the way to a shed in the rear of his store, and pointing to half a dozen jars of an oval shape, said:

"White man makee new law bizness. Me company send 'em big pot. S'pose one man die; put him in pot; cork up, send out California to where no hab got new law. Good bizness, you bet."

SANFORD'S Jamacia Ginger.—Beware of imitations and worthless "extracts" and essences, said to be as good as Sanford's. All such statements are prompted by purely selfish motives.

—The blacksmith of Glamis' description of metaphysics was: "Twa folk disputin' thegither; he that's listenin' disna ken what he that's speakin' means, and he that's speakin' disna ken what he means himsel'—that's metaphysics."

"I Am All Played Out"

is a common complaint. If you feel so, get a package of Kidney-Wort and take it and you will at once feel its tonic power. It renews the healthy action of the kidneys, bowels and liver, and thus restores the natural life and strength to the weary body. Get a box and use it at once.

—Mr. Helyoake tells a funny anecdote at the expense of Charles Southwell, who had announced a lecture on co-operation. After he had spoken an hour, Helyoake remarked to a friend that Southwell hadn't yet reached his subject. At the close of the lecture, Helyoake reminded him of the omission; and Southwell replied that the subject did not occur to him!

One Box or Six Bottles.

If you are suffering from a combination of liver or kidney diseases, and constipation, do not fail to use celebrated Kidney-Wort. It is a dry compound as easily prepared as a cup of coffee, and in one package is as much medicine as can be bought in six dollar bottles of other kinds.

—A Michigan man has invented a flying machine, and found, on trying to fly with it from the top of a flag staff, that he had got a contrivance that would get him to the ground quicker than he could get there by jumping without it. It is thought the thing will prove a tip-top well-digging machine.

A Lady's Wish.

"Oh, how I do wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so, answered the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. "By using Hop Bitters, that makes pure rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me, as you observe." Read of it.—Cairo Bulletin.

The man who heeds not the warning of pain or suffering, which always precedes maladies, often becomes, through indolence, the victim of incurable disease. Lassitude, Weariness, Sadness, Aching of the Limbs, indicate nervous disarrangement, the forerunner of many organic and functional diseases. The early employment of Fellows' Hypophosphites will effectually ward off such maladies.

—Seventeen lawyers are engaged in a suit over the will of Indianian, who boasted, shortly before his death, that he had got his affairs into such a shape that when he died the lawyers couldn't make a penny out of his estate.

Statistics show that more people die of consumption than from any other cause. Slight colds are the true seeds of consumption. Beware of the slightest cough. Adamson's Botanic Balsam stands without a peer. Trial size, only 10 cts.

—Ten inches of snow in Paris demoralized the two million inhabitants quite as much as a Prussian army. Business was suspended, there was no travel to speak of, and the morning newspapers were delivered at noon.

Just What is Needed for Females.

We have seen specimens of Sambucus Wine, prepared by Mr. Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. J. It is pure without heating qualities, being absolutely free from spirits further than its own fermentation.

affords. Great preference is given to it in New York and other hospitals as a tonic, gentle stimulant, diuretic and sedoritic and especially prescribed for females, old weakly persons, kidney complaint and rheumatism. Mr. Speer has been years experimenting in the production of this wine, and the newest wine he sells is four years old.—N. Y. Tribune.—For people that are old and worn out and need a strengthening wine, the above is the best that can be had.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

—Who wouldn't rather be president than be right? Come, now, no dodging! The salary of president is $50,000 a year; the salary of being right is all the way from $15 a month down to splitting wood for a cold dinner. And Henry Clay has been dead almost thirty years.

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

—"Does he know anything?" anxiously inquired a friend, bending over the body of a man who had just fallen off the roof of a house. "Don't know, I'm sure," the physician replied, "he never did know anything, but you can't tell what effect the fall may have had upon him until he regains consciousness."

The Bridge Horror.

A despatch from Dundee, Scotland, Monday evening, placed the loss of life by the fall of the Tay bridge at a total of seventy-five. The divers employed had not then been able to find the submerged train; the place where it sank is full of quicksands, and the cars and their contents would soon be hopelessly swallowed up. Only one body had been recovered, and that one was badly mutilated.

The official report of the North British Railway Co., in regard to the casualty from the break in the bridge, says that the falling girders made a clean break from that portion which remains standing. Almost the only signs of the smash are the ends of the rails on which trains run, which are torn asunder. The rails remaining are wrenched out of their chairs, for a few yards.

News and Notes.

Mrs. Helen Josephine Ward, a respectable widow living at No. 11 Hamilton place, Boston, was shot through the head by her daughter, a girl seventeen years old, some time during Monday night, and died in a short time. The mother and daughter slept together, and the former was shot while in bed. The daughter says she cannot distinctly account for the affair, but was dreaming of robbers, and that she shot at one with a pistol they always kept under the pillow. She has been committed to await examination on a charge of murder.

The report of the State auditor of Rhode Island for the year ending November 26th, shows that the amount of deposits in the thirty-nine savings banks of the State is $43,095,533, a decrease in the year of $1,171,348. The number of depositors has increased 140, and the number having deposits of less than $500 has increased 1,130, while the number having $1000 and upwards has decreased 791.

Sunday night Thomas Shannon of Mingo, Ohio, went home drunk with a bottle of whiskey in his pocket, which his wife took and hid while he was asleep. On awaking, he demanded the bottle, but she refused to give it up. He then seized a hatchet and struck her a blow on the head, inflicting a probably fatal wound.

Chester Goodale of South Egremont, Mass., is still improving from the effects of the terrible assault received last summer, and is able to be about his house. The occurrence, which nearly cost him his life, is a blank to him, and he remembers nothing of it.

Rev. John Davies of the Central Baptist church at Norwich, Conn., was stricken down by an apoplectic attack on Sunday forenoon, while preaching.

At Lisbon, Conn., on Friday, Sidney B. Geer accidentally shot himself while hunting, and died from his injuries on Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Hewes, widow of Richard Brock Hewes, died December 27th at the extraordinary age of 101 years and 8 months. Her maiden name was Mary Lamson; she was born in Concord, Mass., and her father fought in the battles of the Revolution. She was twice married, the first time to Capt. Boyer, the second to Mr. Hewes, who was born, lived and died in the same house, which formerly stood on Washington street, opposite the head of Milk street, Boston. Mr. Hewes was once secretary to a governor of Massachusetts, and for many years held an office in the Boston custom house.

The Western Union telegraph company cleared $1,475,841, the last three months, paid a quarterly dividend of one and three-fourths per cent, then declared an extra dividend of one per cent, and still has a surplus left of $1,600,174. By and by this country will wake up to demand cheap telegraphy, as it did to secure cheap postage.

Twelve thousand lots of articles, accumulated in the dead-letter office, were sold last week. The articles included gold watches, chains, rings, jewelry, wearing apparel, books, pictures, musical instruments, clocks, bed-quilts, buffalo robes, pistols, knives, tin dishes, hardware, (including iron castings for machinery,) nails, perfumery, tobacco, cigars, cheese, artificial teeth, false hair, stuffed birds, and geological specimens.

In the audience at Music hall, Boston, Sunday evening, were Col. W. E. Tanner and wife, of Richmond, Va., who came all the way to Boston expressly to hear the Christmas performance of "The Messiah."

The Portland Argus says Ralph Landers was arrested at the house of Mrs. Barstow in Portland, Sunday morning, being wanted on a charge of embezzlement at Cleveland, O. He was found locked in a closet, covered up with bed clothes.

Barre, Me., has a man who will not buy a lap-board for his wife because there is a checker-board on the underside of it. The same man would not attend the funeral services of a fellow Knight of Honor held in a neighboring town on Sunday, because he would have to be absent from a noon prayer-meeting.

The car works at West Sandwich, Mass., have an order for 125 cars, which will keep forty men at work until June.

Charles Bacon Robbins, after an absence of twenty-one years, during which time nothing had been heard from him, returned to his home in Plymouth, Mass., a few days since.

Last Saturday, at Pope's Station, Mississippi, Bedford and Frank Duke, cousins, had an encounter over a game of cards, which resulted in Frank's shooting Bedford with a double barrelled shotgun, killing him instantly.

At Glen Cove, L. I., Margaret Kelly, a widow, aged sixty, was assaulted Saturday evening by three men while on her way home to Sea Cliff from Glen Cove. She cannot survive her injuries.

At Bethlehem, Pa., Monday, two brothers, named Harry and Thomas Zimmerman, aged nine and ten, were drowned while playing on the ice.

Ira Gladding, the Berlin, Conn., burglar, is at last out of State prison once more. His last sentence, curiously enough, was for breaking into the State prison. He had served out a term, and on leaving he asked the prison officials or a contractor for a pair of shoes. This request being denied, he threatened that he would break in and steal them. This he actually did—and for so doing got another term of half a dozen years or so. This man has spent by far the greater part of his life in prison. Since he attained the age of sixteen he has been in prison most of the time until now, when he must have reached the age of forty years.

It is officially announced at Havana that Bellisario Peralta, an influential insurgent chief, surrendered Dec. 27th to Capt. Gen. Blanco at Gibara, with two minor chiefs, three officers and forty-six armed adherents. Lieut. Col. Feria, Peralta's second in command, is said to be collecting the rest of the party for the purpose of surrendering.

The First Baptist church of Chicago, over which Rev. Dr. Lorimer is settled, expressed their respect and admiration for their pastor at a meeting last Friday night by unanimously voting to raise his salary from $5000 to $6000. Dr. Lorimer thanked his people for this unexpected vote of confidence, but declined to accept the gift.

Just Like Him.

Garcelon having at first apparently agreed to Hon. Lot M. Morrill's proposition to submit the questions at issue in "the count" to the supreme court, and requested Mr. Morrill to state the points, Mr. Morrill did so; and now Garcelon says he does not think it his duty to submit the questions to the court! Certainly not; Garcelon, Pillsbury, Moody and the rest of the gang have already decided what construction of the law is necessary to secure a victory for the democratic party, and a continuance in office for themselves; and if the law has to be twisted all out of shape to suit their purposes, so much the worse for the law, that's all.

New Hampshire Items.

The house and barn of Charles F. Stevens, of New Ipswich, were burned Tuesday morning. Supposed to have been caused by a horse kicking over a lantern. Loss, $2000; insurance, $1000.

Rev. E. P. Stone, of the Centre Harbor Congregational church, has resigned.

The Boston lawyers who some years ago made a stampede for Pemberton square one leaving that locality, and seeking rooms where elevators can bring their clients to light and air amid the business parts of the city. J. H. Benton, Jr., formerly of Lancaster, has removed his office from Pemberton square to the Mutual Life building, corner of Milk and Pearl streets. Col. Benton as counsel for the Northern railroad has recently won an important suit before the court at Boston. He is one of the busy lawyers that the Granite State has sent to take a prominent position at the Suffolk bar.

The Odd Fellows' hall in National block will be dedicated to the use of the Order by the R. W. Grand Lodge of New Hampshire on Jan. 1st, 1880, at 7:30 o'clock P. M. Each member will be entitled to a ticket admitting himself and one lady; and as the accomodations are limited, the rule will be strictly adhered to. A member of the committee will be in the ante-room of the new hall from 9:00 to 12:00 A. M., and from 2:00 to 6:00 P. M., on Monday, Dec. 29th, to deliver tickets; and after that time they can be obtained of W. S. Hazel, at M. Goodrich's store under the city building.

By order of Dedication Committee.

—Too much taste is as bad as too little. Especially is this the case with butter.

—The boy who was kept after school for bad orthography said he was spellbound.

—If you cannot find a place to fit you, strive to fit the place in which you find yourself.

—More of coal than any other kind of property is destroyed by fire, and yet but little of it is ever insured.

—The distillers in Louisville have struck, and the distilleries have closed. This makes liquors scarce. The strikers receive no sympathy from the citizens.

—An exchange says:—"A towel wet with ice-water and applied to the back of a person's neck produces sleep," but if any man comes up behind us and applies a wet towel to our neck under the impression that he's going to put us to sleep, he will find he's made the biggest mistake of his life. You hear us!

In vain the eyes are filled with light:
In vain the cheek with beauty glows,
Unless the teeth are pure and white,
Unless the breath is like the rose;
And SOZODONT alone supplies
These beauties that we all so prize.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. 4

Not Without Permission.

It is a pity that the names of all the persons who each month draw all the prizes in the monthly scheme of the Louisiana State Lottery Company cannot be published, for then it could be seen exactly where every dollar goes to. This could be done but for the reason that some winners object to having their names made known, and it is a rule of the company not to divulge the secret without permission.

Full information can be obtained in reference to past drawings, or the next monthly one to take place on the 13th January, by addressing M. A. Dauphin, at New Orleans, La., or New York.

Important.

When you visit or leave New York city, save Baggage Expressage and Carriage Hire, and stop at Grand Union Hotel, nearly opposite Grand Central Depot. 350 elegant rooms reduced to $1 and upwards per day. European Plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse Cars, Stages and Elevated Railroad to all depots. Be careful and see that "Grand Union Hotel" is on the sign where you enter office in the centre of the block. d&w1mo

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

A stout backbone is as essential to physical health as to political consistency. For weakness of the back and disorders of the liver and kidney, the tonic and moderate diuretic action of the Bitters is the one thing needful. Remember that the stomach is the mainstay of every other organ and that by invigorating the digestion with this preparation, the spinal column and all its dependencies are strengthened.

AROUND HOME.

The Granite State base ball club have a ball at Congress hall this evening. A good time to dance in the new year.

A porker weighing seven hundred and sixty pounds, raised in Kittery, was cut up by a provision dealer of this city on Tuesday.

The doors of the Odd Fellows' hall will be opened at precisely half-past six o'clock, Thursday evening, on the occasion of the dedication of the hall.

Mr. Charles L. Abbott, formerly of this city, and later of Texas, where he was at one time a member of the State senate, has just been elected chief justice of the peace at Silver Cliff, Colorado.

We regret to hear that that most estimable lady, Mrs. Kent, wife of Col. J. Horace Kent, is seriously ill. The earnest wishes of all who know her will go forth for her speedy recovery.

The bottom has fallen out of the proposed Portsmouth shoe manufactory, the project of establishing one having been given up for lack of support; word to this effect was on Tuesday sent from this city to Mr. Knights, at Lynn, Mass.

As the Bloodgood minstrels' band was parading the streets, Tuesday forenoon, and playing finely, too, by the way, several horses at different points were observed to get restive as the music drew near, when at a signal from Mr. Bloodgood the band would instantly cease playing, and march to the tap of the drum only, until well past the uneasy animal. Proper and commendable.

We learn that Mr. Lewis W. Brewster, of the Journal, was a sufferer to some considerable extent by the fire in Boston on Sunday night; several hundred copies of the Portsmouth Almanac, an artistic and interesting work, which were in the hands of the binder, being destroyed. Messrs. Frye and Morrison of this city, expressmen, had their Boston office, on Devonshire street, burned out, but did not suffer much loss.

The gondola-yacht Sturgeon, Capt. Wm. Nason, of Sturgeon Creek, had a perilous voyage Tuesday. She started from Call's wharf in this city at noon, with a load of lumber to be landed at Staples' wharf, Eliot, and came dangerously near swamping in the river, the skipper managing to avoid that disaster only by running her ashore. Having reefed her down the skipper started again, and she arrived at her destination all right.

Capt Edward B. Rand of Newcastle, a gallant soldier during the war in the Seventh New Hampshire regiment, is a candidate for the position of foreman of the iron platers' shop at the navy yard, in the place of Mr. John D. Swain, resigned. Capt. Rand is an ardent republican and a thorough mechanic, and in the competitive examination which is to be held, of candidates for the position, his friends are confident that he will be successful.

Harry Bloodgood was greeted with a good audience Tuesday night, both in point of numbers and enthusiasm. In the overture Tyrrell received two encores for his spendidly rendered song. The "four planets" were fine, and were the feature of the evening. Bloodgood is still a favorite, as could be seen by his reception, and fully kept up his reputation as a funny man. The clog tournament was good, as was also Mr. Alfred Liston in his drawing-room entertainment, the latter receiving repeated encores. On the whole it was a good show, but the programme was rather too long.

We are pleased to announce that the arrangements for the musical convention mentioned some time ago are completed, and that it will be held in Music hall, commencing Tuesday, Feb. 10th, and continuing through Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, closing Friday evening. The following soloists will appear during the convention: Miss Fanny Kellogg, soprano; Mr. John F. Winch, basso; Mr. J. C. Bartlett, tenore. The Temple Quartette, Mrs. Martha Dana Shepard, pianist, and leading local talent, will also appear. Full particulars will be announced in a few days. This project has met with unexpected encouragement and support from the citizens, and it is earnestly hoped by those in charge that it will result in furthering the interests of good music, and in pleasure and profit to those who attend, whether in the capacity of performers or listeners.

D. F. Borthwick has a full stock of bleached and brown cottons, also a lot of remnants in best prints.

James Burns of Dover won a twenty-four-hours go-as-you-please tramp at Natick, Mass., ending on Saturday evening last; his score was one hundred and twenty-seven miles, and his winnings amounted to sixty dollars.

Col. Montgomery of Portland, Me., formerly one of the proprietors of the Leader, a greenback paper of that city, which has recently been consolidated with the New Era, was in this city on Saturday soliciting subscribers for a new labor-greenback journal soon to be established at Manchester, in this State.

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell, Mass., send us eight copies of their almanac for 1880, each one in a different language. These are in English, French, German, Dutch, Norwegian, Sweedish, Spanish and Portuguese. Ten million copies of these are printed annually, taking eight months to print, at the rate of fifty thousand a day; and the publication consumes nearly five hundred tons of paper. This shows an extent of enterprise hardly parallelled in this go-ahead Yankee nation.

Steam fire engine Moses H. Goodrich, No. 4, having recently been repaired, altered and improved by Messrs. Critchley & Whalley of this city, at a cost of between seven and eight hundred dollars, was tested at about half-past nine o'clock Tuesday forenoon at the Hanover street reservoir, in presence of the chief engineer and aldermanic committee on fire department. No attention was paid to the time required to get up steam; but with steam pressure ranging from seventy to one hundred pounds, and a water pressure of from one hundred and forty to two hundred pounds, the engine threw three good streams, and we understand entirely satisfied the inspecting officials. The spiral springs by which the boiler was originally supported have been replaced by elliptic springs, and the frame has been extended, so that the machine is now hung like an Amoskeag engine.

ODD FELLOWS' ELECTION.

Piscataqua Lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., at the annual meeting elected the following as officers for the ensuing term:

N. G., Frank S. Brown;
V. G., Warren P. Webster;
R. S., William W. Cotton;
P. S., Oliver H. Locke;
Treas., Isaac Dow;
Trustees, Joseph H. Foster, John P. Cooper, Stephen W. Clarke.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

There are living in one house in Kennebunk village four people who are each over eighty years of age.

The honest citizens of York will hold an indignation meeting at the town hall this (Wednesday) evening, to protest against the counting-out infamy.

Schooner Addie Jordan, of Saco, which went on Toddy rocks (below Boston) some days ago and was thought likely to become a total loss, was towed off on Sunday, and taken up to the city.

The gathering of sea moss is quite an important industry at Scituate, Mass., it having in some years brought into the town as much as $4000. This business has also been carried on to some extent at Kittery, Me., and the men engaged in it have sometimes gathered large quantities, though we cannot say at what profit to themselves.

The coroner's jury in the case of the unknown man who was wounded by a pistol shot while assaulting the ticket master, Knowles, and telegraph operator Anderson, in the Eastern depot at Saco, and who was subsequently burned in the building, rendered a verdict "that the acts of the said Charles W. Knowles and the said James H. Anderson done by them to the said unknown man were done for and in the lawful exercise of a rightful and necessary defence of their persons and lives, and they are fully justified in so doing."

The Biddeford Times says: "The greatest sell we ever heard of is the following which happened in Biddeford a few days ago. A young lady who formerly lived in this city, has for a short time past been living in Manchester, N. H. A few days ago her parents, who reside in this city, received a dispatch stating that their daughter was dead, and that her body would be sent by a certain train. The parents were at the depot with a hearse, coaches, etc.; but to their astonishment and surprise the young lady came not in a coffin, but alive and well. The scene which took place at the depot beggars description." If the young lady referred to was responsible for the idiotic and heartless "sell," the outraged parents should instantly have prepared her for a ride in the hearse.

THE STONE-FENCE PROBLEM.

Mr. Editor: A satisfactory solution of the problem * recently printed in your paper was given by Howe Call, Esq., of this city; and notwithstanding its simplicity, no other solution was approximate to a true solution. The problem has been freely commented upon, and good mathematicians have pronounced it to be an unfair statement—in fact, no problem at all; but we hope that the following explanation will prove not only its fairness, but that it is a very simple problem.

It is a self-evident mathematical fact that a cube whose number of cubic feet of its solidity equals the number of square feet of its surface, the side or edge of that cube must be six feet; also, as the surface measure of a cube is to its solidity, so is 6 to one side or edge of that cube.

By this simple rule we find the size of the block required in the problem: As 1 is to 2-3, so is 6 to 4; or, 2-3 of 6 equals 4 feet, which is the size of block required, and as the problem calls for a fence four blocks high, there would be four blocks to four feet, or one block to one foot. Then, as a square whose number of square feet of its area is equal to the number of feet of its perimeter, the side of that square must be four feet; also as the perimeter of a square is to the area, so is 4 to one side of that square.

As the area is called for in acres, it is evident that the number of square feet of its area would be 43,560 times the number of feet of its perimeter, as there are 43,560 square feet in one acre. Then we have, as 1 is to 43,560, so is 4 to 174,240 feet, which is the length of one side of the field required, also the number of stones required on one side; on four sides there there would be 696,960 stones; also 696,960 acres. Yours, etc., C. H. MARSTON.

* A square piece of land is fenced with cubical blocks of stone, four stones high; the number of cubic feet in each block is two-thirds of the square feet of its surface. The number of stones required to fence the field is equal to the number of acres which the field contains. How many acres in the field, or how many stones are required to fence it?

[We have received from a correspondent at York on algebraic solution of the "pork question" published by us some weeks ago, but cannot print it as we have no fount of type which includes in its "sorts" the necessary symbols. No arithmetical solution has been furnished. —Ed. Chron.]

THE "HON." MOODY.

YORK, MAINE, December 29th.

Editor Chronicle: In your issue of today I notice an article headed "Naughty talk to 'Hon.' E. C. Moody." Permit me to thank you for the article, else I would not have known how grossly the dis-Hon. gentleman had misrepresented me—he being the author, if not the writer of the extract from the Boston Globe.

In the first place the said "Hon." was "grosely insulted and abused by the chairman of the republican town committee, who, in addition to other vile language said: 'I am one of ten who stand ready to give you a coat of tar and feathers at any time.'"

The above has some foundation in fact, but as published in the Globe is a gross misrepresentation and conveys a false impression, while it is nearly all an absolute falsehood in itself, and probably instigated by the "Hon." himself for the purpose of making it appear that he is a martyr to his convictions, and that his townsmen "generally discountenance" any "such abuse of the only citizen of the town who was ever elected an executive councillor."

The language used by me on that occasion was not "vile" in any sense of the word. I used milder language than has any editorial I have yet read in any State paper which condemns the action of Gov. Garcelon and his council. Several citizens of the town were present in the post-office, and heard it all. Every one of them said there was not a single "vile" word in all my conversation. I afterward repeated the conversation to the pastor of one of the churches as nearly verbatim as possible. He thought it "pretty plain talk," but didn't call it "vile."

I did not say that "I am one of ten who stand ready," etc. That would be a threat, and imply that there was a conspiracy implicating nine others. I said: "I'll tell you what I think of you and your part in it;" (the State steal), "I would be one of ten men to give you a coat of tar and feathers." So much for the extract from the Globe. So far from "such abuse" being discountenanced by our citizens, I am supported by every honest citizen who disapproves of our present "Hon." Councillor's course, and I don't know of an honest man in town who does not disapprove of it. I reiterate every statement I made to him on that occasion, even to the "tar and feathers."

One of our ministers, Rev. D. B. Randall, preached last Sunday evening on the present situation. Among other things he remarked that the men engaged in this plot ought to be buried so deep in infamy "that no social resurrection would ever bring them to light." "The only citizen of the town who has ever been elected an executive councillor" was present, and after leaving the church remarked to one of our prominent citizens that "he hoped we would not cross him out." He said "he knew they (the governor and his council) had done wrong, very wrong." His townsmen know him thoroughly, and are not surprised at any act of trickery, treachery or political rascality that he may commit. Indeed, it is currently reported here that he has been to a member of our State committee and offered to sell his birthright to the republicans in this crisis for a mess of pottage. The republicans had enough of him when, in 1874, he gained some notoriety by casting seventeen votes for himself at one time in the caucus for nominating a candidate for representative to the legislature.

The night of our election he threatened to count out the republican majority. Three days later he telegraphed from Augusta that the republicans appeared to have elected all the officers, but the official count might change the result. It has changed it. Ten days later he said: "A man might as well make himself notorious in Maine as in Louisiana, and notoriety was all he wanted." Again he said, "They knew he sometimes did crooked things when they made him chairman of the council committee on elections, and that was why they put him there; they thought they might want to use him, and he would be a good man for them."

I intended to confine myself to his political record when I began, but you will allow me to correct your closing sentence, in which you made three mistakes, as follows:

1st, He owns a nice farm;
2d, He runs it to make money;
3d, He pays his debts.

In all these statements you are in error.

If he has courage enough to contradict any of the foregoing statements, let him do it over his own signature, and not sneak behind a Globe reporter. I have stated the facts mildly. I have the proof of every statement, if he requires it, and ask no one to take any responsibility for me. Respectfully,

JOHN C. STEWART,
Chairman Republican Town Committee, York, Maine.

Political.

The State arms were removed from the arsenal at Bangor to Augusta on Tuesday, under orders of Leavitt, Garcelon's adjutant general; no resistance was offered by the people, but the bells of the city were tolled during the passage of the teams through the street. Garcelon seems desirous of irritating the republicans into acts of violence, and would no doubt welcome a little rioting, as it would draw off a portion of the public attention from the infamous scoundrelism of the great political theft.

ADAMS. Florence E. Adams, only child of Geo. H. and Nancy J. Adams of Kittery, Me., departed this life Nov. 26th, aged 15 years, 7 months and 19 days. She died of typhoid fever, after a distressing illness of less than nine days.

She was a member of the Free High school, and the teacher and pupils attended very beautiful floral offerings for the funeral, as a tribute of respect for the departed pupil and associate. The funeral services were held in the Christian church, and conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. B. Bowditch, on Thanksgiving day; and were attended by the school in a body, and a large number of neighbors and friends, who deeply sympathized with the afflicted family. The deceased was an amiable, genial, light-hearted and promising young lady; and this dispensation falls very heavily upon the father and mother. The chair must ever remain vacant and home will ever be lonely. May the arms of the Great and Loving Father ever encircle them! COM.

Cuticura

THE GREAT SKIN CURE,

The most Healing, Soothing, and Refreshing External Application in the World.

It rapidly heals Ulcers, Old Sores, and Discharging Wounds; Itching Piles and other distressing affections that have been the torture of a lifetime, thus affording unspeakable gratification to thousands; Burns, Scalds, Wounds, and Tetter; all Itching and Scaly Eruptions of the Skin, and all Affections of the Scalp, including Loss of Hair. Nothing like it has ever been known to the most intelligent physicians. It has swept a host of poisonous remedies out of existence. It is revolutionary in its composition, and mode of treatment and succeeds in curing every external affection. At every stage it is ably assisted by CUTICURA SOAP, which is a part of itself medicinally and at the same time the most delightfully fragrant and refreshing Toilet, Bath, and Nursery soap in existence.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a powerful purifying agent and liver stimulant, should be taken to counteract and resolve away blood poisons, caused by the virus of scrofula, cancer, malarial or contagious diseases, which maintain and foster diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

SALT RHEUM.

Life a burden from the sufferings caused by this terrible disease.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Please accept my most grateful thanks for the great, very great relief I have received from the use of your CUTICURA.

For the past eight or nine years I have been troubled with that dreadful disease, Salt Rheum. For months I would be helpless,—my very life a burden to me.

I have used everything in the shape of medicine, both internal and external, but without effect.

My hands were in a terrible condition, the backs of them being all raw, and I thought I would go crazy.

I tried it, and lo! it was as if a miracle had been performed, for I will take my oath that in three applications my hands were as smooth as a new-born babe's.

I presume there are hundreds, if not thousands, who know of my case, among whom there may be some one similarly afflicted, and if so I would earnestly advise him to give CUTICURA a trial.

Yours, Gratefully,
A. D. BAKER, Pilot Agent, C. S. R. R.

TETTER OR SALT RHEUM

On the hands Cured. A grateful letter.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Having been troubled for many years with the Tetter or Salt Rheum, and spent many hundred dollars, I was given a trial of your CUTICURA, and thank God, my hands are well. I never had anything do me good like that.

You may put this in the paper and welcome, and may it do some other poor sufferer the same good it has done me. I am well known here, having lived here nearly fifteen years and kept boarders for a living, and sometimes my heart was sore, thinking I would have to give up altogether with my sore hands, and having a small family to take care of; but oh! thank God, my hands are well, and I again return thanks.

Yours respectfully,
ELIZ BETH BUCKLEY,
LITTLETON, N. H., May 30, 1878.

THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and are for sale everywhere. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1 per box. CUTICURA RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Wednesday and Thursday,

The 5th and 6th of November,

And cordially invite you all, dear ladies, to call and see the beautiful things of the approaching season.

RIBBONS, SILKS, SATINS, VELVETS.

All matching or blending in the new Chameleon Shades, which, like the gold setting that gives richness to the brilliancy of the diamond, will show the brilliancy of beauty most enchantingly.

HATS & BONNETS!

In Fine French Felts, English Beavers and many other styles.

BIRDS? Yes, Humming Birds, and Birds that never hum!

Ostrich Tips and Plumes, Fancy Feathers.

Laces, Beaded and Plain,

And all the changing accessories of MILLINERY TASTE.

☞ To those ladies who came to see me when my assortment was more limited I would say, please come on once more and I will promise that the disappointment shall be an agreeable one this time.

THE MODEL RANGE

—FOR—

Hard or Soft Coal or Wood

—HAVING THE—

Patent Reflex Coal-Grate and Ash-Sifter,
New Patent Automatic Oven Shelf,
New Patent Extension Leg,
New Patent Double Top,
(No more cracked tops.)

And many other improvements. As perfected, we sincerely believe that the most durable and beautiful range in the world is the

MODEL RANGE

Manufactured by Spicer & Peckham, of Providence, R. I. The Portable Cooking Range is the best adapted to do work surely and quickly, of any device yet made. There are many sizes. They do all work evenly and steadily, with a great saving of fuel. No expense has been spared to make the Model Range first-class in every particular, and it is presented to the public as one that is admitted even by competing manufacturers to be the most neatly ornamented and perfectly proportioned Range yet made.

This Range, with a large variety of other

Ranges, Cooking and Parlor Stoves,

Etc., can be seen at the old stand of

M. W. EARING,

No. 61 Market Street,

Where also can be found a full and complete assortment of KITCHEN WARE, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, etc., which the residents of Portsmouth and vicinity are respectfully invited to inspect before purchases are made elsewhere.
